Here and There.

T. W. Ayers, Jr., for drugs. 68 sw Dr. B. F. Vaughan, dentist. Ripans Tablets cure malaria. IT'S PILLS cure Sick Headache. A. A. Wren and wife were in the city Saturday. W. M. Estes was up from Lexington yesterday. B. F. Senggart was up from below yesterday. Harry Jones, of Lena, was in Heppner yesterday. E. C. Frey, of Hardman, was in the city Saturday last. Carl Crow, of Lexington, was seen on our streets yesterday. Mrs. Arthur Smith is visiting down at John Hughes this week. L. T. Palmer was over from Wagner, Grant county, last Friday. When in Arlington, stop at the Bennett house, near the depot. Mrs. A. A. Roberts returned from the mountains Sunday evening. Ford, the painter, still "in it." For any kind of work see him. 81-f. Andy Cook was in from Lena yesterday looking as jovial as ever. A. J. Hicks returned from Walla Walla, Wash., last Friday evening. J. E. Smith, of Pilot Rock has some fine Oxford grade bucks. See ad. Albert Rea and Frank Jones returned from Teel springs Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hamilton are spending a few days on their mountain ranch. Miss Letha Parker, dressmaker, will guarantee you a good fit. Give her a trial. 4-f. C. M. Davis, of Gooseberry, made this office a pleasant and substantial call on last Saturday. Pap Simons & Son still shoe horses and do general blacksmithing at the old stand Matlock corner. 55. C. O. Coonan of Alpine, leaves today for Grande Coulee, Wash., where he will likely spend the winter. "The Parlor," W. F. Ruark, prop., in the city hotel, west side of Main street. Neatest place in Heppner. *sw. W. C. Cox got in Sunday from Long Creek returning yesterday with freight for the Long Creek merchants. E. A. Freed disposed of another one of his fine new Karloff organs to Edgar Palmer, of Lexington, recently. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop of Heppner, went up to Cloud Camp Wednesday.—Glacier. Hiyu ketchum whiskers. Hatt & Mathews, at the city barber shop—the place to get a first-class shave, hair-cut or shampoo. 1-f. James R. Bennett, of the Gooseberry neighborhood, made final proof on his homestead before Clerk Morrow, on Saturday last. E. O. Rev. W. E. Potwine left this morning on an extended visit to his old home in Connecticut. He will be absent until November 1. Bird heads are too many when they may be covered with a luxuriant growth of hair by using the best of all restorers, Hall's Hair Renewer. In Brown, the county surveyor, was up from the Elia country yesterday. Isa was not looking very well; in fact he has not enjoyed the best of health lately. Never and neater quarters at the Palace Hotel's north business room. Charles Jones, the baker, wants to see his old friends there. Baths in connection. Dr. Tackman came up from The Dalles Friday evening, accompanied by his wife. They left on Saturday morning's stage for Long Creek, where Doc is now located. How are you fixed for letter-heads, bill heads, note-heads, statements, envelopes and the like? Don't overlook the Gazette in any deal of this nature, for strictly first-class work. Doc Vaughan and Frank Rogers returned from Dutch Billy Creek Friday evening, though with no game to show as the result of the efficient training they had given their homies. Charles Lewis returned Sunday from his recreative trip in Grant county and visit with his parents and friends at Long Creek. Charley had a great time though failed to capture any of the coveted bear meat. No word has been received from Major Magone, the pedestrian to the World's Fair from John Day, for nearly a week, and fears are entertained by many of his Grant county friends that some accident has befallen him. Preaching at the First Baptist church of Heppner, Oregon, next Sunday, by the new Baptist "exhorter". Text for 11 o'clock a. m. "Upon one stone shall be seven eyes." All are invited to come early, so as to get seats. Be sure and put a box of Ayer's Pills in your satchel before traveling, either by land or sea. You will find them convenient, efficacious and safe. The best remedy for constiveness, indigestion, and sick headache, and adapted to any climate. Mr. M. A. Olden, of Lexington, Oregon, made purchase of a Lyon & Healy organ, of E. A. Freed, who is now canvassing this county. Mr. Freed has now gone to Pendleton, but will return ere long and will doubtless call on you if you have not yet met him. Homer McFarland and wife returned from their visit to Hood River Saturday evening. While there they were also up to Mt. Hood. Homer brought home with him a very fine picture of Mt. Hood, also showing Cloud Cap Inn, which is built entirely of logs, though a commodious hotel. Thos. Driskell and family have gotten back from Harrison, Hale and Pealand prairies where they have been camping for some time. They report to the editor of this paper a very pleasant time, and some cool weather. One night recently froze almost as thick as a window pane. The true test of a baking powder is well known to every housekeeper. But to try it in making bread, cake, etc., and we are of the opinion that it will be impossible to remove from the minds of our housewives the conviction long ago formed that the Royal does make the best, the most, and the most wholesome.

