CURRENCY is in demand in the East, and silver very scarce.

The midwinter exposition to be held at 'Frisco is under way.

SILVER has advanced 4 1/2 cents over the price paid Aug. 3.

SENATOR HILL and Stewart have already introduced bills on the money question. Both are silver men.

SHOULD Cleveland veto a silver bill it would be certain to carry the Sherman law repeal down with it.

SENATOR STEWART, of Nevada, has prepared a silver bill which he will present at the earliest opportunity.

THE child discovered at Eugene, supposed to be the Miller wife, proved to be a case of mistaken identity.

DIXON, the champion featherweight, whipped Ed. Pierce, of New York, in three rounds, before the Coney Island club Aug. 7.

NEW YORK has 100,000 men out of work, while Chicago reports having 200,000 who are idle. Mayor Harrison fears a riot.

THE country is in rather a demoralized condition at present, but it may be better in the course of a few months. This depends much on the kind of legislation enacted.

COUNTY TREASURER, GEO. E. BLOOMER, of Jacksonville, has disappeared short several thousand dollars. Jerry Nunan, who used to be at Lexington, is one of his bondsmen.

THE San Francisco Examiner, formerly a gold-bug paper, comes out squarely for the free coinage of silver. One by one the members of public opinion are coming over to the popular side.

THE E. O. has been crying for the demonization of both gold and silver but now, in the true style of his class of partisans, swallows the president's message at one gulp and says he likes it.

WILHE COYLE shot and named Johnson in the leg at Walla Walla Tuesday night last. Johnson and some friends were drinking and Coyle attempted to force himself in to which Johnson objected. Coyle then shot Johnson.

ALTHOUGH the Ohio democratic state convention is now near at hand, yet no one has been found who will accept the nomination for governor. No sooner is a man's name suggested than he makes haste to decline. This is a peculiar state of affairs to exist in a state that is considered among the doubtful, especially in three times when all the faithful are proud of their democracy.

THE president's message has been delivered to both houses of congress. While not as radical as many supposed it would be, it is, nevertheless, an appeal for the farther demonization of silver and a gold standard. The message does not lay the blame of the enactment of the Sherman law on any one political party, and he is wise in this, for if he should antagonize any considerable portion of the minority, he would not have the least show to carry his point. Cleveland treats the matter in a non-partisan way, which is the real position that the silver question assumes today.

But there is very little show of unconditional repeal in the senate though it may pass the house. While the question of finance is before the people, it is interesting with the following excerpt from his letter of acceptance of the nomination for the presidency, over a year ago: "The people are entitled to sound and honest money, abundantly and sufficient in volume to supply their business needs. But whatever may be the form of the people's currency, national or state, gold silver or paper, it should be so regulated and guarded by governmental action or by wise and careful laws that no one can be deluded as to the certainty and stability of its value. Every dollar put into the hands of the people should be of the same intrinsic value or purchasing power. With this condition absolutely guaranteed, both gold and silver can be safely utilized upon equal terms in the adjustment of our currency."

How we Grow Old.

The thread that binds us to life is most frequently severed ere the meridian of life is reached in the case of persons who neglect obvious means to renew falling strength. Vigor, no less the source of happiness than the condition of long life, can be created and perpetuated where it does not exist. Thousands who have experienced or are cognizant of the effect of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, bear testimony to its wondrous efficacy as a creator of strength in feeble constitutions, and debilitated and shattered systems. A steady performance of the bodily functions, renewed appetite, flesh and night, by repose attend the use of this thorough and standard renovant. Use no local tonic represented to be akin to or resemble it in effect; in its place, demand the genuine, which is an acknowledged remedy for indigestion, unclean, nervousness, constipation, liver and kidney complaints and rheumatism.

THE McDUFFY SPRINGS.

Something About Grant's Great Oatmeal Rendezvous—Notes Personal and Impersonal.

