National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT, WHITELEW REID, of New York.
FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS, J. F. CAPLES, of Portland. H. B. MILLER, of Grant's Pass. G. M. IRWIN, of Union. D. M. DUNNE, of Portland.

FULLMAN people are preparing to put in a paper factory.

Mrs. HARRISON is reported from Loon Lake as being in an improved condition.

The Pendleton Daily Tribune starts out fresh, neat and new, and looks every inch a newspaper.

OREGON may not be troubled with forest fires, but there is lingering in the Greenhorn, a deal of smoke for no fire.

WM. DOWDY, the pioneer cattle king of California, died last Saturday, aged 64 years. He owned 100,000 acres of land.

The cholera scare is subsiding in the East, and with the appearance of cooler weather but little fear need be experienced that it will spread further.

An Eastern paper has the following peculiar advertisement: "Wanted, two red headed men to talk politics on a free trade. To amuse an evening party."

DONALD SMITH, who was shot recently in Portland by Fred Baldo, is on the verge of recovery, but will suffer no inconvenience except that, from his experience.

From the general appearance of matters in the South, we cannot expect a single electoral vote from that section, though he will probably get a large aggregate vote down there.

A WOMAN who swallowed a snake by drinking river water in the dark, living in the stomach ten months, turned up at Portland last week. A snake can live in one's imagination easier than in the stomach.

YEARS ago a witty Englishman said: "An Irishman is of no earthly good to England until he emigrates to America and votes the democratic ticket." But the larger part of them are not England's tools any longer.

The Hebrew democrats of South Portland have organized a Tammany club. It will now be in order for the boys to organize a Harrison club. It's not every day that the Israelite gets left, even in American politics.

It is reported by telegraph that England is on the verge of a great financial crisis. This is the result of the failure of the Baring two years ago, which has been made worse by artificial means to postpone the inevitable result.

The U. S. ship Constitution is about to start for Italy to collect works of art for the World's Fair. These art treasures will remain in constant custody of the government, and will be returned after the Fair in the same manner as brought.

The last day of the State fair was well attended. The race between Almont, Medium, Trotter, and Blondie, the pacer, created much interest. Almont won three straight heats. Then Misty Moon walked out on a pinch, one mile and an eighth.

It may be interesting to note that Sheridan never occupied the old black-house near the Cascades, on the Washington side. He was a lieutenant at Vancouver, and though fighting Indians in that vicinity, never defended the black-house a moment, for it was not in existence at that time.

The first queer bet in the City of Election is thus recorded by the News of Thursday evening: "J. D. Thaggard today bet Frank Clark that Grover Cleveland will be the next president. Should he prove a poor guesser, he is to join the Salvation Army, make a public confession of conversion, and beat the bass drum in the street parade for a period of three days. Should Clark have named the losing candidate, he will do the praying and singing. Thaggard is a prominent saloon and sporting man; Clark is a furniture dealer."

OVER IN Nevada there is a great deal of "pulling and hauling" over the silver question, and even Senator Stewart and other leading men who have been followers of the republican party for years, and who are now reaping rich rewards at the hands of that party, will sacrifice every other principle on earth for free silver, that which will benefit the silver miner to the detriment of the people at large. The man whom this nation should look after is the poor man, the laborer, the farmer, not the silver millionaire. The latter has a market for his product, but seeks to create a fictitious value in value to line his own pockets. And who pays for it? Why the man who draws wages will first be reached, then to every avenue of business. But the wage earner is the man who will pay the bulk of the silver owner's profits, over and above what he now gets. Is it right?

WHAT BILL SAYS. David B. Hill, in his Brooklyn speech says: "It is undoubtedly true that in this state the aggregate amount of all wages paid the year after the passage of the McKinley bill may have been greater than the year preceding, but that does not prove that there was any increase in the rate of wages paid, and only shows some new industries established or additional men employed in others; and it does not appear that such increase is more than the usual natural increase occasioned by the steady growth of the state. It may possibly also be true that there have been less strikes during the past two years, but this may be attributed to the moderation and good judgment of our labor organizations, rather than to the effect of any tariff law."

THE POLICY OF 1832.

When Jackson made his second race for the presidency in 1832, the following resolution was put forth under his advice and approval:

Resolved, That adequate protection to American industry is indispensable to the prosperity of the country, and that an abandonment of the policy at this period would be attended with consequences ruinous to the best interests of the nation.

Jackson was a patriot—American in everything. Who are Jackson's followers today?

OUR REPORTER.

As Usual, Finds Some News For The People—An Unexpected Feature.