Married—At the Black Horse school house on Sunday, the 14th inst., Mr. Edward S. Duran and Miss Adella Sweetser, Rev. C. H. Miller officiating. Following the ceremony a nuptial feast was spread to which all present did justice. The Gazette acknowledges receipt of a fine box of wedding cake, and in return extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Duran, wishing them a successful and happy life.

A. G. Bartholomew was in yesterday with another load of fine fruit from the Thompson fruit farm, which he disposed of very readily. Mr. Bartholomew says this only regret is that he cannot deliver the fruit to the people at Heppner looking as it does when taken from the orchards; though in its dusty and bruised condition it is yet very fine. G. B. Tedrows arrived Saturday evening from McDuffie springs, minus the wife he was expected to bring back. Edward S. Duran, of the "boom" on the way over. Gov. Rea and Nate McBea are still enjoying life at the springs and will not be over for some time yet. C. O. McGonigill came in yesterday from his sheep camp on the North Fork, near the mouth of Stony creek. Mr. McGonigill says that the former owners there are grumbling much at two and one-half tons of hay to the acre. The potato crop will be almost a total failure on the river.

The following are either building or preparing to build residences: Mrs. Emma Kileop, Dan Osmer, J. J. Atkins, Mrs. Sarah Donahue and T. E. Babers. Others are talked of. Now that Heppner is going to have water and lights, people are not afraid to improve. E. L. Matlock, the auctioneer will offer for sale at the Shobe stable, near the Gazette office, on Saturday, Aug. 20th, the following property: Two horses, one buckboard, one cart, one set double harness and one set of single harness. Drop in and get a bargain. 416-16. If the ladies would abandon cosmetics and more generally keep their blood pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, naturally fair complexion would be the rule instead of the exception, as at present. Pure blood is the best beautifier. Subscriptions for all newspapers, magazines and periodicals published in the world taken at the Gazette office. Subscribe for your reading matter through us and we will insure you against loss of money in transmission through the mails. 1-f. Eleven head of Nels Jones horses got away Saturday and started back to Malheur, but were fortunately intercepted by Billy Hopper up on the prairie Sunday and brought back. These are the horses started eastward yesterday. Dick Howard, Roy Glasscock and Geo. Wells returned last Saturday evening from their vacation in the Blues. All report a very pleasant time, lots of fishing and hunting, though not so large game. The latest dentistry crown and bridge work, most successfully accomplished by Dr. B. F. Vaughan. Gas administered when desired. Thompson building, Heppner, Or. 1-a-w. Jas. Jones left yesterday with a car load of horses, headed for the East. He will stop in Iowa, and if he does not find sale there for them, will proceed further East. Rev. Shulsee and wife, D. W. Horner and wife and Alex. Thompson and wife returned from the sea coast Friday evening. All report a very pleasant vacation. Clerk Morrow issued Saturday, marriage licenses to Mr. Edward S. Duran and Miss Adella Sweetser, and yesterday to Mr. Geo. P. Fell and Miss Ida May Ayers. A Long Creek teamster had a horse down at Thompson & Binns' stable last week which attracted some attention from an anatomical standpoint. G. S. Thompson, Geo. Utt and Padberg Bros. got in yesterday from Teel springs, and other parts of the Blues. They had an elegant time. Ed. R. Bishop and Frank McFarland returned