

STANLEY IS INTERVIEWED.

He Will Bring No Charges Against Troup.

NEITHER DOES HE RETRACT AUGHT.

Will Let the Public Judge Whether His Views Are Too Harsh—Bound For America.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Times today publishes an interview with Explorer Stanley on board the steamer Teutonic, in relation to the Troup expedition. Stanley says: "Troup says he is waiting for me to bring charges. I intend to make no charges until I find whether the officers of the rear column stultify themselves by publishing reports differing from their official statements to me. Lieutenant Troup is not explaining anything by the violent and intemperate language he has used. I asked him to modify his official report so that it might be fit for publication in my book, but he refused to do so. Troup declined to do this. Consequently I declined to publish the report, the language contained in it being of an extremely violent character."

"Do you know why the officers of the rear column appeared to be so ill feeling toward you, Mr. Stanley?" "Yes, it is very easy to explain. It must not be forgotten that the cause of the controversy is the violent resentment of the officers of the rear column against the general command upon them in my letter to the Emin Pasha relief committee in 1888. It was written by me fresh after hearing about the terrible details of the rear column. I wrote that the rear column was wrecked by the irresolution of its officers, the neglect of their promises and their indifference to the interest of the expedition. I cannot modify the endorsement now. The duty of myself and all of the surviving officers is to tell the public plainly and simply, that the public may have a chance of judging whether my views of their conduct is too harsh or unjust. This is all I have to say."

THE SUGAR OCTOPUS SUIT.

Plan of Reorganization and Financial Statement Made Public.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Judge Pratt, in the Kings county supreme court yesterday, heard the arguments in the sugar trust case. The proceedings were opened by Lawyer Shepard, presenting an affidavit from John F. Searles, secretary of the sugar trust, in which he said that these proceedings were only a hindrance to the best interests of certificate holders; that the plan of reorganization was ready and that the financial statement would have been made public but for these proceedings.

He was followed by Elihu Root, who opposed the appointment of a receiver, saying that if that was done the trust would be terminated. Counselor John R. Glasgow, who represented some certificate holders, then made a strong argument in favor of the appointment of a receiver. The trustees have certain property in their hands which should be turned over to a receiver. It was not a matter of discretion with the court. He asked that the property be taken out of the hands of the trust and turned over to a receiver. The trustees have certain property in their hands which should be turned over to a receiver. It was not a matter of discretion with the court. He asked that the property be taken out of the hands of the trust and turned over to a receiver.

Judge Pratt reserved decision, but modified the injunction to allow the publication of the plan of reorganization and the financial statement. The plan provides for the issue of $25,000,000 7 per cent. preferred stock, $25,000,000 common stock, and $10,000,000 bonds secured by mortgage. Each holder of certificates will go half the face of his certificate in each of the new series of stock, and $5000 cash. The statement of the financial condition of the trust shows the assets to be $20,537,836, and the liabilities $8,734,187, total assets, $11,743,649. The trust originally had no working capital, and borrowed $10,000,000. The dividends of paid stockholders amount to $11,900,992, and the amount expended on improvements to the plant $2,754,531.

The new company will be called the American Sugar Refining Company. It will be incorporated in New Jersey, and the directors for the first year will be H. O. Havemyer, T. Havemyer, E. O. Mattieson, J. H. Searles, Jr., William Dick, J. C. Thomas, George C. Magoun.

OBLIGED TO RETURN TO COAL.

Pittsburg Manufacturers Are Heavy Losers by the Change.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 31.—The order of the Philadelphia Natural Gas Company withdrawing fuel from the puddling furnaces is estimated to 500 furnaces will undergo enforced idleness by the order until they can be prepared for the use of coal.

It is rumored that the gas supply will be again furnished, but it is not certain unless they can secure their gas supply from other sources they must return to the use of coal permanently. Several manufacturers have already commenced to arrange their furnaces for the use of coal. A shortage of gas was general throughout Pittsburg and Allegheny today.

A large proportion of the people who use gas fires were compelled to burn wood or coal. In some parts of the city there was no gas supply. The mills and furnaces consume about two-fifths of the gas furnished. When this supply is cut off from the mills the gas will be turned into the mains for domestic use, and it is believed will furnish a sufficient supply for all requirements. Coal operators are greatly pleased over the prospect that the mills will return to the use of coal. The demand will be heavy and the revival of business and increased prices are expected.

The King of Holland Crazy.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 1.—It has become known that the malady from which the king of Holland suffers is entirely of a mental nature. In fact, the king is insane. Physically his health is perfectly sound. The story of his protracted illness was devised and maintained in order to pave the way and prove the necessity for the establishment of a regency.

