JOHN A. BELL, managing editor of the Detroit Free Press, died Wednesday afternoon last of typhoid fever.

MANY portions of the East were swept over by a terrible hurricane Tuesday night, doing great damage in many places.

FRANKLIN K. LANE, editor of the Tacoma News, and Miss Anna Winter-shute, of Chicago were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Tuesday evening. Here's to Franklin.

CAPTAIN GEORGE H. MOFFETT, of the Portland Telegram, has gone to the Santa Robel springs for the benefit of his health. We wish him a speedy recovery.

GEORGE E. RICHARDSON, the Yoncalla train flagger, was held under $5000 bonds at Roseburg for taking up the rail which he claimed was misplaced by robbers. He admits the fact and will plead insanity as the cause.

THE Harney City Times, edited by J. E. Roberts, which was burned out last fall has resumed publication again in small form. However Bro. Roberts intends enlarging to a 7-column folio as soon as the necessary material arrives.

COL. BOB MILLER will soon visit Washington to learn of the president why a Texas man is going to get the Turkish mission, while Robert Miller, who fused with the populists, may go straight to Texas or H-lifax!—Klamath County Star.—Don't be too hard on the colonel, Peter.

Down in Alabama the other day a man went into a newspaper office to kill the editor. As a result he himself leaves a large family to mourn his loss. A righteous editor, like a buzz saw, when ruffled the wrong way is sometimes a dangerous thing to tackle.—Telegram.

DIRECTOR GENERAL DAVIS has extended the time for receiving exhibits at the World's Fair from April 10, the day originally set as the last one on which they would be received, until April 30. This is rendered necessary by the fact that only about one-third of the exhibits are now on the grounds.

JUDGE BELLINGER is the second Oregonian to be appointed to a political office by Cleveland. Postmaster Johnson, of Pendleton, being the first. If the boys will only have patience their time will come, though some of them might as well stay with the plow a while longer yet, as they will receive an appointment just as soon.

THE strike of 1500 mechanics on the world's fair buildings, has been peacefully ended by arbitration, or rather compromise, as concessions were made on both sides. This was a good move for had the strike continued, it would have been very disastrous to the opening of the exposition on May 1st, but the work will now go on, and everything will be in readiness for the opening on the day named.

THE annual encampment of the society of the Grand Army of the Republic was held in Pendleton Wednesday and Thursday of this week. More than 300 veterans from different parts of the state were present. The street parade was one of the prominent features of the first day's entertainment, in which all the local organizations took part. The city was also profusely decorated for the occasion.

THE insane asylum commission will again visit Eastern Oregon next week. This time they will be accompanied by a scientist whose opinion, as to the most beautiful place, best climate and water, will have some weight in the final decision.

THE reported marriage of Chas. Nickel, of The Jacksonville Times, and Miss Penny, is a half-penny affair, nevertheless we present our congratulations. It is quite a feat to "raise" a Penny to a Nickel without arrest and conviction on a charge of forgery, or exciting the suspicion of the secret service men.—E. O.

IT is indeed amusing to see a learned editor of an exchange telling his many readers, who perhaps have perfect confidence in him, to prepare their smoked glasses to get a view of the total eclipse of the sun on April 16, when it is visible in no part of the United States. However as it is a total eclipse and alone visible in South America, perhaps he meant that they should go down there to get a view of it.

THE two bond propositions voted on in Tacoma last Tuesday were carried by a decided vote. The first proposition to purchase the water and electric light plant from the Tacoma Light & Water Company for $1,750,000, and to issue bonds for $2,150,000 in payment thereof was carried by over 100 more than the required three-fifths votes, while the second proposition to issue bonds for $120,750 to construct a bridge across the Payallup was carried 200 more than the necessary majority.

THE State's attorney advocates the dropping of "city" after the word Boise. The Democrat has frequently suggested the same. Many towns in the West that adopted the "city" to follow some other name have invariably, after attaining considerable size, endeavored to rid themselves of the useless suffix. Boise when founded, might have needed "city" to give the future capital a little tone; but she has no further use for the superfluous. As Daniel Webster said of the history of Massachusetts "it speaks for itself."—Democrat.

