Hon. J. H. McGraw was inaugurated governor of Washington Wednesday at Olympia.

FRANCE, through its metalism, has become the richest country on the earth—the banker of England.

SENATOR KENNY, of West Virginia, died at Washington yesterday morning. Cause, heart disease.

SENATOR BAILEY has introduced in the Oregon legislature, the Celio postage bill, asking for $400,000. It should pass the government is too slow.

JOE KENNY, the veteran stage man, is a candidate for register of the La Grande land office. Joe has quite a following, and as one of the faithful, is deserving of the place.

BEN BUTLER, lawyer, statesman and soldier, died at his home at Washington Wednesday morning. The general's death was very sudden, brought about by old age and disease. Notwithstanding, it was unexpected and created considerable surprise.

Geo. B. Small, of Baker City, editor of the Bedrock Democrat, is a candidate for the receivership of the La Grande land office. Mr. Small has done as much for his party as any man in Eastern Oregon, and though it is no fight of ours, when it comes to a "show down," we are with the progressive newspaper man every time.

OUR correspondence from Salem indicated about how both houses would be organized. Fulton was elected to preside over the senate and Keady over the house. Both houses immediately got down to business, and were flooded with bills. Senator Henry Blackman has already introduced a bill to appropriate $5,000 for a wagon road bridge across the North Fork of the John Day at Monument.

OBITUARY.

On the eve of Jan. 7, at their home near Hardman, occurred the death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rice. The little one first opened her lovely blue eyes in this life, Dec. 8, '92; was a strong, promising babe, but not strong enough to conquer the fatal grippe.

For nine long days and nights her little spirit struggled to stay in this unfriendly world of sorrow, but the angel of death waited her to the spirit world, where we will some day meet our loved ones.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community, and in this their darkest hour, when their hearts are crushed and bleeding, when hope seems dead within them and life not worth living, may the angels of heaven give their strength to endure this their first sorrow, in the prayer of one who has quaffed the cup of sorrow to its very dregs.

A little time on earth she spent,
Till God for her his angels sent,
And then in time she closed her eyes,
To wake to glory in the skies.

CARD OF THANKS.

At the request of my friends, let me, in the name of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rice, extend their heartfelt thanks to the kind friends and neighbors who assisted during the sickness, death and burial of their beloved Media.

May God send to each such friends in your hour of need, in the sincere prayer of MR. AND MRS. DANIEL RICE.

BY A FRIEND.

THE LEGISLATORS LEGISLATING.

The Members of the Legislature, After Several Day's Counseling in Portland, are Now Assembling in Salem.

Special to the Gazette.

Salem of yesterday is not Salem of today. The halls are now filled with our law makers, who are talking and discussing matters of interest to the different sections of the state, though the matter in which greatest interest centers at present is that of permanent organization, and selection of president of the senate and speaker of the house.

For the former the names of Senators Hirsch and Fulton are mentioned, while for the latter W. P. Keady of Portland, and "The tall sycamore of Waldo Hills," E. T. Geer, are both strong candidates.

The indications are now that Senator Fulton has the inside track for president of the senate, while W. P. Keady, of Portland, is severely "in" for the speakership of the house. At least this seems to be the combination at present, though as the hour for permanent organization approaches, the speaker-ship contest grows warmer, and dark horse candidates are being spoken of.

In this matter the name of J. A. Wright, an Eastern Oregon representative, of Union county, is being favorably mentioned as a compromise candidate.

Representative J. N. Brown, arrived on the ground a few days ago, and is getting around in good shape, and will doubtless become a very popular representative ere the session has ended.

Senator Blackman also arrived Saturday evening and was heartily welcomed by the different hold-over senators, and his many friends, who are now here, by whom he is looked upon as a very popular and able senator, which no doubt reflects credit upon his district.

Hon. A. W. Gowen, representative elect from Grant and Harney counties, is also making many friends by his jovial and unassuming manner. Mr. Gowen was much pleased when he learned for the first time that his plurality had reached more than 250. Senator Raley, of Umatilla, informed your reporter that his opponents would likely contest his election, notwithstanding the fact that his plurality was nearly 100.

Their strongest charge is that he received 50 more votes in his precinct than there were voters. "Of course," said the senator with a smile, "I could not help this." And, all in all, he is giving himself no uneasiness over the matter.

Candidates for railroad commissioners are springing up on every side, numbering in all, about 150, which list will likely grow as the time approaches for the selection. Eastern Oregon is justly entitled to one and as a consequence, the names of quite a number of representative men from that section are being associated with the office; among those might be mentioned "Doc" Hamilton, of Union county, one of the present members; S. R. Reeves, an old time Heppnerite, but at present, mayor of La Grande; C. M. Donaldson and R. A. Anderson, of Baker city; J. W. Norville, of Union county, and B. W. Burrows and Mr. S. P. Gould, of Pendleton. From the list a competent man ought easily to be selected. The democratic party is entitled to one member of this committee, who will likely be chosen from the valley.

