CONGRESSIONAL DOINGS.

Richard P. Bland, of Missouri, has introduced the following bill in the house of representatives: "Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the passing of this act, all holders of silver bullion to the amount of $100 or more, standard weight and fineness, shall be entitled to have the same coined at the mints of the United States into silver dollars of weight and fineness provided for in section 2 of this act.

"Section 2—That the silver dollar provided for in this act shall consist of 412 1/2 grains of standard silver, said dollar to be a legal tender for all debts, dues and demands, both public and private.

"Sec. 3—The holder of the silver dollars herein provided for shall be entitled to deposit the same and receive silver certificates, in the manner provided by law for standard silver dollars.

"Sec. 4—So much of the act of July 14, 1890, as requires the monthly purchase of 4,600,000 ounces of silver shall be, and the same is hereby repealed.

John, of Maryland, has introduced an unconditional repeal bill relating to the Sherman act. A vote will be taken in the house about the 28th inst.

In the senate, Vest claims a majority of eight against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act. This body will probably not do much till after action on the financial measures is had in the house.

HON. PATRICK EGAN, ex-minister to Chili, has returned home. New York bankers say the worst is over. Don't look much this way yet, but we all hope so.

REPRESENTATIVE OATES, of Alabama, was thrown from a cable car in Washington recently and severely hurt.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S condition is such that he is compelled to forego the routine of office duties and take needed rest.

JACK DEMPSEY was reported insane, but it proves to be an attack of fever. He is billed to fight Dick of Barge, Eng land, next December.

THE Oregon National Guard, over 400 strong, have assembled at Camp Campson, out near Oregon city, for a 10 days' encampment.

It is said that Governor Penney is considering the advisability of calling an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of passing a stay law for the relief of debtors.

CONGRESSMEN ELLIS and HERMAN will vote against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, and for the free coinage of silver. It is understood that they favor a ratio of 20 to 1.

ARE MAJORITIES ALWAYS RIGHT?

EDITOR GAZETTE: Seeing in the last issue of the Gazette the communication from "Cumtux," headed "The Majority Rules," written by some friend and advocate of the Sunday saloon, who, thinking the people of Heppner are imbecile enough to be misled by his hypocritical pretense of concern for the church, attempts to prove that, because the anti-Christian element prevailed in the city election, this renders the flagrant violation of laws justifiable. We suppose by this if a crowd of horse thieves were to congregate in a town sufficient numbers to control the elections, the law-abiding citizens would have no right to call upon the authorities for the protection of their property against the depredations of said horse thieves. Furthermore, the methods used to hold a majority of votes against a Christian civilization are questionable.

It is an apparent fact that the majority could not be held except for the horse of worse than useless citizens, who stay about the dives of the city, whose modes of obtaining a living are something of a mystery to the respectable element of society, and whose presence is tolerated only, that by their votes, the present state of affairs may be continued.

He says he does not believe the marshal would be discharged, should he attempt to enforce the law. We simply refer him to the time when a former marshal started in to prosecute violators of the law and was discharged at the next meeting of the council and a professional gambler selected to fill the vacancy. We believe the sympathies of the present incumbent are with the law-abiding minority, and if he was not afraid of losing his position why is it that he pays no attention to the open violation of the Sunday law, the gambling law and the law of common decency? By the latter, I refer to the shameless exhibitions made on the public streets of Heppner on July 4th by one of the dem-mo-crats of the city, a proceeding that would not have been tolerated an instant in a town controlled by a majority of respectable citizens.

The former marshal mentioned had just commenced prosecuting the above-mentioned class of offenders when he was suddenly retired to private life.

Again "Cumtux" says: "Every grand jury we have, has some of our church members on it and no indictments are found." He seems to forget that a single advocate of law and order is helpless against a majority of those whose interests are best served by the non-enforcement of common law. Then notice every big gambling day the church members have a sociable for the benefit of the church. Too bad! The poor gamblers and their copartners in crime are to be pitted from the fact that the church gets a few dollars that otherwise might go to swell the coffers of a gang of professional robbers, who are terribly hurt if a poor sheepherder dis-poses of any of his money before they can get him drugged and the deed.

"Cumtux" has been kicked out of any of our church societies, it was because of his being intoxicated, using profane or obscene language, or some similar violation of common decency, and he may rest assured that if he attends our socials and behaves as a gentleman, he will be treated as a gentleman and there will be no danger of his being kicked out.

