THE fight in the senate still continues and no vote will be taken soon on the repeal question.

MRS. CHARLOTTE FELLING, an old lady of Seattle aged 80, was brutally murdered for her money last Monday night.

JUDGE ROSS, of Los Angeles, has sustained the Geary law and ordered a Chinaman deported. This is business.

THE firemen's tournament, spoken of recently in this paper, should have been accredited to The Dalles. The boys are having a big time.

THE silver men in the senate are still standing firm. They propose to talk unconditional repeal to its grave, even if they can't vote it down.

DIRECTUM, the four-year-old stallion, is now king at 2:07. This beats Stanboul's record ½ a second. Directum's first mile was the fastest ever trotted by any horse 1:00¼.

THE Iowa populists have nominated J. M. Joseph for governor, while the prohibs of that state have put L. S. Coffin up on the altar for the same office. The latter will hardly accept.

THE best article we have seen for some time on the "home newspaper" appeared in a recent issue of the Oregonian, and we reproduce it in next number. It is worth reading, because it is as true as preaching.

THE state apportionment of the school funds for this country, which should have been received some time since, has not yet made its appearance owing to the fact that it was deposited in one of Portland's suspended banks.

THE Chinese hop-pickers of Butteville, Oregon, have been evicted by white men. According to law, this may seem hard, but America was never intended for Chinese labor, and these hard times our own people need the work.

AL MILLER, a son of Joaquin Miller, who has been serving a term in the California penitentiary for stage robbery, will have soon served out his term, when it is said he will again be placed in the Oregon penitentiary, from which he escaped, to serve out the remainder of his two year term.

DR. T. THATCHER GRAVES, the physician who has been confined in the Denver jail for some months charged with the poisoning of Mrs. Barbary, committed suicide Sept. 3rd. He said he was tired out by persecution, and could not afford to fight the case any longer as it would leave his family penniless. In a letter to the public, he denies any knowledge of the crime.

EAGLETS.

From our Long Creek Paper.

Wm. Hughes and family, who have been at the McDuffee springs for the past few weeks, returned to Heppner Saturday.

Homer McFarland, of the McFarland Mercantile Co., of Heppner, arrived in Long Creek early this week on business.

Pry Wilson, of Monument, threshed near 500 bushels of grain last week. This was the first threshing done in Northern Grant.

Dr. E. F. Gagen passed through Long Creek Saturday enroute to his home at Heppner, after spending an enjoyable vacation in the Blues and at McDuffee hot springs.

We learn that C. S. Dustin is on his return to Oregon from his trip to North Dakota where he shipped a carload of horses. The market for horse flesh is demoralized, and they will hardly pay for shipping.

John Shaw, a well known stock dealer of Morrow county, is in Grant county this week looking after surplus bunches of hogs. He is desirous of buying two hundred head to feed this fall.

The McFarland Mercantile Co., of Heppner, have been busy collecting small bands of sheep from various sheepmen in Grant county preparatory to shipping two car loads to the Chicago market. Thos. Quaid will manage the first shipment.

The Eagle has received word from the Elk creek mines of Sloan & Haskell of the finding of a $375.00 nugget in their diggings last week. The beautiful specimen is absolutely free from quartz and is by far the largest nugget that has been found in their placer mines for several years. Their mine yielded quite handsomely this season and Messrs. Sloan & Haskell are to be congratulated for their success during the season's run.

Swing Around the Circle

Of the diseases to which it is adapted with the best results, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a family medicine, comprehensive in its scope, has never been thrust upon public attention in the guise of a universal panacea for bodily ills. This claim, daily arrogated in the columns of the daily press by the proprietors of medicines far inferior to it as specifics, has in a thousand instances disgusted the public in advance by its absurdity, and the prospects of other remedies of superior qualities have been handicapped by the pretentions of their worthless predecessors. But the American people know, because they have verified the fact by the most trying tests, that the Bitters possesses the virtues of a real specific in cases of malarial and liver disorder, constipation, nervous rheumatic, stomach and kidney trouble. What it does it does thoroughly, and mainly for this reason it is indorsed and recommended by hosts of respectable medical men.

HER FATHER'S DINNER.

A Pretty Sight Witnessed on a New York Street Car.

Car No. 193 went rattling up Fourth avenue the other noon at a great rate.

A breakdown in the Bowery had blocked the track and delayed travel nearly half an hour. To make up the lost time the horse tore along and the car bobbed up and down like a sun-baked dug-out dancing on the bay.

No stop was made to take on passengers, nor did the driver slacken speed until he reached Twenty-seventh street.

Then he began to whistle softly and study the people along the west side of the avenue. He was a slightly-built man about forty years of age, but weather-beaten, bent and wrinkled from exposure and unremitting toil.

As the car approached Twenty-ninth street it slowed up and the tune became merrier and louder, says the New York Evening World. Then both stopped for a moment and a little girl in a gingham dress and a Tam O'Shanter, with dancing brown hair and apple-red cheeks, came up to the front platform and, with a "hello, papa!" that made her blue eyes twinkle and her red cheeks dimple, laid a lunch basket at the driver's feet. A passenger who stepped aside looked at the child with admiration and at the man with envy, then gave a sigh and continued smoking.

Like a deer she flew across the cobblestones, the sun and wind gilding and tangling her beautiful hair, and reaching the sidewalk she waited with her little hand pressed to her mouth. She watched the car with childish eagerness until a figure leaned over the step and a bronzed face turned smilingly toward her, and then she threw the kiss that sweetened the noonday and seasoned the dinner of a happy man.

BOATS FOR WOMEN.

They Prefer One That Will Not Easily Capsize.

Women affect to prefer yachts. What they really like is a catboat. To go sailing in a catboat is like sailing in a wide piazza. One would as soon feel qualms in a drawing room. A catboat is as broad as it is long. Some catboats are broader than they are long. Such would be a catboat thirteen feet by twenty-four, which are the dimensions of a well-remembered catboat. That is a nautical estimate; the breadth by rights should be twice the length of beam, as in this case it was not. There is but one man; he handles the tiller with one hand, shifts the sail with the other and entertains you with talk of his craft. He pretends great indifference to yachts and says: "We don't think much of 'em." A catboat, says the New York Journal, not only is as broad as a room but has a centerboard. Literally it cannot capsize. On fine afternoons when catboats are available they look like floating nurseries. The most timid mothers will take their children out in a catboat if the children will promise not to throw themselves or one another into the water. There is no other possibility of their getting in. A well-built catboat will sail like a skimming dish by raising the center board or will cleave the water like a cutter with its lowered center board. It is, however, bad to becalmed in. It carries but one oar and its breadth offers a good deal of resistance. But a calm on the water is nothing to a calm on land. A belated sailing party on a quiet summer night will throw a household into consternation and break up the fountains of the deep that lie in woman's eyes.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
