The Great Northern strike is complete in a half dozen states.

EVERY time we see a copy of the La Grande Chronicle we are impressed with the fact that it is the neatest sheet, typographically, in the state.

A WILLAMETTE valley paper says "hogs pay." Yes, some do, but some others do not. It depends upon the hog, says a brother editor. Yes, wholly.

THE Portland contingent of Coxey's army are not "marching on." Rather they have been taken back to Portland and will have to fight Uncle Sam over the train-stealing incident.

GEORGE SEARS, the independent republican, has been endorsed by the pop-dem. machine down in Multnomah. The straight-outs will take to the woods, as it is a choice between republicans.

THE republican ticket as a ticket from top to bottom, is the kind to catch votes. Back of it is a principle greater than the ticket, and to fully endorse this principle is to vote for every republican candidate.

Gov. McGraw, of Washington, proposes to uphold the law against the aggressions of Coxeyites, but Gov. Penoyer impresses Sheriff Kelly with the idea that this is a civil not a military government, and hence refuses the aid of the O. N. G. to keep order. Fanny man is Sylvester.

JUDGE LORD is a celebrated jurist of this state, and has for twelve years occupied the supreme bench; Judge Galloway is a one-charge county judge and is little known outside of Yamhill; Nathan Pierce has made a success raising wheat and owns 1,000 acres of the farming land. Lord is a protectionist the others are free traders. Take your choice.

THE gold reserve is down dangerously near the limit. On the gold standard plan, the Wallstreeters can trade legal tenders for our gold and then force us to buy it back with bonds. It will soon be in order for Secretary Carlisle to buy some more of our own money. While gold is the world's standard, silver is the coinage standard, and is nearer the correct measure for debts and for a medium of exchange. It has lost none of its value since 1873, compared with those things which we must sell to get money. A debt payable in "gold coin of the present weight and fineness" is legalized robbery, for gold as a measure of value, is worth 200 per cent, and is going in value steadily. Bimetallism is the only cure for this evil, but protection is necessary in order to carry out the plan and to restore confidence. Our country cannot keep its money under free trade, matters not how much good money it might have. Besides the system gives employment that belongs at home to foreign people. A protective tariff policy and bimetallism is the hope of a vast majority of our people.

IT has been remarked that Hon. J. H. Riley is a man of "influence." We have heard that he has been known to exert that "influence" to feather his own nest, at others' loss. The Gazette will say, however, that in all its dealings with him as a banker, it has found him accommodating, reliable and strictly honest. The principal trouble with Riley is that he is a democrat, and Eastern Oregon's best interests cannot be best subserved by a man of that party. Hon. W. R. Ellis, the present incumbent, has worked faithfully in the interest of the people. His work shows for itself; he is a man of marked ability though unassuming; his reputation for strict honor and integrity is well known. Hon. W. R. Ellis will go back to congress by a larger vote than ever before polled in Eastern Oregon.

THE Baker City Blade says: Mr. Ellis holds correct views on the silver question and is ever to be found striving to advance the grand principles of republicanism. He is alive to the best interests of the district which he represents and his constituency are well pleased with the labor of Hon. W. R. Ellis and will rally to his support at the polls on June 4 in such numbers as to warrant the assertion that he will be elected by a sweeping majority to represent the second district in congress.

HON. W. R. ELLIS, nominee upon the republican ticket in the second congressional district, is often mentioned as the fair complexioned gentleman from Oregon, and his opponent, the nominee upon the democratic ticket for the same place, is known far and near as Slippery Jim, of Pendleton. Although Hon. J. H. Riley may be entitled to the common title applied to him, he can never slip into the congressional seat now occupied by the fair complexioned gentleman from Oregon.—Baker City Blade.

THE fusion of the populists with the democrats in Multnomah county will not save a single candidate on the state ticket to the democracy. This year the republicans are coming to the Cascade mountains from Eastern Oregon with the largest majorities for Ellis and the rest of the ticket that were ever given to party leaders. There will be a republican cyclone in the Inland Empire in June.—The Dalles Mountaineer.

