HALLOCK, Harrington and Gilliam too.

BALSIGER, Lord and Ayers are on our ticket.

Don't forget Boothby, Howard and Willis.

STRIKING miners in the Cripple creek region are rioting.

E. L. FREELAND and N. S. Wheatstone shouldn't be forgotten.

VOTE the republican ticket straight. This is a republican year.

BUTZ, the ex-congressman, has been found guilty of offering a bribe.

J. H. CHADLERBURN, one of the best editors in the state, has charge of The Dalles Chronicle.

J. F. WILLS is the right man for assessor. He will do the work himself and in a strictly first-class manner.

FRENDERLAST, the assassin of Carter Harrison, will go to the insane asylum. This will not satisfy the people.

J. S. BOOTHBY is the proper person to represent Morrow county in the state legislature. No Penneyer in his.

Be careful how you deposit your ballot. We all want better times, and we can only get it by going back to the old way of doing things.

FRANK GILLIAM, Morrow county's next treasurer, has been identified with Morrow county for years past, and is thoroughly reliable and honest.

The republican candidate for clerk has never been accused of having offered to fuse nor to trade any one of his fellow candidates off for his own benefit.

Mr. ELLIS has always been a friend to an open river, and, in connection with Mr. Hermann, can do effective work in this line during the next session.—T.M.

RALBY has a fine card with his picture on it, but he forgets that the people of the first district want protection. Ellis is just as good a silver man as any of them, and he is a protectionist besides.

A VOTE FOR J. S. BOOTHBY Is A Vote For PROTECTION AND PROSPERITY.

DUFUR is more of a gentleman than Jayne, says or infers the Record. More of a moralist, says the same paper. This is getting it stout, don't you think? Any person who knows Dufur will agree with the Gazette that he is a clever old man, but his morals are not a particularly prominent thing in his makeup. He is a gentleman, but does he out-rank Jayne? Not by a long-shot. His qualifications are no better than Jayne's, and judging from his record as a lawyer, and as a good man, Mr. Jayne was so unfortunate as to lose a right hand about eighteen months ago, and yet this does not interfere with his duties. He writes a nice hand, uses a typewriter quite proficiently, and more than that is capable of putting to good use the wisdom and learning of a well-drilled mind. This is the kind of a man Jayne is, and the voters recognize it.

The Gazette believes that our young republicans allowed their enthusiasm to carry them a little too far last Monday, though we have not heard any criticisms from the pops or demo-pops about the way the republicans were treated at Lexington, Grange Hall and Eight Mile. Neither have we heard them objecting to the fact that when Penneyer's name was mentioned at Hor's meeting at Albina recently, the pops and demo-pops came nearly raising the roof for fully two minutes. These little matters seemed to have escaped observation.

The Baker Blade says that "Ralby is in town." And also adds that if he would "come down a notch or two from his aristocratic perch and mingle more freely with the bone and sinew of the country—the toiling masses and up-builders of this great Western country—he would pull a much larger vote on June 4—but still not large enough to get there by any means."

CONGRESSMAN ELLIS is far from being the idle and irresponsible person in congress his enemies would have the public believe. He has done good and careful work for Oregon, has proven himself a wide awake and energetic man. He is about on the tariff and his financial views are sound. He should be sent back to continue his efforts in Oregon's behalf.—Chronicle.

The insinuation is made elsewhere in these columns that the Gazette is "standing in" with the present county administration. We deny it emphatically. Why the semi-annual statement has not been made, we do not know. We have heard it spoken of several times, but it never came to the printer.

F. J. HALLOCK has been there before as clerk. He was the first deputy, and got out the first records in our county. He is well posted on common law, is accurate, accommodating and strictly honorable. Our voters cannot do better than to make Freddy our next clerk.

The present representative in congress from this district, Hon. W. R. Ellis, is a strong advocate of an "open river" and the construction of the Niagara canal. And instead of campaigning he is attending to his duties in congress. This is what the voters want.

The qualifications of Hon. C. E. Wolvertson for supreme judge are unquestioned. His reputation as a judge of law is not surpassed by that of any other attorney in the whole state of Oregon, and personally he is above reproach.—Ex.

The old soldier who wrote up from Lexington recently is not a very prominent one. What is his record? Does he belong to the G. A. R.; and if not, why not? Boothby's war record is one of which any man ought to be proud.

NEARLY every paper in the district is supporting Jayne for prosecuting attorney. Jayne is a poor man and the people are with him. They know a competent man, a man of brains, of integrity and good morals.

GEORGE HARRINGTON, plain George, the republican candidate for sheriff, will get there. He was the first sheriff of Morrow county and so conducted the affairs of the office that he needs no recommendation at our hands.

