A HIGHWAYMAN took $23 from a German who was working for Del Zachary over near Condon, a few days ago.

Over more year in that to prove up on your railroad land. Had the bill passed two weeks ago, many a dollar would have been kept in our midst.

A "Big Four" passenger train, by accident, ran off on a siding at Alton Junction, near St. Louis, last Saturday, crashing into some oil tanks. Many were fatally burned.

Now that the vote of all the states has been canvassed, a complete table of the electoral vote is possible and gives Cleveland a total of 276 votes, Harrison, 144, and Weaver 24.

ONE of our exchanges says that when Governor Altgeld was inaugurated as the first democratic governor of Illinois in 40 years, the other day, it was indeed, literally speaking, a cold day for the republicans. The thermometer registered at 10 degrees below zero.

SUNDAY'S Oregonian says: Senator Dolph's bill to extend until January 1, 1894, the time of payment for forfeited railroad lands between Wallula, Wash., and Portland, which passed the senate the other day and was speedily reported from the house committee on public lands, was called up by Mr. Hermann and passed through the house today. It will be signed by the president in a day or two.

THERE is some talk of the Inland Telephone Co. extending their line from Pendleton to Canyon City, via Long Creek. If our people will take the matter in hand, they can get this extension built by the way of Heppner. It is a great convenience, and we cannot afford to be without it. Besides, if telephone connection is had with the interior, we cannot, as the nearest railroad point, allow ourselves to be sidetracked, at least without some effort on our part to prevent it.

THE state board of charities and corrections have just finished an investigation of the affairs of the insane asylum. Matters appear to have been going rather reckless in that institution of late, though all the charges were not substantiated. The son of the manager of the asylum, then a guard at the penitentiary, in company with a young unmarried lady, caused a meeting between a convict named White and his wife, contrary to the rules of the "pen." This, and another that keys were too freely given out, were the only charges substantiated.

THERE is a proposition on foot before the legislature to change the judicial districts of Eastern Oregon so that Morrow and Umatilla will be thrown together. So far as the Gazette can learn, our people oppose any such move, as in that case Morrow would be at the mercy of her sister across the way. However, there is too much work in Eastern Oregon for the judges already apportioned to us, and it is suggested that the counties of Eastern Oregon be merged into judicial districts as follows: Sixth district, Wasco, Sherman, Crook; seventh, Umatilla, Union, Walla; eighth, Harney, Malheur, Baker; ninth, Morrow, Gilliam, Grant, and if the latter county is divided, Emulion. This will not give over eight not less than seven terms of court yearly to any district, and in a more equitable apportionment than the one now before the legislature.

IT IS known as though congress would be called together in special session immediately after March 4th, but "hard returns" will not cause such action. People are beginning to understand that financial legislation is more necessary than tariff tinkering; that the tariff is not the root of the evil by any means. We think that it will be clearly demonstrated to the satisfaction of all during the coming administration, that the present tariff system, leaving the balance of trade in our favor, is a good one; that it has nothing at all to do with bringing about a condition of things in which farm and farm products are continually on the down grade, while the money of the country is growing dearer and harder to get. Silver has been legislated out of its place as money by the money power, reducing the amount of the circulation; now the people are demanding its return to its old place, and justly, too.

THE passage of the bill to extend to others time of payment on forfeited railroad lands between Wallula, Wash., and Portland, Or., came at an opportune period. A failure in crops was experienced in this section last year, and it became the next thing to an impossibility for settlers to get the money with which to make the purchases. As it was, doubting that congress would come to their aid, the settlers have risked and scraped the country of its cash, and it has been drained of every dollar. As it is, settlers will have another year in which to consummate payment on their holdings. Senator Dolph and Congressman Hermann have the thanks of a large number of our people, regardless of politics, for their timely assistance. This statement is made with the assurance that the president will sign the bill as soon as it is presented to him.

IT MUST PINCH.

The Oregonian takes exception to our criticisms on their Corbett correspondence, which, however, amounts to nothing more than an attempt to belittle the humble efforts of the Gazette, by making an implied comparison between our one-story frame and their eleven-story brick. While our little office building only cost, ground and all, $1,900, theirs cost $500,000. While we pay taxes on plant and shop property at Heppner to the amount of $4,500, the Oregonian, we are informed by competent authority, are assessed at only $22,000. Now it is apparent that the great monopoly, the Oregonian, would readily assent to the proposition of a money system that is impoverishing the people; that it would recognize these "certain facts" as indisputable, even though containing nothing but rank injustice, because its owners are so blinded to the sense of right and wrong that it takes away out of sight nearly all its property, leaving their more honorable neighbors to pay in taxes what they themselves should bear. The Oregonian's building, plant, news monopolies and other property are worth a million dollars, and while our efforts emanate from a less pretentious source, in after years, when our warehouse gets "loaded to the guards" with pumpkins, turnips and "possum skins," we can feel that to "live and let live" has actuated our every action; that we have spoken our honest convictions in every instance; have not encouraged and nurtured into existence, blood-sucking vampires that are intent only on filling their own pockets; and above all, have paid the commonwealth all that was due it. The reward will be small, perhaps, but it will be one sweeter by far than that which our dear friends in the big brick will have piled up by following the bidding of monopolists, who seek to enhance the value of the money of the country that it may command a greater rate of interest, and that the common people may still be continued in financial bondage. We would rather go down to a ripe old age with nothing but a larger full of bacon and beans and the respect of our neighbors, than all the money that the Oregonian has succeeded in piling up in its nefarious way and the supreme contempt of nine-tenths of the people. It is not the brains of the Oregonian that makes it the leading paper of the state, but its perfect willingness to become a tool of capital against the people, therefore its ability to keep and crowd out all opposition. Its apparent competitor the Telegram, is but the shadow of that sheet, disguised in democratic clothes.

