A BIG TIME.

The organization of the democratic state machine at Portland last Saturday was accomplished amid surroundings which might be consistently likened unto a cross between a wake and riot. But let it be said to the credit of the democrats that before they had departed for their respective homes, it was all patched up, and not a ripple disturbed the political waters in their part of the vineyard.

The organization, as effected, stands as follows: Pres.; Geo. E. Chamberlain, of Albany; Vice Pres. at Large, John R. Markley, of Corvallis; Sec'y, Chas. N. Wait, of Portland. Executive Committee: F. A. E. Starr, John J. Kelly, Portland; Robert A. Miller, Jacksonville; L. D. Deane, Portland; T. J. Black, Halsey; John Barrett, Robert Catlin, M. G. Murray, Portland; John Barnett, Corvallis; Ira L. Campbell, Eugene; E. C. Bassell, Portland; W. F. Matlock, Pendleton; D. M. Sears, Dallas; Dr. S. P. Mallenix, Astoria; W. E. Graze, Harney county.

Tammany's meeting and banquet occurred Friday evening. This was where the boys made a mistake. It should have been deferred till after the state organization was brought about. On the evening mentioned wine flowed freely in fact till well along towards morning. It was then too late to retire, and of course some stronger beverages were indulged in, which accounts for the stormy meeting of Saturday. As a democratic friend of ours suggests, republican wine and democratic whisky did not mix right. This was really the cause of the trouble at the Portland meeting; everybody and his neighbor was "loaded." Ostensibly there were other things in the air, but they paled into insignificance when the real causes of the confusion are considered.

But the democrats have accomplished something in this state that under like circumstances, the republicans could not. When you find a republican, you find a man that when he thinks his political rights and privileges are being trampled into the dust, will do some thinking for himself, and when he fails to remedy the error, finds that his "thinking" and kicking has elected a demagogue who don't thank him for it. Not so with our democratic brethren. They may have a stormy convention, using such arguments as bricks and cuss words, but a little adhesive plaster and few drinks fixes it, and at the subsequent election they all vote straight. Unity in one of the virtues of the democratic party, which anyone must admire, for "in union there is strength."

But after all mending of bad breaks and breaches in the democratic defenses, it cannot be said that the general meeting at Portland was any particular credit to the party. Any political body that desires to carry favor with the public at large should not allow themselves to become a disorganized rabble, but with hardly head or tail to it. It is positively disgraceful, and redounds to their discredit.

THE WATER QUESTION.

The people of the town are inclined to favor a complete water system instead of temporary protection. If possible to construct the same, the former is much the best.

By the judicious expenditure of as much money as the town can raise, according to the provisions of the charter, permanent water works can be established, but it will be well towards fall of the year before they can be completed. Should our town see fit to give up the idea of cisterns and a hand engine, it would be well to purchase a hook and ladder outfit immediately. This includes a large number of rubber buckets and several Babcock fire extinguishers. This will give the town protection till it can do better, besides being a valuable auxiliary to the fire department after water works are completed.

The Gazette is in for the best means to protect the town against fire, let that be what it may. It saw speedy means of securing it in the direction proposed by the town council, and therefore gave all the assistance possible, realizing at the same time that permanent water works would be far preferable. Now if the town, through its council, should find it best to follow the course advocated by the citizens at today's meeting, they will find a willing backer in the only Heppner Gazette. The proprietors of the paper pay some taxes, and have property that needs protection.

IN THE LEAD.

From what the Gazette can learn, Hon. W. R. Ellis is in the lead as the republican nominee for congress. He is favorably spoken of everywhere. Both parties realize that they should select their man in Eastern Oregon, and the one that goes elsewhere to find him will learn when it is too late that a mistake has been made. As Ellis is the leading candidate in Eastern Oregon, and a strong favorite in Portland and other parts of the district, he would seem to be in the race. The party can make no mistake in nominating him.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER.

At the present session of the county court the Gazette was chosen as the official paper of Morrow county. According to the law passed at the last session of legislature, the ones having the largest circulation in the various counties shall be chosen, such selections to occur at the January terms of county court.

CAPTAIN PARKER'S EXPERIENCE.

Captain Parker, a prominent citizen of Astoria and proprietor of the Parker House, testifies to the efficacy of electricity for the cure of catarrh.

From the Oregonian.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 7, 1892. Dr. DARRIN—Dear Sir: The treatment you gave me for chronic catarrh from the effects of la grippe, two years ago, has proved successful. I am perfectly and permanently cured, and can commend your electric and medical treatment for all similar troubles. Refer to me. H. B. PARKER.

Another Cure of Heart Trouble. Mr. Editor: Say to the public that Dr. Darrin has cured me of palpitation of the heart and trembling sensation of the stomach. I live at 189 South First street, Portland. W. LAMBERT.