He says, "In Missouri the majority rule is supreme law." But can any sane man contend, that a majority on the side of wrong, make that wrong justifiable? In conclusion, let me say that a "Ban' hean" has lots of perseverance and it will continue to set on "goose eggs" till something is hatched out.

EXPERIENCE. Piled Piles! Itching Piles. SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense and stinging, most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. THE HORNER-REEVES MATTER. The La Grande Chronicle, in a recent issue, publishes the following under the caption, "A Note For Sale."

"Several citizens of La Grande and Union received, during the past week, a printed circular from a soldier at Heppner, whose name is Horner, stating that he has for sale a note for $150 signed by S. R. Reeves, ex-mayor of La Grande. The circular further states that Horner has heard that Mr. Reeves has offered $40 dollars for the note, but that the holder considers it too valuable, and offers it for sale to the highest bidder, reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

"The plain inference of the circular seems to be that Horner holds Mr. Reeves' note, which the latter refuses to pay. Mr. Reeves states that the mailing of these circulars was not a surprise to him, as he has had intimation that Horner would do something of this kind. Mr. Reeves states further that he is under no legal obligations to Horner in any amount, and that if he is, the machinery of the courts is open for the collection of the same. 'The fact is,' continued Mr. Reeves, 'that Horner knows that he has no legitimate claim against me, and if he had he could have sued me and collected it.'

"The circular will no doubt be the basis of an action against Horner for criminal libel, as Mr. Reeves declares he will not permit any reflections against his integrity, and he proposes to hold the author of this circular amenable to the statutes in such cases made and provided."

Of course, this is but one side of the matter. Mr. Horner had his examination here last week, but, as yet, we have not learned the result of same.

Summer Weakness

EAGLETS

From our Long Creek Paper. Henry Blackwell will deliver a large band of beef cattle next week to Portland parties.

at Silvertooth, formerly of this place, has been appointed postmaster at Antelope.

John Haves, of the firm of Hayes Bros., of Heppner, is in Long Creek this week on business. He reports Morrow county very quiet at present.

Judge Dettin, accompanied by his son Bailey, arriving in Long Creek Monday evening. Judge came over to defend Johnny Christman in the preliminary examination before Justice Hall Tuesday.

Frank Gilliam and W. A. Johnston, of the hardware firm of Gilliam & Bisbee and general merchandise firm of Meyer & Co., respectively, of Heppner, missed through Long Creek en route to Canyon City Sunday, returning Tuesday. They took their departure the same day for Heppner.

Johnny Elder and wife and F. O. Beckman and wife, of Heppner, passed through Long Creek Friday last for McDuffie hot springs, where they go for several weeks stay. Mr. Beckman has been confined to his room for six weeks with inflammatory rheumatism, and seeks our health-restoring resort with a view of fully recovering.

Mr. Thomas Batten, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Slocum & Johnson Drug Co.

EIGHT MILE NEWS.

EDITOR GAZETTE: Gold fever is still at a high pitch on Eight Mile. Farmers are very busy at present heading and mowing. Ira Miller and family have left Eight Mile for the present. It seems too bad that no one will buy that "Ratt" log good water barrel" from the Gazette. Weather very warm—quite a sudden change in the weather Sunday evening proved very cool. Next morning a white frost was discovered in some localities. Thus far we have not received one month this year without frost.

No preaching at all at E. M. C. Sabbath school every Sunday at 10 o'clock. Mrs. M. A. Fiquet, the wife of the school, gave a sermon for next Sabbath as follows: "Where will we find in the bible three pieces where water was miraculously divided in order that people might cross to the other side?"

Rev. Galloway preached his farewell sermon at Eight Mile Center three weeks ago. He left a query with the school: "What is meant by the saying in Matthew 11: 2? 'Verily I say unto you, among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist.' Notwithstanding, in that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he." This has been discussed twice in the Sabbath school and yet there exists a great diversity of opinions. We would be glad to hear the opinion of some one who knows the correct meaning.

