of the city was burned. He came particularly into notoriety by reason of this. Since then he has not been able to do any work. His inability and recklessness that the fire got beyond the department's control, resulting in the destruction of millions of dollars' worth of property. He was drinking when the fire broke out and before it had done half the damage was irresponsibly drunk. The treatment property-owners received at his hands on that occasion was hardly less than shameful. Run-crased, with ax in hand, he ran about like a mad man, and on more than one occasion threatened to chop men down while trying to save their property. As a fitting climax to all this, and while the very heart of the business centre of the city was burning, Murphy dropped everything and forced a drayman to go with him to the house of Emma Starr, a notorious woman, whom he afterward married, and carry her furniture away to a place of safety. It was shortly after the fire that he married Emma Starr, though they had lived together since 1882. In March last his wife prepared a divorce from him and Murphy was drinking more or less heavily since. He is 49 years of age, of Irish descent and was born in the city of Philadelphia. He has lived in Seattle about 15 years. He was for several years a government scout during the Indian wars and later a police officer in the town of Astoria. When not connected with the fire department in this city Murphy worked as a bartender. For a number of years he served as such in Jimmy Smith's old Bijou saloon on Washington street. When a young man he learned the iron molder's trade. He is a member of the Red Men and also the Elks.

Murphy was arrested yesterday afternoon in his cell at the city jail. He positively denied killing Dawe. He admitted, however, being in the saloon a minute before the shooting. When told that he was dead Murphy expressed regret and said that the man had been placed in jail Murphy, at the request of his friends, was visited by James Hamilton Lewis, Colonel Lewis stated that he had not decided whether he would take the case or not.

A Charge of Theft May Lead to International Complications.—BALTIMORE, July 29.—A charge of theft preferred against Dr. Albert George, an attaché of the Swiss legation at Washington, may lead to international complications. Dr. George was among the excursionists from Washington to Hay Ridge on Wednesday.

He was standing near the dairy lunch counter when Mrs. W. D. Borde, of Baltimore, came up to make a purchase. She laid her pocket book on the counter, as she thought. When she wanted to make payment she found that her pocket book was missing. She called a deputy sheriff and had Dr. George arrested. He protested but was taken to Annapolis and searched. After a hearing before Justice Flood, as there was no evidence against him that he had taken the pocket book, he was discharged.

Dr. George, upon his return to Washington today, complained to the state department of the indignity heaped upon him, and Secretary Foster has telegraphed Governor Brown for the facts of the case. The pocketbook, with its contents undisturbed, was found on a bench at the gravity road, where Mrs. Borde had previously been sitting. The arrest of Dr. George was contrary to international law and he will probably claim and obtain heavy indemnity.

Men Who Want to Go Aways Attached by Guards.—PETERSBURG, July 28.—On the hearing of Sylvester Critchlow, one of the Homestead strikers, this morning for release on bail several witnesses swore that they saw Critchlow load and fire a gun at the barges. Judge Magco refused to admit in his bail that he saw Critchlow do this, and he was released on the first degree. His attorneys claim he was not there.

Finsley and Pirnock, suspected anarchists, arrested yesterday, were released today. There is no evidence against them. The authorities say the anarchists are thoroughly frightened. Erick continues to improve.

Deputy sheriffs are scouring Homestead to arrest men against whom warrants have been issued. Most of them have appeared. Three anarchists gained admission to the mill some days ago but were discovered distributing anarchistic literature and driven out. Officers are hunting for them, but they have disappeared.

The train passed through here this morning, carrying 55 men from Cincinnati to work in the Carnegie mills at Homestead. Before they reached their destination they were arrested. The men had not been told that their destination was Homestead and when they made the discovery a break was made to get away.

The coach charged the men and attempted to prevent them making their escape and a riot ensued in which twenty men were more or less injured. In the melee one man was stabbed in the forehead with a bayonet in the hands of an armed guard. Another had his thumb chewed off and nearly a score of others were badly bruised in their attempt to regain their liberty.

Private Secretary Tates says that more communications have been received by the governor referring to the treatment of Private Lamm than during the progress of the Homestead and coke region trouble. The agitation of the Reading combine movements.

The correspondence is generally understood to condemn the course of Colonel Streator and some of it asks for his removal from the National Guard. Many of the letters are from men who roundly denounce the act of tying Lamm up by the thumbs.

Philadelphia, July 28.—Recently the vice-president of the Virginia Editorial Association wrote to several local newspaper publishers asking that a number of members of that association, accompanied by their ladies, desired to visit this city on July 21, and asked that arrangements be made to receive and entertain them. He also wrote to General Passenger Agent Hancock, of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, requesting that transportation be furnished the guests from Philadelphia to New York and return over the Royal Blue line. He said there would be about 150 in the party.

Arrangements were made at once to give them a reception such as was given to the Georgia editors. One of the ladies provided for was a visit to the mercantile establishment.
