National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WHITE LAW REID, of New York.
FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS, J. F. CAPLES, of Portland.

G. M. IRWIN, of Union.
D. M. DUNNE, of Portland.

SCHOOL will be put against the record of Nancy Hanks next season, which her owner is confident that she will lower.

DAN, yes, Dan Dougherty and Dan Manning, Lockwood, Lamont, Magone and Vorhees have been called the Cleveland mascots.

CONDETT and Sullivan sparred at the latter's benefit, given at Madison Square Garden Saturday, and are apparently on the best of terms.

PENDLETON, for the second time, will try two daily papers. If it gives one a good living, it will do more than most towns of that size.

THE racing at the State Fair this season was an important feature. Most of the good horses of the Northwest were there, and they made it lively. The exhibits were up to the average, and the fair was a grand success.

AT THE State Fair last Thursday, Blondie lowered his trotting record to 2:17, while Almont Medium, the stallion, set down to 2:18 1/4. He is more than a half brother to Nancy Hanks, and bids fair to do some hot work soon.

UNCLE SAM, to his proteges: "Shall we do it, boys? Iron ore worth one-third of a cent will make $5 worth of steel wire. The wire will make 247,000 watch screws, weighing one pound and worth $1,715. Shall we sell the raw material abroad and buy back the manufactured goods and lose the little balance of $174.99?"

COMMISSIONER PECK, whose reports on the effects of the McKinley bill in New York state, raised such a rumpus, has been arrested. Peck is a democrat, and a strong one at that, but he gave in his report as he found matters. He says: "The securing of these warrants of arrest is the culmination of a fight made by the magumps and anti-Bill democrats on Gov. Hill and his friends, and is all they can expect henceforth from these quarters."

THAT man is about to lose to woman his identity in outward appearance, is a startling fact. Heretofore we have allowed the gentler sex to adopt the use of several kinds of male attire, but when they deliberately and wilfully take our suspenders away from us we draw the line right there. It is humiliating enough to lose our collars, cravats, coat, vest and other apparel, but we plead earnestly for our suspenders, and we believe woman has not grown so hard hearted and independent that she will not yet spare them to us. But if she don't we should suspend for ninety-nine years.

THE SALTIRE MILLS.

collapse of a Great Yorkshire Company—Caused by the McKinley Tariff.

From the Liverpool Weekly Post.

A Bradford correspondent states that Messrs. Titus Salt, Sons, and Co., of Bradford and Salford, have sent the following notice to the local Press:—"We are authorized to state that an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders in Sir Titus Salt, Bart., Sons, and Co., Limited, has been convened for the purpose of considering the question of the winding up of the company's business." The company's assets include the town as well as the works at Salford, in addition to the stock in trade and machinery of the business. The value of these assets, according to the last balance-sheet of the company made up to the end of March last, was shown to be upwards of £250,000 sterling in excess of the company's liabilities. The realization which would probably attend the winding up must necessarily be a matter of time, and the assets would doubtless produce much less by forced disposal than their value to the company as a going concern. Certain debenture holders have preferential claims on assets. The trade liabilities are about £200,000. Though not quite a surprise to the Bradford trade, the announcement has caused some excitement. The firm, which has in recent years been principally engaged in the manufacture of plumb, employed thousands of hands. The English plumb trade generally, it is stated, has fallen off to about a tenth of what it was before the McKinley tariff was passed. This is given as the reason for the step taken.

A special correspondent telegraphs:—"Intense excitement prevails at Salford and surrounding towns at the announcement made yesterday that an extraordinary meeting has been called of shareholders of the great firm at Salford to consider the advisability of winding up the company's business. The business was founded by the late Sir Titus Salt, whose marvelous success in manufacturing alpacas won for him a world-wide reputation. Charles Dickens wrote a vivid sketch on this subject in 'Household Words'. In 1881 the firm was incorporated as a joint stock company with a nominal share capital of £750,000 and a nominal debenture capital of £200,000. The assets, which include the town as well as works of Salford and a park of fourteen acres, were last March shown to be about £250,000 in excess of the liabilities, but what the forced realization will be is doubtful. Trade liabilities are stated at £200,000. The shareholders are principally members or trustees of the members of the Salt family.

SANITARY RULES.

For Use as a Prevention Against Cholera—How to Protect Yourself.

Prepared for the State Board of Charities and Corrections of Oregon by W. E. Carril, M. D., and W. E. Hittchcock, M. D., Members of the Board.

Remove all sources of putrid emanations, whether from sewers, privies, vaults, cellars, inhabited rooms or stagnant waters on surrounding premises.
Have water examined microscopically by a competent physician. If not free from organic matter it must be boiled before using, as impure water is by far the most common origin of the disease.
Drink as little water as possible, and none between meals.

Each inmate should receive at least one bath of the entire body per week.
All underclothing should be washed and boiled once per week.
Perfect cleanliness of rooms and free ventilation are necessary.

Over-ripe fruits, tainted meat and cold-cooked food should be avoided as much as possible.
All food should be cooked and eaten warm, meals served regularly, and no food should be eaten between meals.

DISINFECTANTS.
There should be a liberal use of disinfectants, namely: Chloride of lime, carbolic acid, or common charcoal, freely distributed in cesspools, drains, closets and in all places where water or waste of any kind may have accumulated.

To disinfect bedding and clothing, immerse them in a hot solution of corrosive sublimate (mercuric bichloride), one part to one thousand.
Suspected cases should be at once isolated and the above rules faithfully observed.

SOMETHING NEW.

The new Time Card, which is now in effect, via the "Wisconsin Central Lines," in connection with the Northern Pacific R. R., affords the traveling public the best facilities from all points West to Chicago and points East and South.

The unsurpassed equipment offered to its patrons, combined with speed, comfort and safety, surpassing all its competitors.
All through trains are composed of Pullman Vestibule Drawing-Room Sleepers, with Dining Cars and Day Coaches of latest design.

The Daily Through Fast Train each way, making close connection at Chicago with trains in all directions.
For tickets, time tables, etc., apply to Agent of Northern Pacific R. R., or
