IF Mr Cleveland is an honest man, he should not have accepted the democratic nomination unless he intended in faith good to carry out the pledge of his party platform. If he isn't an honest man, he ought to be turned out of office along with the rest of the rascals.—Portland Telegram. Coming, as it does, from an administration paper, the above is a pretty hard score, though such a suggestion is in order.

THE East is complaining of a scarcity of silver and small bills for change. The gold-bug press claims that it is being hoarded, but the truth of the matter is that it does not exist in the form of money. When the U. S. refuse to exchange silver for greenbacks of large denominations, it will be a difficult matter to convince the people that there is too much silver. Com up the idle silver bullion and pay it out. The country needs the money.

SUNDAY'S Oregonian says: "All the Western railroads are discharging employees and reducing wages, and mills and factories in Lawrence, New Bedford and Lowell closed yesterday. The effect of the 'change' voted for last November seems to be felt in all parts of the country alike." Then it follows with this: "The country believes in Mr. Cleveland as a man for the times, and awaits with interest and confidence his message to congress. He understands the principles of money, and has courage to state and maintain them. We shall get a message that will brace up the country." How about consistency here.

SARAH K. BOLTON, one of the oldest and most famous women in Indiana, died at her home in Indianapolis last Friday evening. Mrs. Bolton was known as the poetess of Indiana, and has written poems that are known the world over. She has written extensively for the press, was for three years associate editor of the Boston Congregationalist, and traveled for two years in Europe, studying philology, and female higher education and other social questions. Her published works are, "Orlean Lamar, and Other Poems," (New York, 1893); "The Present Problem," a novelette (1874); "How Success is Won" (Boston, 1884); "Lives of Poor Boys Who Became Famous" (New York, 1885); "Girls who Became Famous" (1886); "Social Studies in England" (Boston, 1886); and a collection of short stories under the title "Stories From Life" (New York, 1886). She presented a paper on "Employers and Employed" to the Social Science convention. The little verse, "Paddle your own Canoe," which is known all over the world, was also from the pen of Sarah Bolton. One of her last works was a joint collection of poems by herself and her son.

The following from the Union county Farmer would indicate that it is not in sympathy with Grover's views: "What a blessing to humanity, just now, would be an Abraham Lincoln-backed by a patriotic congress—who would relieve the 'strangeness' by issuing crisp, full legal tender money, backed by the wealth and sacred honor of sixty-five millions of American freemen. Not money to be used in employing a dode militia to shoot down laboring men desperately fighting for existence, but money to employ thousands of idle men, anxious to work, on public improvements—men who would gladly pay out the money thus earned into the channels of trade to bless mankind, by making a market for the products of labor, in town and country. Instead, we have the spectacle of a 'tub-o-guns' dividing his time between nursing his gouty toe, brought on by gluttony, and devising ways and means to force congress to wipe out of existence half the money we now have."

THE Microcosm, the new silver and philosophic journal of New York, offers the following compromise on the silver question: Free coinage of our American product, legal tender for all debts except duties on imports and absolute gold contracts; that the government charge ten cents to the dollar for mintage; that the amount of silver in the dollar be increased; that the tariff be let alone; that foreign silver be taxed; that it be unlawful to circulate foreign silver money; that the Sherman law be repealed; that the silver bullion held by the government be immediately coined; that instead of putting out silver, silver certificates to be issued by the government, acceptable at the option of those having silver coined. If the government coins silver it should accept it for duties on imports. It was this little exception clause that "raised Ned" with the greenback. However, this kind of legislation would be far better than nothing.

THE Salvation army of Walla Walla has established a free soup house in that city where those people who are out of employment and without means can procure a meal. Those who call at the house are given a good meal, and if they have money they can pay five cents for it, but if they are without funds they are fed just the same. If some of the other religious denominations, that view the Salvation Army with so much scorn and contempt, would follow their example much could be done for the relief of the suffering just at present.

THE democratic press of Oregon, which has no axe to grind, is in favor of the party keeping its promises made on the Chicago platform—gold and silver at par with each other as a circulating medium. A vast majority of the republican papers of the state favor free coinage, and then the reinforcement comes solid from the populists. But that is not all. Were the questions submitted to the people, it would be adopted by a three-fourth majority, independent of party.—Dispatch.

