The steamer, Oregon, has been launched. It is the pride of the navy.
The Oregonian once called Grover Cleveland an "obscure lawyer". You would hardly think it, either.
Now that Mr. Cleveland has taken the silver lining from behind the cloud, will he please remove the cloud?—Telegram.
Buy as little as possible, borrow none, pay for what you get, discharge what you owe of your debts, and we will yet see better times.
New York will go democratic this year because the boss of bosses is there, Hon. D. B. Hill. N. Y. is cursed with machine politicians of the worst type.
If MULLEN stubbornness were inimical to statesmanship, Cleveland would be a second Washington. But brains and beef, unfortunately, are not often found together.
The Gazette is in receipt of R. D. Hume's little work of "Salmon of the Pacific Coast". It is most interesting, particularly to Eastern folks who know little of that industry.
It takes some effort to keep the Gazette on its present basis, or any other for that matter, but we will get through despite all. In the meantime, those who owe the shop cannot select a better time in which to pay.
ALL HAIL TO GROVER, the First. Blessed be Lombard and Wall streets, the people can now borrow gold, sell their products at a living figure and pay their debts at maturity, in a horn. Will it be any better next year?
Ohio will have a peculiar election this year. It matters not which one of the candidates is elected, it is a rebuke to Grover. McKinley would be a stronger candidate, however, if he wasn't such a confirmed gold-bug. The tariff question is the principal issue at stake in Ohio this year, and McKinley will carry the state by a good majority.
WE HEAR a great deal about the minority of the senate controlling the majority. Who compose this famous majority? We can solve the problem. It is GROVER CLEVELAND. By stealth and use of federal patronage he forced the cowardly whelps to chew their words of twenty years, drop down on their knees and bow to the shrine of Grover. It is the most shameful flop in the history of our country, and as long as it represents a majority, it cannot be honestly called a majority. No parliamentary use in existence is too severe to use on such a majority as compose the senate of the present congress. Governments have been overthrown for less dictatorship than that displayed by our present executive, and but for the love of the flag, our country would now be in the throes of civil strife. Ballots are the weapons of the American citizens and they will use them, too. But don't say a word about the poor, timid and despised majority of Grover I, to anyone but a Chinaman or an Injun, because the intelligent reader knows 'em.

Owing to hostile legislation to silver as money, wheat and cotton will be as low next year as this. Wool cannot command any better price than now owing to the free trade policy in that direction. Farming and range lands must necessarily fall to the lowest figure. A larger part of the woolen goods our people manufacture cannot be sold because the producers will not have the money with which to buy. Good securities will be hard to procure on which to borrow. Then suppose the fabulous sum of gold of Lombard street is turned loose in America, were will it help us? A policy that restricts ability to pay debts cannot do the country any good, even though it invites millions of foreign capital. That has already proved our ruin, and the less English money that is placed here the better. To restore the coin metal of our country to its former standing, getting along within ourselves and by economy forcing our way out of our dilemma, would be something like it. Any other course will make a bad matter worse and postpone the day of reckoning. There is no time like the present to begin the application of cures consistent with the disease. It is just the time to declare our independence, and go to work to throw off the yoke. It cannot be accomplished in one day, but it can be done.

The Oregonian has howled so much for Cleveland that it now just whispers. No organ in the country has devoted so much space to the worship of the gold king. Now let the politicians take some of the cure and put up gold-bug candidates next year and see how the Oregonian's advice is taken in Oregon. The Gazette may be a small, obscure, semi-weekly publication, but it is pretty certain that no republican can be elected in this congressional district who is in favor of gold-bugism. It matters not how much the protection plan is heralded or how great the necessity for a congressman who is in favor of the same, the second financial "crime of the century" will come to the front. The people of Eastern Oregon, particularly, are not in sympathy with republic-Clevelandism, and don't your forget it. It will take a good man of the Sen. Mitchell style of republicanism to win next time, and that man is Hon. W. R. Ellis.

