PECULIAR STATISTICS. — The statistics as to the population in the parish of Svinhult, Ostergotland, Sweden, show some very peculiar facts. The number of inhabitants was the same January 1, 1891. Fifty-one people emigrated in 1891, while the same number settled in the parish dur-ing the vear. The cases of death corrections of Norway to A merica in 1890 were valued at 1,875,000 Their diamond wedding was cele-brated by Per Olson, a well-known farmer of Orsta, Sweden, and his wife. A cablegram from Copenhagen, dated January 29, says that there has been a same number settled in the parish dur-ing the year. The cases of death corre-sponded with those of birth, and eight with eight dissolved marriages. The Rumskula parish in the same province had just 1892 inhabitants when the year Silv make its for the same province had just 1892 inhabitants when the year 1892 made its first bow.

NORWAY AT THE WORLD'S FAIR .---Norway will, without, doubt, be repre-sented at the Columbian Exposition. The Norwegian interior department seems at least to be in favor of such participation, and gives many important reasons for this, of which we relate the reasons for this, of which we relate the following: "It was Leif Erikson, a Norwegian, who was the first discoverer of the great American continent; most Americans nowadays acknowledge that Christopha Columbus had heard of this and that his journey to lecland was made for the sole purpose of obtaining information as very the travels of Leif. Norwegians have contributed—in no small degree either— to the building up of the Americant-to the building up of the Americant-states; Norwegians fought bravely during the civil war for the unity of the substates; Norwegians fought bravely during the civil war for the unity of the substates. For was during the civil war for the unity of the republic and the principles of human-ity; the Norwegians in America amount to more than one-fourth of the number of those who are living in Norway, and they are also acknowledged by the na-tive citizens to be an honest and law-biding reaches. Norwegian sublers have abiding people; Norwegian sailors have won a good and fair reputation as relia-ble seamen on board American ships, both merchant vessels and men-of-war; the Norwegian-Americans have always maintained a deep and earnest love for their mother country, as is proved by the considerable money remittances yearly sent to the far northern land; Norway's exportations to America are bounded large avery day, as a most becoming larger every day; as a most enticing tourist country Norway stands unrivated, and there never was a better opportunity to let this fact be known than just now; it is our most important than just now; it is our most important duty to accept the invitation so cordially tendered us by the American govern-ment, for there is no doubt in our mind that the Columbian exposition will remind veal a competition of a magnitude and extent heretofore unknown among na-LIONS. It may be said that the reasons here given for a Norwegian exhibition also cover the yet unsettled question as to the representation of Sweden at Chi-cago in 1893.

inhabitants of Hammerfest when Norwegian city was furnished with electric lights some time ago. Water was used as the motor power for the dynamos. Every store and every pridynamos. Derry store and every pri-method in the set of the store of time all went smoothly, and the lamps heretolore used were buried in the ash barrels without ceremony. But the in-fighting was going on. tense cold which visits these regions during winter came one evening as an unbidden guest. Soon the ice lay thick on the lake, and as a matter of course the dynamos ceased to work as they on the lake, and as a matter of course the dynamos ceased to work as they could not be driven by means of frozen waves. The electric lights went out, and the whole town was buried in Egyptian darkness. All business is sus-pended at present, and there is a lively light over the few lampe that are obtain-able. The dark season in Hammerfest will be at an end in a month, but up to that time the good citizens are going to have a hard job trying to recognize each will be at an end in a month, but up to that time the good citizens are going to have a hard job trying to recognize each other. It is said that the words by Goethe, "Lights! more lights!" have been declared to be the production of an unsound mind by all the loving couple.
