Then if you cannot afford that longer, mix linseed meal cooked to a jelly with sweet skimmilk at the rate of a pound of the jelly to fifty pounds of the milk and feed this to the calf. It makes a fairly good substitute for unskimmed cow's milk in calf feeding. Later you may add to the linseed some oatmeal with the hulls carefully sifted out. Let us have a great big chicken show at the World's fair. Begin to prepare when it begins to chew the cud. The life of a working bee is only four or five weeks in the flower season. Six weeks, therefore, will serve to change the breed of the whole hiveful if an Italian queen is introduced at this time. She lays from 1,000 to 2,000 eggs a day.

We do not understand the curing cellar is ever artificially warmed. When ready for sale or use all the "brick cheeses" we have ever sampled of beef just a little "off flavor." But that constitutes part of the excellence of the cheese for those who buy and eat it. They are cheeses that most always run with the mother cow till her milk sell well in cold weather. The dealers in them tell us the production is overdone in the hot season sometimes, and they go down cheap because of the difficulty of keeping them .- Hoard's Dairy-

Notes.

The dairy business annually makes Wisconsin the richer by over $20,000,000. Two hundred dollars' worth of wheat takes off a large amount from the fertility of the farm, while $200 worth of butter takes off almost nothing. England imports yearly 914 pounds of butter per head for her inhabitants. When the farmer ships a thousand dollars' worth of wheat he pays freight on thirty tons of his product. When the creameryman ships a thousand dollars' worth of butter he pays freight on two tons. Here is a difference, even counting in the extra cost of the refrig-

Creamery butter always brings from four to five cents a pound more than dairy butter. This ought not to be so, for the home dairy has some advantages impossible for the creamery to secure such as uniformity of milk for one. The difference in the price, however, meas ures the difference in the skill and care employed in the manufacture.

One thing is certain, butter in America is generally better than it used to be whether made at home or in the cream ery. The creamery and the dairy school together have brought about this good result. The time will presently come when nobody can secure a place to work in a creamery unless he or she is a graduate of a dairy school, and farmers' daughters will all strive to take the dairy course. Then the United States will beat the world on butter. Let us show at the Columbian fair what we have accomplished airendy The demand for condensed milk is increasing. But the plant for making it is expensive.

In one day 13,000 pounds of butter are often sold on the Elgin board of trade.
