Gas administered when desired. Thompson building, Heppner, Or. There is no use in suffering with rheumatism as long as you can get Congo Oil. It is for sale by all druggists at $2 per bottle, but it would be dirt cheap at four times the price. It is a positive cure for rheumatism, and no mistake. Try it and be convinced. Owing to the fact that job stock has advanced about twenty per cent from reasons which will be explained elsewhere, we are compelled to make a slight advance on all printing. A reduction will be made as soon as prices of material will justify same. Beauty is said to be only skin deep; but to possess and preserve a beautiful skin, pure, vigorous blood is essential. This is best secured by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla in small but frequent doses. It is the most reliable of blood-purifiers. When all other remedies for scrofula fail, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if persistently used, effects a cure. Being a powerful alternative, it cleanses the blood of all impurities, destroys the germs of scrofula, and imparts new life and vigor to every fibre of the body. Rural Northwest: Quite a large fruit growing interest is developing at Butter creek in Eastern Oregon. O. F. Thompson of that place this year marketed two hundred dried prunes at Heppner for which he received 12 1/2 cents per pound and H. C. Thompson sold $2,500 worth of green fruit chaffly at Heppner.

The $1,000 Harrison money sent up from Arlington last night has all been covered by the boys here.

D. Van Horn, a tuner of pianos and organs, some time ago, spent the past week in Heppner, and will be in Heppner again about April next.

The Heppner Water & Light company have twenty men employed, and are hiring more as fast as they can get them. There is not an unemployed mechanic or laborer in Heppner.

Mr. E. H. Watson, formerly with the Gazette, is now on the Alliance Herald of Pendleton. Henry, however, wishes it understood that he is yet a citizen of Morrow county.

F. O. Beckman and family arrived Tuesday from below, and will hereafter make their home in Heppner. Mr. Beckman will shortly commence the erection of a cottage here.

Joseph Eskelson was in from his ranch near Lexington, Tuesday. Joseph is an ardent admirer of Cleveland, and would not miss casting a vote for him under any circumstances.

Pendleton is "lifting" the confidence men. There are a lot of these fellows in Eastern Oregon, and if we mistake not, were represented here during the races. Heppner don't need them.

Geo. Bleakman came in Tuesday with the Spray cattle, which had been placed in his hands by Sheriff Noble, under attachment of Gid Eyer. We are informed that the claim has been paid and the attachment suit settled.

You can win $6,000 by estimating the plurality of the total popular vote, or nearest to it, which either Harrison or Cleveland will receive. For particulars see this week's Family Story Paper. Out today. All newsstands.

The members of the Heppner Hook and Ladder company are requested to meet at the engine house at 7:30 o'clock, next Tuesday evening, from here they will go to the engine house in a body. By order of Geo. Conser, Pres.

Surveyor Isa Brown has lost his fine gray team, which he valued highly. One was taken with lung fever, and only lived a short time, and the other cut his leg in the barb wire and bled to death. This is a hard stroke on Isa.

T. M. Pendleton has been infested with a gang of confidence men for some time; but Saturday the sheriff and his deputies made an onslaught on them and captured three. One of them in attempting to escape was shot, but not fatally injured. There is another one at large, having eluded his pursuers.

The following is a description of Bardette Wolfe, the murderer: Height, 5 feet, 7 inches; weight, about 145 pounds; has light brown mustache; not very thick; straight nose; walks straight; is rather quiet; don't talk much and is rather bashful. Anyone seeing a stray man of this description is requested to report to the sheriff or some other officer of the law.

FLIMFLAMMING.—Ed. Jones is in jail on a charge of assisting to swindle D. P. Shepherd out of his team. His examination this afternoon may or may not prove him guilty, for there are two sides to the question. Shepherd and one, Thos. C. Stearns, came here to sell the rights on a patent harrow. Jones concluded to buy a one-third interest in a few counties, for which he was to pay $300 and $200 for the team, giving an order on Wm. Penland, for whom he had been working, for $25.00. The bill of sale for the team, which, by the way, belonged to Heppner, was to be withheld until it could be learned whether or not the order was good. As soon as the messenger had gotten out of town, Stearns and Jones got the team and left town, but the latter soon came back, saying that he was hungry. Stearns was to have returned soon, but did not. As soon as Shepherd returned he struck out after his man, but after going as far as Lone Rock, returned without him. Jones was then arrested for his complicity in the matter and put in jail to await the examination this afternoon. It is a peculiar case, Jones saying that he is the worst man, while on the other hand Shepherd claims that he is the one who has been "flimflammed." It's a hard case for a newspaper to pass on.

PETER IS MARRIED.—Peter the poet, the famous editor of the Klamath Star, last week married a Klamath Falls widow named Mrs. Mayfield, and here is the graphic description the Star "sub" gives of the interesting affair. "Peter the poet has gone and got married. He and his girl had been fooling around the road for a considerable time, but they were carried completely under Wednesday evening, their two lives of single blessedness being delightfully crushed into one. Peter said on departing that he did not care whether he or she was the one, since she is a Klamath girl, and a Klamath girl is the best kind of a girl ever blended into masculine identity. The wedding party consisted of only a few near at-hand friends, and the choice dinner was dispatched hurriedly while waiting for the stage, which whirled the happy couple off toward the railroad."