on last evening's train from Hood River. Mr. McFarland, however, intends returning again. Uncle Thos. Scott was over Saturday from Galloway. He has a creek ranout, and therefore his crop this year was but little below the average. Mrs. J. N. Brown, who was reported in a recent issue as recovering, was taken worse yesterday afternoon, though is reported better today. Geo. Conser and J. W. Rasmus went up to Camp Caplinger Saturday afternoon, returning Sunday evening. O. E. Farnsworth and family came down from the ranch yesterday and are domiciled at their Heppner home. As threshing is in progress in various parts of the county, we would like to bear something of the yield. Bruce Haines, of Eight Mile, informs our reporter that wheat threshing is now in progress in that section. Ellis Minor and family, and Mrs. F. J. Hallik returned from their mountain camp Friday afternoon. Word comes down from the Blues that Postmaster Mallory is making an A 1 band cutting saw-log. The cattle that Henry Blackwell shipped below last week weighed an average of 1245 pounds. C. M. Hogue, the justice of the peace of Hardman, was in Heppner a short time yesterday. The new school house bell will soon be placed in position. It weighs about 500 pounds. Born—In Heppner, on Saturday, the 13th inst., to the wife of Hick Mathews, a boy. Billy Douglas was in Friday last, and reports shorter crops than usual on the creek. Sam Walker, the invincible Sam, was over yesterday from Gooseberry. Born—In Heppner this morning, to the wife of W. B. Potter, a girl. Dill Garrigues and little daughter came up from Portland last evening. Mrs. Theo Danner is visiting her mother, near Lexington, this week. W. A. Young, of Gooseberry, called on us last Friday while in town. H. V. Gates writes that he will commence operations this week. Miss Etta Minor left this morning for Fairhaven, Wash. Frank Vaughan was over from Eight Mile Saturday. Dan Osmer spent Sunday in the mountains. J. C. Young, of Eight Mile, is in the city today. Ralph Dittenhoeffer Sundayed in Heppner. Ed. and Andy Rood were in town Saturday. San Clerk is over from Alba. DELMONICO.—E. F. Perkins has lately opened up the restaurant in the Lichtenhal building, which he has named the Delmonico. None but white cooks are employed, and the public can therefore get a good, old-fashioned meal, cooked in the best of style. Price, 25 cents; beds, 25 cents. 509-1f. A young man known here by the name "Lew" and Johnny Kennedy of the Bellevue, indulged in a little lightheadedness in Kecker & Williams' place Sunday evening. It was short duration, but lively while it lasted.

BACK AGAIN.—Conductor H. C. French and wife returned Sunday morning from their outing excursion in the Blue mountains, Mr. Burlingame and Miss Francis having left them a few days before, returning home on the stage "Fronchy," when seen by our reporter just after his return, looked as though he had just been through a grist mill. "Had a big time, wouldn't have missed such a trip for $500, though couldn't be induced to make it again for $500." In answer to inquiry, he said it was a fact that he had started for "Missouri," intending to go from there to the World's Fair as an advertisement for Morrow county, but after encountering many of the rim-rocked hills of Grant county, experiencing a combat with some of the fierce animals which inhabit the forests of the Blues, meeting with several accidents, and last but not least, losing the covering of his prairie schooner, which contained full instructions and directions, together with the parting words from home friends, he concluded to return to his first love with the consoling sigh of "Oh, the fun we had."