IT is reported that the train containing the Southern California World's Fair exhibit was wrecked down below San Francisco last week. The oranges were jammed in piles, the larger part of the fruit being badly bruised. An Indian village in the vicinity raided the wreck and carried off a large quantity of fruit. Cases containing hundreds of jars of fruit if all kinds were intact, but all the jars were broken, practically ruining that part of the exhibit upon which months of valuable time and thousands of dollars were expended.

HON. C. B. BELLINGER, of the office of Dolph, Bellingier, Mallory & Simon has been appointed United States district judge in place of the late Hon. M. P. Deady. This is indeed a good selection, as all will agree that Mr. Bellingier is an able lawyer and well qualified for the position. He is a pioneer of Oregon, and has before been honored by the bench, his county and the state by appointments and nominations for different political offices, and, while not generally successful for the latter, yet he always ran far ahead of his ticket. Mr. Bellingier, during his early career, was editor of several democratic papers in Southern Oregon where he wielded the pen with much force. During the Modoc war he did good service, for which he was given honorable mention by different officers' reports. In all the appointments is as good as could have been made.

DURING Harrison's administration the treasury receipts were $138,588,835 more than during Cleveland's. Cleveland turned over a cash balance of more than $48,000,000. Harrison left a deficit in the treasury of over $18,000,000.—Herald.—Now why not be honest about it? Why take an item like that from an eastern paper and publish it as an editorial and as though you believe it, without, at the same time, stating the truth? Suppose we make it read this way: "When Mr. Cleveland became president before, he found a surplus in the treasury of $40,000,000. During his four years he reduced it to $48,000,000. President Harrison began with that $48,000,000, in the four years paid $265,000,000 of the public debt and left a balance of a little over $1,000,000 in the treasury." These are facts and neither amounts to anything, because a president has no means of spending public money. All the money expended has to come through appropriations. Except in the matter of paying the public debt, the appropriations are ordered first by the house of representatives, and during Mr. Harrison's term the house was all the time democratic.

These being the facts, an item like the above, which we copy from our neighbor, is not only stupid but, in the impression intended to be given to the people, it is altogether dishonest and altogether unworthy of a respectable newspaper.—Tribune.

HONOR and profit is surely coming to those who are co-operating to drive the five miles of Atlantic-Pacific Railway Tunnel through the great gold and silver belt backbone of the Rocky mountains so trains can run direct air line route from Denver to Salt Lake City, and save 230 miles by so doing. This is the enterprise "Drick" Pomeroy began in 1880, and in which he has already invested exceeding half a million dollars, and in which about five thousand others are financially interested. The company now has more than five millions of A. I. assets; has paid for all its eighty-seven mining claims, town sites, mill sites, water power, etc., in full, pays all interest on its eight per cent bonds promptly, and is on the direct road to success. Its work of tunnel driving is carried on with the money loaned to the company by those who buy its bonds or its guaranteed shares, which any one can buy to a certainty of long continuing profits. The large 36-page, illustrated pamphlet that is sent to all who send six cents to M. M. Pomeroy, Rooms 46, World Building, New York City, is wonderfully useful and interesting reading.

The stuffed carcass of "Old Reelfoot," the huge grizzly which was the terror of the Cascade region for so long, will be taken to the World's Fair. "Reelfoot" was probably the largest bear ever captured on the Pacific coast.

Reports from some localities in Wasco county say that lambing has been successful and very few lambs have died. In other sections the cold, sleety weather has been very fatal to the newly-born. Ewes are in the best condition, and this is very favorable.

The pay-roll of the Virtue mine, eight miles east of Baker City, is $5,000 a month. The mine is now almost cleared of water, and will be entirely so within another week. A new Knowles pump has been received, and will be used for mill purposes.

Sunday evening, as the overland express was pulling out of Oregon City at a rapid rate, the alert engineer discovered a man lying on the track a short distance outside the city. It is presumed he had been thrown from the train, and he had his neck just over the rail and was not drunk. He refused to give his name as he was driven from the track by the train.