PEPPER has introduced a bill forbidding any one person to own more than 100 acres of land. While such a law would be a God-send to the Kansas land owner who is kept poor by paying taxes, it would go hard with Pierce, the pop. nominee for governor of Oregon.—Salem Statesman.

A CONTEMPORARY find that the following countries have nominated ladies to fill the office of county school superintendent: Harney, Morrow, Umatilla, Lane, Klamath, Crook, and many others in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Sweeney-Johnson Drug Co.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds.—Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Sweeney-Johnson Drug Co.

NEW IMMIGRATION LAW.

One of the most important measures now awaiting action in congress is a bill designed to make better citizens of immigrants coming to this country, and to lessen the number of undesirable additions to our population. This measure known as H. R., 5246, was introduced by Rep. Wm. A. Stone of Pennsylvania, and has been favorably reported to the house by the judiciary committee.

In addition to present requirements of law, the immigrant is compelled by this bill to secure from the consul or other representatives of the United States, nearest the immigrant's last place of residence, a certificate showing that the representative has made an investigation concerning the immigrant, and that the immigrant is not one of those excluded from this country under its present laws or any law that may be adopted. The following quoted from the report of the judiciary committee, will give some of the reasons why every citizen should favor this measure:

"The purpose of this bill is to prevent the criminals and paupers of Europe from being sent here as immigrants. Statistics show that much too large a proportion of the immigrants now coming here are incapable of self support. By the last census, the per cent. of persons born in foreign countries is 14.77 per cent, and yet this census shows that 26 per cent. of the white prisoners confined in jails and simple prisons are persons of foreign birth. The total number of white convicts in our penitentiaries whose birth-place is known, is 28,440, composed of 13,715 native born and 14,725 foreign born, showing that more than one-half of all our white convicts are of foreign birth. Our benevolent institutions contain 69,962 inmates by the last census * * * of which the foreign born compose 24 per cent. The total number of the white inmates of our poorhouses * * * is 63,696, of which number 27,648, or a little over 51 per cent, were born in foreign countries. These statistics show that with a foreign population of 14.77 per cent, more than half of our white penitentiary convicts and more than half of the inmates of our poorhouses, are foreigners, and prove that the immigrants coming here during the past few years, too many of them are deficient in morals, and are incapable physically of self-support. Foreign countries not only encourage immigration of criminals and paupers but use public money to pay their expenses here. This fact seems to be a sufficient reason why so large a percentage of immigrants so soon find themselves in our prisons and poorhouses. The means adopted have been found wholly inadequate to keep out of the country those really included in the excluded list. The superintendent of immigration states that during the six months ending Dec 31, 1893, 183,028 immigrants arrived, and 1,258 of them were deported as falling within the list excluded by the law; less than one per cent. The examination on the arrival of the immigrants must necessarily be wholly insufficient to determine whether the immigrant belongs to the excluded class or not, and in many instances where the immigrants have made the long journey to the place of examination, and perhaps, has expended his all in the undertaking, sympathy overcomes the doubt as to his eligibility, and he is admitted. Under the present system, immigrant's word has to be taken for most of the inquiries and there is no means of refuting him if he answers untruthfully. This change strikes at no nationality but simply at that class of incapables of all nations who can be only a burden to us, and whose moral influence can do us much harm."

CRICKET AN OLD GAME.

Some Evidence to Show It Was Played Twelve Hundred Years Ago.

Like most games played with a ball, the origin of cricket may be said to be lost in obscurity. Numerous researches have been made in the hope of fixing a date, but no really satisfactory conclusion has been arrived at, though it is tolerable certain that the game, in some shape or form, existed at a very remote period of antiquity. It is considered highly probable by London Spare Moments that the word cricket is a corruption of croag, a variation of an old Saxon word signifying a game played with a crooked bat; if so, it would appear that cricket was known attorney, addressed an audience here Saturday night, in conjunction with the Hon. J. F. Caples.

