ANOTHER MCKINLEY INDUSTRY

Scarcely a day passes that the newspapers do not chronicle some new triumph for the McKinley tariff. The latest fact which has been brought to light regarding the working of the new tariff law refers to the industry of down quilt making. Before the McKinley bill passed, 95 per cent. of the down quilts purchased in this country were made in England. There was only one manufacturer of these quilts in the United States, and, according to a correspondent of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, they cost $30 for the finer and $12 for the cheaper grade. Now, however, and under the stimulus given to the industry by increased protection, there are six manufacturers of down quilts in this country, and 200 persons are employed in this industry, which is rapidly becoming quite an important one. And prices? Well, quite that formerly cost $30 now cost $17, while the $12 quilts have fallen to $6. There is that in the history of the McKinley down quilt industry which will bring tears of sorrow to the eyes of the free-trade reformer.

A STRIKING OBJECT LESSON.

An Englishman representing an English paper manufacturing firm strolled into the New York office of a large dealer in domestic paper the other day. He showed samples and quoted prices, f. o. b. at the English port, on a dozen different kinds of paper, and probably supposed that he was giving the American a striking object lesson on the robbery perpetrated by the tariff which stood between the American people and his low-priced paper. But the American paper dealer was not one bit struck by anything the Englishman produced. On the contrary, he coolly got out his own samples and showed that he was daily selling domestic paper, of better quality, too, than that the foreigner exhibited, for less, in every instance, than the price asked by the English house. It was the other's turn to be struck now, and it is not too much to say that he was thunderstruck. The upshot of the matter was that he sent his resignation across the Atlantic and accepted the American dealer's offer of a position as salesman at exactly three times his former salary. He is confident that he can easily get orders for American paper from London. It is needless to say that that Englishman's faith in Cobdenism has received a mighty shock.

It's two to one that Russell Harrison will get off on the wrong foot before election and throw Montana democratic. The president had better chain up his fool by before election.—Record. While assuring the Record man that he need have no fears of Russell Harrison's throwing himself off up in Montana, we will take this opportunity to suggest to him if he has any pull in the matter he had better throw Dave Hill into line, or else send him to Europe until after election, for if something is not done it is four to one that New York is republican by a handsome figure. Yet the republicans can lose Montana, while our democratic brethren cannot afford to sacrifice all possible chances in New York. So we are led to remark that it is high time some one was adjusting matters over there, if they hope for victory in that state, or, all things being equal, and the republicans being on the "swap," we'll trade Montana for New York, and never mention it. Think it over. No charge whatever for the above suggestion.

ALTHOUGH Nancy Hanks has again lowered her record, for which she is receiving great praise, yet it is doubtful whether Nancy Hanks alone is any sweeter than Mand S. in her day. It is the pneumatic tire sulky and the kite-shaped track that is breaking records, not the horse alone. Many overlook this in the praise for Nancy.

Ruckles' Arnica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Slocum-Johnston Drug Co.

They Have A Bonanza.
It seems the owner of Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy for Rheumatism have a Bonanza as their remedy has never been known to fail in a single case. There is certainly room in the market for a medicine that will do what they claim for this wonderful preparation. Although the price is $5 per bottle if it does one half claimed for it the price should be $100. If the druggist has not got it, the remedy will be sent to any address by prepaid express on receipt of price. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

Let Us Reason.
If anyone who suffers from Rheumatism would stop and reason a moment before they decide to purchase some remedy, they could not help avoid any so-called cure that is sold for $1. Figuring the retailers, the jobbers and the manufacturers' profits out of that solitary dollar, and there is left not over 20 cents for the medicine. Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy appears to one's good sense. The price is $5 per bottle and to say one suffering from Rheumatism it is as cheap as it is good and effective. Sent to any address by Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane New York. Agents wanted.

HE IS A FORGER.

So Says J. L. Beymer, of Eight Mile, This County.

PROF. AUBREY LEAVES ON SHORT NOTICE

And Also a Black Record Behind Him—Beats His Friends Out of Large Sums of Money.

About two weeks ago it was reported that Prof. T. C. Aubrey had left for arts unknown, and also a good many of his friends in the lurch. While it was hoped that such would not prove to be the case, it dawned more forcibly on the minds of all, day after day, as new developments were made, that such was the fact.