Dr. Darrin continues to treat all classes, the rich and poor alike, free of charge, at 70 1/2 Washington street, Portland, Or., from 10 to 11 a. m. daily. Those willing to pay, from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12 a. m., at half his former prices. He gives free and confidential examinations to all at the office or by letter. He treats all curable chronic, acute and private diseases with electricity and medicine when required. FROM EASTERN OREGON.

Our Tammany Representative Talks in Portland at The Big Banquet.

The following is a synopsis of Hon. Henry Blackman's address at the Tammany banquet last Friday evening. It is given as taken from the Evening Telegram, with introductory remarks, which are, of course, the reporter's idea of it: After a soft and tender strain had been played by the band, Chairman Teal introduced Henry Blackman, of Morrow county, who spoke with much feeling of the party in Eastern Oregon. "It is with pleasure that I greet you on this occasion," said he, "the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans."

"We have always been faithful to the democracy in Eastern Oregon. Out of thirteen counties, all but one were carried by the democrats. We have elected twelve sheriffs of the party. The great inland Empire, comprising 64,474 square miles with 800,000 inhabitants, and raising 8,000,000 bushels of wheat each year, will have a voice in the politics of the state. We claim that we have some consideration at the hands of the state. Eastern Oregon wants an open river and a maximum rate law. These are what we desire. You know that I am not a speaker. At least they know it in my country. But I am considered a worker at home."

"And, gentlemen, Eastern Oregon is in the field for congressional honors. We want to show what the democracy of Eastern Oregon can do and I trust that this large city will not attempt to keep Eastern Oregon from sending a representative to congress. Hoping that the national election will go to the democracy, I thank you for your attention."

MASS WATER MEETING.

The meeting was called to order today at 2 p. m., by Mayor Matlock. J. N. Brown and Alvin Patterson were chosen, respectively, chairman and secretary. A general expression was called for from the citizens, and nearly everyone spoke in opposition to the cistern scheme and in favor of building a reservoir on the hill, connecting with the town by mains.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Frank Kellogg, and together with the amendment, was carried: Resolved: That the citizens, tax payers and business men present at this meeting are not in favor of the cistern plan for fire protection.

That we are in favor of a full and permanent water supply for fire protection by means of a reservoir of the capacity and location recommended by Emory Oliver in his report to the town council, and water mains laid throughout the town, and with a sufficient number of fire hydrants to protect all parts of the town; and we hereby respectfully request and urge the council to take the necessary steps and secure the same as speedily as circumstances will permit.

Amendment: Specifications and plans to be submitted before the town be bonded for this purpose.

The president was empowered to select a committee of three for the purpose of carrying out the intention of the motion. He appointed Frank Kellogg, H. Blackman and W. O. Miner. Messrs. Brown and A. W. Patterson were afterwards added.

Mr. A. G. Long, of Portland, presented his plan to furnish hook and ladder outfit, 4, 5 rubber buckets and Babcock extinguishers.

With this the meeting adjourned.

It should be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpshurg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's new discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of la grippe, when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Coquille, Pa., claims Dr. King's new discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at Slocum-Johnston Drug Co.'s store. Large bottles, 50c, and $1.

PENDLETON LETTER.

Everybody has gone crazy on the subject of sleigh-riding in Pendleton today. The snow is about two inches deep, and nothing extra from a sleighing standpoint; but it is snow, and may be the last opportunity for the jolly sport, hence everybody is making merry while the snow lasts. Rigs of every conceivable kind, from a stylish cutter, with prancing steed and silver bells, to the non-descript jobtail, with cowbells and insect-footed niggers, scurry along over the snow to merry shouts and the music of deep base horns. Many youths and maidens fair are coasting on the hillsides.

Last of a laboring man named Carl, who was out of work and "broke," took his roll of blankets on his back and started for the railroad, "to hang him self," as he told an acquaintance. Shortly afterward his lifeless body was discovered swinging from the railroad bridge below town, and tonight he sleeps in the potter's field, and life's fitful fever for him is cured.

Judge Ellis was in Pendleton this week getting acquainted with our people, and incidentally looking after his congressional fences. He made a most favorable impression, and several republicans were heard to remark that he would make excellent congressional timber. Eastern Oregon has long been left out in the cold so far as our national representation went, and is very much in need of a demand that the representation from the new congressional district shall be a man from this side of the Cascade, a man personally interested in the development of the inland Empire, and acquainted with this rich region. If Mr. Ellis receives the nomination of the republican convention, he will secure a handsome vote, aside from the assured republican majority of the district, and Eastern Oregon will no longer be represented in congress by proxy.

of such undesirable citizens and perhaps we will—and then again perhaps we won't. Very little is said of these things by our city papers, but they are here and need to be cleaned out, if we would prove that we are a civilized community, and the best way to do so is to no longer shut our eyes to these evils, but tell the plain truth about them and shame the devil, if such a thing is possible; at least, that is the opinion of