MAXOR CARTER HARRISON was almost instantly killed by a young man named Prendergast, at Chicago on last Saturday evening. Prendergast is crazy, and imagined that Harrison had promised him something politically that he had not received. The victim was shot three times, two wounds either of which would have proved fatal. Mayor Harrison was well known and highly respected, served as congressman one term about twenty years ago, and was for five terms mayor of Chicago. Had he lived he probably would have been chosen to represent Illinois in the U. S. senate. In the death of Mayor Harrison, Chicago and the state of Illinois meets with a great loss.

Now that the Sherman law is out of the way, see the reserve pile up. Any sane man knows that the Sherman law was a poor one, and that it was administered as bad as possible. But how under the sun we can hold the gold in the treasury when we have so many legal tenders in existence is unexplainable. Gold that is due in Europe from this country will be drawn out on gold notes just as easy as before, and the monthly additions of $4,500,000 in currency will not be forthcoming. The money of the world, confined to gold alone, is inadequate, and Shylock knew it in '73 just as well as he does in '03.

It is now in order for the finny politicians to slide over to the "popular" side of one man power. But the rank and file will move on undaunted while the champagne corks will pop at the festal board of Wall street and the capitol at Washington. But don't celebrate too soon. Remember that Napoleon fought and won many a battle, to be entirely overthrown at Waterloo, in the midst of festivities. The celebration was out of place. That might apply to our financiers. The old saying, "He who laughs last laughs best," is in the minds of ye voter.

PERCY AARIS, of Spokane, loved Miss Love. He had a wife and Miss Love, though she loved him lovingly, did not love to be thus trifled with. Aaris in order to appease the wrath of Miss Love sued for a divorce. Mrs. Aaris heard of it, and going to Spokane so pood the proceedings that the swain withdrew them, and now the love of Love goes languishing for naught on the crisp, autumn air of the Spokane region.

C. L. WING, owner of the Brunson dam and irrigation works, had Mrs. Abbott to impersonate his wife in some legal matters. She was arrested, together with two attorneys, Wing is well known about Mountain Home, and Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this remedy is taken as soon as cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by Stearns-Johnson Drug Co.

REPRESENTATIVE ELLIS has introduced a bill in the house extending the time allowed the Umatilla Irrigation Co., for the construction of its ditch across the Umatilla reservation. The time called for in the bill is three years from Feb. 10, 1891. The Umatilla Irrigation Co. was organized in 1890 at Pendleton. The preliminary work and the securing of right of way, together with the changes in state legislation, interfered materially with the speedy completion of ditches, and an extension of time is really necessary.

A Terrible Stroke of Lightning. Nineteen soldiers were marching along the highway at Bourges to reach the artillery practice ground when a thunderstorm broke over them and in a minute drenched them all to the skin. They began trotting, but had not advanced much when an instant laid lightning came and in an instant laid the whole detachment prostrate on the ground. After a short time some of the men recovered and rose to their feet. They called to their comrades, who rallied and rose slowly one after another. But four remained immovable. They were taken to the hospital. Three were restored to life, but the fourth was quite dead. He had a deep wound on the crown of his head and

A SHOWER OF BLACK RAIN.

Examination Proved It to Have a Felt Smell and a Bad Taste. The meteorological records of the world chronicle several incontestible instances of black rainfalls, to say nothing of the more startling phenomena of "showers of blood, blue snows," etc. Prof. Barker in April, 1888, laid before the Royal Society of Dublin some observations on a shower of black rain which fell around Carlaw and Kilkenny extending altogether over an area of about four hundred square miles. During the course of his lecture Prof. Barker exhibited to the society a specimen of this unwholesome shower which had been sent him by a friend. The specimen shown in the vial was of a uniform black color, much resembling common black writing fluid. Dr. Barker told, however, that, after allowing it to stand for a short period, the black coloring matter separated from the water with which it had mixed, rendering the color of the rainwater much lighter, but still dark enough to be called "black rain."

