THE FACTS.

Now that the city election is over, it is nothing more than proper that something should be done to make our fire department effective. Though we have plenty feet of hose, a hook and ladder outfit, buckets, Babcock extinguishers, etc., the whole is in a condition not available for immediate use at fires. And yet the council of Heppner are only guilty of having carried out the wishes of the people, as expressed in the election last Angust. They have not exceeded this one iota, nor have they desired to do so, even though some have said that it was their intent and purpose fold their bills twice. The young busito plunge the town eternally into debt. If the new council, after running the pocket, while the sporting man carries it gauntlet for one year, can come out with as much to their credit as the present drovers carry their money in their inside incumbents, they should consider that they are fairly entitled to the good will and approbation of all thinking and unprejudiced people.
