Here and There.

Danner, Photographer. 96-14. Club dance at opera house to-morrow evening. Milwaukee beer on draught at the "Gem." Dan Staven returned to Long Creek last Tuesday. Dr. A. L. Fox, returned from Long Creek Tuesday. R. Allen, of Hardman, was a visitor to our city Monday last. Dr. J. H. Fell returned from Portland last Saturday evening. Perfectly safe, perfectly harmless is Simmons Liver Regulator. Weinhart's beer on draught at Park Tattle's, opp. City Hotel. 423-11. The best riding ever seen can be witnessed at Heppner June 13. "Uncle" Lishe Sperry, and son Reub, are in town taking in the town. Mr. J. H. Allen, of Eight mile, returned from Portland Tuesday last. Theo. Danner is a rascal and gets there all the same taking pictures. 96-14. Hardware? Yes, at Gilliam & Bisbee's, Main St., Heppner, Or. Notice the article on "The Wool Market," which will be found on the outside. The two tallest and heaviest elephants on earth will perform at Heppner June 13. Jake Young is well satisfied with his crop prospects. His home ranch is near Gooseberry. Fred Hallock is doing a first class job of painting on the interior of the opera house. City Barber Shop next door to City Hotel, Heppner, Or., Davis & Jones, props. Mr. Shipley, brother of Dr. L. P. Shipley, is up from the valley visiting the folks here. Simmons Liver Regulator has never been known to fail to cure Sick Headache. Jas. Hart was in town early this week, resting up a bit. Jas. has not been very well for some time past. Jimmie Matlock returned from Portland Tuesday where he has been attending Bishop Scott's Academy. Jerry Brownman was on the sick list last week, but is getting better. Dr. Swinburn is attending him. Henry Schlaringer will start for Long Creek early next week to gather up his horses of the "circle H" brand. Heppner will receive more wool this season than any interior point in the Northwest. Paste this in your hat. "Uncle" Lishe Sperry says his 570 acres of grain on his lone possession is looking well, and promises a full crop. Jerry Young is limping around with a very lame foot. Jerry cut his foot while chopping wood in the mountains recently. Henry Welch got in from Long Creek Sunday, after a season's hard rasting. He was accompanied by his daughter Emma. Dr. Lewis, of Long Creek, who was reported very sick in our last issue, is much better. His early recovery is hoped for. For shaving, haircutting, shampooing or anything in the tonsorial line, call on Gid Hart, Matlock corner, Main St., Heppner. Those Graham, who lives north of B. L. Akers, near Gooseberry, had 40 acres of growing grain badly injured by the hail last week. Every body is coming on excursion trains, on wagons, on horseback and on foot to see the great show at Heppner on Saturday June 13. Condon Globe: The Wasco warehouse at The Dalles is now receiving from 500 to 600 bushels of wheat a day. The price remains at 80c. Rip Van Winkle came up from the lower section last Monday, and says that where he was no rain fell last week. This is down near "the sand." Miss Martha Neville and Mrs. Richard Neville were callers at the Gazette office last Saturday. Miss Martha is succeeding admirably with her school. Our "hoss" men are taking much interest in dance of the turf, and as arrests, rates are had almost daily. The hog races commence this afternoon. Passengers and freight are still going through on the stage line as of old. The move to turn this business to Baker and Pendleton has failed completely. When you are weary and need a few minutes rest, drop in and see Tom Brad, by at the Beveridge. He knows how to make you feel at home. 427-14. G. W. Dart, the Chancery Commander of Vernon Lodge No. 43, K. of P., of John Day, came in from Portland on Tuesday's train, leaving for home yesterday. At last mail service has been established between Hardman, Morrow county and Wagner, Grant county. It is something badly needed, and the people rejoice. C. P. Bowman, who lives at Henry Thompson's place on Big Butter creek, has been very ill with typhoid pneumonia, but is improving. Dr. George Hegon was called to attend him. B. L. Akers, of Gooseberry, says his section has the best prospects for a good crop that it has had for six years. Mr. Akers has 100 acres of wheat and 25 of barley and rye, all looking well.