BLACKMAILING SCHEME. Joe Young and wife, see Miss Della Conard. Try Their Hand at Blackmail.

Word comes down from Seattle that Joe Young and wife have been arrested for an attempt to blackmail Police Commissioner G. W. Relfe. Heppner people will remember that Mrs. Young was formerly Della Conard. The story told is as follows:

About two weeks ago the woman, who is young and good-looking and always well dressed, went to the office of Relfe, who is an attorney, and told him she wished to procure a divorce from her husband, who had deserted and failed to support her. She said she did sewing for a living, and could not afford to pay much. Mr. Relfe named a reasonable fee, and requested her to call Friday and give him the facts of the case. She came on Saturday, said she was very much afraid her cousin would see her entering a lawyer's office, and asked Mr. Relfe to call on her in her room in a respectable lodging-house on the following Monday, which he agreed to do. He kept the appointment and had not been in the room but a minute when the door was opened violently and in walked Young, a big burly fellow, who drew a revolver and threatened to shoot them both.

Mr. Relfe demanded to know who he was, and on being told that he was the woman's husband realized that he had been trapped. At the point of his revolver Young compelled Relfe, who is a small man, and not strong, to disrobe to his underclothes, and then made the woman do likewise. He then told Relfe he could have the woman but must pay well for her and demanded money, which Relfe did not have. He then demanded a check for $1500 and left the room to procure blanks, taking Relfe's and the woman's clothes with him. Mr. Relfe signed the check "G. W. Relfe," but Young knew the name was not right and compelled him to sign another. This was signed "G. W. Relfe."

Young took the check and the clothes and left. After a few minutes he returned with a card on which Mr. Relfe's name was written correctly and compelled his prisoner to sign a check correctly, which he did, disguising his signature, so that the bank refused payment when Young went out and got a friend to present it. Then, by parleying and making an appointment with Young, Mr. Relfe succeeded in getting rid of him, after having been kept a prisoner for three hours. During Young's absence from the room, Relfe tried to get out of the room, but was retained by the woman.

Young and his wife are still in jail, being unable to furnish $5,000 bail required of them. It was learned today that they attempted to work a similar game at Everett a few weeks ago.

This calls to mind the attempt of the Conard family to blackmail Hugh Fields over three years ago. Della was the one that "discovered" the questionable relations and gave the alarm. She was doubtless in the job. Uncle Hugh stood pat, however, and the note given by him for $2,500, under duress, was never paid. Mr. Conard went East from here and the wife and children went over on the Sound.

A NEW JERSEY MIRACLE. Helpless for Years with Locomotor Ataxia and Rheumatism—His case Pronounced hopeless by the Leading Physicians of Sussex county.

By Special Correspondence to the N. Y. Press. The busy little village of Branchville, N. J., has been the scene of a modern miracle. Chas. F. Struble, a well-known and prosperous farmer, living on Homestead farm, in Frankford Township, a few miles from Branchville, is just now the chief subject of discussion throughout Sussex county.

The Press is always up to date in its news, both political and medical, and has procured the following from Mr. Struble's own lips: "I have been troubled with rheumatism off and on for 20 years. I have tried all kinds of medicines and treatments. I have taken sulphur baths at Hamburg, N. J., Newton, N. J. and in New York City with a doctor who charged me $250 a bath each day. An English doctor treated me with a galvanic battery at Rockaway, Morris Co., N. Y. I have tried many doctors. None of them did me any permanent good. I used all kinds of liniments I could hear of but without avail.

"About two years ago I was taken much worse and my doctor said I had locomotor ataxia of the spine, and that the chances were against me. After treating for a time, he finally gave me up and said he had done all he could for me. "The cords of my limbs were drawn tight as the cords on a kettle drum, and I had such cramps in my limbs that I could not walk. My limbs were cold all the time. I had to use a hot water bag and heated bricks to my feet, but even then I could not get any relief.

