Suddenly the buck stopped, threw back his antiers and bea gazing toward the farm buildings n a hillside pasture field, twenty rods below the buck, Mr. Goodrich's herd of cattle were grazing. All at once the buck caught sight of the cattle, and, leaping over the fence, bounded down the hillside toward them. The cows became frightened at the buck's sudden appearance, and with their tails in the air they cantered to a corner of the pasture. The bull in the herd did not

When the buck saw the cows capering away he came to a sudden stop. The bull immediately faced the strange animal, bellowed savagely and began to paw up the dirt. At first the buck acted as if he didn't know what to make of the noisy bull's actions. He backed off a few feet and the bull slowly fol-lowed him. Then the bull made a lunge at the buck with lowered horns, and the buck got out of his way by bounding to one side. This was repeated a number of times, the bull becoming more angry at each failure to A gore the buck, while the buck eyed hi noisy antagonist and kept out of his
