TO THE REPUBLICANS.

Since there is so much talk among republicans at present regarding strong material for the nomination of sheriff, we, the undersigned, desire to suggest the name of Andrew Ross as excellent material, and one who, if nominated, would make an exceptionally strong race.

Yours for consideration,
MARY VOTERS.

OUR neighbor, the Condon Globe, stands solid for Ellis.

EX-TREASURER S. F. MURPHY, of Baker City, has been sent up for getting away with $1,100.

WELLS, FARGO & Co. have bought the Commercial National Bank, of Portland.

PRECKMAN, Grover's second choice for the supreme judgeship, has been rejected.

THE official count: Pomeroy receives 185,000. How is this?

SEN WHITE, of Louisiana, has been nominated and confirmed to succeed Justice Brandegee.

CHRIS EVANS and "Morell," or rather John Morell as he proved to be, were surrounded at Evans house in Visalia and are again in jail.

THE Heppner Gazette has driven Prof. Rock, the people's party lecturer, out of politics and into everlasting disgrace. It is the turn of the people's party now to lecture to Rock, and the turn of the rope to wind up the discourse.—Kinnath Star.

WE see that The Dalles and Pendleton get some consolation out of the injunction proceedings against the location of the asylum as decided by the board. This is a wrong spirit. The injunction proceedings form a plan to defeat the location anywhere in Eastern Oregon. Heppner is a candidate for the branch asylum, but because this town was not successful we do not believe our citizens will play the "dog in the manger act."

LAST week, the house of representatives was the scene of much disorder growing out of the arrest of members absent without leave. It culminated in some resisting arrest and other farcical doings. Yet, congressmen ought to stand up to the rack and vote "yes" or "nay" on the seigniorage question, even if the measure is carried against the turbulent minority. The proposition is a good one and the Gazette hopes that it will pass and become law.

REPRESENTATIVE ELLIS, of Oregon, has the best complexion of any man on the floor of the house. He is the absolute picture of health and his cheeks are as red as those of a schoolgirl. He has been the envy of many Washington belles, who, with all the cure and art they possess, have never been able to make as good a complexion as that possessed by the junior representative from Oregon. Mr. Ellis has a warm friend in congress, Representative Heiner, of Nebraska, whom he knew in Iowa years ago, when they were school-fellows. Heiner is a Hungarian by birth. While he has no such complexion as Mr. Ellis, he is the possessor of a heavy dark beard similar to that worn by the man from Heppner.—Oregonian.

JOHN'S LAMENTATIONS BEFORE AND AFTER THE LAST PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

(By Edw. in Swedish. Translated by A. C.)

Look here, Jones Peter, my dear friend, listen to our call.
You see McKinley and his bill enslaves us one and all.
Puts taxes on our shoulders many fold.
But now we must and will have "change," stand this we never can.
And here's the way, put Cleveland in, he is the people's man.
Good times he'll bring good times to young and old.

Look here, Jones Peter, don't you see how everything goes wrong?
Monopoly, our enemy, oppressed us all too long.
Cut down to dollars three our daily wages,
And "robber tariffs," biggest "fraud"—it is an awful fact—
Rated prices on clothing and the like, on tin plate, wire and salt
And other things enrolled on McKinley's pages.
Look here, Jones Peter, furthermore, the treasury now holds
Too many bills, certificates, currency, silver, gold
And every day the dangerous surplus growing
The people are the losers, "cause 'tariff is a tax,"
But now they are aroused, will work and not relax
And vote for Cleveland while reform is glowing.

Look here, Jones Peter, take my ward the democratic faith
Will alter things, give us relief, the working classes aid
And beat of all, it does away with "trust."
And then good times will follow, good times,
Hurray, oh my
Food, clothing, everything cheap, but wages big and high.
And money cheap, hurray, and no more "trust."

This wise young John was heard in the fall of ninety-two,
But Jones Peter was no fool, and he remembered too
Before the war, when democrats were in.
He constant stood when others left, he couldn't be tricked.
You will be lost, he told his friend, the democrats are wicked,
And soon, he sure, you will regret your sin.
The "good old times," I remember well, 'twas in Buchanan's days,
After many years with happy days the bitter remembrance stays;
I know full well what democrats can do,
If you will see the factories closed and business dead and still
And workmen starving, children crying—old grover fills the bill.
Give him your vote and prosperity will have you.
And this they parted, Pete and John, but soon the message flashed
Through all the land from shore to shore; republicans are thrashed.
Ye democrats, let heaven reward you good,
But Jones Peter said in heart with sorrow and despair
Forkome and friends and native land sent up a fervent prayer,
"Oh God! protect our land and liberty."

The festival of mirth and light, the Christmas ninety-three
Was nearing now, when on the street a beggar you could see,
A man so poor and starved and suffering
Came through the heavy drifts leaning on a stick.
The latter sup of poverty his heart made sick.
But now to friendly cottage he was wandering,
Dear friend Jones Peter now you see I am "in it";
My wife and children have no bread, I can't provide it;
Deprived of every necessity, oh, can you help me?

Last year I voted for a "change," and ready made it come;
Last year I lived in comfort good, and now is ruined my home,
My dear ones suffering, say will you help me?

This, John's salute, and from his heart a cry of agony well,
And thousand voices through the land the wailing chorus swelled
The echoes rolled over seas and lands; but never
The democrats could hear it. Nay, every appeal in vain.
And they were pledged to bogus reform; but
This very cry shall knock them out forever.

CECIL ORGANIZES

Republican Club Started There With Quite a Membership.