An Ohio Man Buried Alive.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Oct. 31.—Fred H. Leider took an overdose of morphine October 25, and was supposed to have died. He was buried October 27. His brother, who could not attend the funeral, came today and wanted to see his body. When the coffin was opened it was found that the supposed dead man had been in a stupor and had come to

ONE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

A Steamship and Schooner in Collision at Sea.

BOTH VESSELS GO DOWN QUICKLY.

No Time to Get the Boats Ready—The Terrible Scene Described—A Few Survivors Rescued.

New York, Nov. 1.—One of the most appalling disasters for many years on the Atlantic ocean occurred yesterday, by which more than a hundred souls were consigned to a watery and almost entirely unprepared for death. The Spanish steamship Vizcaya was run into by the schooner Hercules, and both vessels almost immediately sank. The captain and 90 others on the steamer were lost. The chief and second officer, the surgeon, one engineer and eight of the crew were picked up. They were taken from the rigging of the Vizcaya by the captain of the steamer Humboldt.

The persons rescued state that at 8 o'clock the steamer was run into by a four-masted schooner and both sank within five minutes. One colored boy was taken ashore by the schooner's small boat and landed at Barnegat, a Cuban millionaire, wife and two children were lost. The captain and crew of the schooner are supposed to be lost. The Vizcaya was 1385 tons and belonged to the Spanish line plying between New York and Havana.

CUBANS IN FLORIDA.

Revolutionists Active There—One of Them Assailed and Told to Leave.

KEYWEST, Fla., Oct. 31.—Victor Aquila, an employe of the Spanish government, was decapitated by two men to the outskirts of the city last night, who then shot and wounded him and ordered him to leave at once for Havana under penalty of death.

He immediately boarded a departing steamer, but in the meantime the authorities had got wind of the affair and arrested the guilty parties, and also Aquila himself, whom they held as a witness.

Juan Garcia, brother of one of the accused, assailed the Spanish consul on the steps of the latter's office and but for the interposition of an officer it is believed that the consul would have been murdered. Garcia is now in jail.

WEDDED IN STYLE.

A Fortune Spent in Flowers and Music by a Californian.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—At the wedding of Nina Meigs, daughter of General John G. Meigs, of California, in St. Paul's church, Knights bridge, the flowers used in decorating the altar cost a small fortune. The four bridesmaids carried bouquets of roses costing $50 each. The well known tenor, Edward Lloyd, sang a 10 line anthem for which he was paid at the rate of $250 a line. The bridegroom was Sir James R. D. McCreedy, eldest son of the late Sir Chase Bridges Metregory. The service was a full choral ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Duckworth, chaplain to the queen and canon of Westminster, assisted by Rev. Mr. Phillips. All leading Americans in London were present.

The Sarah Althea Terry Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—On motion of the United States district attorney yesterday in the two cases of the United States vs. Sarah Althea Terry were nolle prosequere. The action recalls the exciting scene in the courtroom in the month of September, 1888, when the late Judge Terry drew a kick on the United States marshal, T. G. Franks. Mrs. Terry assisted in the dramatic scene, upon which she was indicted by the grand jury, as Judge Terry was also. His tragic death stopped proceedings in his case, but Mrs. Terry has been once before arraigned on the charge, when she pleaded not guilty.

The Restless Indian.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 31.—General Rucker, commanding the department of Dakota, has submitted to the war department his annual reports. Rucker says that there has been reason to apprehend danger to the settlers upon the cedar lands of the reservation, even by the most disaffected Indians, if they are kept under military observation.

Murdered Her Own Daughter.

MIDDLETOWN, Nov. 1.—In the village of Hall's mill, Mrs. Levi Hall, the wife of a prominent citizen of the village, murdered her daughter, a girl of 18 years by smashing her skull with a club. Mr. Hall is a victim of rheumatism and was lying helpless in bed in the room when the tragedy occurred and could not respond to his daughter's frantic appeals for help. Mrs. Hall has been suffering from a mild form of lunacy for some time past.

Astoria's Alarm Unfounded.

PORTLAND, Oct. 31.—Vice President Thompson, of the Union Pacific Extension Company, denies that the Union Pacific intends to build from Kalama to Frankfort, opposite to Astoria, and build from there to the coast. He says he has a letter from President Adams to the effect that the company does not contemplate any such step. The Astoria people have been greatly exercised over the report.

Killed by a Waiter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning John Bowen, a waiter, was stabbed and almost instantly killed by F. C. Beck, another waiter. The killing occurred in a saloon and the outcome of a dispute in relation to a 10 cent drink. Beck was arrested and charged with murder.

