The Original
Webster's Unabridged DICTIONARY.

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE publishers, we are able to obtain a number of the above book, and propose to furnish a copy to each of our subscribers.

The dictionary is a necessity in every home, school and business house. It fills a vacancy, and furnishes knowledge which no one hundred other volumes of the choicest books could supply. As some have asked if this is really the Original Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, we are able to state we have learned direct from the publishers the fact, that this is the very work complete on which about forty of the best years of the author's life were so well employed in writing. It contains the entire vocabulary of about 100,000 words, including the correct spelling, derivation and definition of same, and is the regular standard size, containing about 300,000 square inches of printed surface, and is bound in cloth half morocco and sheep.

Until further notice we will furnish this valuable Dictionary—
First—To any new subscriber.
Second—To any renewal subscriber.
Third—To any subscriber now in arrears who pays up and one year in advance, at the following prices, viz:

REV. E. KOENIG: Dear Sir—I deem it a duty I owe you to certify to the good effect the taking of your medicine had on my health. I was troubled by nervousness brought on by overwork. Your Nerve Tonic almost immediately stopped that peculiar tremor that, I presume, is evidence of nervousness. I am now well. My head troubled me, could not sleep, head dreams of accidents, etc. One spoonful of your medicine removed the cause of my dreams; have not had them since; took seven or eight bottles of your medicine. Keep some in my house; always take some occasionally; would not be without it; have recommended it to my friends. If I am not mistaken, your medicine will prove a great blessing to this over-worked nation. Yours truly,

CONVENTION NEWS.

Thursday's Work at the State Republican Convention.

DAVE DUNNE GETS THERE AFTER ALL.

Morrow County Politics in the Democratic Camp—Everything Moving Smoothly —Other Political News.

PORTLAND, April 7.—When the convention reassembled this morning, the declination of W. D. Hare, for presidential elector, was read, and on motion, David M. Dunne, of Portland, who had received the highest number of votes yesterday of the defeated candidates, was unanimously chosen in the place of Mr. Hare.

A recess of thirty minutes was given for the various districts to select their candidates for joint senators and representatives. With the exception of Wasco and Sherman, they were but a few moments in fixing their states. The following is the result:

JOINT SENATORS.

Coos, Curry and Josephine—Walter Sinclair, of Coos, the present incumbent.

Columbia, Tillamook and Washington—J. W. Maxwell, of Tillamook. He represented his county in the house in the session of 1889.

Gilliam, Sherman and Wasco—W. W. Steiwer, of Gilliam. He is a general merchandise dealer at Fossil.

Sherman and Wasco—H. S. McDaniels, of Sherman.

Umatilla and Union—George V. Hamilton, of Umatilla.

Union and Wallowa—M. B. Rees, of Union.

Crook, Klamath and Lake—A. Snider, of Lake. He represented Lake in the house.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

First Judicial District—George W. Dunn, of Jackson.

Second—A. C. Woodcock, of Lane.

Third—Samuel Gibson, of Polk.

Fourth—J. P. O. Lownsdale, of Portland.

Fifth—G. W. Wingate, of Clatsop.

Sixth—William Morfitt, of Malheur.

Seventh—J. L. Luckey, of Crook.

JOINT REPRESENTATIVES.

Coos and Curry—J. B. Yeagley, of Curry.

Yamhill and Tillamook—H. W. Lamson, of Yamhill.

Grant and Harney—Charles A. Richardson, of Harney.

Klamath and Lake—O. A. Stearns, of Klamath.

Wasco and Sherman—E. N. Chandler and T. R. Coon, both of Wasco.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

While the convention was waiting for the Sherman, Wasco and Gilliam delegations, Magers, of Yamhill, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, We, the representatives of the republican party of Oregon, in convention assembled, express our decided opinion that the best interests of our state require that its varied resources and productions be properly exhibited at the approaching World's Columbian Exposition, and to this end we urge upon the legislature of the state of Oregon at the next session to make an early, liberal and sufficient appropriation therefor.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

Chairman Mallory offered the suo, joined resolution, which met with the approval of all and was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, This convention recognizes the vast importance to the commerce of this coast of the opening of the Nicaragua canal,

First—By shortening the distance of water by transportation to the Atlantic and gulf states and to Europe many thousands of miles, thereby lessening its expense and bringing our producers correspondingly near the great markets of the world;

Second—By preventing exorbitant rates on transcontinental freights by the combining of railroad companies, as water transportation always acts as a regulation of freight rates;

Third—Enabling the quick and cheap transportation of such products as will not bear the heat twice crossing the equator and the cold of the frigid zone, added to benefits accruing to commerce, are matters of great national importance in which the people of our republic are vitally interested;

Resolved, That we favor such friendly legislation by congress to this great enterprise as is consistent with the public good, and ask our present delegation in congress to use their utmost endeavors in its behalf, and pledging the nominees of this convention to do the same.

THE REGULAR NOMINEES.

The appended resolution was offered by Apperson, of Clackamas, for the purpose of preventing nominations by district conventions. It was adopted without objection, the necessity for it being obvious:

Resolved, That the persons selected by the various district delegations and reported by them to this convention as nominees for the following offices: Members of congress, circuit judges, prosecuting attorney, members of the state board of equalization, joint senators and joint representatives are hereby declared to be the nominees of this convention for the various positions for which they have been so selected, and the president and the secretary of this convention are hereby directed to certify their nominations accordingly.