The scenery is wild in the extreme. Rimrock upon top of rimrock, studded with stunted pine and juniper trees, rise to greet the eye, seemingly placed as they are for steps to suit the strides of some prehistoric race of giants. One hundred and fifty yards away, the rock passes over a ridge of solid rock, fifty yards long, from which one can look down from either side and see the river 200 feet below. This ridge is so sharp that some difficulty might be found in balancing a ball upon it, and many feel nervous while passing along the road at that point, however, no accident has ever occurred there.

Out from the base of a huge mountain, whose neighboring kindred are equally large, flow the McDuffy springs. They are situated at the apex of one of the horseshoe curves so peculiarly prevalent in the John Day river.

The waters gush forth, clear, hot and medicated. No doubt but that in the bowels of the earth there are large stores of drugs, containing lime and other heat-producing substances, and it may be from this cause, rather than from the cause of subterranean heat, that they are hot. Else, why are they medicated?

Here is the fountain of youth for which Ponce de Leon searched Florida in vain. The Indians discovered that the waters of these springs was a panacea for ailments. On the wings of the wind flew their traditions until they reached the ears of the old Spanish soldier, and caused his fruitless search.

People with all kinds of diseases come to lay away bad appetites, canes, crutches, spears, etc. Many come in search of gold, others might come in search of botanical and geological curiosities. The flowers are few in variety but very odd; and the rocks are great in variety, and equally odd.

McDUFFY SPRINGS, AUG. 2, 1893.

Rev. Glasscock departed for Heppner last Monday.

Wm. Hughes and family, of Heppner, are camped at Bitter.

Mrs. W. B. McAlister's health is steadily improving.

Jay Shipley is enjoying at the springs, and as a cook, he is the best.

Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely under the supervision of O. D. Owen.

A more sociable, accommodating crowd than is now at these springs, can not be found.

O. W. Parker, of Athens, who came here about two weeks ago, suffering from inflammatory chronic and tropical rheumatism is being greatly relieved.

As a cook, C. A. Hodson does not amount to much here. At home, he prided himself on his great ability in water heating, but here the water is already hot.

Fish are very scarce in the river at this place at the present, owing to the fact that Uncle Sam's pots, the Indians, have a trap across the river about six miles below here.

W. B. McAlister, the proprietor of these springs, had agreed to furnish the campers with fresh meat, principally grouse, and the result is, they are, have been, and are likely to be out of most of the leathery species.

Mrs. A. B. Potter and two children from Wasco, Sherman county, are enjoying the benefits derived from the use of the waters of these springs, so also is Mrs. Hodson, of Lexington.

J. F. M. Farness and son, Guy, will start for home next Sunday. Master Guy's health has been greatly improved since he came here. It was unanimously decided that J. F. M. is the laziest man in camp, although he manages to do his own cooking.

W. W. Kirk, of Black Horse, who came here June 9th, almost a helpless invalid with rheumatism, is now able to chase the frisky chipmunk into the river, where he meets death by being drowned or dashed to pieces against the rocks. He is equally active in dispensing with the pesky woodrat and the old timer, the beehing.

On Tuesday or Wednesday, Mrs. Roney, of Lexington, lost a purse containing about $20 in silver and greenbacks. She, with two of her grand children, and Mr. Parker and family, of Pendleton, visited Mr. Barden's family who live about six miles out from the springs. The next morning she found her money gone, the bottom of her pocket being nearly torn out. The odd part of the matter is that a handkerchief, a spectacle case, a button and some keys remained in the pocket. The money might have been lost during her visit, but there is an unlooked-for look about the matter. It looks much like professional work.

Aug. 3, 1893.

Piles! Piles! itching Piles. SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense and stinging, most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue, ulcers form, which often bleed and mislead, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

A. A. Allen and J. C. Gallagher came near meeting with a serious accident Wednesday afternoon. While driving a spirited team along Baltimore street, a single tree broke, letting the tongue down, which upset the buggy, instantly throwing the occupants out, though they fortunately managed with nothing worse than a few bruises.

A Battle for Blood. Is what Hood's Sarsaparilla vigorously expelling all the foul taints and giving the vital fluid the quality and quantity of perfect health. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, boils and all other troubles caused by impure blood.

