Don't overlook our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds—Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This is the reason in which that remedy is held where it has been a half for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, than it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Simons-Johnson Drug Co.

The gloomy fairs and weariness of soul, of which so many complain, would disappear if the blood were made more healthy before it reaches the brain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies and vitalizes the blood, and thus conduces to health of body and mind.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

The democratic primaries in Morrow county passed off rather quietly, so they say, Saturday afternoon. In the three Heppner precincts it was simply a cut and dried affair, all the tickets being previously written out. The delegates from the Heppner precinct are what they style as representative democrats of the county. However, as for this we leave the readers to decide. Some have never voted a national democratic ticket for eight years, and others have sworn they never would again. Some also voted at the republican primaries, thus violating the laws of the state. On the other hand however, some very good material may be found among the selection by close inspection. The faithful of Mt. Vernon seems to be particularly pleased with their selection, and in all it is a fairly good one. The following are the delegates: Heppner, W. A. Kirk, J. W. Rasmon, A. L. Florence, J. B. Natter, John Woodward, Thos. Nelson, Wm. Huzbes, Jerry Cohn and Jim Neville. Gentry, W. J. McCarty, Frank Kellogg, J. R. Simons, Thos. Quaid and D. V. McAtee. Mt. Vernon, C. A. Rhea, John Hughes, Frank Rogers, J. W. Matlock, Al Binn and Geo. Noble.

THE DIFFERENCE.—"Can I get this?" said a man with a roll of papers in his hand, to an editor. "What is it about?" "It is a reply to Prof. Huxley." "Not much you can't," said the editor and the man went away. Pretty soon another man came in with a roll of paper. "Can I get this?" he inquired. "What is it?" "It's an item about a preacher and a deacon's wife." "You just bet your life you can get it," said the editor. And so it is, some men succeed while other men fail.—Exchange.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING.—Hon. J. B. Eddy, of Pendleton, addressed the republican club of Morrow county at the opera house last Saturday evening. His remarks were well received by all present, and many of the illustrations brought forth laughter and applause. In all Eddy is a forcible speaker and will be a valuable speaker in the coming campaign. Appropriate music was also furnished by the quartette.

COULDN'T STAND IT.—While on the streets the other day we overheard the following conversation between two well informed politicians: 1st Politician.—"What do you suppose were Cleveland's reasons for vetoing the silver bill?" 2nd P.—"He couldn't stand that 16 to 1 racket." 1st P.—"What does 16 to 1 mean anyway?" 2nd P.—"any d—n fool ought to know that. It means $16 to every one we have now."—Wasco News.

LAND FOR SALE.—480 acres over in Wilson drainage. A good stock ranch and will be sold cheap. Call at Gazette office for particulars and terms 12.

A Cheap Power. And at the same time a reliable power, are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the gauge is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engine. Send for catalogue. If you want second hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade and cannot take any more until they are reworked on. PALMER & REY TIRE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder Sts., Portland Oregon.

Invalid 3 Years, Cured by Hood's

C. T. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "Gentlemen—I am glad to tell you that I have been given good health by Hood's Sarsaparilla. For three years I was an invalid, suffering terribly from Nervousness and Lameness.

"I was so nervous I could not bear the least noise, and I had to walk with crutches for six months, as I could not step one of my feet to the floor. Physicians did not do me any good, so a friend told me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, but I said There Was No Use. However, after thinking the matter over, I decided to give it a trial, and have taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the result is that I am well as any one could wish to be, and can do any kind of work. I advise all my friends to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for I believe it will do them good."

MISS SARAH DONSON, Colton, California. Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

THE STATE DELEGATES. Who They Will Probably Vote for at Portland. From the East Oregonian.