"Finally I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for pale people, and I commenced taking them on Feb. 5th, 1893. I found in three days that the cords in my legs began to 'let up,' my feet began to get warm, I began to eat and sleep well, and in one month I had gained six pounds. The numbness in my limbs began to leave me too, and to-day I feel like a new man, and cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am able to walk and do some work, and all this is after using only one box of Pink Pills. I feel so grateful for my recovery that I am glad to let the public know what these pills have done for me."

In order to emphasize his story, Mr. Struble made the following affidavit: "Signed and subscribed before me this thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1893. IRA COSS, Justice of the Peace.

Justice Coos evidenced his interest and good feeling by the following certificate:

I hereby certify that all that Mr. Struble says regarding his rheumatism and other troubles I believe to be true and correct.

IRA COSS, Justice of the Peace. On the farm with Mr. Struble live his two adult sisters, Miss Annie M. Struble and Miss Mary E. Struble.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done wonderful things for my brother. He was in a helpless condition when I left him on Jan. 12th last, and when I returned on March 25th, I found him cured. The most remarkable thing about the case, as he continued, "is the curing of his lameness. Of course I wanted to know all about the cause of such a wonderful change, and I learned from him and my sister and others, that during my absence he had been using the Pink Pills, and that his recovery was attributed solely to them."

Miss Mary E. Struble said: "I saw my brother in all the stages of disease. He began improving as soon as he began taking the Pink Pills. When my father was at death's door and nobody seemed to have any hope for him. He certainly had little or none for himself, and he was very dependent in spite of all efforts to cheer him. He declared that he felt better as soon as he began taking the Pink Pills, and to one who, like myself, was attending him day by day, there could be no doubt that they and they alone were the cause of his improvement. Why all other things had failed to do him the slightest good, but that he could have put him on his feet again? We don't wonder at his enthusiasm for the Pink Pills."

George J. Bowman, the proprietor of the American Hotel at Branchville, said: "All that Mr. Struble says in reference to the Pink Pills I know to be true. In fact he can't say too much about them for they have undoubtedly saved his life."

The Branchville drug store, chief clerk Henry Bowman, remarked: "I have no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured Mr. Struble." Joseph H. McDonald, the proprietor of the General Store of Branchville, and Postmaster Knox, expressed themselves in similar terms.

Pink Pills for many years previous to their general manufacture were used as a prescription. At first they were chiefly prescribed for impure blood and general weakness. Now they are found to be a never-failing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, scrofula, neuritis, rheumatism, nervous head ache, the after effect of La Grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all diseases of the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc.

They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature. Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose form, by the dozen or hundred, and the public is cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape), at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. J. C. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., or Brookville, Ont.

Heart Failure.

HOW TO AVOID IT.

The epithet on many a tombstone is "Heart Failure." No wonder, when we consider the immense strain which is put on that small organ. Marvellous as it is, beating 100,000 times and exerting a force equal to 5,000,000 pounds daily, it has its limit—its endurance is too severely tested. So common are diseases of the heart—though often for a considerable time without the suspicions of the afflicted person being in the least excited—that it is stated that one person in four has a bad heart. Dr. Franklin Miles, of Elkhart, Ind., has for years made a special study of all diseases of the heart, and his remarkable success has made his name a familiar one in all parts of our land. He has found the most common symptoms of heart disease to be pain, distress or tenderness in the chest, back, stomach, bowels, listlessness and drowsiness, shortness of breath, smothering spells, fainting, etc.

Mr. George R. Smith, of Barnes, Yates Co., N. Y., writes:—"Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has worked wonderfully on me and my wife. I can do a good day's work. I feel better, and take more interest in affairs. I had shortness of breath, palpitation, pain under left shoulder blade, pain around the heart, I could not sleep on my right side. Since I have taken Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure I sleep well, and have no palpitation. It has made my heart stronger. I wish you would print this, because I want all to know what Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has done for me!"

"For months my wife suffered with palpitation, smothering spells, and was unable to sleep on her left side. She tried several remedies without relief. Your Heart Cure was recommended. After taking three bottles, she fully recovered her health. Your medicines do what you claim."—CHAS. CHRISTMAN, Toledo, O.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringing on others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
