THE SCOURING MILL.

Whatever faults our business men may have, they are more than an average in enterprise. They mean well; and we doubt that they will permit Pendleton, or any neighboring town, to wrest from them enterprises which mean much for our section and which we must have. The Gazette is therefore of the opinion that Heppner will have a scouring mill. If they cannot secure the assistance of the gentleman who made the proposition now before the Pendleton people, they will enlist others in the work. Failing there they will erect and maintain one on their own resources. It stands to reason that if strangers, or outsiders, rather, can invest $8,000 to $7,000 with an equal amount put up by our citizens, guaranteeing 10 per cent. per annum on the preferred stock taken by us, that they are very sure of making their part pay 10 per cent. or more above operating expenses. In this case it would seem likely that a plant could be operated to a good advantage by our own people. However, many with whom we have talked would much rather have the responsibility resting elsewhere, if they can get 10 per cent. return on their money, without any trouble on the part of the investor, and with all the advantages occurring indirectly from such an enterprise, as would be enjoyed if erected and maintained in our midst. In any event, it is the decision that we must have a scouring mill. Our people have lost many thousands of dollars shipping dirt and grease, and now that our sheepmen must meet world's prices, in competition with the peon labor and eternal wealth of range enjoyed in Australia and South America, it behooves us to erect this mill as the only means by which we can continue to run sheep. Profits will be small at best, and unless the greatest care and economy is practiced, this will be found on the wrong side of the ledger. Let us have speedy action. The shearing season for '94 is rapidly approaching, and but little time is left for consummation of the matter before us.

WHAT HE CAME FOR.

The Hawaiian Advertiser in the issue of Nov. 18th says: "It cannot be doubted that it is the intention of the United States to cooperate in establishing in Hawaii such a government as can be relied upon to meet the necessities of this most important central commercial position which imposes on Hawaii such arduous responsibilities. It is the duty of the United States to see that Hawaii meets those responsibilities and fulfill her duties. It goes without saying that the coming government will be no reconstruction of a native monarchy under any form whatever. Such monarchy is by inherent nature absolutist, defiant or evasive of constitutions and laws, and regarded mainly of its own caprices. Mr Willis has come to Hawaii on no such idiotic errand. From this it will be seen that the intentions of Willis were not known at that time. And it is now doubtful if Willis, himself, has any definite idea of what he came for. His superiors have backed down so often and so persistently that it would take a lightning gymnast to keep up with them. Hawaii is strictly an American colony and the actions of the Provisional government have been misrepresented. In any event, they propose to hold their position against force, and are fortifying Honolulu and other points. Hawaii is patriotic and millions of loyal Americans wish them God speed in their efforts to crush out royalty and make it a free government.

DON'T BELIEVE IT.

"The consulting physicians have gone to Eastern Oregon for the purpose of locating a site for the branch asylum," says an exchange. This is untrue, because the site has already been selected by Governor Penoyer, Secretary McBride and Treasurer Metcahan. That site is Pendleton, and the board of consulting physicians are being sent to other places only as a subterfuge in the interest of this board, which wants no "horns-nest" stirred up in the branch country this close to election. Those places besides Pendleton that have put in an application may as well let their hopes "mat away" now. The physicians on that jinking trip have no say, and Pendleton knocks the permission—Salein Independent.

We cannot think that our state officers have been guilty of any such duplicity. It is more than likely that this is another of the Independent's sensational charges. Heppner people give no credence whatever to the report. Ten per cent. additional tax on insurance in this state has been suspended, and such amounts as have been collected on that tax are ordered rescinded. This is on promise that the Oregon insurance men will bring about repeal. They have undertaken to mean when they gave such a promise. This result is but a natural one, and required no such action on the part of the insurance agents, for the union could not have maintained its position. We are reliably informed that it is now on the verge of dissolution, and that the country will soon enjoy the same competition in insurance as in any other line of business. The Gazette hopes the day is near when such can be fully realized.

The Hawaiian Advertiser which is on our table, under date of Nov. 18th, says: "This paper is now, as it always has been, since the day when the monarchy was forever banished from Hawaii, the firm and unflinching advocate of annexation to the United States, without any compromise in any shape or form whatever. Nor can one word be produced to show a contrary determination. To this paper more than to any other is due the credit of firmly standing by and defending the provisional government and the cause it represents. It yields to no other paper a firmer allegiance to the principles which the government and its supporters represent."

SENATOR HOAR arraigned Cleveland in the U. S. senate a few days ago in regard to the appointment of Blount as a special commissioner to Hawaii, without asking the consent of the senate or making known his intentions. Hoar suggested that Cleveland was either wrong or the whole United States of America.

DE GAMA has succeeded Admiral Mello as the leader of the Brazilian revolution. Late reports say that he has captured Rio and that President Peixoto is a prisoner of war. The success of the revolution means the restoration of monarchy.

When on a visit to Iowa, Mr. K. Dalton, of Lura, Russell County, Kansas, called at the laboratory of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, to show him his six year old boy, whose life had been saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it having cured him of a very severe attack of croup. Mr. Dalton is certain that it saved his boy's life and is enthusiastic in his praise of this remedy. For sale by Slocum-Johnson Drug Co.

DESIGNED AND CAPTURED BY MARK H. POMEROY. BRICK POMEROY'S FLAG.

The above is the standard adopted by "Brick" Pomeroiy, of the Advance Thought, published in the World Bldg., New York. "Brick" is one of the original greenbackers. At present he advocates the principles of the people's party. Years ago he published the La Crosse (Wis.) Democrat, and made the paper to the Budget State what the Laramie Boomerang was to Wyoming. While in this connection, he wrote several books which had quite a sale. "Brick" is a witty duck, but it is more or less tainted with unadulterated vulgarities.

