A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Though political or financial legislation in congress has put the silver mining industry of the country to sleep for a time, and though there has been a panic striking over the land to the ruin of tens of thousands of men and corporations, the Atlantic Pacific Railway Tunnel Company has weathered the storm, with all its properties intact. Now it begins mining for gold, to a certainty of profit enough to meet all the interest on the eight per cent bonds, that it has sold or will need to sell to insure the completion of its tunnels for railway as well as mining purposes. It has purchased all the shares issued by the Eldorado Gold Mining Company of Colorado, on whose properties is the largest and best mill in Summit county, and will soon enlarge it to a total capacity of one hundred tons of ore per day, and thus treat the ore from that mine and others. This ore yields from one-half ounce to five ounces of gold per ton of ore, gold being worth exceeding twenty dollars per ounce, the average of the ore being more than two ounces of gold per ton of ore. The company counts on one thousand dollars per day as the net earnings of the mill when it will treat one hundred tons per day, and hopes to double this sum as the proceeds from this one mill. It will also bring out ore from the gold veins crossed by the tunnel and add this product to the output of gold, and thus benefit those who are financially interested in the great tunnel enterprise. It is a work that should be hurried on to the completion of the tunnel, as when it is finished, cars can be run direct from Denver to Salt Lake City and save over two hundred miles, and open to mining purposes the greatest gold, silver, lead and copper mines in the world. Tens of thousands of men in this country who have invested in other directions and lost, might have better invested in the bonds of this Tunnel Company. The history of the work is one of patient struggle, leading up to success, following honest management for the benefit of each and every investor. By sending to the president of the company, Rooms 46 World Building, New York City, facts can be obtained that will guide those who have money in large or small sums to invest. It is only a question of time ere trains will be darting straight through the Rocky Mountains, and then profits will come home in double volume, from mining and from rentals of the tunnels for railway purposes. Here is a good place for both capital and labor.

ASACCORDING to late dispatches, the silver senators are about to give up the fight. Should the repeal bill pass, the country will have a chance to know what is hurting them. If that helps, according to the gold-bug notion, well and good. But the Gazette will say in advance that in its opinion, it will do nothing of the sort. But the right of franchise still remains to the American people, thanks to Grover Cleveland, and must of a new kind can be played in Washington in '94.

signed the measure. The silver republicans will not sign it, and it is rumored that they will formulate a bill of their own, and with the aid of the populists and silver men pass it. The compromise measure talked of by the democrats is not satisfactory to many, as it only extends the purchase law but a short time, though the provision to coin the seigniorage of silver is considered by all but extreme gold bugs a good move. The deficiency in the treasury is growing larger every day, and the gold reserve is being invaded to supply it. No imports of gold are noted. But even should the compromise measure pass both houses, it will not settle the money question, for the free coinage of silver, at least equal to the amount produced in the United States, will be urged at subsequent sessions.

HAD the meddling with money matters been let out years ago by the nations of the earth, they would not now be in such bad straits. There never was, nor will there ever be, such a thing as too much gold or silver. The amount only increases as the population and demands increase, and in the case of gold it is not even keeping pace in this proportion. To demonetize the cheaper and more useful metal in favor of the dearer is no way out of it. Had the world gone ahead coining both gold and silver as they used to do, and not have legislated against one in favor of the other, the American people would not today be tolling hard to pay interest, and the premium that exists on gold, as compared with what they sell to buy it. Look around you, compare notes, and see if the Gazette is not right.

A PLEA FOR PROTECTION. Hold more sail ye ship o' state And change per course, ere 'tis too late. Written for the Gazette.

As the above lines form a sufficient text or pretext for coming to the front as a leader of a new idea, I've come well knowing that all new ideas are subjected to the closest possible criticism by the readers of your valuable paper. But the present disquietude which rages like a torrent in our country will warrant me in risking my reputation (which is not overly good at best) in hope to engender and produce new thoughts from sources which have lain idle so long, and it will take friction to clear them from the rust of many years.

In going through the country one hears the low rumbling of anarchy and as we near the cities it breaks with louder peals upon our ears which plainly foretells a future storm. Right here let me say, I lay no claims to prophetic insight, but I am only reading the future by the past. Glancing back over the history of the various nations, we almost invariably find that any material change in state is preceded by discontentment among the governed; especially has this been a characteristic of the more recent history, such as the French revolutions, the late war in our own country, as well as the revolutions of Chili, Peru, and Bolivia, Brazil and Argentine Republic. So those of us whose hearts have been all aglow with patriotism can well begin to cast around to see if there is not some means by which we can dispose of the muttering elements that have been flocking to our country for so long, and now stand as a menace to our civil institutions. I am firmly of the opinion that there is a way out of the present dilemma, but it will require immediate action to keep the clouds from gathering and becoming so dark and somber as to obscure our means of exit.

If we will apply to Dr. Talmage he will tell us that Providence always leads the way in national affairs. Hence we cast around for some opening made by a Providential hand, and find the Hawaiian islands knocking at our doors for some purpose. We also find the New Nation edited by Mr. Belamy, who in airing his own tolerably palpable theories, is clamoring for a change in the basis of our government.

Now why not retrench somewhat in the expenses of our own government and purchase those islands as a man would buy his neighbors farm and people the same with those who are now a stench in our nostrils. Call Mr. Belamy and a conference of his co-thinkers and set them up in business under the fostering care of the United States. But perhaps some one will say it will cost too much, to which we answer the cost of quelling riots is not inconsiderable by any means, nor is the cost of keeping a horde of worthless pilferers and pickpockets a matter to be highly overlooked. Then the cost of bringing them to trial for various crimes, from vagrancy to murder, is by no means a light expense.

I have no statistics at hand from which to draw reliable data so I can only conjecture that they cost the government millions of dollars annually, besides their infringement on private individuals and their depredations on private property. Nor should we fail to notice that their ranks are growing like weeds in a fertile soil. This, perhaps, may be accounted for by the constant and persistent sowing of the seeds of discontent by the many tramps that infest our country. It cannot be denied that the tramps are a part of the anarchical elements, and they live without work and even travel at the expense of the public by beating the rails, and the people have to support the railways. Besides many of them by their shoplifting cunning, wear good clothing and infest our homes, destroy our domestic happiness, run our daughters and lead our sons into the lowest grades of vice and all that before the unsuspecting are aware of their real characters. It may be argued that the cost of maintaining them will be too great, but I answer Mr. Belamy proposes to make his subjects self-supporting. But should it cost a few millions to get them started, we would still be the gainers on the account of getting rid of the cost of a large share of our court proceedings as I have heretofore set forth.

Another will doubtless call for a precedent before he will be willing to enter upon so great a task. To which I refer them to Australia peopled as it was in this present century by England shipping her criminals there as a place of banishment, and when the gold mines were discovered and the better classes rushed to the island they found those criminals a prosperous people. Be sequel to it seems to lie in the fact of their inability to obtain spurious liquors. Asain Denmark was peopled