In the mind of our great Oregonian's editor, he feels sorry for the little fish who are trying to eke out an existence in spite of himself, he wanders back over the past, even amid his insincere wallowing in behalf of the capitalists, to the period when the Oregonian was a small sheet; when titled "Rocky Mountain" Smith more wages than it could pay, he becoming a partner in the business, but immediately selling out to one of the present proprietors; when it struggled along for years, not making a cent, till finally it couldn't help but grow, and with success came great combinations with capital and it was then installed as their organ. But while they are counting around for a chance to get sorry for the country editors, they can very consistently say a goodly portion of it for a class of people who are vastly more in need of it—the primary producers of the United States. As good authority as that which Mr. Corbett and the Oregonian accept as law and gospel, says that the monetization of silver was nothing but a scheme of the rich, and subsequent results prove it conclusively. Suppose in 1873, a farmer made a lot of $5,000, in five years. In 1873 silver was designated as money and the enhancement of gold followed. As money grew dearer the farmer had to raise and sell just that much more to get a dollar of the money of the country. The same discount that was legislated on silver was put on the farmer's cereals, and every dollar of the money lenders proportionally enhanced at the farmer's expense. Everything produced by that class bears the same discount as that put upon silver. It is not by nature any more of a commodity than gold, it is treated as it was from the beginning of the republic up to 1873. Plenty of "competent authority" exists to point out conclusively that while the act of 1873 dethroned and dishonored silver as a money metal, it has a divinity of its own about it, and that an ounce of it will buy as much as it bought before it was proscribed with all the recognition which our great government could give it when it bore the stamp of sovereignty from the mint of the United States, and when it really commanded a higher price than gold itself. They realize, too, that when that dishonor was cast upon silver, financial troubles began to press; that lands began to fail, that prices generally began to fall, and there has been depression, and, in many places, despair ever since, and that the remedy is to restore the metal to where it was. But to be a real smart person—"competent authority"—one must agree with the Oregonian. Will it say that such papers as the Salt Lake Tribune, the Rocky Mountain News and its own sweet, candid appendage, the Telegram, are any the less competent authority because they are in favor of free coinage of silver, or legislation approaching it? The sweeping, implied assumption that every man is a fool because he does not swallow this monomaniacal idea of money, does not answer the argument at all. It has been often remarked that when the Oregonian resorts to ridicule instead of good solid argument, it is cornered. Ridicule is a strong weapon, but it refutes nothing. A large majority of the people in Oregon are on the side of silver, and the Oregonian is making more advocates of silver than a less number, by its incoherent course. Let it keep up its lark.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. It "Lays Gripes" low, lets you work and weary, and gives you strength. It acts directly on the liver, stomach and kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with sick headache, you will find speedily and permanently relieved by Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Wm. Luncheonford shot.

From the Eagle.
Wm. Luncheonford received a very painful wound at a dance at the lower Pava creek school house last Friday evening, the result of a pistol shot from the hand of John Ambrose, of Bitter.
Whether the two men had ever entertained an ill feeling toward one another previously, the Eagle has not been able to learn. An altercation took place between them on the evening mentioned, which resulted as above stated.
Dr. Nichols was called to administer to the wants of the wounded man, and says that while the wound is a bad one it is not necessarily a dangerous one, the bullet entering the lower part of the groin, and passing through to the back part of the hip. Since Mr. Luncheonford has been getting along as well as could be expected.
Mr. Ambrose at once came to Long Creek to give himself up, but owing to the absence of Justice Goff, he did not succeed until yesterday, when he was placed under $200 bonds to appear before the next grand jury. Bonds were readily given.

These figures represent the number of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which were sold in the United States from March, '91 to March, '92. Two million, two hundred and twenty-eight thousand, six hundred and seventy-two bottles sold in one year, and each and every bottle was sold on a positive guarantee that money would be refunded if satisfactory results did not follow its use. The secret of its success is plain. It never disappoints and can always be depended on to give the very best results for coughs, colds, etc. Price 50c and $1.00 at Stearns-Johnston Drug Co.

SOME EAGLETS.

From our Long Creek Paper.

The first Masonic Commandery of Knight Templars, of Eastern Oregon, will hold its annual convention at Long Creek. This will make only the fifth lodge of the nature in the state.

Dr. Fillington, of Pendleton, has been appointed government physician at the Umatilla Agency. The Dr. is a bright, young physician and the appointment is a good one.

