HENRY GRAY, the Oregon applicant for the collectorship of Alaska who was turned down by B. F. Moore, of Washington, is pretty "warm under the collar."

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is getting tired of being persecuted by office-seekers, and it is reported, that he will, at next session of congress, advocate a bill delegating the supreme court with all powers of appointments except, perhaps, high officials near the executive and foreign ministers.

AMONG the novelties of the New York Press Club Fair is a wonderful prize puzzle-game, which is attracting the attention of scientists as containing a principle of simple addition hitherto unknown. As mentioned in our advertising columns the same can be obtained by mail for one dime.

SAM LOYD, the model chess player who invented all the popular puzzles and games from "Parceles" to "Pigs in Clover," is driving the country crazy once more with a little "Mystery," which, as advertised elsewhere, is being sold for the benefit of the New York Press Club Building and Charity Fund.

HOKA SMITH told Murphy and Markley, when they asked him for some appointments in the interior department, that Oregon democrats ought not to expect any appointments from this administration, especially when they had elected such a man as Penney governor, says the Oregonian's Washington correspondent.

RATHER than use silver as token money, better get rid of it altogether and use paper redeemable in gold. This is but a continuation, however, of the present system, but it will save the people a good deal of money in the purchase of metal which the government persists in using for token money, and which, in itself, represents nothing. The 64-cent dollar is a creature of legislative tinkering, measured now by a gold dollar, enhanced 40 to 50 per cent, and still increasing in value.

OUR sheepmen had better sell here rather than ship on consignment. We have elected a president and congress pledged to put wool on the free list, and, consequently, what wool is bought will be at low figures. And there is little chance of improvement, for if the next congress does not carry out the democratic idea on the tariff question, there will be a feeling of uncertainty as long as the present regime handles the reins. No unless you can hold your clips for about four years, you had better sell here and save interest, delay and consequent loss.

HIGH MONEY.
From the Telegram.
When, one week ago, the Bank of England advanced the rate of discount from 3 to 3½ per cent, it made the second advance within a fortnight. It went from 2½ to 3, and then 3½, and now there is a possibility that it may go 4. This action of the Bank of England is an interesting study, and is a thermometer of the English finances. When the directors made these advances they were simply following the lead of the open general market, and even then have not kept pace with it. On the day of the raise to 3½, the street rate of discount was 3¼ and 4 per cent. The bank has not had, however, a 3½ rate since January 21, 1892, and then it was lowered to 3. For eleven weeks it remained at 3, until April 7, when it dropped to 2½ per cent. For three weeks it continued at 2½, and on April 28 it was reduced to the lowest level of 2 per cent.

Then for twenty-five weeks it remained at this reduced rate, or until October 20. Here the tide turned, and the rate was raised to 3 per cent. At 3 it stood for fourteen weeks, or until January 26, 1893, when it reached to 2½. For fourteen weeks again it was at this rate, until about two weeks ago it went up to 3, and in another week jumped to 3½.

During the twelve weeks that have elapsed since January 26, the Bank of England has lost $8,884,090 specie. This is largely due to the domestic demand, which has taken $8,884,090 in sovereigns from the bank, while foreign exchange has brought in only a net supply of $1,055,000 gold coin and bullion. On May 11 the bank showed $120,035,240 specie, and a reserve of $70,580,840, in comparison with $123,289,355 specie, and $77,082,805 reserve for the corresponding date one year ago. If this depletion of gold coin goes on, the Bank of England will soon be clamoring with the rest of us for more silver.

EIGHT MILE MATTERS.
We have been having some showers the past week which is very good for crops.

Where are the spring poets? We have looked in vain for a verse in the poet's corner telling us this is spring. "The flowers can bloom, the birds can sing, the gurgling brook runs swiftly by, etc."