FUN AT UMATILLA.—Rather an amusing incident occurred at Umatilla the other day. Several Irish cool shovelers who had been working a short time quit, and as soon as they were paid off they proceeded to paint the town the customary color. One of the party happened to possess a new suit of clothes, and in their drunken quarrels the question of "who was the best man" was discussed at length. It was finally agreed to put the question to a test, the winner to get the new clothes. They repaired to a suitable spot, stripped off their coats and went at it. Several rounds were fought, and the man who owned the clothes was declared the loser. He couldn't see it that way, however, and refused to give up his wardrobe. They then proceeded to discuss the gentleman of his paraphernalia amid his kicks and curses. Destitute of clothing, and looking like an old-time Siwash, he was soon furnished with some old garments, and peace was restored by the victor of the fight calling in the gang to help him "wet" the new suit.—Arlington Record.

BETTER HAVE LUCK THAN WEALTH.—The Hood River Glacier says, "Some folks, some women especially, are born under a lucky star," and in this connection relates an incident of a young lady passenger on an east-bound train recently, who dropped her pocket-book containing $14 and baggage checks out of the car window a few miles west of that place. This was not the peculiar good luck that pursued her, but it was the act of the angel of Kismet, who looks after these giddy headed damsels, that caused it to be found by a trackwalker who turned it over to the agent and so the purse and money followed her by the next train." This is in the Gazette's way of "thinkin'" that it's better to be born lucky than wealthy.

A SOUND INSTITUTION.—M. Billings, General Manager of the Puget Sound National Savings and Loan Association, came in on last evening's train. Mr. Billings is here to close up the matter of a loan for which he took the application when here last spring. His association has collected less than $100 at this point, and now makes a loan of $1000. This association stands well throughout the territory in which it operates. We took stock in the above association when Mr. Billings was first here, and we are pleased to state that all representations made have been fulfilled in a business like manner. An institution of this sort, which proves itself reliable, should receive the support of our people.

FIRST PRINTING PRESS IN OREGON.—The Salem Statesman learns that the first printing press received in Oregon came as a donation from the American board of foreign missions in the Sandwich islands to the mission of the board of Oregon. It reached its destination at Lapwai and was put in operation by E. O. Hall, who printed books in the Nez Perce language. Both Mr. Spalding and Mr. Rodgers soon learned to set type. This was in 1839 and this same press is now at the state house in Salem. BACK FROM VIRGINIA.—Gid Boyer arrived home last evening from his trip back to Virginia, where he and Billy Jones had gone with horses, which were partially disposed of at a fair figure, but as Billy had not disposed of all of his, he did not return. Gid says, "Nearly everything looked very natural to me, though the weather I found uncomfortably warm, in fact quite different from the weather here at present."

SHOEMAKER.—Ed. Birbeck, a shoemaker and repairer of many years' experience, has just located in the Abrahamstuck building, on May street, where he is prepared to do everything in his line. Mr. Birbeck is strictly a first-class workman and warrants all work. Give him a call. 14-f. PASTORAL.—Bob Shaw has a fine lot of pasture, alfalfa and wild grass, out on Butter Creek which he will rent reasonable for either horses or cattle. See Mr. Shaw, at Heppner, or C. P. Bowman, Butter creek. 513-f. HYMENIAL. FELL—AYERS.—Today, at the residence of Mr. T. W. Ayers, of this place, occurred the quiet but pleasant wedding of Mr. Geo. D. Fell and Miss Ida May Ayers. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. P. M. Bell, was solemnly beautiful. After earnest congratulations were offered and a brief interval of conversation, breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Fell departed for Portland and Clatsop Beach, where they will remain a short time, and return to Heppner, their future home. None are better known here than this young couple, having resided in Heppner for a number of years, and the best wishes of a host of friends go with them. The Gazette is the recipient of a beautiful wedding bouquet and a choice lot of cake, all of which reminds us that for the comfort of printers, considering the number of eligible young men and ladies in Heppner, there ought to be more weddings. Geo. Lord and Billy Parsons are up from Elia, and will do some contracting and building this fall.

Ketch 'em ere they Fade. New Photographer! W. B. FOWLER, A FIRST-CLASS ARTIST has just removed from Milton and located permanently in the Lichtenhal Building, opposite City Hotel. To examine his work means an order.