Union Pacific Earnings.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The September statement of the Union Pacific railroad shows: Gross earnings, $3,940,045; increase, $131,863; net, $1,545,707; decrease, $122,089. For nine months to September 30th: Gross, $31,333,051; increase, $4,408,238; net, $10,536,601; decrease, $301,136.

DEMOCRACY ALIVE.

The Mighty West in Revolt Against the McKinley Seal.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Oct. 31.—Out in this country, where the grand old party has met with success year in and year out, there will be surprise in store for the country in November. Iowa, which last year elected a democratic governor, Hon. Horace Boies, will this year send five, if not six democrats to congress.

Four things will be the cause of it will be asked. Four things combined will effect this change—the McKinley bill, the silver bill, the force bill and prohibition. The democrats will elect a part if not all of the senate. For the first year in the history of the party, a bill of the state has been made, and the result is surprising. More attention is given to nationalization and organization. The democrats will elect Sevier, Crouch, Hamilton, Anderson and Bowman to congress. This, with Hayes in the Second, will give them six members. All these are certain with possibly one exception.

NO ACROSS THE MISSOURI.

Prohibition signs largely here, reports farmers have bolted the ticket. (Councils where voters were largely here, reports only had from 100 to 500 votes, will this year give from 500 to 1500 democratic votes. It is so over the entire state. There never was such enthusiasm displayed in any state. Indiana, with the "Hendricks" campaign, does not equal it.)

Douglas county, in which Omaha is located, will give 8000 majority for James E. Boyd, the democratic nominee. Prohibition signs largely here, reports farmers favoring it and democrats opposing it in their platforms. As a result the German voters, Danes and Bohemians, heretofore solidly republican, have left that party in body. The west will give a good account of itself. If Indiana does as well this year in gains as will Iowa and Nebraska, there will be no doubt about Tom Reed's retirement from the speaker's chair.

MARLBOROUGH HISSED.

He Persisted in Talking About During a Theatrical Performance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Duke of Marlborough was roundly hissed at the Lyceum theater last night. He and his wife were guests of Henry Clive and occupied an upper promenade box. The performance was "The Master of Woodbarrow." The duke began to talk loudly directly after being seated, and the actors and actresses looked up in astonishment at him.

The party continued to talk, however, and especially in the orchestra, gazed up angrily. In the second act it was apparent that the persons on the stage were becoming disconcerted by the chatter of the duke's party, but the duke did not appear to be affected by the looks of the faces of the audience.

Finally several occupants of seats in the front rows hissed in very decided disapproval, and it was said that Mr. Sothorn would have stepped out and spoken directly at the duke if the talking in the box had not stopped.

The Duchess of Marlborough made a somewhat similar disturbance one night last week, while occupying a box at the Madison Square theater. She was then the guest of Mrs. Cruger. She leaned out of the box, laughed several times, and talked so that her conversation was audible at some distance away. The audience gazed at her with looks of displeasure, but she did not appear to mind it at all.

AUDACIOUS CHINESE.

Their Use in the Courts to Further a Neatious Scheme.

PORTLAND, Nov. 1.—An audacious attempt to abduct two Chinese women here has just come to light. Both were staying in a Chinese woman's house. Trapped-up charges were preferred by one Lee Git against the woman a few weeks ago. The women ran away from the disreputable house and placed themselves under the protection of the matron of the house.

They claimed that Lee Git kept them for immoral purposes, and had forcibly deprived them of their liberty. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the women, and Attorney Gitter and an officer drove in the night to the home and attempted to take both women away. They claimed that they were to be taken to the matron demanded to see their warrants, which they declined to produce. She refused to yield the women and the attorney and officer were finally compelled to go away.

One woman was afterward arrested on a charge of larceny, but the case was promptly dismissed. It transpires that the whole proceedings were illegal and that the women were to be taken to the United States. The matron was arrested on a charge of larceny, but the case was promptly dismissed. It transpires that the whole proceedings were illegal and that the women were to be taken to the United States.

Abandoned Cashier Arrested.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 1.—John W. Yardley, wanted in Montreal, Canada, for embezzlement, was arrested here last night by a detective in the employ of the American Express Company. Yardley was cashier of the Canadian Express Company, of Montreal, and disappeared on the 10th of September last.

Tobacco Merchant Fails.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—E. Eisenberg & Co., wholesale cigar and tobacco dealers, who have been in business for 25 years, made an assignment today. Liabilities, $25,000; assets, $5000. The stock and outstanding accounts amount to $25,000.