When anything of note occurs in our midst, it is the duty of the newspaper to chronicle the facts, and that is the reason that prompts the Gazette in this issue to attempt a description of Fell Bros' mammoth millinery and dry goods store, and also their storeroom as it appeared yesterday, their first opening day.

Our reporter happened to drop into their establishment about 10 a. m., and had just produced his pencil and note book with the intent of perpetrating that old chestnut of "any news" when his eyes fell upon such a gorgeous array, the busy clerks, and customers coming in and going out, that he had no question to ask, but instinctively went to work on what he saw.

The storeroom, he noticed, has been lengthened about twenty feet to accommodate the large stock, being nicely repainted and re-sepered throughout. The counters were touched up here and there till they much resembled that famous Southern wood, mahogany. And while this little palace of a store room, with its tasteful decorations and glittering chandeliers, excited the reporter's curiosity and admiration, he was vastly more interested in the stock.

The west counter was piled high with ladies' underwear, hosiery, and handkerchiefs both silk and linen. The large mirror in the rear was draped with fancy India silks and trimmed hats. From here his eyes wandered over to the east counter where he noted an endless number of felt hats and untrimmed shapes; also one show case trimmed with pattern hats, and two others filled with birds, feathers and jet ornaments. Exciting the room was a line trimmed with velvet, veils and fancy articles. A profusion of ribbons was also noticed, in every conceivable shade, and enough, the reporter believes, to stretch clear to the city of New York.

The shelves were well filled with ladies' dress goods, yarns of all colors, and everything in fact that one could conceive as belonging to a veritable "ladies' bazaar," by which name Fell Bros' establishment is known, and surely they could not have chosen anything more suitable. And the windows must not be forgotten. One was trimmed with silks, fancy buttons, dress goods and trimmings. The other was a profusion of beautiful hats, trimmings, ribbons, attractive and tasteful leathers, birds and everything pertaining to the proper decoration of that in which a woman takes so much pride, a pretty and stylish hat.

The store is managed by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Fell, who are too well known to the people of Morrow county and vicinity to need any words of praise at the hands of the Gazette. Ever attentive and obliging, they are meeting with well-merited success.

MIGHT BE BACK IN TEN DAYS—The Arlington Record, in speaking of Prof. Aubrey and his recent exploit, says: "He arrived here (Arlington) in the night, put his team in the stable, and it is now observed, kept himself and family aloof, concealed in their rooms at the hotel during the time that the Heppner team lay here. He and some children left on the west bound train the following night, telling the stable man that the team would perhaps remain for ten days, and that if he didn't return he would telegraph money to his brother-in-law to pay the stable bill. In due time this party called at the barn and paid a portion of the amount."

A RUNAWAY—J. F. Corlies had a lively little runaway down near the National Bank building last Saturday. He was busy unloading some wood, when a dog frightened the team, who ran up Center street, crossing Gale street, and were making good time when one of the horses were thrown down, which made quite a difference in their gait. They were gotten out unhurt and the wagon was not damaged. Neither was Mr. Corlies, who jumped out of the wagon when he found that he could not hold his retreat team.

WILL ALL BE HERE—Geo. W. Smith and J. S. Boothby, of Rawlins Post G. A. R. of Lexington, inform us that that organization has sent out invitations to all the posts of this department, asking that they be present at the campfire and Columbian celebration which will occur on Oct. 21 and 22. The people of Heppner can expect a large number of visitors, and the committees must provide for them.

Borg, the jeweler, is the man to fix up your watch or clock, or keep a full stock of everything pertaining to his business.

Here and There.

J. W. Beckett, of Eight Mile, was in town yesterday. Alev Gunn has suffered the loss of his fine Jersey cow. Johnny Ayers and family were in town Wednesday of this week. Andy Tullard and wife were in Wednesday from their Batter creek ranches. Chas. Jones, Harry and John Bennett are over at the Long Creek races.

Marshal Rasmus ran in a fellow for 800—paralysis Wednesday. Born—In this city on Tuesday, the 20th inst., to the wife of Wayne Huston, a girl.

Walt. Rhea and Frank Jones have Tim over at Long Creek and will put him in the races. Chas. Wagner and wife departed for The Dalles, where they will hereafter make their home.

C. L. Sherman, of the firm of Dasey & Sherman, the painter, is rather under the weather this week.

From Bert Webb, the Gazette learns that the artesian well will be reamed out fourteen inches in diameter. Frank Vaughan, brother of Gene Vaughan, arrived from Pendleton Tuesday leaving for home today.

W. L. Caldwell and wife arrived from Portland Tuesday eve, leaving Wednesday for their ranch at Lone Rock. The boys over at Fossil had a regular "jamboree" a few nights ago, in which everything loose suffered more or less.

