

SUNOL'S FAST TIME.

Robert Bonner Thinks the Famous Race the Fastest Horse Alive.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—Robert Bonner's eyes sparkled last night when he received a telegram announcing Sunol's great victory over time. He said: "I regard Sunol as the most wonderful animal ever foaled. I hesitate to compare her with Maud S., as the latter made her record over a regulation track and all horsemen know the kite-shaped track over which Sunol trotted today is a trifle faster than the regulation one. Still it is a glorious record. To show how much superior I regard Sunol to Maud S., I will say that I paid $40,000 for Maud S. and $41,000 for Sunol.

"There is a regulation track at Stockton and I Sunol will trot it faster, but I think she will excel Maud S.'s marvelous speed. These two horses I regard as nearly evenly matched. Senator Stanford, from whom I purchased Sunol, has written to me that the mare will trot in 2:08. He knows more about her capabilities than I do, and he may be right. I believe her performance of 2:10 1/2 as a three-year-old, is greater than this, her record as a five-year-old, and I think every horseman will agree with me.

"The three greatest trotters in the world are, in my opinion, Maud S., Sunol and Savoy Blanks. We have not had enough experience with the shaped track to tell what may be accomplished on it. Charles Marvin, Governor Stanford's trainer and superintendent on his ranch, has written to me that the kite-shaped track being new and somewhat slow. He says after the fall rains, in a week or so, the track will be packed and solid, and that Sunol will reduce perhaps by a fraction of a second, her present magnificent time.

"Maud S. is a fine racing horse, but I believe that when she is in perfect condition and in good training she can trot in about 2:07. I believe also that Sunol can equal her on a regulation track. I will bring her here about November 1st, and will let her race on the regular track in the spring. I will have her put in training to beat the record over the regulation track."

Every Facility Now at Hand on the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20—"I want to raise $50,000,000 for the purpose of establishing a gun plant in this city," said Irving M. Scott, of the Union Iron Works, yesterday. "I don't want the money for immediate use, but to continue operations with, and we can make just as good guns here as can be made anywhere in the world, and we don't have to leave the coast for material. Everything needed for the manufacture of big guns on our coast defenses and on our war ships can be found in Washington, Oregon and California."

They Had Taken the Place of White Laborers in California.

DELANO, Cal., Oct. 19—About four months ago Chinese section men at this place struck for higher wages, which was refused them. Their place was immediately filled with white laborers from this station, who have continued to discharge their duties since that time. Saturday evening last word was received from the Mongolians, who had taken the place of the white laborers. People here became indignant over the matter, and laborers called on the Chinese last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, and told them to take their baggage and leave town, which they did at once without further ceremony. If the Mongolians should return it is feared there will be trouble.

PHILLIPS BROOKS.

The Newly Appointed Bishop of Massachusetts.

The great-hearted Broad Churchman, Phillips Brooks, the ornament and pride of Boston, is now Bishop of Massachusetts. As head of the diocese his influence will certainly enlarge still further the interests of the Protestant Episcopal church. Phillips Brooks was born in Boston, Mass., in 1829. He was educated at Harvard and then at the University of Cambridge, England. He was a member of the faculty of Harvard from 1852 to 1859, and then served as rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in New York City from 1859 to 1862. He returned to Boston in 1862 and served as rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity until 1865, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1868, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1871, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1874, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1877, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1880, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1883, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1886, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1889, when he was appointed rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Boston. He served in this capacity until 1891, when he was appointed Bishop of Massachusetts.

Dr. Brooks was born in Boston, some more than 60 years ago. He was graduated at Harvard when 20 years old, and after a course of theological study was admitted to holy orders. From 1859 to 1870 he preached with increasing popularity in Philadelphia. He returned to Boston in 1870, where his triumphs of noble oratory and exemplary manhood are one of the chief glories of the city.

The new bishop has a large and handsome presence. His countenance is singularly expressive and powerful. The rapidity of his utterance, which possibly impairs his delivery, is accompanied with gifts of voice which are uncommonly sympathetic and command earnest attention.

