SENATE makers are busy in arranging for the June election. Aspirants for Mr. Hermann's place in the first district are trying to give out the impression that Mr. Hermann craves gubernatorial honors, which is far fetched. Mr. Hermann will serve his state better in the halls of congress than in the capacity of governor. It is bad policy now to attempt to "swap horses in the middle of the stream." The same thing applies to Mr. Ellis.—The Dallas Chronicle.

The tax voted at the school meeting last Monday will pay up present indebtedness due, and run the school out this term, with the additional money coming in during the summer to help out.

There will not be a cent to conduct the school or pay interest on bonds after that till Jan. 1895. Early in 1895 school warrants given in payment for school seats will become due and will have to be paid.

From the standpoint of economy the taxpayers have done nobly, and in this the Gazette can take much pleasure as it isn't lousy with cash now.

At least it has no money to invest in scrip even at 85 cents on the dollar.

But the school has been sacrificed, take it as you may, and now there is no getting around it.

J. W. WEAVER, editor of a republican paper at Van Buren, Arkansas, is in jail charged with embezzlement. He appeals to the Grand Army for aid saying that the charges are trumped up, which is sustained by the democratic senator and representative of his county. He claims that the charges are brought because he is a republican and an ex-Union soldier.

When War is Declared Against a man's happiness by his stomach, the enemy may be pacified and brought speedily and easily to terms. That potent regulator of digestion, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters disciplines the rebellious organs thoroughly.

Indigestion arises from weakness of the stomach, and the food in it for want of the power to digest, decomposes and acidifies, giving rise to heartburn, flatulence and pain, besides a multitude of symptoms both changeable and perplexing. But peace soon reigns when the great stomachic is resorted to and used with persistence. Dyspepsia gives rise to morbid disposition of mind, and even sleeplessness and hypochondria in chronic cases.

It is the complete dismissal of these Bitters in fully adequate. Liver complaint, constipation, debility, rheumatism and malaria are completely subdued by this genial medicine.

HOW ABOUT THAT. A Pendleton Republican Wonders What Means a Certain Editorial.

From the E. O. "Eastern Oregon can and will have the congressman at the coming state convention, all the silly idle talk regarding Astoria to the contrary notwithstanding. The truth of the matter is, the place is already conceded to this section."

A republican paper published in Pendleton prints the foregoing in its editorial columns. It is interesting to Eastern Oregon people and especially to those of Pendleton as indicating in which direction the wind is blowing up in that particular print-shop. There are just two avowed candidates in Eastern Oregon besides the present incumbent, who are pulling for the republican nomination for congress. These two are J. C. Lescaure and James B. Eddy.

Now the matter becomes interesting to republicans from the fact that it was the general understanding, among the representative members of that party here, that support would be lent to the starting of the daily again on condition that it was not to be a Lescaure organ. The agreement was plain and the sentiment pronounced. It was to be a straight-out republican journal and not boom any one candidate for office. That was right and proper.

The logic of the situation is simply this: Either the paper in question is hinting at the naming of Mr. Lescaure or Mr. Eddy or Mr. Ellis. Which is it? local republicans are asking. It seems too bad to see a newspaper started as a political expedient get in and out the throat of its own organization by attaching itself to the kite of a habitual candidate for congress, who would only succeed in knocking his party into a shape resembling a cocked hat, were he placed on the ticket. Not even a democrat would enjoy seeing such an instance of willful murder. It is a case for wonder and inquiry, at least.

The above is a plain statement of the opinion of a Pendleton republican given on Thursday after reading the morning news.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper, berries and other well known remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative powers not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures when other preparations fail.

Dandruff is due to an enfeebled state of the skin. Hood's Hair Renewer quickens the nutritive functions of the skin, healing and preventing the formation of dandruff.

AN ODE TO THE WANDERER. In ancient times 'twas the head and heart; But religion may change with passing years; For now our Dashing Knight Has offered up the brand and ears.

From my castle I saw increase rise, From the wanderer's native soil, Fast up the flight of golden stairs; And perform the throne of God.

And the gentle west wind born To the east—on the lake, An account that was strange, but true, Of the wanderer's first bad break.

Of leaves that were taken from this range; And a jury that was eleven to one, A story is told of another trial; And a coincidence eleven to one.

Then the wanderer found a home On the shores of the Rubicon, Where not far from his willowed banks His Rachel wild had run.

There are stories too dark to speak of here, Of deeds that long been done; And hard to find a more vile heart Beneath the shining sun.

The wanderer has played in many acts And off to the court house gone To answer to some legal charge Along with his foregone chum.

Stories of angry citizens and vigilantes In the valley of Hudson, And the Dashing Knight left wife and home And died from the Rubicon.

Thou art a valiant Knight; The days of chivalry are not gone; Thou canst rouse the wild sickle And sing thy merry song.

I have traveled around a bit in my time; And have anchored at the Jake; But never yet harbored love For friendly nature's sad mistake.

But how could I contend in love With a great and natural thief? Who divided with father Laban, A three-year-old stolen beef.