Gov. Penney tells your reporter that he is as firm a believer in the free coinage of silver as ever. While on the train for Salem Saturday evening, a democratic senator asked him if he was "not with the democratic party yet?" In reply the governor said: "I am as firm on the old democratic principles as ever, and think you boys will come back to me soon." The senator addressed had nothing more to say.

Sheriff Noble, accompanied by Thos. Quaid, arrived safely with G. D. Dasey Saturday morning. Had no trouble with him during the entire trip. Mr. Noble is looked upon in Salem as one of the most efficient sheriffs in the state of Oregon.

Coas. Sherman is now located for a short time in Salem where he finds considerable painting.

Your representative had the pleasure of meeting ex Representative Welch, of Astoria, Et. and Al. Horren and H. H. Glassford, all old time Morrow county fellows.

John Q. Wilson, ex representative of Marion county, and at present a member of the third house, is now circulating among the legislators.

Congressman elect W. R. Ellis is one of the latest arrivals on the scene of action, but at first inquiry he informed your representative that he could accept neither the position of sergeant-at-arms nor door-keeper, but since he had learned that ex chaplain of the third house, Jim Henderson, of Union county, could not be present, he had consented to act as his proxy.

AGRICULTURE & COLLEGE NOTES.

The state agricultural college is a literary as well as an industrial school. While the student is mastering mathematics, language and science, he has the opportunity to get practical training in that which underlies all great industries.

If he takes agricultural course he studies the science of agriculture and horticulture, and is trained on a farm each day in the practical application of the farm to the garden or nursery.

If he takes the mechanical course he studies the science which underlies the manufacture of wood and metal, and devotes an hour each day to the practice of the art. In addition, he studies the philosophy of the machine, learns to draw and prepare plans for work in wood and metal and in the manual course, rudiments of the art of its manufacture.

In the household economy, the young ladies are taught the science which underlies cooking and preserving foods as well as the hygiene of home. In addition to this, the arts of sewing, mending, house cutting and fitting are not omitted.

The students in the agricultural course must take one term in wood and iron work in the shops. Students in the agricultural may take Latin during the second and third years, providing it does not conflict with their regular course of studies.

The agricultural course is a three year course, which leads to the degree of Bachelor of Agricultural Science. The household economy course, only for the ladies, is a three years course, which leads to the Bachelor of Household Economy. The mechanical course of four years leads to the degree of Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering.

Those who graduate at this school are taught those things which make them self-reliant. They are prepared to enter upon the study of any vocation in life and have a breadth of culture which will enable them to be of the greatest use to themselves and the world. They are here prepared to readily acquire a trade or profession.

Geology and mineralogy, this course has in the study of geology with special reference to agriculture and mining; while the study of mineralogy deals with the chemical and physical properties of minerals with the determination by means of the blowpipe.

The cabinet of the college and the mineral museum from different portions of the state are given opportunities for the practical study of this branch of physical science.

The instruction in the department is designed to give the students a thorough knowledge of all those discoveries and applications of the study, giving special attention to the subjects of transferring artificial and natural swarming, queen-rearing, Indianizing spary, producing and making surplus honey, etc.

The department in physiology, each student dissects under the instruction of a typical mammal, in order to get a general idea of mammalian anatomy and to better understanding in reference to the human body. Drawings of these dissections are required. Laboratory work consists of demonstrations illustrating circulation of the blood, of respiration, optical phenomena, reflex action, the study of the principal tissues of the microscope. In this course special attention is given to the student familiarizing himself with the laws of health.

Those who complete either of the courses may, upon application, be examined at the college for a state diploma to teach. Having passed a satisfactory examination they will receive from the state board of education a diploma to teach in any of the public schools.

EIGHT MILE NOTES.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—

Mr. Editor, being as I have not seen any items from the part of the world for some time past, I will endeavor to pen you a few.

Mr. T. K. Roberts, representing the East Oregonian, is in our vicinity busy as ever.

Mr. W. Leathers is endeavoring to get a large class at Eight Mile Center which will be very beneficial to this neighborhood, if a school was taught.

Let every lady put her name down and let us have a singing school. Do not be afraid to spend money for something that will do you good.

Sunday school has been discontinued on account of the superintendent not being well. However we will have Sunday school next Sunday at 2 o'clock.

There has been a spelling school and debating society organized at the Junkies school house, which we hope will be a grand success.

Last Saturday night, there was a dance at the Eight Mile Center school house, which was well attended and all had an enjoyable time.

There will be preaching at Eight Mile by Rev. Mober the twenty first, twenty-second and twenty-third.

Eight Mile is getting to be quite a farming country. Very nearly every acre of suitable soil will be broken up this spring, which will change the complexion of the ranches here.

Most of the grain was put in very early last fall and put in in good shape, and all of it is up and looking fine for this time of the year. If the farmers don't raise a crop this year it will be on account of not having enough moisture.

There are three times as much grain sown last fall as there was the year before last.

Everybody is anticipating a large yield per acre this year, by the grain being so far advanced and Eight Mile is sure to boom.

There has been a rabbit hunt organized in this vicinity for the purpose of exterminating the jack rabbits—a "bright idea." And as soon as a snow comes the rabbits are bound to suffer from their hogghish appetites.