On the 14th of May, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ashbaugh went to church expecting to hear Rev. J. T. Galloway preach, but he did not arrive. A proposition was made that there be held a session of Sabbath school, as there was no preacher, and elect the officers for the following year. It was done and the officers were elected. This occupied some time and when Mr. and Mrs. Ashbaugh arrived at home they found their married children had come in during their absence, had taken possession of the house, emptied the contents of baskets brought by them and had a sumptuous dinner prepared in honor of their father's 67th birthday. He received a nice suit of clothes, a present from his three oldest sons, Fred, Ed and Charles. He also received other acceptable presents. There were present five sons and three daughters, three sons-in-law and three daughters-in-law, eight grandchildren and one nephew. It was a very pleasant party and enjoyed by all.

The Sabbath school officers elected were: Mrs. Case Pagan, superintendent; Isaac Knight, Asst. Supl.; Prof. A. J. Lam, secretary; Miss Dell Pagan, assistant secretary; Grant Worden, librarian; John Ingraham, assistant librarian; A. W. Saling, treasurer. The hour of Sabbath school has been changed to 10 o'clock.

Always Get the Best.
Persons who suffer from rheumatism want immediate relief. It is not enough that the pain should be eased, and the appetite be increased. Anything short of a cure is only prolonging torture. The poisonous acids in the blood, which is the direct cause of rheumatism, are immediately and effectually expelled by Dr. Drummood's Lightning Remedy. Nothing known to medical science will afford such speedy relief. If the druggist cannot furnish it, the remedy will be sent prepaid to any address on receipt of price, $5. Drummood Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

THE RACES.
An Interesting Program for Thursday—Some Surprises in Store for Those Who Patronize the Foot Box.

The spring meeting of the Heppner Park Association opened up yesterday afternoon with the two-year-old race, one half a mile. The entries were: Cora Jones, Dennison up; Sangaroo, Allen up. Purse, winner, all but $25, $100 added by the association entry fee $25.

The horses sold Sangaroo favorite and Cora Jones second, in ratio 2 to 1. The horses went to their post quietly, getting off at the first dash. Cora Jones led from the first, gradually gaining till the home stretch was reached. Here Sangaroo began to close up, but left the track and ran into the alfalfa for fifty yards or more, reaching the home mark a bad second. Mutuals sold well on this race, and considerable money, changed hands on the outside. Time 0:53½.

The next on programme was the saddle horse race, one-fourth of a mile, with entries Sallie, Nig, Duster, and Pole. They sold Sallie and Nig a tie and Pole favorite. Considerable time was consumed in making the start, but finally they got off with Sallie in the lead slightly. This position she held throughout the race, though Pole contested it hotly throughout the race. The horses came in as follows: Sallie, first; Pole, second; Duster, third. Purse $45, divided, 70, 20, and 10 per cent. Time, 0:25.

Today the people will be treated to a half-mile dash, free for all; purse, $125. Also a three-eighths dash, free for all, purse, $100.

More good horses are here this season than ever before, and, considering the times, the attendance is good. Tomorrow will occur the half-mile and repeat for $200, and the one-fourth mile dash for $150. Also a match race between Tinker and Whetstone's horse. The last named promises to be a "horse race" from start to finish.

TODAY'S ENTRIES.
The three-eighths dash has been deferred till tomorrow, while the quarter race will occur today.
The entries in the quarter dash are: Black Prince, Tom Stricklen owner; Dutch, Reeb Sperry owner; Pin Ear, Tom Keeney owner; Fanny, John Thak owner. This will be a pretty race.

The entries in the one-half mile race are as follows: Ruby, Tom Stricklen owner; Rockland Boy, Andy M. Allen owner; Bob White, Jas. Jones, owner; Hermann, Cass Matlock owner; Fanny, John Thak owner. If we, mistake not, the winner will know that he has been in a horse race when he gets through.

The weather has been fine so far, and the meeting is quite successful, considering the hard times.

A NOTED YACHTMAN.
He Organizes the Rogers Syndicate—Lives in New York.