Dr. J. H. Fell, formerly of this place, came over from Prairie City last week on a short business visit, returning home Saturday. The Dr. reports but little sickness about Prairie, but considerable down the river.

Mike Benson and A. Hirschberg, formerly merchants of the city, have located in Independence, Or., having purchased the general merchandise stock of Z. I. Rosendorf. The Eagle and their many acquaintances in Grant county wish them success in their new field.

Geo. Maddox, who has been stealing horses in the Haystack country, and who, it is said, was the means of causing young Smith a term in the penitentiary for the same business, has been captured by Sheriff Combs and is at present in Canyon school-house awaiting trial.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

The Studebaker wagon needs all. For sale at Gilliam & Biabe's.

Why go hungry when the City Hotel furnishes you a good meal at living rates.

"Hardware" did you say? Why, yes at H. Thompson & Co.'s stand, and the place for bargains.

Call on Rip to do your wood sawing; same old price. Also delivers wood to any part of Heppner. See ad.

Rubi, the baker. Buy your bread and cakes and save money. Try it.

For each you can get more at the Eastern Clothing House, with Levi on deck, than any other place in Heppner.

The Palace is the leading hotel in the city. Well furnished rooms with plenty of light are provided for everyone.

Smith, the furniture man, is prepared to sell fine goods at low figures. Full line of undertaking goods on hand.

M. Lechtenthal & Co. have a fine lot of winter wear, including ladies' winter shoes, overalls, rubber boots, etc. Drop in.

Borg, the jeweler. A man to fix up your watch or clock. Keeps a full stock of everything pertaining to his business.

Don't overlook T. W. Ayers, Jr., the leading druggist. Choice perfumes, and all the kindred ailments. Every body always on hand.

The Buchler beer, 5 cents per glass, at the Columbia Beer Hall, Omer & Hughes, stables, next door to M. Lechtenthal & Co.'s shoe store.

The M. L. & T. Co., since they have roofed all their platform, have an immense storage capacity. This company's goods in grain, lumber and wood.

Since Shaw & McCarty purchased the meat market they have always endeavored to keep on hand the freshest and choicest meats, sausages and bolognas.

What perseverance, pluck and enterprise avail in this wild west, if you cannot get big bargains? However, before giving up entirely, visit Minor Bros' emporium.

Thompson & Bins own the bus which goes to and from the City hotel, but will call for parties desiring to go to train in any part of the city. Leave orders at City hotel.

Gilliam & Biabe, the hardware and tinware merchants, carry everything pertaining to their lines, even agricultural implements. Don't you need a plow this fall?

Don't overlook Kirk & Kasmus for bargains. They have purchased the business of J. W. Matlock & Co. but will soon remove to the Mallory corner, opposite the Palace hotel.

Dr. Grant's Cloak, the great dyspepsia conquerer, will positively cure dyspepsia and all its kindred ailments. Every bottle sold under positive guarantee to effect a cure or money refunded. See ad. in this issue.

The general merchandise establishment formerly owned by O'Brien & McCarty, has lately changed hands, now being owned and managed by the McFarland Mercantile Company, which continues business at the old stand with a larger stock than ever.

A Popular Competition.

The competition is open to the world, and is free to all who care to compete. All that is necessary is to send answers to the following questions: 1. Which is the longest book in the shortest? 2. Which is the shortest? 3. The longest verse? 4. The shortest? Mail your answers to The Ladies' Home Magazine, enclosing $1 for six months subscription to this popular and handsomely illustrated magazine. If your answers are correct you are sure of a reward. The following is the prize list: $1,000 in gold, $500 in gold, $250 in gold, $100 in gold, silver, organs, gold watches, 2,500 pieces silverware, etc. The public may rely on fair and square dealing as The Ladies' Home Magazine is an old and reliable concern. Address, THE LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE, Peterborough, Ontario.

Lord Kilcourse Speaks.
We desire to call attention to the great winter combination of 1893, which is now being conducted by the Canadian Agricultural and Home Journal, published at Peterborough, Canada. The Agriculturalist has gained a reputation in the past for fair dealing in connection with these competitions, and the future will be no exception to the rule. Those who desire to compete can do so free of charge. All they have to do is to prepare a list of English words made from the letters in the two words, "Columbian Exposition." The rules are that no letter can be used oftener than it appears in the two words above named, or on the names of persons or places be used. Foreign words are also barred. The leading prizes are: 1st, $2,500 cash; 2nd, $1,000; 3rd, $500; 4th, $250; 5th, $100; besides pianos, organs, gold watches, 5,000 elegant silver tea services, etc., making a total of over 10,000 prizes. All who send in 100 correct words will receive a special prize. Take a few sheets of paper, prepare a list made up from the letters in the two words above quoted, and enclose $1 for six months' subscription to one of the choicest and best publications on the continent, and you will have a really first class magazine to read, and may secure $2,500 in gold into the bargain. The Agriculturalist always carries out its promise to the very letter, as the following, from Lord Kilcourse, the Governor-General's secretary will testify:

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 6th, 1893.
SIR—It will give me great pleasure to recommend my friends to enter your competition. I am, Sir,

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk," but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anæmic and Wasting Diseases. Provents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Borne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.