The populists held their primaries last Friday. The convention was composed of 33 delegates. They effected a county ticket—by using nearly all the delegates for candidates. They need a revival in their midst. Can't Morrow county furnish a worthy brother to aid the cause here?

The Hon. J. F. Caples, of Portland, delivered an address to a very large and enthusiastic audience here Saturday night, the new opera house being almost completely filled. Music was furnished by the Dalles Orchestral Union. This is the first gun of the campaign.

The Dalles Telephone and Telegraph Company have just about completed their work here of putting in a complete system for a long distance and local line. The telephone creates great sport for some of the young folks here, using it as a means to conduct the innocent amusement of sending kisses to each other, but mistakes occur sometimes.

Judge Bradshaw and Bennett returned from Gilliam county court Saturday. The docket there this time was very heavy. Jim Barnard, of Fossil, was sent to the pen for two years or stealing cattle. Mr. Barnard has met with very adverse circumstances in the last year. About six months ago his father died, and three months since he lost his wife. Now he goes home the road to Salem.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

A Claim That Other Countries Adopt But Not Us.

An eminent English electrical engineer, on a visit to this country, spoke recently in high praise of American originality in electrical work. He also stated that Europeans wait for us to develop a new industry, but when they do introduce it they do it so thoroughly that we are left far in the rear. An instance of this is found in electric lighting. A few years ago London had very few electric lights compared with American cities. Now it far exceeds any of our large cities, not only in the number of lights, but more especially in the thorough, careful, well designed and permanent construction of the plants. The same solidity and excellence of construction obtain in Berlin and Paris. While in America we were trying to make ourselves think that underground lines were not practicable, in Europe they were introducing nothing else but such wires. Much of this is due to the fact that we have been doing pioneer work, and many of the older installations partook necessarily of the temporary character of experimental plants. But the standard of construction is rapidly rising, as good work is found cheaper in the end.

It is pointed out, however, by a leading electrical journal that while we may well take a lesson from abroad in the building of our plants, there exists still one great drawback in the want of proper municipal participation in our large cities without which we can never expect to have such general and complete systems as abroad. A municipal control in which "boodles" and "franchises" play an important part must necessarily be unsatisfactory and expensive. The way in which the progress of the storage battery in this country has been retarded by litigation is also alluded to and thus commented on: "More money has been expended in the legal controversy than in developing and exploiting the several storage systems. Despite this fact, the companies now engaged in the controversy are in practically the same relative positions that they occupied several years ago. It certainly does not look well to see the electrical companies of Europe installing storage battery plants, whereas electric lighting plants are found, while in America the plants of any consequence do not exceed a dozen in number."

W. L. SALING, School Superintendent.

among us nearly six hundred years ago, as the word is found to have been in use during the reign of Edward I. (1300). This, however, is supported only by material of slender character. Strutt, one of our best authorities on ancient sport, adduces some evidence to show that "club-ball," played in the fourteenth century, may have been the parent of cricket, but both "cat-and-dog" (mention of which occurs in the sixteenth century), and "stool-ball" (frequently referred to in the seventeenth century), have a closer affinity. It is stated in Russell's "History of Guildford" that cricket was played there in the middle of the sixteenth century, but for fifty years subsequently no trace has been found; and indeed history tells us really little or nothing of the game that is not speculative, until the opening of the eighteenth century.

The earliest matches of which copies of the scores have been preserved, were those of Kent vs. All England, decided on the artillery ground, February, in 1746, and of Hampshire vs. Kent, which took place at Bishopscourt padock, near Canterbury, August 19, 1772. The latter portion of the eighteenth century was remarkable for the formation of the Marylebone club, which took place in 1787 on the dissolution of the White Conduit club, which had had an existence of several years, and had played matches in the fields from which the club took its name. The new club, destined to become the controller of cricket, located itself in Dorset square, in the parish of Marylebone, for about a quarter of a century; then went to North Bank, Regent's park; but after a brief period had again to make a move, and finally in 1814 settled down in the St. John's Wood road, its present quarters.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained competent expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and All Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
