"Among others the most important was the deal by which the democrats were to nominate Compson as a lay figure, and then withdraw him in favor of Pierce, in return for Joe Waldrop's withdrawal, and the transfer of populist votes to Raley for congress. However, this has fallen through. In a letter to W. A. Sample written last week, Waldrop stated emphatically that he was in the that all statements to the contrary were absolutely false. This fact was known to the democratic leaders at Astoria, and they also knew that Nathan Pierce' utterly repudiated every suggestion of fusion, or combination.
