AT LAST.

In yesterday's issue of the Record, the writer of certain anonymous articles, presumably in the interest of temperance, comes out at last, signed by the real name of the writer, Roy Glascock. This, in the first of the kind from that source that has appeared with signature.

The whole matter, in a nutshell, can be summed up as follows: Any individual can bring an action against the alleged lawbreaker, at any time he or she desires, by making complaint before the town recorder or the justice of the peace, who, now happily, is blended into one individual, E. J. Hallock. Mr. Hallock may require security for costs of such action, but anyone who has a case would certainly be remiss in his duty, as his conscience might dictate, because a little matter of a few dollars stands in the way. It is indubitably better to act in this matter than to talk, talk, and do nothing else.

Our asylums are filled with patients, "in true, and some of them are there from over-indulgence in alcoholic stimulents. A person may eat too much, get his stomach deranged and his head off on the wrong road. But by far the greater number of insane patients are responsible for their condition by the habitual violation of nature's laws, and of which we hear little about.

The bars are down for any citizen, Mr. Glascock not excepted, to prosecute lawbreakers. Let there be more work and less chin-music, with bad orthography, worse grammar, and something tangible will have been accomplished.

CHAS. K. HARRIS, the composer of "After the Ball," is of Hebrew extraction. He is a natural musician and can play anything by ear, but does not know one note from another. He is the composer of several songs, but none ever took like his latest effort. The history of this in the musical world is interesting. An entertainment was to be given at Milwaukee, and a friend named Sam Doctor called on him to write a song for the occasion. Harris had been to a ball the night before, and said that "after the ball he was too tired." Doctor insisted and went away. "After the ball" kept ringing in his ears, and he saw at once that he had a catchy title for a new song. He went at once and composed the words and the music came to him as he progressed. Going to a writer of music he picked out on a piano what he wanted and the song was soon complete. Doctor sang two verses at the entertainment and received tremendous applause which so staggered him that he forgot the third, and Harris, who was in the audience, became so disgusted that he left and threw the music into a drawer with a lot of rubbish, determined never to look at it again. However, in a few days he heard the little boy whistling his new song on the street, and visitors carried it down to Chicago. In a very short space of time he began to receive orders for copies of it, and the demand soon became so great that he turned publisher and now it takes the constant work of two houses to keep the demand supplied. Bills for presswork run as high as $5,000 monthly, and copies of the song up to the million mark have been printed. He has already made a fortune on "After the Ball."

The Record, of Arlington, quotes the Gazette as saying that Mr. Ellis had not done anything in congress as yet. We said nothing of the sort. Mr. Ellis is doing, and has been from the time the extra session began, as much as any other congressman. His action on the money question was in the interest of the people. Congress was called to act on the money question, and it is certainly an injustice to censure our congressman this early in his term. We fancy that the editor of the Record feels sore because his son, Lawyer Johns, of Baker City, was so unmercifully scooped by Ellis before the convention last year.

A SYNDICATE, including prominent men in Texas, Colorado, Missouri and Kansas, is being formed to coin silver into dollars of hexagon shape, at the rate of $100,000 per month or more. If the legislatures of these states will declare such coin a legal tender, it is claimed no individual or corporation will be prohibited from coining silver into standard dollars, provided the shape of such coins is not the same as coins issued by the United States government. Citizens of California issued a hexagon $50 gold piece in the '50s and no one disputed their right.

The La Grande Chronicle has recently gotten out a descriptive edition of their town and surrounding country. It is replete with illustrations and other instructive matter. Besides, it is typographically a model of neatness. We make the assertion that no paper in Oregon ever issued a better looking special edition.

ELLIS, though a new man in congress, stands well with his associates, hence it will be comparatively easy for him to get through some beneficial legislation at the coming regular session. He has already introduced some needed laws on irrigation and land matters.

PERKINS, the California, spoke for silver in the senate last Tuesday. On Monday the famous Don Cameron, of Pennsylvania, also spoke against repeal and for silver. Coming from the far East as it does, it is a complete eye-opener.

CORBETT has signed the revised articles of agreement to fight Mitchell. The California will doubtless win the contest and then tackle Jackson. He may not be so lucky in this.

DEPORTATION of Chinese has been ordered to the extent of all funds available. The administration has been a long time in learning that this was the only course to pursue.

The rebels are still grinding away down in Brazil. One dispatch says that they will come out victorious ultimately, while the next one states the government will suppress it.

PRIZES FOR FRUIT. An Offer From the Portland Exposition of Interest to Our Orchardists.

At the solicitation of many persons interested in the subject, the Portland industrial exposition has undertaken to gather fruit to be used in showing the pomological products of Oregon, at the midwinter fair, in San Francisco. This fruit will be gathered and placed on display at the exposition, in Portland, and will be combined with what may be gathered from other sources for the midwinter fair. Although every orchardist should exert himself to see that the interests of the fruit industry are properly represented at all times, as should every person desirous of promoting the welfare of the state, the exposition has decided to encourage and stimulate growers to send their best products by offering the following prizes:

For the largest five pears, $5.
For the largest five apples, $5.
For the best ten varieties of apples, $5.
For the greatest variety of pears, $5.
For the largest bunch of grapes, $5.
For the greatest variety of grapes, $5.
All fruit should be carefully labeled with the name and address of the sender and in placing it on exhibition both at Portland and San Francisco, it will be identified in this way, so that due credit will be received by the producers. Fruit should be carefully packed and shipped by express to the Portland industrial exposition, Portland, Oregon.

There will be no charges for the express for prizes will not be received later than October 7, but choice fruit for exhibit will be taken any time prior to October 20.

Orchardists are urged to give this matter the attention it deserves.

Swing Around the Circle Of diseases to which it is adapted with the best results, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a family medicine, comprehensive in its scope, has never been thus put under public attention in the guise of a nostrum for bodily ailments. This claim, daily attested in the columns of the daily press by the proprietors of medicines far inferior to it as specifics, has in a thousand instances disgusted the public in advance by its absurdity, and the prospects have been handicapped by the pretensions of their worthless predecessors. But the American people know, because they have verified the fact by the most trying tests, that the Bitters possesses the virtues of a real specific in cases of malarial and liver disorder, constipation, nervous rheumatism, stomach and kidney trouble. What it does it does thoroughly, and for this reason it is indorsed and recommended by hosts of respectable men.

BALD HEADS

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER

It is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of a hair-growing and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it brings a luxuriant growth of hair and cures itching and dandruff. It is not a hair dressing, but a hair restorer. It restores the hair to its natural condition, and keeps it in that condition. It is a hair restorer, and a hair restorer is what you need. It is a hair restorer, and a hair restorer is what you need. It is a hair restorer, and a hair restorer is what you need.

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk," but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anæmic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Borne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringing on the matter, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