About two weeks ago he hired a team out of one of Heppner's stables and proceeded to Arlington, accompanied by his family. This was unknown to his acquaintances, most of them heavy creditors, until he had taken the train at that place and had sufficient time to leave the country.

As soon as it was pretty generally understood that he was really gone for good, the people of Heppner began to take an invoice of their Aubrey accounts, and but few business men found themselves slighted. Here are a few of them: Congressman-elect Ellis, Coffin & McFarland, Minor Bros, P. O. Borg, besides an endless number of smaller creditors, ranging from $50 down.

Aubrey owed Mr. Ellis nearly $400 on a lot deal. The former's title was vested in a bond for deed, but as he wished to dispose of the property, had Mr. Ellis to give him a warranty deed, promising faithfully to pay the remainder in a short time and for which Mr. Ellis held his note. When it became known that Aubrey had skipped, Mr. Ellis began to cast around for some way in which to save himself. Aubrey owed Geo. Conser $800 for which he held as collateral, notes amounting to $800. Mr. Ellis immediately garnished the $200, starting his suit at the last term of court.

And now comes the strangest part of the story. One of the notes in Mr. Conser's hands was given to T. C. Aubrey by J. L. Beymer Jan. 10, 1891, for $450, due one year after date. Mr. Beymer came to town yesterday and, he says, for the first time, learned that such a note existed. Although the signature very much resembles Mr. Beymer's, he pronounced it a forgery, and immediately got out a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Aubrey. Mr. Conser, however, believes the note to be genuine, and will sue on it when due if not paid.

But if Aubrey is guilty of forgery, it surprises no one. It is pretty well known that during the wheat season last year he raised certain wheat receipts some 9,000 pounds in an attempt to beat the firm of Coffin & McFarland. His attention was called to the matter and as he allowed it to be righted without protest, the matter was dropped. The manner in which he beat P. O. Borg out of a fine ladies' gold watch and chain was but little better than "raising" wheat receipts; nor were his many other schemes by which he defrauded his friends and fraternal brethren out of money. Aubrey has shown himself to be a consummate scoundrel, nor has this been entirely unknown for some time. He is capable of anything, in the Gazette's opinion, and we think that forgery would be about the smallest thing criminal that he would attempt.

Prof. Aubrey came to this state about four years ago and taught in the schools of this county. He was very successful and finally became principal of the Heppner schools, which he filled very acceptably for one year. Last year he taught the grammar school department in Heppner. He was a good instructor, but allowed his temper to rule him at times, to the entire discomfort of his pupils.

He was a member of Doric Lodge No. 23, K. of P., Blue Mountain Division No. 12, U. R. K. of P., Willow Lodge No. 66, I. O. O. F., and also Whitmore Lodge, A. O. U. W., all of this place, but if he spared anyone it was he with whom he had but little acquaintance. His fraternal relations were used to beat the members, and in two cases the lodge treasury suffered to some extent. He will doubtless be ousted at an early date.

He was nominated by the republicans last spring for the office of county clerk. He had no oppositor, as there were none who cared to make a race against the present capable incumbent, J. W. Morrow, and as he wanted that place, it was given him. His standing with the people was shown by his vote which was about 150 in over 1,000 votes. That the people judged right, is now very plain, and without giving any opinion as to whether or not Aubrey forged this note which Mr. Conser now holds against J. L. Beymer, who, by the way, is Aubrey's father-in-law, we will say that no better material for a forger and criminal ever graced the county of Morrow, than this man Aubrey.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.—In the last issue of the Long Creek Eagle there was mentioned that A. Abrahamson, Heppner's tailor, who had just returned a short time since from a peddling tour in Grant county, had failed to pay his license for peddling in Long Creek, and last evening Mr. Abrahamson received a communication from Recorder Goff to the same effect, stating that the amount due was $4.50 for three days license. Abrahamson says this is not correct, as he only peddled one day in that city, and called upon the recorder very early next morning to pay for same, as he was going to leave for Canyon City that morning. But as the recorder was not yet up, he asked him to call later, which Abe did, but yet he could not see him, so he then went to the marshal and gave him $1.50, the amount due, asking him to hand same to the recorder. Abe, of course, thought all was right, as he knew nothing of this until he saw the notice in the paper and received the recorder's letter, and is very much hurt that the citizens there should think that he had tried to bilk them.