TOUS N-JOIN, formerly of this office, is now at Boise City, where he reports times much better than any advertising he has done in passing through, though he has not yet secured a situation.

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla who they think of it, and the replies will be positive in its favor. One has been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia, another of others report remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum and other blood diseases, still others will tell you that it overcomes "that tired feeling," and so on. Truly, the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of the army of friends it has won by its positive medicinal merit.

THE MAJORITY RULES.

EDITOR GAZETTE: I see by the Heppner press, that the Heppner council is called upon to enforce the Sunday law. The Sunday law was created by our state legislature, a law that our law makers had the right to make, and the officers of the state have a right to enforce.

The majority of our present council were elected as anti-Sunday men by a majority of the legal voters of the town of Heppner. It is the sworn duty of every officer in the council to enforce the laws of the town. Now comes the question: Will the council with the majority they received at the election and against enforcing the law of the town, listen to the minority? I think not.

The remark has been made that if the marshal was to enforce the law the council would discharge him at once. I do not believe any such talk. I believe the council will stay by the marshal whenever the time comes.

What is the matter? Every grand jury we have has some of our church members on it and no indictments are ever found. Who has shut his eyes and ears to a solemn oath?

Every big gambling day, the church members have a seance for the benefit of the church. Is it right for our church members to invite the worst element of the country right in with our daughters, in the name of the church, I, for one say no.

If we invite a man in and take his money we have no right to kick that man out. The church people remind me of a banta hen setting on "goose eggs."

IONE ITEMS.

Grain harvesting is continued. A few laborers were imported from Arlington.

Mrs. T. J. Carl provides for a number of boarders this week.

A fierce and powerful wind superceded the heat of the first part of the week.

Messrs. Chas. Cochran and A. T. Wood were up at Heppner for a few days.

We had a large attendance at Sabbath school yesterday. Considering the busy times, this speaks well for Lane, when so many schools have suspended for the summer.

Harry Warren and partner on bicycles passed through here the other day. They stopped for a night's rest with Mr. J. Cochran's and expected to reach The Dalles the next evening.

The heading crew of this vicinity suspended work Saturday on account of the wind and dust storm. Our new comers are becoming badly impressed with Eastern Oregon. Have patience, the good things have not all been seen yet.

Rev. Carrant, of Condon, arrived on Saturday and informed us that he would school the next day. He has visited us voluntarily and we were greatly surprised. Many efforts have been made heretofore to secure the services of a minister once in awhile, but without success. His discourse was most interesting and all in attendance felt it good to be there. An all-round sociable chat was enjoyed after the service. Rev. Carrant expects to favor us again in the near future.

THE PLACE TO DIE.

Old Nick would not interrupt the Dead at Walla Walla—Hards lines on an "Injun" ranch.

By permission, we publish the letter of a Heppner boy to Art Minor. It runs as follows:

Injun Ranch, August 6, 1893.

Dear Peck: I am having a nice time. Worked all week on an "Injun" ranch for my board. "Gene Noble and I are here—both broke—but our pay commenced yesterday. There is plenty of "Injun" and half French. We made some good resolutions splitting pink poles in the hot sun for our board. Don't think we will ever break them either. We walked from Walla Walla to Athena—27 miles—in one night. Packed our blankets. Don't like to pack blankets very well.

If I die I want to be buried in Walla Walla as I think it the last place the Devil would ever look for a white man. We struck everybody for work but didn't get it. Were willing to work for anything.

If any of the other boys come up to harvest, tell them not to bring their blankets as the nights are short—too short to sleep, so we traded our blankets for a lantern and don't go to bed.

We washed our clothes today. Our clothes were quite dirty, but washing very small.

The "old woman" can roll and smoke cigarettes faster than Bill Thirard. She has been married three or four times. Has plenty of half breeds—all girls.

People in this country haven't any money. They pay in due bills; don't know whether we can live on due bills or not. If we get any money will go to Yakima to pick hops.

It is about 2 p. m. and we haven't had any dinner. O. Lord, I'm hungry.

Yours,

MIKE ROBERTS.

P. S. If you write, direct to ATHENA, M. R.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.