MISS ANNIE BALSIGER is one of our leading instructors, and, if elected, will grace the superintendency of our county, by improving the local school system. This is very necessary in our section.

POLITICAL JOES.

It will be to the interest of every taxpayer in the 7th judicial district to elect Hon. A. A. Jayne for prosecuting attorney. He was a most pleasant and agreeable gentleman, and being one of the most able and successful lawyers in the state, there is no reason why he should not be elected prosecuting attorney by a rousing majority.—Antelope Herald.

Hon. A. A. Jayne the republican nominee for prosecuting attorney, is a man who should and undoubtedly will get the vote and support of every republican in the 7th judicial district. Mr. Jayne is a prominent attorney of Gilliam county, and his ability as a lawyer is recognized throughout Eastern Oregon. He does not put himself up as a professional office seeker, but on account of his peculiar fitness to fill the position, he received the nomination in a rank republican district by a unanimous vote. This alone is recommendation enough to elect him by an overwhelming majority. This is exactly the kind of a majority Mr. Jayne will roll up on the 4th of June.—Antelope Herald.

Hood's and only Hood's. Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to purify and quicken your blood and to give you appetite and strength. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Any effort to substitute another remedy is proof of the merit of Hood's.

HONEST FRANK GILLIAM FOR TREASURER.

NASHBY. CHAPTER III. SECOND SERIES. The Hon. Joe Gips is an old lecturer for the pits of Co. treasurer. Hope he won't get it, as he don't expect it.

Hour nominees for Representative will not speak in behalf of our hour party.

The Skool Meetin in Lexington resulted in the election of one of the most prominent and active business men in the district last Monday. It took the united efforts of some of the church and pops together to down that old publican, besides they had to get the young man's mother to come an vote for him.

The populist party met in mass on last Monday in Heppner. After the house was called to order the first thing on the program was a tune by the Rev. T. J. Galopoway, played on the hand-organ. If there had bin a munky then the first seen would have bin complete. The Rev. T. J. to represent the pore of this country, the munky to represent the cunningness of the peple's party and the organ to represent the hole party as kalamity howlers.

I was to town to hear that grate man Governor Paysoner speech, an it is the same old story about us Democrats an Publicans. That was all that he could talk about. Now we Democrats led him to the ofis of Governor in good fath an we do not like for him to aboze, beeman an kick us while we are down just becase we are down.

We do not care how much he kicks an abozes the Publican's K. if, but 9 qts. of water an 1 qt. of milk is pretty hard on the kaff if it is a Publican Kaff, but we note the kaff is not busted yet.

An that kute advertin dodge at the last that kept the klumax.

And all there talk was about the other party. And it is geerly considered that if a man don't talk about anything else but his neighbors he is not that much ov.

There is a kontingent of Koxey's army in course of konstruccion down on Klark Canyon, and their kaptin is a man by the name of Hank Parsons. We all no that a parson had otter be a gad man. The wa it kome about was about this way. A few nites ago as a shivaree gang wuz a goin home from Mr. Ij or v a bushel's place, down on Klark Canyon, The atop at the Parson's house an give him a few rounds with their bella an pass an finely anozed him in his sweet basher slumbers, an he come out or down to see what the racket was, forgettin that he had nothin on his person but his nuzenshoes, and they told him that there was a Co. of Koxey's army down to lexington an set him if he was not one too an he said he wuz, an they set him if there was any more in close around that he could get to go with him an he said he noed that Joe Friend would go with him. So the ornd left him an after the lta left he went in the house an put on his cloze and got on a horse an went to a Crabtree to hire him to take care of his stoek while he was with Koxey's army and after securin Mr. Crabtree's services, he next went to see his friend Jo. Jo was found and the Parson asked him if he would go with him to jine Koxey's army. An his friend Jo said he would go. "An the next thing was to get some guns; the Parson asked Jo if he had a gun. Jo said no, but he noed where he could get one. An then they started to lexington to meet the Kompany of Koxey's army. Arrivin at lexington and not findin any komrade, they thot of goin to see their GRAND Master, Profit, Priest and King, (P. E. Sign) and after konsultin with him for a time somethin less than 2 hours, this koncluded it was only a little joke plade on them by the Co. of Shivareers, and finely reached home about day time in the mornin, a wizer but knot a hapier man. Now Bro. Parson, let me give you a little advice (advice is so very cheap as there is no tariff on it an I know that you are a free trader an you wuz everything on the free list.) NEVER RIX AFTER SHADERS. Yes, go, Capt. Parson, go to Koxey. We can't go along without such as you.