For two years I had my washing done at Laban's. And Laban will wear my socks for years to come. Around the neck of his darling boy My kerchiefs shall blanch in the sun.

Woman whose only gift is beauty And of that a pretty share, 'Could we clothe our words in honesty And end them "Ladies fair?"

Beauty is rich when found with grace Or a mind that gives some light; And when found alone It's sad and sickening sight.

Whether with locks of the hue of raven, Or wealth of golden hair, With minds endowed with action They would be more like "Ladies fair."

Cesar, I'll not like Antony weep; Or Brutus, strike with whited steel; I leave thee alone with Cleopatra, Fangs of thy bad choice to feel.

RECUJOY OF LABAN. All the way in this fertile, beloved valley of life from whence we are ushered from the snow-bound plains of the first eternity by chance into life that is full of fruits and flowers for the contentions and houses; passing on, by experience or operation, through the elements of love, trials, temptations or sorrow till we are again ushered through the curtains of death by fate into the cold, dreary realms of the next eternity.

The saddest sight that can meet the human mind along that winding path is a fallen man. The greater crime that can be enacted against society is an attack on the life of its members without just cause.

Oh, Laban! thou was once borne by gentle, loving, caring hands on the low kind swells of the sea of brotherly love; but did the crime of which I have spoken and by thy act fell from Masonic grace?

Laban, I have struggled to raise thee from the dirty, slimy gutter into which thou had fallen. But you would not have it so. But did we not every act of kindness into a shapely crime. Ingratitude is the greatest of sins. Oh, Laban! I forgive thee and would yet reach out into the heart-piercing and soul-chilling storms of life and shield thee from the bitter cold, cold blasts of disgrace. The tears and sobs that mark the pangs of aching, sorrowing hearts, I see and hear them fountain from eyes and lips at the scene of Laban's first great fall.

Alone, despised, forsaken, poor and nude, loved and trusted by none, suspected by all, I found him in the social realm of ours, and gave many a cheering word and helping hand. Did I leave thy humble cot forever because of changes from maidenhood to matronhood? No; but because, sympathetically, bearing and charity ceased to be virtues. When you took the stray sheep from the range, striking around my form and stabbing your own conscience into a bleeding remorseful mass, not to keep the wolf from the door, oh, mankind, I could forgive him with a light heart for that. But as a coyote would roll and wallow in earthen, he did it to wrap his base heart in the vile fumes of doing a friend a wrong.

Laban, you sold that stray sheep to the man who wears natural rattlers in his hat, and whose worn and crime-marred soul gleams forth through wolfish eyes.

Whose mighty lord of crime Has untimely bowed his head; And curved his tender spine, "Did he kill his man?" It has long been said.

Laban, I have walked on the hills, through the valleys, have visited the sunny spots, the shady dells, and the storm-driven corners of life, and of all

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household and on the farm, as well as in official life, require continual accessions to the apparatus and implements of such in order to save labor, time and expense.

The political change in the administration of the American inventor, who being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies.

Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially in this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee.

THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, JOHN WEDDERBURN, General Manager, 618 F Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, and general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepare and prosecute applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade-marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents.

the men with whom I have become acquainted, you possess the fewest noble traits and the nearest to a void conscience. As the summer wind works its way and carresses the cheeks of all, so does my sympathy go out to meet the unfortunate; but it could not call the heights of vice or penetrate the fortress of filth around Laban's heart.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial means, which is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets impinged and becomes inflamed, it is in a state of chronic deafness, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

ORDINANCE NO. 54. An ordinance prohibiting minors from entering saloons and drinking shops and providing a penalty therefor.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HEPPNER: SECTION I.—No person under the age of legal majority shall enter any saloon or drinking-shop in the town of Heppner, unless he be accompanied by his parent or guardian. Any such person who shall so enter any saloon or drinking shop without being so accompanied or without having lawful business therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of not less than $5 nor more than $20.

SEC. II.—Any such person who shall have entered any saloon having lawful business, and shall remain and loiter therein after having transacted such business, shall not be allowed to plead lawful business in mitigation of the offense, and shall be punished.

Passed the common council this 15th day of Jan. 1894.

Fishes That Treat.

It is well known that the New York Independent, that the gas-pipe often rises to the surface and breathes the air direct, as it has a pneumatic duct connecting the throat with the air bladder. Few, if any, of the modern lung fishes inhale the air direct. It is probable that the piranha of the Amazon, which has a large, lung-like swimming bladder, breathes air in this way; while in southern Florida we were told that the jew fish, or tarpon, rises to the surface every few minutes to breathe, and that it has an air bladder eighteen inches

BALD HEADS

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp tickle? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER

Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of this "Skookum" which contains neither mineral nor oil. It is not a dye, but a delicately cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads. It keeps the scalp clean, healthy and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of "Skookum Skin Soap." It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send direct to us, and we will forward you a receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; $1.50 for 3 bottles. Money refunded if not satisfied.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk;" but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anemic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Bowne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.