Appeals of Aid Not Brag in Sumner's Relief.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20—Advices from South Eastern Russia states that extraordinary aid is being taken everywhere by the local authorities to deal with the distress and that a systematic personal application is being made to all well-to-do for aid. The appeals do not bring in much as was hoped, on account of the stagnant condition of trade.

From the district of Jotinhof comes a peculiar story to the effect that the dogs of the region, which are noted for sagacity and which are used largely for carrying burdens and other domestic duties by the peasantry, have nearly all disappeared, having been killed by their owners and others for food.

Wants Deer Forests Taxed.

One Field Up by a Single Robber, the Other by Two Men.

MARVELL, Cal., Oct. 20—Following the robbery of the Redding and Weaverville stage last night at about 7 o'clock by one masked man about a mile out of this city, at 9 o'clock the Redding and Alturas stage was stopped and robbed about 12 miles from town by two masked men. The Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box and mail were taken and the driver also made to give up what spare cash he possessed. He had about $50 on his person which he was taking to a merchant at Round Mountain for change. No clue to the robbers so far has been obtained. The loss is unknown.

Soon after the stage robbery last night Under-sheriff Ross and Charles Overland went across the river in search of the highwaymen and found two men in a field who, it is believed, are the parties wanted. Their tracks led to the river where it is believed after robbing the stage they had crossed in a skiff. The men are lodged in jail.

Peterson Wants to Row Hanlon Early in the Spring.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20—With regard to the return race with Dutch, Peterson says that he will not row anyone for three months, as he has been in training all the year and is not well. He needs rest till April, when he will then be open to row Dutch or anyone else four or five miles.

Having beaten the Australian his favorite distance of three miles, Peterson does not care particularly to row that course again, though he thinks he can surely defeat him at anything over three miles. He will row the Australian four or five miles, with a turn for anything from $2500 to $5000 a side in three months. Peterson would like to make a match with Hanlon to be rowed early in the spring.

A Contagious Skin Disease Closes a School to be Closed.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 23—St. Mary's orphan asylum, a Catholic institution, has been closed and the sisters have gone back to the mother house at Madison. The cause is the presence of a contagious skin disease which is believed to be the seven-year itch. The trouble began about 15 months ago when two children were received from the Trenton almshouse. They soon developed a skin disease which was communicated to the others. The doctors finally ordered the place closed. It will be some months before it is reopened.

Though It Was Fought in an Opera House With Stage Swords.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 19—Earl Dorsey and William Stalter, two well-known society young men of Moundsville, fought a duel on the opera house stage in that city. The Thomas Osborn company was playing there the last three nights of last week and the young men quarreled over a girl in the troupe. They met behind the scenes at a rehearsal and the quarrel was resumed. The swords used in the part of the play were used in the fight and each man seized one. A hot fight ensued, lasting five minutes, at the end of which William Stalter was stabbed in the neck, inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound.

And One of the Prisoners Gave and Told the Sheriff.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 19—Some time Saturday night three prisoners confined in the Bowie county, Texas, jail at Ball, the county seat, succeeded in breaking through the wooden wall and escaping. Among them are Robert Scott and Spencer Miles, both self-confessed murderers. The other prisoners who escaped were in for minor offenses, with the exception of Bud Gibson, colored, recently sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. He walked 23 miles to this point, hid up the sheriff, surrendered himself and notified him of the escape of the others. Officers are out and little doubt is entertained that all the parties will be recaptured.

A Young Society Woman of Baltimore Takes Strychnine.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 19—Mrs. Florence Forman, a young society woman, found herself last night and was found dead in bed this morning. She was the wife of George Forman, aged 23 years and has been married about two years. Some months ago she was sick and the illness affected her mind. While out walking yesterday she eluded the nurse who had been entrusted to watch her and bought 50 cents worth of strychnine, explaining that she wanted it to kill rats. Last night after going to bed she swallowed the poison. Mrs. Forman was the daughter of Mr. John Hodgson, a leading citizen and she was very handsome.
