Hill, of Lexington, was in the city yesterday. C. B. Cobb, of John Day, is over this week on business. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Fell returned home last evening. Commissioner Brenner was in Heppner the first of the week. W. G. Boyer and wife were in from the ranch Wednesday. Ford, the painter, still "in it." For any kind of work see him. 81-4t. When in Arlington, stop at the Bennett house, near the depot. 61-4t J. L. Howard and his niece were in from Galloway Wednesday. Mrs. Judge Moxey and Mr. Heppner, of John Day, are seriously ill. Miss Letitia Parker, dressmaker, will guarantee you a good fit. Give her a trial. 4-4t Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wagner left yesterday morning for a few days visit at The Dalles. Puppishious & Son still shoe horses and do general blacksmithing at the old stand at stock corner. 55-4t "The Parlor," W. F. Ruark, prop., in the City hotel, west side of Main street. Nearest place in Heppner. "aw Mrs. J. W. Risman and children and Mrs. Geo. Allen returned from their outing trip in the Blues, Wednesday evening. W. M. Rudlo arrived yesterday from Long Creek, accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jane Craven, of Dayton, Wash. J. D. Schaff, the genial representative of the Oregon Glove Factory, of Portland, was with his many customers here Wednesday. Hyatt ketchum whiskers. Hat & Millies, at the city barber shop—the place to get a first class shave, hair-cut or haircut. Geo. Phipps, El Day's genial shepherd, was over from the Blues a few days this week. George reports sheep doing very well over there. The Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Restorer and your thin gray locks will thicken up and be restored to their youthful color, vigor, and beauty. Mrs. Margaret Barrett, accompanied by her son Master Harry, arrived last evening from Oregon City, to remain in Heppner and vicinity a few days. Dr. A. L. Fox made a trip out to Camp Cady yesterday. Our reporter was informed that all will have returned from there by the last of the week. Newer and neater quarters at the Palace Hotel's north business room. Charles Jones, the barber, wants to see his old friends there. Baths in connection. Harry Warren got back Friday evening from Prairie City, Grant county, where he thinks of starting a drug store. Harry is favorably impressed with that town. The boys wonder why the gentle "Injun" maiden of the Columbia should think Geo. Conser a "cultus Boston man." He stands A1 among his own people. Mrs. L. Cobb, mother of Phil and Jerry Cobb, and sister of Mrs. H. Blackman and Henry Heppner, arrived Saturday from San Francisco, on her way to her Boise home. R. Hart and son, Bob, returned Wednesday from John Day, where they had been outing for a few days. They picked up on "Pottamias creek, some good specimens of material. Master Clay French now has the agency, in the city, for the Oregonian, and asks that the people do not overlook him in giving their orders. Papers will also be on sale at Sloan & Johnson's drug store. Miss Beatrice Dennis, who has been visiting friends and relatives at Hardman, came in on last evening's stage leaving this morning for Salem to visit her brother. While there she will also visit the sea coast. Senator W. F. Mallock came over Tuesday from Portland, leaving Wednesday. While here he visited the Mallock breeding farm up on Hinton creek, and was well pleased with the appearance of the stock. Some people are constantly troubled with bulis—no sooner does one head than another makes its appearance. A single course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the best of blood-purifiers, effectually put an end to this annoyance. We recommend a trial. Judge Mallory and wife returned yesterday from the mountains, where they had a very pleasant time. The judge relates a very strange story to which our friend, Pat Quaid, cuts quite a figure. Lack of space prevents further mention this time. For a sluggish and torpid liver, nothing can surpass Ayer's pills. They contain no alcohol, nor any mineral drug, but are composed of the active principles of the best vegetable cathartics, and their use always results in marked benefit to the patient. An Abrahamsick returned from his home country four Wednesday. After an absence of about three weeks. He says he had a good business, disposing of a good many suits; also taking about $400 worth of orders. He thinks he will go over the same route again in about a month. When Recorder Roberts came up to his office yesterday morning he found that his brother "Jack" had come to his rescue as assistant recorder, and accordingly was doing up everything in shape. But as Al thought him rather too familiar he asked him to step down and out, which he did without protest. Some sympathetic friend kindly led "Mile" R. back to the shop recently and had him shod up in style. While Mike did not object to this, yet he seriously objected to having a twenty-third shoe put on a three-inch foot. He also thought from the way it was shod that it was not very familiar with a zebra.