WAS IT WOLFE?—The Dufur Dispatch is informed that men working on the Clear creek survey, saw at a distance some object that soon dodged into the brush out of sight. Thinking it a bear, they sent the dogs in, and were surprised when they saw a man from concealment. The stranger gave no straight account of himself, but was allowed to go his way toward Wapinitia. The following night a horse belonging to J. F. Abbot, who lives just at the edge of the timber was stolen. As that is the route that Wolfe, the murderer, is supposed to have taken, it is probably him. A reward of $250 would soon land him.

THE CONCERT.—The concert given by Mr. Turney, assisted by the M. E. church choir, last Saturday evening, was pretty well attended, and fairly appreciated. Mr. Turney plays well, but his instrument did not seem to be a good one, or at least, did not have a good tone. However, anyone could see that Mr. Turney was a thorough musician. The singing was tolerably good, though the choir was evidently not well practiced much on the music intended to be sung on that occasion. The duet by Mrs. J. F. Corlies and Mrs. J. N. Brown was much appreciated.

SAW WOLF.—Josiah Thompson, of Cottonwood, Gilliam Co., near Fossil, was approached last Sunday by a man in a blue overcoat, who asked the way to Prineville. On Tuesday a man on the trail of Bardette Wolfe came along and asked if a man wearing a blue overcoat had passed that way. Thompson answered in the affirmative, whereupon he was shown a photograph of the man, who was none other than Wolfe. They are close on his trail, and he will doubtless be caught in a few days. The Portland authorities, however, are not making much of an effort to capture him.

NOR GOOD ESCORT FOR HIM.—Last week one Chas. M. Friedburg, representing E. G. Harrison & Co., cigar men of France, visited Heppner. Mr. Friedburg made himself unusually obnoxious during his stay here. He avowed that the valley was a mud hole, Portland a dirty village, her exposition a fake, the Hotel Portland a second-class joint, Eastern Oregon a pile of dust and sand, her crops a failure, that our car which recently made a tour of the East had nothing in it but a lot of pumpkins, etc. In fact, Friedburg sees nothing good in Oregon, though he thinks California is "lightning." This he is welcome to believe, but in the meantime the Oregonians ought to let him find sale for his cigars down there. The Gazette understands that Mr. Friedburg was not at all respectful to the Palace Hotel waiters. He ought to have been booted out of town, and will be, too, if on future visits he keeps up his kicking and growling.

PROGRESS.—If you will take the trouble to climb the Brewery bluff to the reservoir site, you will be astonished at the evidences of growth. South of May street there are at present fourteen residences under process of construction. There are many new ones completed, and elsewhere in the town may be seen like evidences of growth. There is no "wind" about this—the town shows for itself, and if there is a livelier, more progressive town in Eastern Oregon than Heppner, we don't hear of it.

WON'T BURN.—A visit to the reservoir site this morning disclosed the fact that it is not done yet, though the workmen, under Walt Richardson, are rapidly getting out the rock. Concrete is being used to complete the embankment. If anyone, however, has any fears that the reservoir will break, just visit it, and it will at once be dispelled. Might as well try to wash down these romantic Heppner hills with Willow creek.

LIKES THE COUNTRY.—Heppner's sage, Thos. Morgan, remained at Long Creek the greater part of the time while ever in that section. He likes Long Creek quite well. The people are sociable and generous to a fault, enterprising and progressive. Their school, Tom says, is second to none in the state, and the "spray" hard to beat. He comes back with nothing but good words for Grant county.

FROM CAMAS.—San Clark and family got over Wednesday from Camas prairie, and will return Saturday. Mr. Clark returned recently from Dayton, Wash., where he says times are dull, farmers complaining of going behind, though crops were good. Over in Camas, the people are talking politics, and that is about all the excitement at present.

HOUSE BREAKING.—A short time ago, Dave and Jas. Miller, who live up in the mountains, were arrested and brought before Squire Clem Hogue, charged with breaking into Bill Luelling's house. They were bound over to await the action of the grand jury, in the sum of $400 each, which our informant states they procure.

SOME GAMBLING.—Heppner has some enthusiasts who are willing to bet on the election, most of it being democratic money. Phil Heppner writes up that Arlington has plenty of Harrison money, and that they will cover every dollar that the boys want to put up. There will be some betting before election day.

VALUABLE TREES.—On Monday, before Squire Hogue, of Hardman, appeared the case of Harry Cummings vs. Chas. Ham. The latter, Mr. Cummings charges with cutting down two oak trees, which he asks $5 each. Our informant could not give the result of the case.

FIREMEN'S BALL.—On Tuesday evening next the members of Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1, will give a grand ball, the proceeds to apply towards buying another and other necessary paraphernalia for the company. All members and wives are especially invited to be present.

ROUGH DIAMOND COARS.—Without an equal, and for your information, we advise you, will hold at San Francisco wholesale prices, by lots of 100 or 500 at J. Cobb's. 35 44

Ben Parker, Bill Ingram and E. Campbell, citizens of Morrow, were in the past week on business. Let's new ad. means new prices, and if you don't think so, see for yourself. That will convince you. The road between Heppner and Hardman is villainous. It ought to be repaired. S. I. Strat's father, S. Stratton, is over from Grant county. J. W. Vaughn was up from Lexington Tuesday and Wednesday. Fred Clement is up from Salem to benefit his health. Fry Wilson was over from Monument Tuesday night. Minor Bros' reminder appears in their old space.