ASYLUM COMMITTEE INTERVIEWED.

Heppner Favorably Looked Upon as the Best Place for the Location by Dr. Williamson From the Salem Daily Independent. The site devoted upon Governor Penoyer, Secretary McBride and State Treasurer Metcahan, as a committee to examine and control the state asylum, to select an appropriate place to establish a branch asylum. This committee recently appointed Drs. L. L. Rowland, J. A. Richardson and W. T. Williamson, a second committee to make a trip through Eastern Oregon and visit the different towns on their route. This committee has just returned and are to make a report as to the sanitary condition of these places.

A reporter called on Dr. J. A. Richardson and in reply to certain questions regarding the contents of the committee's report, the doctor said that he had, of course, his own conclusions, but declined to make them known since they had not been compiled and he did not know for certain what its contents would be. He suggested that we call on Dr. L. L. Rowland and possibly further knowledge might be gained which he was not at liberty to give.

The asylum was visited and Dr. Rowland seen. The doctor was very busy and in turn referred us to Dr. W. T. Williamson, whom he instructed to give us answers to certain questions which appear below:

What places were visited by the committee? Baker City, North Powder, Union, La Grande, Elsie, Pendleton, Milton, Heppner and The Dalles.

Under what heads are the different parts of your report to appear?

Our report will be divided into three main heads, which in turn are subdivided as follows: Climatic conditions, comfort, health, light-elevation, drainage; exposure to storms and malaria. Water—quantity, quality, power and source at different seasons of the year.

The report will simply be a sanitary one and will favor none of the applicants with a private opinion.

However, Doctor Williamson expressed himself as being a little prejudiced in favor of Heppner giving as his reasons the very exceptional location of the place.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and in a short time he was breathing easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. For sale by Slocum-Johnson Drug Co.

Chaining on the Hand. A father sued an English schoolmaster for assault because he had caned his boy on the hand. The magistrate before whom it was first tried thought that the father was right, for the reason that caning on the hand was attended by a risk of injury, and there were "methods of corporal punishment" quite as available, efficacious and not necessarily attended with any risk which the defendant might have used. The higher court, though, decided that it was not actionable.

PATENTS!

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household and on the farm, as well as in official life, require continual accessions to the apparatus and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense.

The political change in the administration government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially in this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee.

The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepare and prosecute applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade-marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives special attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents.

Stockholders Meeting. Ancient Beginning of Will Forms. Nearly every will filed with the recorder begins: "In the name of God, Amen." This formula may not be as old as the hills, but it dates back to a time when the memory of man raneth not to the contrary. It is as old as the English laws, and was handed down to posterity by the priests, who in the olden times were about the only ones who could read and write. In those days, when a man felt his joints beginning to stiffen, when his feet showed signs of becoming gouty, and he realized he was nearing the pearly gates, the priest was called in and the will made. This custom still prevails, and the modern lawyer and not the priest does the drafting of testamentary documents.

JOSEPHUS DID IT. How the Golden Opportunity Came to a Lean and Hungry Negro.

There was a grocery just across from the depot, and on a bench under the window were seven large watermelons, says the New York Sun. A short, cadaverous-looking colored man sat on a baggage truck looking across at the grocery. After a bit one of our crowd sauntered up to him and carefully observed:

"Some fine melons over there."

"Doed dey, boss," was the reply.

"Do colored folks ever eat watermelons?"

"Does dey? Does dey eat watermelons?"

"I should reckon to consider dat dey did!"

"Is that so? How many colored men about your size would it take to get away with one large melon?"

"How many? Say, boss, 'pears to me you doan' lib in dis kentry."

"No; I'm just over from England."

"Dat account, 'er doan' know us. How many melions would be wanted for how many melions would be wanted for how many melions named Josephus Pardon."

"You don't mean you could eat a whole one?"

"Doan' I. If I can't eat de hull seben, I'd go off to de swamp an' die!"

We chipped in to buy up the lot and give the man the golden opportunity of his life. The melons were brought over and laid in a row, and Josephus removed hat and coat and let out his sweater, took three matches, and sat down with his back braced against a box.

He-plunged the knife as he got the word, and the store had burst. He cut the melon into four pieces, dropped the knife, and in just two minutes by the watch watching was left but a heap of rinds and a handful of seed. A second was rolled over to him, and he gained five seconds on the other melon. On the third he lost ten seconds, and on the fourth nearly a minute. He cut the fifth, ate a quarter of it, and then stood up to inquire:

"W'at you expected dat I was to eat de hull seben right down?"

"Oh, no. The idea was to see how many you could eat at once."

"Well, Ise a little dissatisfied in myself. I did believe I could get away wid de lot in 'bout half an hour, but Ise sorter filled up 'an 'dat. Beckin' I hain't feelin' every well, an' dat de dozen turns I ate dis mawin' be sorter heid me off. If you would be so kind as to give me 'bout five minutes to finish de rest of dis, an' den let me take de odder two down dar I won't be nuthin' left by sun high."

He soon finished the fifth, and then took a thicket down the track. Twenty minutes after he left the train came along, and as we rode past the thicket Josephus rose up with a solitary melon in his hands, bowed his thanks, and vanished.

"Is he gwine ter do it, white man? It's de only one left, and I'll git it away wid him befo' you dun get down to Petersburg!"

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney who secures them.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringing by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