See Ben Husaker's "lost" local, this issue. F. Kirkendall was in from Hardman Tuesday. Bruce Haines was in from Eight Mile yesterday. Jeff Jones and family left Wednesday morning for the valley, intending to locate in Clackamas county. Died—Wife of Joe Ward, of Eight Mile, Tuesday, August 23rd. Interment took place at Arlington, Wednesday. D. S. Sprinkle came up from Arlington Tuesday evening, returning on Wednesday morning's train. Oscar Minor has killed four antelope (2) since his last visit to the mountains. Oscar is a good shot and a lucky hunter. Mrs. A. J. Stevenson is prepared to do all kinds of nursing. Call at her home in north Heppner, or address her at this place. Butter Creek was represented in Heppner yesterday by J. N. Green, H. C. Thompson, Jerry Brosnan and A. G. Bartholomew. T. C. Aubrey expects to move out on his homestead, near Rhea creek, soon. Mr. Aubrey will teach at the Gooseberry district this winter. G. L. Thompson departed Wednesday for Olathe, Kansas, where he will visit his little daughter whom he has not seen for some years. Thomas Mathews and wife were in from Galloway Wednesday. Towns had just recently returned from the Tees springs, where he reports a good time. J. R. Ferguson, special agent for the Equitable Life Assurance Co., returned Tuesday from a month's stay in Grant county, leaving for Portland this morning. Mrs. Z. M. Parvin, mother of Mrs. J. N. Brown, departed Wednesday for her Salem home. Mrs. Brown is much better and it is hoped that her complete restoration to health will not be far distant. Tim Connelly, of Condon, a prominent sheepman over there, was in town Wednesday for supplies. He is raising his sheep this summer in the vicinity of Peter's Butte, and says they are finding good range in that neighborhood. E. O. Charles Cunningham is in town from a trip to the Birch creek mountains. He found range dry and water scarce. Sheep are at present in good condition, but the frosty nights and poor grass will soon cause them to fall off in flesh. Leet Greenwood, an old-timer of the Heppner country, but more recently of Wallowa county, is visiting his children and relatives here. Leet is still engaged in the sheep business, and is doing very well, though he says crops were short up there this season as well as elsewhere in Eastern Oregon. M. Evans, who lives five miles north-east of Lexington, has finished his threshing, and reports that he had 23 acres that averaged over 18 bushels per acre, and that his entire crop averaged nearly 10 bushels per acre. Mr. Evans summer-fallows and rarely ever misses raising a crop.

Mrs. A. N. Crockett and little daughter, and Miss Alice Morrow drove over from Long Creek in private conveyance, arriving yesterday to meet Mrs. Crockett's mother who arrived from the East last evening. All started for Long Creek this morning. Dr. Barber and wife, formerly of Canyon City, came over from Echo Wednesday, leaving for Canyon Thursday morning. The doctor, for more than a year past, has been traveling through the East for his wife's health, though now intends to continue his practice at Canyon City. VERY FORTUNATE—Geo. A. Crow, representing Van Schuyver & Co., was in Heppner Wednesday. Many will remember Mr. Crow as the gentleman who, while standing on the platform of an up train from Portland, smoking, was suddenly thrown from the platform as it was rounding a sharp turn. After recovering from the fright, Mr. Crow found that he was not injured, with the exception of being badly skinned and bruised up, though as it was very dark, he was completely lost, but after wandering along the track for some distance, he came across some fishermen at the river's edge, who, after hearing his story, took him into their boat, rowing him to the nearest station, where he found lodging over night, returning to Portland on next morning's train. CORRECTION—El Day informs our reporter that the correspondent from Butter Creek, in the issue of Aug. 17, who made the statement that he was having a time at Tees springs while his wife was visiting relatives, was very badly mistaken, as his wife, in company with some of the neighbors had gone over on the John Day, and as he was going over to join them, he stopped a few days at McDuffie springs, but was not at Tees at all. In this connection we desire to say that the Gazette publishes all correspondence in good faith, consequently we desire that all correspondents should be very careful that they send in nothing but facts. SAD DEATH.—On the 6th inst., Ross Emmett, the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bannister, was called away from this earthly sphere. The little fellow was nearly two years of age, the pride of the family, and his demise falls as a deep affliction upon the parents, as well as his five little sisters. One does not appreciate the sorrow brought about by the sudden cutting off of a bright and much cherished branch of the family tree, till it is experienced personally. In their hour of affliction, their friends tender their sympathies.

ANOTHER CHANGE.—J. R. Dooley and A. T. McNay have purchased the Padgett stable down near the planting mill, so Mr. Dooley informed our reporter recently, and both intend moving to Heppner in the near future. These gentlemen were partially induced to make this change in order to take advantage of Heppner's excellent schools, though they will still continue to look after residences down near Inoué. HEAD MIT TROUBLES FULL.—When Antone Abrahamsick arrived home Wednesday evening and learned that one of his favorite dogs had gone "where the wood-bine twineeth not," he was very indignant and was heard to say, "Ven a man pays taxes on his dog, and somebody him kids, de town should de damn are pay." If Abe can convince the people that this is right and just, the matter will likely be taken under advisement.
