How are you fixed for letter-heads, bill-heads, note-heads, statements, envelopes and the like? Don't overlook the Gazette in any deal of this nature, for strictly first-class work.
Victor Staecker, traveling salesman for Mowen, Valentine & Goldsmith, was in Heppner Wednesday. Victor informs us that this is his last trip up here, as he has been transferred to the Sound country, with headquarters at Seattle.
A lady, whose hair came out with every combing, was induced to give Ayer's Hair Vigor a faithful trial. She did so, and not only was the loss of hair checked, but a new and vigorous growth soon succeeded that which had gone.
Homer McFarland is slightly incapacitated for business just at present, owing to the fact that he happened to an accident yesterday, by which his big toe became badly bruised, though we venture to say he hasn't missed a meal yet.
Charles Royce left Wednesday morning for Pendleton, where he will spend a few days. Charles also expects to be present at the meeting of the Pendleton Chapter No. 28, Royal Arch Masons, which meets in Pendleton tomorrow evening.
J. Langford and Otis Savage, two young gentlemen from The Dalles, on an outing expedition, arrived in Heppner yesterday, having made the trip on horseback. They are now visiting Charles Wagner, of this city, though expect to take a hunting trip out in the mountains ere they return.
L. Samuels, formerly editor of the Independent West Shore, of Portland, has been appointed associate manager of the Equitable Assurance Company, of New York city. No better selection could have been made by the company, as Mr. Samuels is a thorough business man, and well known all over Oregon.
Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Harrington, Homer Harrington and Charley Manning returned from Teel springs yesterday. They report quite a pleasant time while there, and say there is now nearly 200 people outing at the springs, mostly from Pendleton, though several from Alba, Canas prairie and Heppner.
Our credit can only be kept good by our keeping our debts paid. The same rule applies to you, so keep your credit good by helping us to keep our credit good, and don't forget that P. C. Thompson Company cannot do business without money, and must have a prompt settlement of all over due notes and accounts, without further delay. 91

The Scientific American says that the "G. F. Webb Body Battery and Appliances" are "the most practical electrical devices yet developed." It is remarkable what a wide range of diseases are amenable to electrical treatment, even when all other remedies fail. Thousands of testimonials prove the efficacy of the "G. F. Webb Body Battery and Appliances." Those afflicted with disease should write to B. B. Bliss, General Agent, Iowa Falls, Iowa.
A. F. Miller, of Monmouth, is in Heppner, having just finished getting in his spring's wool clip. Mr. Miller desires much that his section of the country should be added to Morrow county, this being their trading point. It is likely that this question, and that of division, will form the principal topics till the next session of the legislature.
Recently Father A. Lemay, Henry Contre and Jas. Wasson struck what appeared to be pretty good diggings on Backout gulch, Grant county, taking out one prospect hole, and far above the rock, the sum of $8. They took claims, but recent prospecting failed to reveal anything there. It is probable that the ground was "salted."
Oscar Minor is the proud possessor of ten young Chinese pheasants. He has a pair of old ones, and the hen has laid quite a number of eggs this season. He tried some under a common hen, but it was not a success. Mother pheasant chicks much like a domestic hen, only in softer accents.
Mrs. A. Mathoit and little daughter arrived from Walla Walla last evening to visit their relatives in this vicinity. Mrs. Mathoit is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florence, who live above Heppner. While in Heppner, Mrs. Mathoit and daughter were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Patterson.
Don't be discouraged about the measles, till you have given Ayer's Sarsaparilla a persistent trial. Six bottles of this medicine cured the complaint for George S. Thomas, of Ada, Ohio, when all other remedies failed to afford any relief.
Word came down from the mountains last evening that Oliver Van Dusen was down sick. Mr. Van Dusen left at once for the outing camp, though he thought Charlie had nothing more than chills or a slight attack of mountain fever.