Sylvanus Wright, a bright young man of Eight Mile, was in town Tuesday, and while here called on the Gazette office. Jake Young and Wesley Brannon, of the Gooseberry country, called at our office while in town yesterday morning.

Joseph New Year from O'Clock p. m. Wednesday to O'Clock p. m. Thursday was duly observed in this city this week by our Jewish residents.

Dan Mathiot, of Spokane, representing the Standard Oil Co., visited customers here Wednesday. Mr. Mathiot is a nephew of the Florence Bros., who live near Heppner.

H. D. Boyd "grubstaked" a fellow not long ago to go out prospecting, and recently received word that his partner had struck some good placer digging over in Grant county.

Hi Tash and John Royce came in from Harbison Wednesday evening, in preparation to send their boys to school this winter, if a room can be found suitable, where they can board themselves. People should see that the wood house is full before winter comes. The Gazette is no prophet, but will wager a year's subscription to the Gazette, the coming winter will be the coldest that has been experienced for years.

"Uncle" Tom Ayers, George Tedrowe and Al. Roberts, assisted by Geo. Conser, tried to curtail the mysteries down at the opera house, as a committee, on Wednesday night, but were not successful, any more than the audience.

A. A. Wren has been busy seeding over on his Clark canyon ranch, preparatory to a bountiful harvest next summer. He was in town Wednesday on business, and says it will take him some days to complete his fall sowing.

Squire Barnett and J. S. Boothby, entered citizens of Lexington, were in town today. Mr. Boothby and wife will shortly leave for a visit over in the state of Washington, among friends who they have not seen for some years.

Thompson & Binns' dragger wagon was arrived direct from Housersdom. It is a fine reliable rig, and especially for them, and fits the bill of what such a rig should be, in every respect. Thompson & Binns are enterprising, and will get there with both pedals.

Frank Minor, who has been spending the past year over in the Moscow country and in Spokane, returned to Heppner Wednesday evening, for a visit with relatives. Frank reports business rather lively over in that section, though he was sick a great deal of the time while in Spokane.

"Toin" Clarley Wallace and wife departed Wednesday for Portland, to remain this winter. Their stay here was quite pleasant, formerly residing here and being well acquainted, besides having numerous relatives in this vicinity. Mr. Wallace and lady are aged enough to bid farewell to a first class steamer man and warrants all work. Give him a call.

A BIG DINNER—Geo. B. Tedrowe, the invincible mayor of Madaville, gave a chicken dinner on Wednesday last to a number of his friends at the City hotel. There were present, besides his host: Phil Cohn, Sid Hart, Dick Vaughan, Chas. Sheldon, J. W. Kieckner, Joe Williams, Frank Vaughan, A. W. Patterson and John M. Carty.

STORMY—Ed. Birbeck, a shoemaker and repairer of many years' experience, has just located in the Abraham-sick building, on May street, where he is prepared to do everything in his line. Mr. Birbeck struck a first class steamer man and warrants all work. Give him a call.

Right or Wrong. Which will you have? It does seem as if some folks prefer to have the last condition of the liver rather than the first. They perpetually dose themselves with purgatives totally without virtue as all cases of liver trouble. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the successful cathartic for the people's choice, and yet, popular and well known as it is, there are unfortunately who keep on trying the drastic remedies of former days. It is to the intelligent portion of the public that the well known and long tried properties of the Bitters appeal. Reason should be guided by experience in the matter of medication. "The best guide to our feet is the lamp of experience," said a great patron of the early revolutionary period, and the exclamation is pregnant with truth. For over a third of a century the Bitters daily has met with the endorsement of people suffering from liver complaint, malaria, constipation, rheumatism, debility and troubles accompanied by dyspepsia. Lately it has been declared itself and been thoroughly approved as a remedy for "a gripper."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS. Build the baker. Buy your bread and cakes and save money. Try it. Look out for Fell Bros' sale of remnants—bargains in everything. The Stud-baker wagon heads them all. For sale at Gilliam & Babco's. Why go hungry when the City hotel furnishes you a good meal at living rates.

John Jenkins advertises his fine kind of brick. Remember that Heppner brick equals the best. "Hardware" did you say? Why, yes, at P. C. Thompson & Co.'s stand, and the place for bargains. M. Lichtenthal & Co. have just received a fine lot of ladies' kid, button and tie shoes. At bottom prices. For each you can get more at the Eastern Clothing house, with Levi on deck, than any other place in Heppner. The Fall is the leading hotel in the city. Well furnished rooms with plenty of light are provided for everyone.