Has there ever been a page in the history of any country, so disgraceful as the page that could be written in the history of the United States in the manner in which the government is treating its defenders, the noble men that risked their lives, that suffered so much in the front of the battle, while these "copperheads" were at home complaining, howling for peace on any terms. But when they were drafted they skipped the country if they could, or tried to submit, instead of fighting the battles of peace might be restored. I suppose it is as well, for they would certainly have come home shot in the back, shooting for a pension, and a big one. They would have made a big kick to have had to carry that deprecatory remedy for pay. Oh, what a patriotic people, what a thankful people, what an intelligent people, to say that the soldiers have no right to be supported, comfortably supported, by this government. Who has the best right to the benefits of the war? The soldier who saved the Union and caused the stars and stripes to wave over the entire land. If there are one set of men more than another that prolonged the war, it was the Northern "copperheads." We hear a great deal of talk about the old soldiers bankrupting the country, but not about the thousands that are paid a certain class of newspaper men for publication of articles that are against the best interests of the paper and the country. Nothing against the thousands that are paid to buy votes in the halls of legislatures and congress. That is honorable. Nothing against the thousands spent for wine dinners at the White House, that is honorable. But to pay the soldiers their just dues will bankrupt the nation. How many soldiers keep their money in an old sock and hide it in a feather bed? Not many; the money goes right out against the circulation. I think the picture in the Oregonian, entitled "The Negro War," was the most disgraceful statement I ever read to be published by a man living under the government that these men saved.

E. M. C. EIGHT MILE, Aug. 9, 1893.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnston, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being ill. I had several children with diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. I cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it to 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Slocum & Johnson Drug Co.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

"Hardware" did you say? Why, yes at P. C. Thompson & Co.'s stand, and the place for bargains.

The Palace is the leading hotel in the city. Well furnished rooms with plenty of light are provided for everyone.

If you want to buy groceries, and bread and other things, go to the Enterprise Grocery. Kirk & Co., proprietors, a Borg, the jeweler, is the man to fix up your watch or clock. He keeps a full stock of everything pertaining to his business.

M. Lichtenthal & Co.'s new stock of splendid, summer button and tie specialties in the shoe line are attracting marked attention.

Gilliam & Bisbee are still doing business at the old stand, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. They in-vite inspection of their new stock of hardware, wagons, implements, etc.

The general merchandise establishment formerly owned by Coffin & McFarland, has lately changed hands, now being owned by the control and management of The McFarland Mercantile Company, which continues business at the old stand with a larger stock than ever.

SMOTHERED IN MOLASSES.

The Queer Fate of an Inquisitive Pet Beaver. A tame beaver kept by the soldiers at a fort in Wyoming became quite famous for his sagacity. Caught while young and perfectly tamed, he became very docile and a great favorite at the fort. The little fellow could never be cured of his instinct to build dams, and it is related that he once undertook to dam the Platte river, working for months all night long and returning to the fort every morning at sunrise. He cut down quite a number of trees, but life proved too short for the completion of his plans. While around the fort he was constantly turning over every kind of rassel that contained water and collecting sticks to head it off as it flowed away. One night by oversight the beaver was locked up in the warehouse, and during the night, in nosing around, he discovered a ten-gallon can of molasses that had been left uncovered. That discovery proved his doom. The next day he was found gasping for life, having been caught in the sticky mass as the can was overturned. He never recovered from the shock, and was tenderly buried in the presence of a large circle of his friends.

The Land and Water of the Globe. John Murray, a member of the Challenger expedition, and one of the highest living authorities on oceanography, estimates the area of the dry land of the globe at 55,000,000 square miles and the area of the ocean 177,000,000 square miles. He estimates the volume of the dry land above the level of the sea at 23,000,000 cubic miles, and the volume of the waters of the ocean at 323,000,000 cubic miles. He fixes the mean height of the land above the sea at 2,500 feet, and the mean depth of the whole ocean at 12,480 feet. Of course, these results are only approximate, but they help to render our ideas of these matters more definite. Mr. Murray also estimates that the rivers of the world carry into the ocean every year 2 1/2 cubic miles of sediment. To this must be added the matter carried to the sea in solution, which is estimated at 1 1/2 cubic miles. Together, then, the amount of matter carried through the whole ocean, and the mean depth of the whole ocean, is 12,480 feet. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH. HEART DISEASE 20 YEARS.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. I was a fine girl for 20 years I was troubled with heart disease. Would frequently have falling spells and smothering at night. Had to sit up or get out of bed to breathe. Had pain in my left side and back most of the time; at last I became dropsical. I was very nervous and nearly worn out. The loss of my health would cause me to give up. I was also much troubled with fluttering. For the last fifteen years I could not sleep on my side or back unless I began taking your New Heart Cure. I had not taken it very long until I felt much better, and I can now sleep on either side or back without the least discomfort. I have no pain, smothering, dropsy, no wind on stomach or other disagreeable symptoms. I am able to do all my own housework without any trouble and consider myself cured.

It is now four years since I have taken any medicine. Am in better health than I have been in 40 years. I honestly believe that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has saved my life. I am now 62 years of age, and am able to do a good day's work.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained competent expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary, if others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
