THE republican candidate for mayor of Denver, Van Horn, was elected by a decided majority. The News opposed him bitterly, as well as the rest of the ticket which, in the main, was elected.

WE MUST warn our people that a telephone line will shortly be constructed to the interior towns, Long Creek and Canyon City. And this is to be extended from Pendleton. Can't this be brought around by Heppner? We need to be brought nearer not only to the interior country but to our neighboring towns above us in Oregon and Washington.

THE municipal elections in Kansas last week were drawn down to party lines, republicans vs. populists. The former won in nearly every instance. Wichita, the home of Gov. Leavelle, went republican by a pronounced majority. However, in most places local issues were at stake, though at Fort Scott it was a battle between prohibitionists and anti pro, the latter winning.

AT THE city election in Eugene, the entire people's ticket was elected by a good majority. It is now Mayor Friendly instead of plain every-day Sam. He will honor the position—Dispatch. The editor of the Gazette had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Friendly while at Eugene last fall, and found him to be a very pleasant, hospitable gentleman. Eugene could have made no better choice for the office of mayor.

GOVERNOR PENROSE should pardon the woman sent to the penitentiary from Morrow county for demolishing somebody's six-bit harness. There are dozens of fitter female subjects for the penitentiary in Portland, Astoria and Salem.—Statesman. Yes, but she didn't stop with a set of good harness worth, perhaps, $35, but cut to kindling wood a new buggy. The Statesman should know all about these things before making any suggestions to our governor.

S. G. HAWSON, of Arlington, wrote Assessor Seary, of Multnomah Co., regarding the assessment of towns and school districts. His answer is as follows: "In answer to your inquiry in regard to the new assessment law for city assessments, it has been decided by the authorities here that the law abolishes all local or city assessors and that the assessment can only be made lawfully by county assessors for city or school taxes, and the city council and school board are going to act in accordance therewith. There are good grounds to hold either way, but the weight of decisions is in favor of the assessment by the county assessor."

IN CONNECTION with the World's Fair, the proprietors of Cooper's Sheep Dip are offering amongst other prizes a $100 sterling silver cup for the best fleece of range wool, and another of the same value for the best pen of five range ewes grown and bred, respectively, by exhibitor west of the Mississippi river. The total prizes offered amount to $700. It is hoped that Western sheepmen will take advantage of this handsome offer of Messrs. Cooper & Nephews. No other prizes are offered for Western sheep or wool by the commissioners, so that these premiums fill a gap and give a chance to our sheepmen to show the world what can be accomplished on our Western ranches. In doing this they wish to show their appreciation of the large and increasing patronage which is being accorded them by the sheepowners of the West.

A FEW days ago we noticed that the floating debt of the Northern Pacific Railway exceeds nine millions of dollars, and that it worries the officers and other owners in that corporation to a great extent. While the policy of some corporations is to run in debt to the largest possible limit, the policy of others is to keep out of debt, that share owners may not have their interests and investments jeopardized through the recklessness of officials. The history of the Atlantic-Pacific Railway Tunnel is clean and interesting. It differs widely from the history of the Panama Canal, in which the people of France have lost three hundred millions of dollars, gone forever. Tunneling the Rocky mountains is as great an enterprise as was the tunneling of the Alps or the Hoosac mountain, and the man who projected the work and has carried it on to success will thus send his name into history as one of the greatest engineers of this or any other country. By sending six cents in stamps to M. M. Pomeroy, President, Rooms 46, World Building, New York City, those caring to read of this great work in Colorado will receive a large 36 page illustrated descriptive pamphlet, telling all about it and what the men and women who are already interested have accomplished.

THE Salt Lake Tribune says: Senator John Sherman can never resist the opportunity to give silver a black eye. His last effusion was in the form of a letter of regret that he could not attend a certain banquet. He says that the notes of the national banks, secured by an equal or greater amount amount of United States bonds, form the best currency that has yet been devised. Does he think that is a better currency than gold certificates or than silver certificates would be if silver were on a parity with gold? In that he gives away the fact that some years ago he contacted to perpetuate national banks just as long as he could. John Sherman has done a great deal of work for the nation which the nation has never paid him for, but we do not believe he ever did any work for national banks that he did not exact full remuneration. As usual, he reaches his old conclusion: "The real solution of the silver problem is to put into our silver dollar enough silver at the market value to be equal to a gold dollar, and to maintain all forms of money, whether coin or notes, of equal and interchangeable value." There comes the old virus in full sight again. He gets our government to declare by law that silver is not money; it is a mere commodity. He sees it, compared with gold, fall in value 40 per cent. He sees every other product of the country fall in the same ratio, and then he coolly informs the millions who have lost more money in this gigantic swindle than a mighty war would cost, that the proper thing to do is to raise the weight of the silver dollar from 412½ standard grains to 577½ grains. John Sherman is an enemy to his country.

THE LATE J. C. McFARLAND.

Funeral Services From the Family Residence Yesterday Afternoon.