Jesse Yancy was digging a well on his ranch, 18 miles south of Prineville, and put in a blast of dynamite for some reason failed to go off when it was expected. After waiting a bit, Mr. Yancy and his wife both looked down the well to see what was the matter. Just then the blast went off, throwing small rocks clear to the surface. Mr. Yancy was injured quite severely, while Mrs. Yancy's face will long bear some ugly scars.

FOUR PARDONS.
Governor Penney issued a full pardon to four men at the Oregon state penitentiary, all from Eastern Oregon. John Thompson, sentenced December 3, 1887, from Wasco county, to serve 15 years for manslaughter, was pardoned on recommendation of the district attorney who secured his conviction. Thompson's term would have expired May 23, 1900, provided his conduct continued good. Congressman-elect W. R. Ellis, then district attorney, recommended the pardon in consideration of Thompson's age and the belief that all that can be done in the way of reformation has already been accomplished. The pardon was also petitioned for by a large number of citizens of Wasco Co. Thompson killed a man named Sherry in a saloon at Antelope, September 1887. The petition sets forth the fact that Sherry imposed on Thompson and spit in his face, whereupon, in the heat of passion, Thompson drew his revolver and shot and killed Sherry. Moses Redford, sentenced from Umatilla county July 8, 1892, to serve a term of two years for larceny, was pardoned, also Lou Bailey, sentenced from Umatilla county Nov. 7, '92, for one year for simple assault, and John W. Bare sentenced from this county July 2, 1891, to serve three years for the larceny of a horse. Bare, it will be remembered, was first indicted for lewd and lascivious cohabitation, to which he pleaded guilty and sentenced to six months in the county jail, as was also Mary Ella Blair, though her sentence was afterward suspended. While Bare was in jail, Mrs. Bare attempted to release the prisoners, for which she was fined $200. Bare was next brought in on a charge of horse stealing, to which he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary, which at that time was thought to be a light sentence. Though by good conduct and help of the district attorney he was pardoned when his term was but half out, having served 1 year, 7 months and 10 days.

THE MAN THAT BLUSHES FOR OUR FLAG.
They're a-talkin' down in Texas 'bout some New York chap 'at said,
How he's a-bushin' for the banner that's a-wavin' o'er his head!
An' down this way we'd sort o' like to run across that wag.

This feller says he's talkin' for the U. S. A.'s best man,
But the Lord help Uncle Sammy if there's many more like him!
For 'tis the pecky sarjant as gits his share o' swag.
Then stings the hand as leads him—ho's a-bushin' for our flag!
An' they say his name is Godkin, an' its Eng-lish, 'Don't eber know.'
An' they have old-time boodle 'cause he wallowed Johnnie so.
For he's all the time a-sneerin' an' sayin' 'That the blarsted rag!'
An' that's the kind o' hairpin 'at's a-bushin' for our flag!
If you'll send that cue to Texas, we'll amuse him without fail—
We'll stick 'im full o' feathers, an' then ride 'im on a rail—
We'll house 'im in the sewer, an' 'ux' shake 'im in a bag—
Oh, we've got it fer Godkin, who blushes fer our flag!

MANTLE A JUMPER.—Mr. B. G. Mantle, representing Levi Strauss & Co. of Frisco, started out Wednesday morning for the inner country, behind a four-horse team of match grays from Thompson & Binn's stable. The horses were very frisky, though all proceeded very well until near the Gazette office, when, evidently from too freely using the whip, the driver lost control of them and they started to run, Mantle showing himself to be quite an athlete by leaping from the seat and alighting heads up. After running at a rapid rate for a short distance up the canyon, they were stopped by the driver without damage. Mantle again took seat beside the string pusher, and all proceeded very smoothly.

DIVORCED.—We note the following from the Portland Dispatch: "Mary A. Bryant was decreed a divorce from Daniel W. Bryant, a baker at 313 Third St., this morning by Judge Stearns. The parties were married in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1883, and have no children. She alleged that her husband was brutal to her. She takes her maiden name of Mary Ann Kennedy." Wonder if this is our Daniel?
