FREE SILVER.

Portland, April 17.—(To the Editor.)—Will you please state in your paper the definition of free silver and oblige a CONSTANT READER.

The phrase as generally used, means free coinage of silver at the present ratio; that is, the right to take 67 cents worth of silver to the mint and have it made into a coin called a dollar without cost to the owner of the silver.—Oregonian.

This argument sounds like that of a small boy, who, having kicked over his sister's play-boat, in apparent holy horror, holds up his hands at the wreck and insists that she has no play-boat. The capital of our country surreptitiously detroned silver which was, till then, as good money as gold, or paper based on the best money and credit the world ever gave, and had been so considered for centuries. And now after debasing silver as money in most of the leading countries of the earth, enhancing the value of gold holdings beyond all reason and limit, all followed by a like discount on all that is produced by our farmers, and other primary producers, every acre of land not subject to boom or other local influences, they hold up their hands like the innocent? small boy and cry out, "67 cents worth of silver with the government stamp upon it, called a dollar, is a fraud and a cheat." Better say the gold dollar, worth about $1.40, represents just 40 cents on every dollar, wrong dishonestly from the debtors of our land. It means more mortgages and more ruined homes, nor will the end be reached till, booming like the whole fabric of finance will fall like a rotten beam pole, bringing home to the oppressors that for which they themselves, will be responsible.

A silver dollar, duly recognized by governmental authority, is all right. While it buys as much today as it did in 1873, it has been aborn of its debt-paying powers and as a money of redemption except in the case of treasury notes, issued under the Sherman act, and even then the government insists on redeeming in gold, when there now remains in the treasury vaults $700,000,000 of idle silver. The only remedy is to undo the wrong done the people, and at the sacrifice as possible, return to bi-metallic. The Shylocks who are now exporting gold for the purpose of bringing about an un- less bond issue, and to enhance their own holdings in the main, wrong from the treasury by using their treasury notes, will come to a halt. Uncle Sam is being used as a tool to further their selfish ends, and when they are paid silver for their treasury notes, there will be less exporting of money which is now inadequate for the wants of the people. Of course we must pay our debts, and money, (gold) is in demand to set up a few more countries with a reserve to meet the exigencies of the damnable single standard.

A JIMMY TAKE.—Late Saturday afternoon, a whirlwind, bearing strong evidence of being a small cyclone, struck town, creating some consternation and a small amount of damage. It came up Main street from down the "crick," and first manifested itself in tearing down Charley Jones' awning. Next it demolished one of the big panes of glass in the Palace hotel office door. Going over to Kolman's it smashed in two large panes of glass, then dropped in on Henry Heppner's building, next door to the photograph gallery, tearing off the square front down to the eaves, depositing it on the sidewalk and for a block or so to the southward the air was literally filled with flying boards, pieces of paper and all kinds of rubbish, much resembling a "Washoe Zephyr" which Nevada people know more or less about. Had anyone been in front of the Heppner building when it fell, they would have been killed. Luckily no one was hurt. J. K. Grover's team made a neat run during the storm. They were standing down in front of the old Gazette office, where E. L. Matlock was conducting a sale for Miss Maggie Rea. Becoming scared they darted south, past the Gazette office and on up Brewery bluff, but a handy stranger leaped into the wagon before the team had gotten far, and stopped the refractories. It was an exciting minute for a few of our people, at least.

WORKING THE OLD DIGGINGS.—A dispatch from Umattilla says: "During the week civil engineers have been running lines from the rapids of the Umattilla river, one mile above here, to the old gold fields along the shores of the Columbia, three miles west. They were quite reticent regarding the nature of their business, and it was generally conceded that they were working on an irrigation scheme. It is now rumored, however, that they were working in the interests of a company lately formed at Pendleton for the purpose of making a thorough investigation into the condition of the old placer diggings, and, if possible, devising some means of procuring the fine gold. The rapids of Umattilla will afford them excellent water power for hydraulic mining. Fifteen Chinamen are now working the old fields with the common cradle process. Quite a number of claims have been staked out by white men.