Judge M. L. Olmsted, of Baker county; Hartwell Harley, of Multnomah; W. R. Willis, of Douglas; Judge F. A. Moore, of Columbia, and Judge D. R. N. Blackburn, of Linn, were placed in nomination for supreme judge. Judge Olmstead afterwards withdrew. The ballot resulted:

Moore	131	Hallary	17
Blackburn	48	Willis	12
Hurley	19	R. P. Boise	1

ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The contest for the attorney-generalship was a stubborn one. Apperson, of Clackamas, nominated Lydell Baker, of Portland, and Vawter, of Jackson, Judge Lionel R. Webster, of Jacksonville, and the fight began. It was apparent that Multnomah county was divided when McCamant seconded Webster. "Multnomah needs no representative on this ticket," he declared. "No matter who is nominated the county will roll up its usual majority. Our majority is not counted by fifties, or hundreds, but by thousands."

Multnomah showed another split when Moreland nominated Granville G. Ames, of Portland.

Baker was seconded by Tanner, of Multnomah, and Webster by Schlbrede, of Douglas. Miller, of Josephine, argued that it would be the best policy to nominate Webster, as he came from a section which had never been honored by a state office, and besides had helped to redeem Southern Oregon from the democracy.

Jayne, of Gilliam, replied that that was no reason why the convention should nominate Webster, as it had not been shown that the advancement in the party in Southern Oregon was not due solely to Webster's efforts.

Miller retorted that Webster was the republican leader in Southern Oregon.

Nevius, of Multnomah, closed the argument in a pretty speech favoring Baker, who is a nephew of Oregon's immortal United States senator, E. D. Baker, who was killed at Ball's Bluff. Nevius saw the dead body of the senator after the battle. He reviewed Col. Baker's glorious career, and referred to the splendid work Lydell Baker did for the party in the campaign of 1890. "We have with us a chip off the old block and should honor him," he concluded.

The ballot resulted in a victory for Webster, by the following vote:

Webster	117	Baker	107
Ames	4

On motion of Gowan, of Harney, a committee of five was elected, with the chairman of the central committee as chairman, to select a secretary and assistant secretary. The chair appointed on the committee Gowan, of Harney; Tongue, of Washington; McCornack, of Marion, and Welch, of Clatsop. It was voted to request the Crook delegation to send in the name of a committeeman from that county.

FIRST DISTRICT COMMITTEE.

The central committee of the first congressional district met yesterday morning. J. T. Apperson, of Clackamas, was chosen temporary chairman, and C. A. Schlbrede, of Douglas, temporary secretary. Thomas H. Tongue, of Washington, was elected permanent chairman and Schlbrede secretary. An executive committee was appointed, consisting of the chairman and secretary, W. I. Vawter, of Jackson; A. E. Gallagher, of Lane, and S. A. Dawson, of Linn. The general committee has been filled by the following appointments: Lane, A. C. Woodcock; Jackson, W. L. Vawter; Klamath, Geo. S. Nickerson.

SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

The central committee of the second congressional district organized by the selection of C. H. Carey, of Multnomah, chairman, and J. C. Lessure, of Umatilla, as temporary secretary. Its representation is as follows:

The chairman was authorized to select a secretary and assistant secretary, and to open headquarters. It is contemplated to co-operate with the state central committee by using a common headquarters, and by having the secretary and assistant secretary of the state committee act respectively as assistant secretary and secretary of the congressional committee.

OUR CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

A Self-Made Man is W. R. Ellis—A Sketch of His Life.

From the Oregonian.

W. R. Ellis, nominee for congress for the second congressional district, was born in Montgomery county, Indiana, April 23, 1850. At 18 months of age he was left fatherless, and with his family resided on the home farm until reaching his majority, at times teaching school and also working on the farm. At 21 years of age he entered the Iowa Agricultural college, graduating from the law department of the state university in 1874. While in Iowa he made his home in the town of Hamburg, and while there held several municipal offices, including that of mayor.

In 1883 he came to Heppner, Morrow county, where he has since resided, following his profession as a lawyer. In 1885 he was appointed as prosecuting attorney of the seventh judicial district by Governor Moody, and in 1886 was elected again to that office, and again in 1888 was re-elected to the same position by a handsome majority, retiring from official duties on the expiration of his term of office. Two years ago the name of Mr. Ellis was favorably mentioned as a candidate for congress, when the state was allowed but one representative in the lower house of the national legislature. Being a warm friend of Hon. Binger Hermann he did not wish to oppose that gentleman, and refused to allow his name to be used. He was early mentioned for the nomination in the second district this year, and has been in the lead during all the time up to his nomination last night.

Mr. Ellis is in accord with the administration and the republican majority in congress on silver and the tariff. He has always been a Blaine man, as long as the man from Maine was in the field, but now favors the renomination of Harrison. He will devote his time and energy to the campaign, going into every part of the district, even interior places.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

Reports From Heppner, Mount Vernon, Gentry and Other Precincts.

Gentry met in the opera house with Frank Kellogg, chairman, and R. W. Turner, secretary. The delegates elected are: E. G. Sloan, W. A. Johnston, J. J. Roberts, Frank Gentry and W. G. McCarty; central committeeman, J. W. Morrow.