Got the Sack.—On the morning of Sunday, July 17th, a sack of money containing $1000 was stolen from one of the dealers in a Yamhill street gambling house. The thief watched his chance, grabbed the money, and concealed it under his coat. The loss was not discovered until the following morning when they opened up. M. E. Pitts, familiarly known everywhere as "Red" Pitts, was at once suspicious, as he had left the city. For several days the telegraph wires were kept hot with descriptions of "Red" to the police authorities in the principal cities along the different lines of railway. Finally he was located in Pendleton Tuesday morning by City Marshal S. Carlisle, of Arlington, who took him to Portland. He was at once given in charge of Constable Thomas, of Justice Wood's court, a warrant for his arrest having been issued by Justice Wood some days ago, and then he was taken to the county jail. The authorities have been keeping the arrest of Pitts "abroad," as an effect is being made to induce him to give up half of the plunder, if he has it, on condition that the case against him will be dismissed. Pitts, however, does not look upon a compromise with much favor and is not disposed to give up the $500 even if he has the plunder. He has employed counsel and proposes to fight the case. He says that he did not steal the money, and as no one saw him in the act the evidence against him is only circumstantial. Carlisle received the $200 reward offered for the return of Pitts to Portland. Although arrested and now in jail, yet the many acquaintances of "Red" here believe him innocent of the theft.

RETURNED TO OREGON CITY.—Charles Wilson, the infamously murdered of little Mamie Welch, was returned to Clackamas county last Monday morning and safely placed in the jail at Oregon City by Sheriff Ganong. Superintendent Downing, of the state penitentiary, got tired of keeping Wilson, especially as his care became more troublesome from day to day. The last few nights he was there he had to be tied hand and foot. Mr. Downing consulted with the governor and also with the Clackamas county officials. The governor wanted to get rid of Wilson and the officials of Clackamas county didn't want to receive him. Finally an order was obtained from Circuit Judge McBride, of the Oregon City judicial district, and armed with this Mr. Downing demanded that the Clackamas county sheriff come and get his man. The sheriff came and when he took Wilson from prison the murderer was securely bonnet, hand and foot. Sheriff Ganong reached Oregon City with him all right and found everything there quiet, and it is unlikely that there will be any attempt at mob violence. It is said the Milwaukee people are content to let the law take its course.

BLED TO DEATH.—Last Monday a week ago, Coroner Kizer, of Prineville, was notified that a sheepherder had been found dead at his camp on Wolf creek, about 20 miles east of Prineville. Mr. Kizer immediately left for the scene, where he found that Marine had bled to death. The indications were that he had gone to a pine tree some distance from his tent to cut some kindlings, and had struck his right foot with the ax, severing an artery. From the tree he had returned to the tent, and had tried to check the flow of blood with flour. Not succeeding in this, he had gone to some willows nearby and cut two sticks for crutches, with which he attempted to walk, but probably becoming weak from the loss of blood, threw away his crutches and crawled to the tent, laid down on his bed and died. He could be tracked from place to place by the blood, although there had been considerable rain Friday night, the blood stains had not been obliterated. Mr. Marine was a native of Kansas, though he had been in Oregon ten or twelve years, during which time he had followed sheep herding.

LACHERS FAMILY WON.—Brakeman H. C. Wood, of the Heppner ran, showed his nerve last Thursday at Ione by stopping a runaway. A horse attached to a cart occupied by two ladies became frightened at the train and started across the track, just ahead of the train, but the locomotive shot it out at the crossing. It then ran alongside the train until the forward end of the coach was opposite the horse, when Mr. Woods leaped from the platform of the coach and seized the halter strap and the reins and brought the horse to a sudden halt and received the thanks of the much frightened ladies and the passengers on the train. If the women get the right to vote Harry will be sure of any office in Morrow county. —Wasco Sun.

A QUEER COMBINATION.—What queer combinations one sees on the streets. Today a six-footer, dressed in the rough garb of a rancher, and evidently just from the country, was seen walking briskly down Seventh street. On his shoulder he bore a large, but very plain-looking coffin, while with one hand he grasped the handle of a big demijohn, which, from appearances, was well "loaded." The man attracted as much attention as a small monkey show. "That's a combination hard to beat," said a druggist who was in the crowd; "a coffin and a jug of whisky. Talk about the eternal fitness of things, will you?"—Portland Telegram.

ARTESIAN WELL WATER.—Below is given a chemical analysis of the water from the Heppner artesian well, which was sent to the agricultural college at Corvallis, Oregon, for analysis: Total solid grains per gallon, 54.95; soluble after evaporation, per gallon, 33.54. Qualitative analysis of soluble residue shows presence of lime, soda, chloride, sulphuric acid, and traces of potash and magnesia. Probable combination of greater portion of sodium chloride, lime sulphate and magnesium sulphate.

NEW DRESSMAKER.—Miss Letha Parker, just from the E. at, has opened dressmaking parlors over Mrs. W. A. Johnson's, where she is prepared to do all kinds of dressmaking in latest styles and at reasonable rates. 4-11