Bud Willingham, who has charge of Major Ormby's bands as far as Huntington, says he was met by an armed rancher on the Middle Fork and told to move on, and taking the matter rather lightly-Bud's usual manner-was the subject of much abuse, but trying of it he "operated" the gentleman to take supper with the outfit, who then left without ceremony.

D. A. Herren was working with sheep on the "saddle" between Willow and Rhea creek last Tuesday, when the storm came up, and though it barely sprinkled there, down at his ranch on Willow creek, irrigating dunes were washed out, and grain knocked down to some extent. Over on Rhea creek, in plain sight, a flood of water came down "raising" Ned generally.

Chas. Ingraham returned from the East on Monday's train. He has been sojourning in Kentucky for some time past, and reports a most enjoyable visit. He secured letters of inquiry from foreign countries in favor of his famous lamp, and France has ordered a medal struck in his honor as an inventor.

It was reported in our last issue that George Noble's house on his McKinstry creek ranch was destroyed by the cloud burst last week. We have since learned that this is not the case, though the barn was taken away, and the ranch badly damaged otherwise. Mr. Noble estimates his loss at $1,000.

Postal Journal: Mr. A. Taylor, of Heppner, arrived Wednesday from Mitchell with E. Mathews, who is traveling for Jacobs & Co., of Portland. This drummer saw from 20 to 30 wagon loads of wool unloading at one time in Heppner last week. Few sales have been effected there as yet.

A contest at the race track Friday between Billy McGee and Billy Hale's horse, was decided in favor of the former. On Saturday afternoon Billy had a round with George Harrington's Bull, for a side, quarter of a mile, the former winning again. Geo. Swagart's horse, however, Heppner's up train was behind time about three hours last Monday, waiting for the arrival of the Portland train, which was delayed by flood river by a bridge being burned out. Passengers were transferred around to The Dalles by boat.

Though it rained quite hard at the head of Butter Creek last week, Billy Douglas reports only a moderate shower at his ranch. There was not enough rain to lay the dust at E. G. Sloan's place below Billy's.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Slocum returned from Portland last Monday eve. They were serenaded by the Heppner cornet band on the eve of their return, at the residence of the groom's mother.

Frank Gilbert, while handling one of Dan Stalter's mares, recently, received a heavy blow on the left side of his head, producing Bell's palsy, or paralysis of the facial muscles.

The Slocum-Johnston Drug Co. will soon remove to the new brick on Main street, which is in course of erection. Minor Bros. will be their neighbors, and good ones they are too.

Work was resumed on the portage road around The Dalles and Celilo rapids last Monday. With fair progress, we may yet have an open river before the year closes.

The Matteson Bros. are now working in state in their tunnel near Old Black Butte, and are hopeful than ever. The Gazette adds again, may they succeed.

Sam Kinsman got back from Vancouver last Tuesday where he had been with cattle. He will leave tomorrow with sheep and cattle for Troutdale.

Newt, Jones, Gid Boyer, Joe Hector and Will Spencer are back from "the sand," where they have been riding for range stock.

Milt Morgan, of Sand Hollow, has a fine crop of rye. This makes very good hay, and is a sure crop in this section.

Jas. Hager reports very heavy rains at his place on Willow creek last week, but says no damage was done.

M. Swearingen reports that grasshoppers are appearing in destructive numbers in the Eight Mile country.

Our friend, Haley, has established a shooting gallery on Main St., next to Mat Lichenthal's shoe store.

J. P. Brown, who lives north-east of here, says his orchard was ruined by hail fell last Tuesday.

Panton the Gazette for inflicting so much storm news on our readers, but it may interest some.

C. L. Spivey, representing the Union Lvs. Co., of San Francisco, was in town last week.

Chris Reinger will head one of Ike Lange's bands on John Day, near Ritter this season.

F. O. Buckman arrived from Portland on Monday's train, and will remain here this week.

Seven six-horse loads of wool came in from John Day "town" and vicinity last week.

In many sections of Morrow county, grasshoppers are becoming quite numerous.

B. A. Hunsaker, and daughter May, are over from Haystack visiting friends here.

"Judge" Dutton and Norman Kelly reports their crops in excellent condition.

Several of our Butter creek boys were in attendance at the races last week.