The boat now being built by the Rogers syndicate for the purpose of defending the America's Cup in the challenging races to take place next summer, is under the full control of Archibald Rogers. Mr. Rogers was the first to move in the matter of new boats. He formed the "Rogers Syndicate" which consists of six prominent and wealthy yachtmen of the New York Yacht Club. The boat was duly ordered and as Mr. Rogers was asked to take full control of it, he is a frequent visitor to the Herreshoff works, where the vessel is being built. Her dimensions will be in some particulars as nearly as possible like the challenge yacht of Lord Dunsore. Mr. Rogers has long been a successful yachtman.

ARCHIBALD ROGERS.

It is often a matter of curiosity with the observer of feminine ways to know why women should wear so many ornaments while on the street, says the New York Recorder. To see a delicate little woman, whose waist is surrounded by an enormous belt, from which depend a number of small bottles of glass and silver, watch chains, bangles and heavy necklaces, is enough to create wonder in the mind of the uninitiated. The habit is looked upon as a fad. Probably it is, but an English writer says it is something more. This learned Britisher asserts that the American girl carries in the little bottles which dangle from her belt a lot of quinine pills. When she grows weary from the exertions of a shopping tour she takes two pills; if chilly, one pill; when hungry, which is often the case, down go two pills; if she gets her feet wet she swallows an antiseptic in the shape of ten pills. This is one of those things which may be described as interesting if true.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

THE PLEDGE.
I hereby solemnly promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer, and cider, and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of, and traffic in, the same.

Bro. Bushell said many good things while with us, and his temperance people feel greatly strengthened by his visit.

An I. O. G. T. was organized after the lecture Saturday evening. We extend our best wishes and congratulations to them.

Temperance people what shall we do about answering our own prayers? Let us remember what Bro. Bushell said on that subject.

GERMANIES.
Oh, of course, rum drinking is a great evil. Everybody knows that. No use of filling whole columns of a paper to tell us that. No use of cramming speeches and sermons with that. Even the drunkary-keepers will confess to that. Now what shall we do about it? Nothing amounts to much but votes. Shall we vote it out? Those in the traffic laugh at our vigorous resolutions.

According to statistics furnished by Rev. Dr. Dawson Burns, of London, the English spent $19.16 per capita, and the Scotch $15.14 per capita, and the Irish $11 per capita for liquor annually.

Judge Bellinger, of the U. S. district court has increased the fine for selling liquor to Indians from $10 to $25. He also sets down on collusive traps set by deputies and Indians to get men to violate the law in order to get big witnesses and deputy fees, a practitioner has been very disgraceful. A level-headed judge.

If congress appropriates money for awards at the World's Fair none of it should be allowed to be used to encourage the liquor traffic by awards to its exhibitors.

"Oh! for the generation of clean and unspotted men whose veins are not tinged by fire! Men fit to be the companions of pure women; men worthy to be the fathers of children; men who do not stumble upon the rock of apoplexy at mid-age, or go staggering down into a drunkard's grave—but who can sit and look into the faces of their grandchildren with eyes undimmed and hearts uncluttered. Such a generation as this is impossible in America, and to produce such a revolution the persistent, conscientious work of temperance reformers is competent."—McDonald.

Word comes to us from the eleventh annual state W. C. T. U. convention held at Astoria last week, that it was one long to be remembered for its enthusiasm and earnest effort. There were present in all 106 delegates.

A World's Temperance Congress, to be composed of representatives of all temperance and religious bodies, from or among all nationalities in sympathy with the temperance reform, has been called to meet in Chicago, June 5th. The committee invite from all national organizations at least seven, from state and provincial organizations, five; and from local organizations, two representatives. All bodies appointing representatives are requested to send the names and addresses of such representatives to J. N. Stearns, 55 Read street, New York.

Mrs. A. L. Fox goes as a delegate from Heppner's Woman's Christian Temperance Union. A good selection; we hope to hear from Mrs. Fox while away.