People generally are interested in the standing of J. C. Leasure in the republican county convention. Mr. Leasure has a habit of claiming everything in sight, and he was not slow in telling people all over the second district that he would go down to Portland with a solid delegation from this county, as well as from Union, Baker and other Eastern Oregon counties. It was, perhaps, not unreasonable for him to lay claim to the Umatilla county delegation, since many persons think that county patriotism impels them to support a congressional nominee from their own county, no matter whether he is fit, morally or intellectually to represent the people in the legislative halls. Such is the candid expression from numerous republicans, who blush for him in private, and yet feel compelled to stomach him in public. They do so, also, to prevent, if possible, a split in the party. For they well know that the individual in question looks only to his own selfish interest, and cares nothing for the party which has made him what he is, at least given him the prominence he enjoys, for out of consideration for the good, honest republicans, we hesitate to lay at their doors responsibility for anything but for his prominence. He would, therefore if defeated, sulk in his tent.

When B. F. Conner, at the ratification meeting held after the convention referred to Mr. Leasure, in a speech calculated to boom J. C. C., it would naturally have been expected that the "favorite son" would be received with a large measure of enthusiasm. But the expected applause failed to materialize. Fifty people out of five hundred faintly clapped their hands, and a cold, clammy sweat stood on the brows of the "boys" when they standing in.

It transpired today that the delegates elected to the state convention are divided between Leasure, Donaldson and Ellis. The Portland Oregonian's statement that the county convention instructed for Leasure for congress, and Judge Fee for renomination, is untrue. They instructed no one, although they would have instructed for Judge Fee, without hesitation, had the issue been raised.

Hood's and only Hood's. Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to purify and quicken your blood and to give you appetite and strength. If you desire to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Any effort to substitute another remedy is proof of the merit of Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner Pills, assist digestion, cure headache. Try a box.

A HANGING EXPERIENCE. The Sensations as Described by a Kansas Man.

"I was hanged for a horse thief once," said F. H. Stephens, a contractor hailing from the Sandflower state, to a Globe-Democrat man. "It was just after the war. Stock thieves were pretty thick, and when caught were not allowed to waste much time repenting of their sins. I had just moved into the state from Michigan. I bought a horse, a regular old plow plug, from a youngster who appeared to be all right, and the next day mounted him and started to Fort Scott to transact some business.

"I had ridden perhaps a dozen miles when I was overhauled by a posse of armed men who were hunting stock thieves. The horse I was riding had been stolen from a member of the party, and I was swung up to the limb of a tree by the roadside without being given a chance to explain. There was a sharp, momentary pain, a choking sensation, succeeded by one that I can only compare to the delightful intoxication of the opium smoker, and then unconsciousness. I would like to experience that sensation again, but do not care to undergo the necessary preliminaries. The party concluded that I might have confederates, and let me down, hoping that I would peach.

"The coming back to life was a good deal more painful than taking leave of it. When I got so I could talk I told my story, but it was not believed, and they were about to swing me up again, when a neighbor, returning from Fort Scott, chanced along and convinced them that they had the wrong man."

PEOPLE OF EASTERN PERU. The Montana of South America and its Inhabitants.

Eastern Peru, through changing its political title at various periods, has been called the Montana or wooded country since the first colony was planted there, two hundred and fifty-six years ago, says a writer in Harper's Weekly. The experiences of the early settlers were an endless succession of romantic adventures. Towns were built and destroyed many times, and there is scarcely a single site which has not been bathed with the blood of white and Indian through centuries of conflict. Spanish and Peruvian possession of this territory has consequently been more nominal than real until within the last twenty years, during which time several of the old mission stations flourished forth into cities of from two thousand to six thousand inhabitants under the commercial stimulus given by the opening of the Amazon to the flags of all nations in 1890.

Accordingly the majority of the pure whites now living in the Montana are either Peruvians originally from the west coast or Germans, French and English, with two or three Americans who have been allured to this remote corner of the globe by the prospect of speedily amassing fortunes in the rubber trade. These new comers are other noble examples of manhood, full of that courage and determination which are essential in establishing government and commercial prosperity in the midst of a nomad and sometimes treacherous native population. Women of apparently equal rank are, however, conspicuously absent.
