The Royal Baking Powder maintains its vigorous hold on the public and its active and aggressive course against the impure and injurous baking powder palmed off on the people. In this task it is performing a good work for Honest and unadulterated products.

Taylor Thompson and wife got back from Missouri Wednesday, where they have been for some weeks. They went back there to live, but it was too warm—too slow a country for East Oregonians, and consequently they are back better satisfied than ever. Mr. Thompson sold his car load of horses to a very good advantage. He saw the Gazette back there occasionally and said it was better than any letter.

Mrs. Chas. Cochran, the estimable wife of "Uncle Charley" as all know him, was examined yesterday before Judge Keithley as to her sanity, and committed to the asylum. Mrs. Cochran left this morning for Salem, in charge of her husband. It is sad indeed, and all sympathize with the family in their affliction.

T. K Roberts and J. B Manning returned from their inner country trip last Wednesday. During their absence they have taken in considerable of Umatilla, Grant, Crook, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties, and say that they note the wheat crop is not an entire failure in that portion of Eastern Oregon.

Messrs. Thompson & Binns, our rustling liverymen, have just added direct from the land of p. p. and persimmons, Elkhart Indiana, two buggies and a cart, with harness complete. SIX MEN OF HINDOSTAN.

From the Springfield (O.) Republic-Times.

There were six men of Hindostan
(If sages' tales are true)
Who rather plumed themselves upon
How very much they knew,
And intimated they could give
Old Solomon, did he but live
A friendly tip or two.

One day these men of Hindostan
Went out to take a run,
And carried big umbrellas for
Protection from the sun;
But up there came a jimmycane
With forty different kinds of rain,
Before their walk was done.

And then these men of Hindostan—
These men of wisdom vain,
Shut all their big umbrellas up,
TO KEEP THEM FROM THE RAIN;
And though the torrents roared and poured,
These men proclaimed, "We can't afford
To put 'em up again!"

O, foolish men of Hindostan!
As foolish as a pup—
What wonder jeers fill all the land,
While sorrow fills your cup?
And yet there are wise business men in U. S. A. who have not learned that to advertising—like handling an umbrella in a storm, to be successful,
You have to keep it up.

THE ELECTION.—The election on Ordinance No. 51, for bonding the town, on the Gates proposition for water, passed off quietly yesterday. As two-thirds vote is required where bonding the town is the issue, it was conceded by many of those favoring it that the measure would be defeated, though to the surprise of the majority of the citizens of Heppner, was carried by just one vote, 69 being cast for and 34 against the proposition.

BREAKING THE GAME LAW.—We see or hear on every hand evidences of the game law being broken. Why is it thus? Is it because our people delight in doing so in order to show our people that they do not care for our laws, or is it because of the inconsistency of the same? The following is the portion in question: "Every person who shall within the state of Oregon between the 15th day of March, and the 1st day of September of each year, take, kill, injure or destroy or have possession, sell or offer for sale any wild swan, mallard duck, wood duck, widgeon, teal, spoonbill, gray, black, sprig-tail or canvas back duck, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Also every person who shall between Nov. 15th and Sept 1st of the following year take, kill, injure or destroy, or have possession, sell or offer for sale any grouse, pheasant, Mongolian pheasant, quail or partridge except for breeding purposes, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor." Do you not think if the limit of time was changed, especially the time for killing grouse, pheasants, etc., say from Sept. 1st to Aug 15, or Aug. 1, that there would be a great deal less of this law breaking? By that time grouse are grown, and were this the case the law would doubtless be more generally observed. The law may be all right for the valley, but it is not for Eastern Oregon, and should be altered at the next session.

MISCONSTRUCTION.—Under the heading of "Takes Exception," in this issue, it will be seen that the writer objects to the compliment that was paid him in a recent issue of the Gazette, by the senior editor, who, as an old acquaintance of his, mentioned him as "a jolly old fellow, but one who had political opinions of his own." Now if you will think of this, no higher compliment could be paid than to say that one had firm and fixed opinions, politically or socially, and so much so that they could not be moved or changed by every factional leader with whom such a person would surely come in contact. Such firmness is essential to personal excellence. It gives strength and dignity to character. The world admires a man of fixed opinions and inflexible purposes, while it pities or scorns one of vacillating mind and wavering intentions. For as will be seen in everyday life, the man without determined purposes is unstable in all his ways, at the mercy of everybody's opinions, as are the waves of the sea to winds; while one with fixed opinions and resolute purposes commands the admiration of the heart and inspires one with the desire and resolve to emulate this virtue. Such being the case, our Eight Mile friend should not think us condemning him in this instance, but rather look at it as a compliment.

BIG BAPTIST DOINGS.—The town is choke full of good natured, stout, healthy Baptist preachers. The Gazette was brought up under the orthodox ideas of religion, and though not strictly religious, feels at home among these good people, and hopes their stay will be one of benefit and pleasure. It is the occasion of an Eastern Oregon convention of Baptists, to confer with the main organization in the East to procure assistance for the Baptist churches of this section, many of them not having members of means to keep them up. Some of them are a little "slack" too, and the brothers hope to bring them into line again. This sounds better than doing so much for the heathen. "Charity begins at home," or should.

A MONSTER RATTLESNAKE.—Wednesday afternoon the Gazette was the recipient of a live rattlesnake, which had been caught and imprisoned in a half gallon fruit jar by Henry Gay and a laborer on the farm. Of the species, many say it is the largest they have ever seen, measuring about three feet in length and larger than one's wrist in size. It is thought to be about twenty years old, though many of the rattles were broken off in the capture. After being viewed by many spectators on the street, the monster was killed by the use of chloroform and put in alcohol for preservation, in which state it may now be seen at this office. Thanks to Mr. Gay for the present.

A PAINFUL REMINDER.—Allen C Mason has a peculiar pair of cuff buttons, which are sure to attract the attention of anyone conversing with him. They are of unusual size, and the material of which they are made are solid gold of a rich, dead color. In raised letters and figures is the following design: "M" over "$5299.50" Being asked its meaning Mr. Mason smiled and said: "Well, sir, those buttons were made from all the gold which I invested, $5,299.50. I had them made as a gentle reminder." Here he heaved an expressive sigh and forced a splendid cigar upon the reporter.—Yakima Republic.

CONCLAVE OF KNIGHTS TEMPLARS.—For the Knights Templar pilgrimage to Denver, the Union Pacific will offer tickets at greatly reduced rates, good for 30 days. Tickets are now on sale at the ticket office. The conclave at Denver from Aug. 9th to the 14th, should be of great interest to all knights. For further information call on J. C. Hart, agent at Heppner, or address W. H. Burlburt, assistant general passenger agent, 254 Washington street, corner Third, Portland, Oregon. 510-15.

A DELICATE OPERATION.—Yesterday Dr. Gagen, assisted by Dr. Saubarn, removed from the throat of S. P. Florence, an unnatural growth, resembling much the heart of a small bird. It was attached to the uvula, the fleshy, conical body, which is suspended from the middle of the soft palate. When Mr. Florence would take in a full inhalation of air, the uvula being extended, caused a tickling sensation in the throat, and consequently a cough. It is a peculiar case, one not seen every day.

PASTURAGE.—Bob Shaw has a fine lot of pasture, alfalfa and wild grass, out on Butter Creek which he will rent reasonable for either horses or cattle. See Mr. Shaw, at Heppner, or C. P. Bowman, Butter creek. 513-tf