W. C. T. U. MATTERS.
Officers Elected at Astoria for the ensuing year.
ASTORIA, Or., May 12.—The officers elected for the ensuing year by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union: President, Mrs. Anna R. Riggs, of Portland, re-elected for the seventh time; treasurer, Mrs. Hester (Shane) of Portland; recording secretary, Mrs. Helen Harford, of Newberg; corresponding secretary, Miss Susie Foster, of Portland; state evangelist, Mrs. Mead, of Mount Tabor; delegate to the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention, Mrs. Jewett, of Gardiner, Mrs. H. L. Addition, of Portland, Miss Rose Trumbull, of La Grande, and Dr. Adair, of Astoria; alternates, Mesdames Gearhart and Mead and Miss Housley. The Democratic medal was awarded to Miss Levens of Astoria, after a spirited contest. This concludes the work of the season.

The Smallest Flowering Plant.
The smallest flowering plant, according to London Tid-bits, is woffia microscopica, a native of India. It belongs to the duck-weed family. It is almost microscopic in size, destitute of proper stem, leaves and roots, but having these organs merged in one, forming a frond. There is a prolongation of the lower surface, the purpose of which seems to be to enable the plant to float upright in the water. The fronds multiply by sending out other fronds from a slit or cavity and with such rapidity does this take place that a few days often suffice to produce from a few individuals enough similar ones to cover many square rods of pond surface with the minute green granules. Small as these plants are they bear flowers. Two are produced on a plant, each of them very simple, one of a single stamen and the other of a single pistil, both of which burst through the upper surface of the frond.

Calculation on a Potato.
Did you ever calculate the value of a single potato on the basis that the single tuber was the only one left in the world? That one would, of course, contain within itself the possibility of restocking the world with a valuable article of food. If one potato would produce, when planted, but 19 potatoes, in ten years the total product of that one potato would be 10,000,000,000 which would stock the whole world with seed. If the world were reduced to one single potato, it would be better than London or Chicago be blotted from the earth than for that one tuber to be lost.—St. Louis Republic.

Historical Superstition.
Prince Bismarck has a strong superstition concerning the number three, which he considers has always played an important part in his life. The arms of his family bear over the motto, "In Trinitate Robur," three trefoil leaves and three oak leaves all emblems of him represent him with three hairs on his head, he has three children, Herbert, Wilhelm and Marie; he has three estates, Friedrichsruhe, Varzin and Schonhausen; he has fought in three wars and signed three treaties of peace; he arranged the meeting of the three Emperors and established the triple alliance. Finally he has under him three political parties, the conservatives, the national liberals and the ultramontanes, and he has served three German Emperors.

Trusts and Combinations.
Are unpoplar. But there is one form of trust against which no one has anything to say. That is the trust which the public possess in Hood's Sarsaparilla. We hope to have every Sabbath School in the county represented; not only by Delegates, but with appropriate programs of their own choosing. The Grove Committee will meet on Monday, June 5th. Come and help without further notice. 30-33

FAREWELL, MORROW COUNTY.
Farewell to thee, dear county, I can not call the dear. For such have been my feelings, Through the past two year. Without a tear I leave thee. With joy I bid thee adieu. Though sometimes in the future I will think of you. 'Tis spring; your hills are lovely. Your fields are nice and green; And more delighted folks, I think I've never seen. But way long in the summer. Letting hot winds burn. I fear all your good people Will look the other way. I know you can look lovely When you're a maid to try; And raise in great abundance, Wheat, oats, corn and rye. I care not to offend you. But the truth I quite plain: You're getting rather lazy 'Bout your raising grain. The clouds, ample blessings give And when it comes your turn; You'll open wide your doors. When your hot winds do play, No odds what the sun. Now may I, for a moment Give you some advice? I think you'd best sell your fields, While there is a price. For if you still behave thus, I'm sure the time will come When you can not sell a thing. And now, dear Morrow county, I think I'll say goodbye. You'll be long in my mind; Though to me you die. BONDOR.

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk," but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anæmic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Bowne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.