OREGON'S SOLONS IN SESSION.

Permanent Organization Effected.—Fulton And Keady Will Preside.—The Governor's Biennial Message Delivered.—Bills Upon Which Presented.—Division Representatives Here.

Special to the Gazette.

The permanent organization of both houses of the Oregon legislature was effected Monday, as was previously outlined, Fulton receiving the honor instead of Hirsch, to the surprise of many. Eastern Oregon was not overlooked in the distribution, Col. J. B. Eddy, of Pendleton, receiving the appointment of reading clerk of the senate, and John S. Vincent, of Umatilla, doorkeeper of the house. Senator Blackman received the complimentary vote of the democratic senators for temporary chairman, Joe Williams, of Heppner, for doorkeeper and Marshall Johnson, of Morrow county, for calendar clerk in the house. This shows that the democracy did not overlook their workers, even though they could not elect them.

The legislature being fully organized, went to work in earnest Tuesday, bills being sent in without limit until the "500,000 dome" was almost covered with them, the total number at present being 75 in the senate and 60 in the house.

Bill No. 2 in the senate was presented by Senator Blackman, asking an appropriation of $5,000 for a wagon bridge over the John Day river, at Monument.

The two houses assembled in joint convention in the afternoon, and promptly at 2 p. m. the sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of his excellency, Governor Penney, at the door, when he was at once admitted and escorted to the platform. Congressman elect Ellis and ex-Governors Moody and Chadwick were also invited to take seats at the right of the speaker's chair, while the justices of the supreme court occupied a similar position at the left. Everything being in readiness the governor began to deal out his message in good sized doses to a large and intelligent audience, which was received with much favor, especially by the members of the supreme court, the fish commissioners, weather bureau, and rail and monopolies who he did not overlook in the deal. In all, it was a characteristic message. The governor wants everything abolished excepting, as the Statesman puts it, the gubernatorial office and his sawmill. Though while his message was a peculiar one, yet many good suggestions were offered. The governor concluded with the following recommendations:

1. A change in the assessment law.

2. The abolition of useless commissions.

3. A law fixing maximum rates for railroad and telegraph companies.

4. A law empowering municipalities to fix maximum rates on all monopolies.

5. A law authorizing the governor to employ a prosecuting witness.

6. A law giving to all state and county officers a fixed salary.

7. A general municipal incorporation law.

8. A change in the road laws so as to secure good roads.

9. Providing for the arrest and punishment of armed men in private employ.

10. The passage of an inheritance tax law.

11. The enactment of a law similar to that of Washington, exempting homesteads from execution and attachment.

12. Authority to the school land commissioners to withhold from any county its school fund until all the state taxes for said county have been received.

13. The creation of a state auditing board.

14. No further illegal appropriation of money by joint resolution.

15. Appropriation for a fish ladder at Oregon City.

16. A change in the law relating to the conveyance of criminals and insane persons.

17. Instructions to our representatives in congress to procure an appropriation for a portage road at The Dalles of the Columbia; to secure the passage of the bill providing for the agricultural college funds for betterments on the college property; to secure an extension of time in which payment may be made by settlers for the free coinage of silver; to vote for the paper money of the country by the government alone, and the enactment of an income tax law.

Following the message, the senators at once re-assembled in the senate chamber where they listened to first reading of the bills that had been previously handed in. In the house a resolution was offered praying for the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday. One long-headed member suggested that inasmuch as Oregon had made no appropriation, it was "rather gally" for them to offer any resolutions or even suggestions.

Wednesday's session was mostly taken up in presenting bills, which were given first reading. Senator Blackman presented a bill well worthy of mention, regarding the regulation of amount to be paid upon an insurance policy, declaring the face to be the legal amount to collect. This will stop the payment of a fractional part of a policy, just because the agent claims property is worth no more, as was the case with insurance on Heppner's school building. Although this will be strongly fought by the insurance companies, yet it is to be hoped that it will pass.

The legislature will adjourn Thursday evening to again convene Monday evening at 10 a. m.

A. W. PATTERSON, AGENT

Joe Keeney, of Pendleton, is circulating among the democratic members of the legislature in the interest of his candidacy for register of the U. S. land office at La Grande. Joe stands well among his people and will doubtless have a strong pull for the position. Geo. B. Small, editor of the Democrat, of Baker City, is also here feeling around for the appointment of receiver at the same office. George has the reputation of being a fearless editor, and one of the leading of the democratic faith in Eastern Oregon, which is a good recommendation for him. As a newspaper man he has doubtless done as much for his party as anyone, consequently should not be overlooked in the shuffles.

Messrs. E. O. Woodall and Sherman Keeney, of Long Creek, are here in the interest of the Grant county division bill, with Long Creek as the county-seat. M. Braly, of Hamilton, is also here in the interest of division, except that he is a representative of those who desire Hamilton as the county seat of the maiden county. A canue cablegram has been received from Canyon City paying for a little time before the division bill is presented; also stating that a remonstrance will be forwarded at an early date, with equal rapidity.