RIVAL (?) OF THE DALLAS.—Tourists in passing through The Dallas spend considerable time in viewing the environs of Grand Dallas, Washington. From the porch of the Umattilla house a magnificent view can be had of this rival (?) of Chicago, "the great railroad center of the Inland Empire" and site of the defunct shoe factory, the prospective glass works and roller mills and iron furnaces; terminus at the sympathetic telegraph line with Berlin, Paris, Constantinople, Yeddo and Yakoutsk, Siberia and of the ship railway over The Dallas portage and several lines of aerial navigating machines. These are in prospect, but the sand and rocks are tangible realities, the force and power of the former of which can easily be demonstrated by taking a walk through Duplicit Avenue Grand Dallas, Wash, when a gentle zephyr bloweth.—T. M.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.—A peculiar accident happened on the overland west bound train, near Rock Springs, Wyoming Tuesday. The train was running at a rapid rate, when Walter Perkins, a ten year old boy, arose in his sleep and walked off the platform of the car. His hip was broken by the fall, and he was probably injured internally, but not seriously the doctors think. The family were delayed one day at Rock Springs, where the child's leg was set. They arrived at Pendleton Tuesday evening, and stopped at the Golden Rule. The boy seems to be resting very easy while in Pendleton. The family took the seven o'clock train Wednesday morning for Moscow, Idaho, where they have made arrangements to locate. They started from Nebraska.—Tribune.

CLIMATIC CHANGES.—While riding from Arlington to Willows, a distance of ten miles, the passengers on yesterday morning's east-bound train experienced a remarkable change in climate. At Arlington the ventilators were all open, fresh in the stores had been allowed to die out, and the cars were comfortably warm. At Willows the temperature became so chilly that the sleepy travelers imagined they were wearing the north pole, and it took red-hot fires to afford relief.—T. M.

IN EASTERN OREGON.—A special train bearing the Oregon state railway commissioners, accompanied by Superintendent Borie, Bridge Superintendent Weed, and a force of bridge inspectors, passed Umattilla on 20th on a tour of inspection of the Union Pacific road. They report everything in first class condition so far as they have gone. They expect to reach Huntington in two days, and will return from there direct to Portland.

WORLD'S FAIR TRAVELERS WILL HAVE IT.—The public demand through service when traveling. It is old-fashioned to change cars. On the through solid vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Union Pacific and Northwest Line, from or to Chicago, Omaha and intermediate points, there is no change. This is the finest and fastest road.—1931.

A MISTAKE.—The report has gained circulation in Eight Mile, we are informed, that the county court has established a bounty of 75 cents on coyote scalps. It is a mistake. Somehow or other the Gazette is being given credit for publishing this report. If it is the case, it comes through the publication of some clipping relating to some other county in which credit for same was, perhaps, unfortunately, and without intent, omitted. Of course, this is mere supposition on the part of the Gazette, but we have endeavored to be as careful as possible in the promulgation of local news, and particularly in the doings of our county court.

THE CADET APPOINTMENT.—Congressman W. R. Ellis has been instructed by the secretary of war to make the appointment of a cadet from this district to West Point to report there on June 13. He has selected a board and appointed May 3 as the date for meeting at The Dallas, at 10 a. m., to hold an examination of applicants for two days.

THE NEW HOTEL.—The Central House, the new hotel on lower Main street, the property of Mr. Chas. Sargent, will be open for the public about the first to the middle of next week. It is a well appointed house and when completed, will form the only first-class $1.00 hotel in Heppner. Mr. Sargent proposes to run it in good style.—20-1f.

OUR SHORT.—The traveling public are now fully alive to the fact that the Chicago, Union Pacific & Northwest Line offers the very best accommodations to the public from and to Chicago, Omaha and intermediate points not only during the World's Fair, but all the year around.—19-31.

RIP'S WOOD YARD.—The Heppner wood yard, under the management of Rip Van Winkle, is prepared to deliver wood at your residence, sawed or unsawed. Wood sawed and delivered at $7.50 per cord. Wood sawed twice in two, 75 cts. per cord; three times, $1.00. Yard near the depot. Leave orders at Sloan & Howard's.—4-1f.

LOOK HERE.—When you want a refreshing schooner of beer and a nice lunch go see Kleckner & Sheldon. Also fine liquors and cigars in stock.—21-1f.

A POSITIVE ASSERTION.—E. J. Slocum sells more dry goods, boots and shoes for the money than any firm in Eastern Oregon.—20-1f.

MRS. ELMIRA HATCH. HEART DISEASE 20 YEARS.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. I was 30 years old when I was troubled with heart disease. I was frequently having fainting spells and smothering at night. Had to sit up or get out of bed to breathe. Had pain in my left side and back most of the time; at last I became despondent. I was very nervous and nearly worn out. The least exertion would cause me to faint. I was also much troubled with dizziness. For the last fifteen years I could not sleep on my side or back until I began using your New Heart Cure. I had not taken it very long until I felt much better, and I can now sleep on either side or back without the least discomfort. I have no pain, smothering, dizziness, no wind on stomach or other disagreeable symptoms. I am able to do all my own housework without any trouble and consider myself cured. ELKHART, Ind. 1900. MRS.