Injured by Escaping Powder.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 1.—Steve Applying, aged 7, Louis Applying, aged 3, and Arthur Schouber, aged 9, were badly injured by an explosion of a flask containing powder last night. The children were playing in an alley and had found the flask.

Killed While Coupling Cars.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 1.—Louis Martin, a Southern Pacific brakeman, 35 years of age, while engaged in coupling a freight train, was caught between the couplings and crushed to death last night.

Corbett Ready to Meet Binnet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Jim Corbett this morning, expressed his willingness to meet Binnet before any club within a reasonable time. He will also accept $5000 on the result.

No Boger Trust Decision Yet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—No decision in the Boger trust case has been handed down today as expected.

STORM RAVAGED MEXICO.

Great Damage Done by Floods, Hail and Wind.

MANY PEOPLE RENDERED DESTITUTE.

A Cemetery Flooded and Corpses Washed Out in Plain View—A Relief Movement Started.

New York, Oct. 31.—News has just reached this city from the interior and seaboard cities of Mexico of severe damage done by the storms that have been raging there for three weeks or more. In Sonora there was heavy rain, accompanied by high winds and the hail blew down whole groves of trees in the public parks. The hail cut crops on the plantations to pieces and caused unlimited damage. This will result in future hardship among the owners of small plantations and the laboring class. It is estimated that it will take years to repair the damage to trees and shrubbery.

The city of Torolopan, fared even worse; there the rain was so heavy that it washed away stone pavements on the streets and undermined the foundations of many houses. One peculiar result of the storm was that a number of graves in the old Spanish cemetery on the outskirts of the town were washed partially open and the storm a number of human beings were found in a street near by, where they had been left by the floods. A number of coffins, which were near the surface, were also exposed. Along the northern border of Mexico the Rio Grande river rose so rapidly that the people of the cities of Porfiorio, Diaz and Villa De La Fuente had to flee from their homes without stopping for food or clothing. Many houses were swept into the river before the occupants could escape, and boats had to be used in rescuing some of the families.

Distress in the storm ravaged districts is so great that President Diaz has appropriated money for relief of the inhabitants, while subscription papers for the relief of those made homeless by the storm have been opened in all the large cities.

Telegraphers Return to Work.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 1.—The operators who were discharged by the Western Union Telegraph Company on account of their connection with the telegraphers' "brotherhood," have promised to sign an agreement withdrawing from that and all similar organizations. Nearly all will enter the service of the company at once. The company refused to take back a few men who were especially active during the recent strike.

Death of a French Nobleman.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Edgar Charles Fernand Eglouard, Count d'Anxay, died yesterday in the apartments of his brother, the Duc d'Anxay, at the Pavillon Hotel, from gastritis. The Duchess d'Anxay is an American, and when she married the duke several years ago, she was the widow of a well-known New York merchant, Robert Souter.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The population of the United States, as shown by the census bulletin just issued, is 62,483,740. The fleetship Charleston is expected to leave Honolulu for San Francisco on the arrival of the Mohican from Samoa. Smoke is issuing from the volcano, Mouna Loa, and can be seen at Honolulu, and the reflection from the crater is the brightest in many years.

At New Orleans Judge Marr has refused to grant a writ of mandamus to allow reporters to interview the alleged murderers of Chief Hennessy who are in jail.

The members of the Australian colonial cabinet have resigned in consequence of the passage yesterday of a vote of want of confidence by the Victoria parliament. Prosecuting Attorney Stevens, of Portland, has put a stop to slugging matches in that city. He will not allow the sporting exhibition to come off between Smith and La Blanche, which was advertised for last night.

The Body of Paul Baker, aged 30, was brought to Portland last evening. He was killed by falling from a tree near Kalama. Baker was here on a visit from the east and belongs to a wealthy family. He leaves a widow in the east.

The treasury department has issued orders to the collector of customs instructing him to levy a duty of 5 per cent on the entire weight of ores from Mexico in which lead is the chief component part instead of on the actual weight of the lead in ores as has been practiced heretofore.

No Doubt About the House.

Jehonnes—Smith. I am told you delivered your maiden political speech at the opera house last night. How did it go? Smith (with enthusiasm)—Had a tremendous success. Jehonnes—perfectly true. "M—Yes, I know the house is a large one. How about the audience? (With some constraint)—There was nearly a hundred of 'em, Jehonnes—nearly a hundred.—Chicago Tribune.

Why They Hung Him.

Texas man—By George, Jim Bludlet has been hung at last. New Yorker—Who's Jim Bludlet? Texas man—Jim Bludlet! He's killed 24 men in his time. New Yorker—What did they hang him for—killing another man? Texas man—Now! He stole a horse.—Texas Siftings.