Last Wednesday night, E. A. Brundage, county organizer of Republican Clubs, assisted by J. F. Willis, J. W. Vaughan and J. S. Boothby, of Lexington, organized a republican club of twelve members at Cecil. The organization was perfected as follows: T. J. League, Pres.; Geo. Miller, Sec'y. The club will meet every second Wednesday, the next meeting occurring a week from next Wednesday.

Mr. Brundage reports the political feeling down below somewhat as follows: While the republicans are alive and eager for the 'ray,' the democrats are sick, almost unto death, and he believes their final dissolution only a matter of time. But the populists, he says are showing signs of returning life. While they declare themselves neutral in regard to the tariff, yet in their sunambulist wanderings they have found the grave where the democrats buried their first rag-baby and the republicans smothered it. And he has resurrected the pesky brat and trying to bring it back to life that they may adopt it and claim it as their own. Although their efforts have not been entirely successful, as it has not got its eyes open yet, it begins to squawk vigorously, and they have hopes that if they can get some democrats to assist them by supporting one side of the happyse 'infant,' to bring him out at the election in June.

ALIVE AT GOOSEBERRY.

Enthusiastic Republicans Organize at Gooseberry.

A very successful republican organization was perfected at Gooseberry last Friday evening. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was rather cold and disagreeable, a comparatively large and enthusiastic crowd gathered at the school house.

The following is the membership of the Gooseberry Republican Club: J. W. Spigall, Pres.; M. S. Maxwell, Sec. Members: W. H. Ward, J. F. Holmes, G. M. Holms, L. R. Esteb, A. Charlton, Jake Brown, Tom Palmer, N. McVey, Geo. Parinen, John Johnson, Frank Landell, E. G. Brangstone, O. E. Lundell, N. S. Bidde, Ed. Road, G. W. Maxwell, W. B. Bidde and Aron Peterson. Quite a number of others who were not present expressed a willingness to join the club at a future meeting. The club will meet again next Saturday evening and at that date will probably set a regular time of meeting.

Messrs. Frank Gilliam, A. A. Roberts, W. L. Salig, Doc. Vaughan, G. W. Harrington and J. N. Brown from Heppner, and J. F. Willis from Lexington, were present and all report it about as enthusiastic a meeting as they have attended so far, and all feel confident that the boys will do good work out there during the coming campaign.

AT LEXINGTON.

Republicans Also Organize a Club at Lexington—Much Enthusiasm Shown.

Following the past meeting which met at Lexington last Saturday, the republicans got together and organized a club in that precinct. Fourteen of the faithful signed the constitution and others will do so at the next meeting. W. B. McAllister was chosen as president and J. W. Vaughan as secretary. Several from Heppner were present and all report everything encouraging. Harmony, good will and enthusiasm prevailed, and the general opinion expressed was that the entire republican ticket in this county would be elected. Let the good work go on.

Muscle and Vigor—A Difference.

Many muscular men succumb to fatigue borne with ease by persons far their interior in physical strength. Muscle does not imply vigor. In fact it is not difficult of proof that athletes do not live as long nor enjoy as good health as the average individual who is vigorous—that is to say, who digestion and sleep are unimpaired, whose nerves are tranquil, and who has no organic tendency or disease. These requisites of vigor are conferred upon those inherently weak, no less than upon those debilitated through wasting disease, by a thorough, persistent course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading national tonic, endorsed and recommended by physicians of eminence. It will endow you with the muscle of a Carib, but will infuse energy into your system, and renew the active and healthful performance of its functions. It averts and cures indigestion, rheumatism and kidney complaints, and overcomes dyspepsia, constipation, liver trouble and nervousness.

A LIMITED VOCABULARY.

Belinda was a maiden
Divinely picturesque
As any child of "Avalon"
Her manners were most neat.
Her voice was music sweet,
And I grew so enamored
When first we chanced to meet.

We danced a waltz together,
And oh, the way she danced!
Each little foot a feather,
Across the carpet glided;
We gazed on her face,
Until my heart was dead.
"Untidy hair," she said,
Must be what paradise is—
Superlatively bliss."

In all our conversation,
We cordially agreed,
Her highest commendation
Was always: "Yes, indeed!"
I said I loved her,
It gave me to confess,
I suddenly grew nervous,
"Walk 'Yes' and 'Yes, Oh, Yes!"

But girls that are so stupid
Oh, how a pretty face!
They get the help of Cupid,
And we as his poor grace!
Thought I, since she was so willing,
I never before,
Some day, I'll be a shilling,
She'll answer "Yes" to me.

So at the beach last summer,
With all the moonlight clear,
I went to capture from her
The inflammation dear:
But her so abjectly—
"Please, please, and so,
Her lips were fast to vary,
"She's not worth a penny."

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

IF YOU WANT INFORMATION ABOUT PENSIONS

THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY,
JOHN WEDDERBURN, Managing Attorney,
P. O. Box 463, Washington, D. C.

Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days, or over, in the late war are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was due to service or not, and to a pension for the remainder of their lives. If the disability was due to service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support, widows or orphans are entitled, if under sixteen years of age, to a pension for the remainder of their lives. If the disability was due to service, or from effects of service, and they are now dependent upon their own labor for support, it makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy.

Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights.

Thousands of soldiers drawn from $2 to $20 per month under the old law are entitled to also for others, whether due to service or not, only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not.

Survivors and their widows, of the Mexican War, are entitled to a pension for the remainder of their lives, if they were in the Indian Wars of 1832 to 1848, are entitled to a pension for the remainder of their lives, if they were in the Mexican War soldiers and their widows also entitled, if sixty-two years of age or disabled later law or not.

Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under former laws or not.

Rejected claims reopened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal, who have lost their original papers.