The shower, which was in broad daylight, was preceded by a darkness so dense as to make it impossible for one to read without the aid of a candle. After this darkness had continued for some time, a hailstorm set in, attended with vivid lightning, but without the least semblance of thunder. When this hailstorm was over the black rain began to fall. On examination of the rain immediately after the storm was over it was found to have an extremely fetid smell, as well as a very disagreeable taste. All light-colored animals and all articles of clothing exposed bore dark spots and stains, and cattle refused to drink the water or eat the grass until after a shower of "rain" had washed off the black, poisoning matter.

ON A COMET.

What do you think of the idea of hell, the future abode of the wicked, being situated in the nucleus of some gigantic comet? This opinion, says the St. Louis Republic, odd as it may seem to those who have given comets and the future state of the dead but little attention, has been entertained by many really eminent scientists and philosophers, among them the learned Dr. Whiston, the friend and sometimes adviser of the great Sir Isaac Newton.

In answer to the inquiries of a friend, who wrote to ask the doctor for some tangible proof on the subject, the following unique theories were advanced. "According to my calculations and deductions, this theory, which you rightly say 'must belong to me and me alone,' does locate hell, the awful prison house of the damned, in the fiery nucleus of some (perhaps yet undiscovered) comet of unthinkable size.

"In this wide-circling chariot of fire they will be whirled in the twinkling of an eye from the intolerable heat of the surface of the sun back into space hundreds and hundreds of millions of miles from the great torch-bearer of our system.

"Thus instantly the wretched tenants will be taken two unbearable extremes, one of cold and the other of heat; this latter month will endure ages of eternity, while the Almighty is dispensing the severities of justice." Did mortal man ever harbor a more horrible idea than this?

BRONCO KATE.

A Young Girl Who Can Ride the Worst Horse That Lives. The feats of cowboys in riding wild and untamed horses is ever an object of interest to eastern riders who have been so impressed with the powers of these half-wild men that they imagine them to be a species of centaur. While it is true that many of the cowboys are expert riders, there is nothing unusual about their riding. There is a rider in Texas, however, who is greatly out of the common, and whose riding is the grandest of even that section, where good riding is the rule and not the exception.

This rider, says the Philadelphia Press, is a girl, "Bronco Kate." She is the daughter of a cattleman and has been all her life on the plains with the cowboys and could ride a horse when she was three years old. She is the doll of every cattleman on the range, and when Kate wants a horse there is not a man in the country but would walk if she would take his animal. Kate Chapman is but sixteen years old, but she is undoubtedly the most "fearless rider in the world. She never hesitates an instant about getting on the wildest and most vicious animal on the range, and it makes no difference whether or not it has ever had a saddle on her. Her latest escapade was to ride and break in a mustang which had the reputation of being a mankiller. This animal is especially vicious, and was not only throws its rider, but goes after him when he is down and strikes and bites him, trying to kill him. Kate had been wanting to ride this bronco for some time, but every one on the range opposed it and did all in his power to prevent it. The girl was so determined, however, and catching the horse in a corral she saddled him. She then bluffed him and in this condition forced him out on the open prairie and mounted him. The brute stood perfectly still until she lifted the blindfold, and then began a terrible dance, in which the girl finally came out victor and rode the horse at will.

A LAWYER'S STORY.

The Peculiar Mistake Made by a Telegrapher. A party of newspapermen and lawyers were discussing amusing typographical errors, when a veteran New York attorney told of a peculiar mistake that had come under his notice, made by a telegraph operator. "I was a young man at that time," said the lawyer, "and had a small office across the hall from a successful attorney who once in awhile befriended me. One day I was sitting in my office with my legs on the table and chair tilted back, waiting for clients and dreaming of a sweet girl known to me as Ella, who had been the sweetheart of my college days. I was before by a boy with a message directed to me. It was from my friend across the way and dated Chicago, but its contents made my brain whirl. With telegraphic brevity it said: 'Ella is sweet. Don't delay. Take it up and try it.' I was just considering the advisability of a proposal, and my astonishment can be imagined. My first impressions were that I was either asleep or the 'Windy City' had driven my messenger boy, so I read the telegram upside down, side ways, and everywhere I could see it, and the light finally dawned on me. I took up a court calendar. There it was: 'Ella vs. Sweet, and my friend was named as the defendant's attorney.'"

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