Wiley McEee made proof on his land before J. W. Morrow, last Tuesday.

UPPER RHEA CREEK ITEMS.

Mr. H. H. Hahn says he will be off for California in a few days. Nero has had a severe attack of rheumatism, but is getting better.

Mr. Summerfield started to-day for southern Oregon. We lose a good neighbor, but hope he may find a better place.

Mr. Fred Green informs us that he is going to work for Mr. Foulard, on a fence running from the forks of Rhea creek to skinner.

Some of our neighbors went fishing the other day, and caught a nice lot of fish. Don't tell the Heppner boys about it for there will be a stampede.

Mr. John Rush, of Six Dollar, has employed Mr. Fred Thomas to sink his well deeper. We hope he may be successful in getting plenty of water.

Mr. C. Peck came up last week and brought five cows that will be milked in this neighborhood. This is a fine piece of milk butter-plenty of grass, good water and cool nights.

We had the "splendidest" rain of the season, beginning Wednesday night, and continuing until Thursday noon, making everything look green and fresh. Prospects for crops are good. Grain is growing very fast. Gardens are just beginning to grow.

Upper Rhea Creek, May 29, 1901. MEMO. J. W. Redford was in town yesterday. The S. B. man visited Lexington last week. E. T. Wright's agent was in town a few days ago.

Quite a number of Heppner folks came down to attend Memorial day. F. H. Parsons came up from the Redford place yesterday, and expects to stay on his ranch awhile.

Memorial Services were held here last Saturday. The services were conducted by the W. O. C. of this place, and opened by the National Song. After that the following were read: Memorial Services--By the Women's Relief Corps--"Nearer My God to Thee." Declaration--By Mrs. Annie Hill, "Memorial Day." Song by choir--"Cover them Over." Recitation, by Del. Lueallen--"Bringing Flowers." Recitation, by Flossie Gammell--"To-day."

The address by Rev. E. E. Thompson, was very appropriate for the occasion, and one of the best that we have ever heard.

Services closed with song, entitled "Decorate the Graves." After which the procession was formed in front of the school house, with the old soldiers in the lead. They marched to the cemetery, where they decorated the graves of their comrades, and held other services appropriate for the occasion. On their way to the U. A. M. met at their hall, where they tendered a vote of thanks to Rev. E. E. Thompson for his services.

At R. Y. T.--Jas. Rhen is back from the Long Creek country, where he has been to assist Sam Palmer on the start for Nebraska with several thousand muttons. He says that Major Ormby was approached by twenty armed men, while encamped near Ritter, and asked to move out immediately. He refused, and was informed that he was stopping there temporarily and would move on in a few days, and was not molested further, but before leaving Major Ormby was informed that sheepman could make his range in that section. War is expected here this summer between sheepmen and settlers.

COUNCIL MEETING.--On roll being called, all answered present except Councilman Farwell. Mayor Matlock presiding. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Bills allowed: F. F. Garrigue, $19.40; C. S. Van Duren, $2.40; A. A. Roberts, $21.00; W. F. Ruark, $60; J. W. Rasmus, $18.00. Motion by Mattie that bridge on Lower Main street be moved on crossing at Willingham's, and that new one be erected in its stead, to be 12 feet wide, as recommended by Morgan and carried. Council adjourned to meet at next regular meeting, two weeks from that date, Monday, June 11.

VANDALISM.--Some vandals have been amusing themselves by breaking into Chris Reinger's residence on McKinstry creek every time he absent himself. Undoubtedly several articles have been taken. It is nothing unusual to find a window smashed in, or a door off its hinges. Chris proposes to put up a sign no longer, as the parties who have been doing this mischief are known.

Since the storm of last week, Crockett Kirk and Jas. Hayes have been busy repairing damage to roads. Busy country was badly washed out, and required a new bridge where the road crosses the mouth of it. The Rhea creek road, near Crockett's place, was also washed out. Besides his ranch was badly washed out, and he sustained the loss of eight thoroughbred bulls.

Wiley McEee says that the hail of last storm injured his crop to some extent, but the gain is greater than the damage.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. Next Lord's day, June 7th, Eld. S. B. Lelton will speak morning and evening, the Lord willing at the Baptist church at Heppner.