From Los Angeles Times, April 2. The funeral of the late J. C. McFarland occurred yesterday at 2:30 p. m., at the family residence on West Twenty-fourth street, where a large number of sympathizing friends gathered to pay their last respects to a man who was generally beloved and esteemed by all who knew him. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Vail, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, and the music was rendered by the Unity Quartette, led by Miss Boynton. The comforting hymns, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Thy Will Be Done," and "Abide With Me," were sung during the impressive service. The Masonic fraternity, of which Mr. McFarland was an honored member, attended in a body and conducted the burial service at Evergreen cemetery, whither a long line of carriages followed the hearse. The open grave was lined with beautiful roses and greens, and the mound of earth was hidden by pure white Easter lilies amid green pepper sprays. The solemn Masonic ceremonies were reverently gone through with the burial service being read by Master Mason W. W. Seaman.

Just at sunset the sorrowing procession turned away from the newly made grave, and left to his last long sleep the earthly remains of one who, by his kindly courtesy, his tender sympathy and his genial cordiality, won friends wherever he went. Of him it might truly be said, "His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world 'this was a man.'"

The son and daughter, Homer McFarland of Heppner, Or., and Mrs. W. L. McEwen of Portland, Or., arrived on Saturday to attend the funeral of their father.

OUR STATE SCHOOL JOURNAL.

The April number of the Western Pedagogue, State School Journal of Oregon, reaches our desk. It is a splendid number. The leading features of the magazine are an able article from the pen of Prof. John M. Bloss, Pres. State Agricultural College, on Arithmetic methods, "History of Education in Oregon" and the "Value of Literature in Teaching Morals." The last named article is from Pres. DeGarmo, of Swartswood College. The Journal contains besides other articles on educational topics by the leading teachers of Oregon, a "Current Events" department "Pacific Slope School News" and the usual question box called "The Oracle Answers Queries." The people of the state interested in education may be glad to see this valuable publication filled with new life, and prepared to promote the cause of education in Oregon. It well deserves patronage and encouragement. We have made arrangements with the publishers so that any of the teachers of the county as well as our citizens can pay their subscriptions at this office. Only $1.00 a year. We will send the Gazette and the Western Pedagogue one year for $3.00.

SOME EAGLETS.

From our Long Creek Paper.

The blast of the war lamb can be heard in many lambing camps. C. F. Goff returned from Butter creek Sunday, accompanied by his family.

The Eagle is informed that there is about 1500 head of four and five-year old beef cattle on Beaver creek, that will go into the markets of the Northwest this year.

Mr. Chas. Balance, who is administrator of the estate of Geo. Fitzhugh, received Mr. Fitzhugh's claim for $1350 from the government for losses sustained during the Indian raid in 1878.

Grant county's stock inspector gave the Eagle the following information concerning the sheep of this county: "I cannot at the time give the per cent. of the bands that are diseased. However, there is but very little scab among the sheep in this section. Last fall about six or seven per cent. of the bands in Grant county were diseased, but the most of them but slight. All so affected were dipped late, but the wool being long, I think that in but a very few instances a cure was effected. Sheep have wintered well in this valley, generally speaking. The loss will be comparatively nothing, excepting Mr. Jas. Small, who will sustain some loss by having to dip late last fall when the weather was cold and stormy."

W. D. Fletcher has returned from his trip to Baker City. Mr. Fletcher was glad enough to get out of that country, as winter still hangs on and the streets of Baker were filled with a mixture of mud and snow. At the summit of the Blinn snow is nearly four feet deep.

Mr. Fletcher states that the telephone line extension line to Canyon City is now assured. He has prepared a petition to be presented to the council this evening, asking that a franchise be granted for building a line through the streets. When this passes word will be at once commenced.—East Oregonian.

RIGHT MILE MATTERS.

This neighborhood was very much surprised to hear of the death of Mrs. Lee Burnside, who formerly resided on Eight Mile, died at La Grande, March 27th, of scarlet fever. She was resigned to her death. Her dying words were, "I am prepared to meet my God." She left eight children, one an infant a few days old. Two of the children are sick at the present time, and let fever and their house is quarantined. The family have the sympathy of their friends at this place. Mrs. Burnside was a good woman. Her vacant place in her family will be hard to fill. Those who knew her best loved her best; she was a true friend.

School commenced in this district last Monday with a good attendance. Rev. J. T. Galloway will preach at Eight Mile Center on next Sabbath, morning and evening.

Farmers are certain now that fruit buds are frozen, and the trees also are frozen. It was not the cold weather that injured them so much as the warm weather in December, bringing the trees forward and then when the weather turned cold they were injured.

"I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to publish unqualifiedly, to the world the benefit received from Dr. Miles' Heart Disease Remedy. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking and burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression in the chest, and a feeling of pain in the arms, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, weakness and general debility. The arteries in my neck would throbb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would shake my whole body. I was so tormented that I could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken dozens of Patent Medicines without the least benefit. A friend recommended your medicine. She was cured by Dr. Miles' medicine. I have taken three bottles of your Heart Disease Remedy. My pulse is normal, I have no more throbbing of the heart, I am as well as I can be.