I will tell U somethin now, Mister Editor, that I want you to keep secret for a few days. I have bin in a trance for 7 days, 19 hours an 37 1/2 minutes, an I will tell you where I have bin. I have knot bin to hell nor heaven an Bro. Dampman has, nor have I bin on a Mote line, nor did I have a red hot lita to conduct my weay foot on the way to that haven or extenal rest. But I have bin up Salt River, an I will tell U in my next letter who I saw there. I saw places prepared for a lot of me an some wimmen. I think I will go in another trance about next Monday, which will last about long enough to see the peple's party or this Co. snods under.

Yors truly, V. NASBY.

ANOTHER CAMPAIGN LIE.

TO EDITOR PEOPLE'S PARTY COLUMN: I see in the last issue of the Gazette, in the Peoples Party Column, a communication written by some democrat who says he would not vote for a man who will sell his principles for the sake of office, nor for anyone that will stand in with such a man.

He also says that he heard that certain democrats were going over the county with Hayes and Morrow whisky. Now I will say that if there was any democrat doing such work, it was without my knowledge or consent, and anyone telling anything to the contrary tells that which is absolutely false, as I am not standing in with Morrow.

As for him using Morrow whisky, I can't say, for he is running his own boat without my assistance. J. C. HAYES.

WHO LIES, PENNEYER OR CARLISLE, SCOTT, ET AL?

The Weekly Oregonian of May 4th makes a very weak plea for the National Bank. The editor starts out by accusing Gov. Penneyer of making a false statement in regard to the mode of establishing said banks. The governor said in substance that the banker pawned his bonds to the government as security for the notes issued to the bank. Here is what he said, "The government now loans money only to the national banks. When he wants money he goes to the government and pawns his bonds at 100 per cent of their face value. He receives his money and leaves bonds in pawn."

This the editor of the Oregonian says is false, saying that, "The government lends no money to the banks. It has no money to lend." The editor then goes on to say "If (the government) permits every man or association who can pay $50,000 worth of bonds to issue $45,000 in circulating notes. These notes are issued by the banks and must be redeemed by them, the bonds being deposited in the treasury to secure redemption. Any one at all acquainted with this matter can see at a glance how deceptive is the idea conveyed in the above language.

"The government lends no money to the banks. It has none to lend." This is news indeed. The bankers themselves ought to thank Mr. Scott for this information. Where do the bankers get their notes? Why they issue them of course, the government can't make money you know. Carlisle says so: "This is a great and powerful government, but there is one thing it cannot do, it cannot create money."

The above words were uttered before the Chamber of commerce, New York, Nov. 21, 1883. So you see, Mr. Scott is right according to Carlisle. News ain't it? The banks can create money but the government cannot. The fountain is getting above its source. So this banking business is a private institution so far as the issuing of its notes are concerned. The government has but little to do with it except to hold their bonds for them and pay them interest on them, and in case the bank should fail, redeem their notes for them.

No wonder the public mind is befogged on this money question when such doctrines are taught through the leading press and by those high in authority. If the government cannot coin (create) money how can it delegate such power to corporations? Does not the constitution declare that congress shall have power to coin money and regulate its value. But our modern Shylock political economist declare that we, the people, of this great nation have no money. The title to the National Banking law passed by congress June 3, 1864, reads as follows: "An act to provide a national currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof."

The title of this act declares that these notes are a "national currency" issued to the bank by authority of the government as any one can see by turning to Sec. 21 of our national banking laws which provide that the Comptroller shall issue to the bank equal to 90 per cent of the par value of the bonds deposited as security for said notes. So this national bank currency is furnished (issued) to the banks by the government as Gov. Penneyer says. In other words it is loaned to the banks by the government. These notes are signed by the bank officers and they then circulate as money.

Mr. Carlisle says that the U. S. government has not the power to create money, and Harvey Scott, who runs a gold-bug organ in Portland, virtually says the same thing. Carlisle knows better. So does Mr. Scott. They are both base deceivers. evidently the employ of Wall street to help deceive the people on the financial question. Listen to Carlisle again in his speech to the bankers and brokers of Wall Street. "There are some things however, which the government can do for the establishment and preservation of a sound and stable currency. It can suspend or limit the coinage of either metal. Queer, ain't it, that the government cannot create money, but yet it can "suspend or limit the coinage of either metal." Gold and silver are of course the "metals" referred to. If the government has the power to "suspend or limit" the coinage of gold and silver and as neither of the metals are money until they are coined or receive the government stamp, any more than is copper or nickel, the government has the power to put its stamp upon any material it may see fit and declare it money as it had done over and over again. The Oregonian echoing the voice of Carlisle says the government cannot loan money. "It has none to lend." For downward brazen lying the Wall street gang "take the cake." The government does create money and loan it to the bankers at about the cost of printing, etc., one per cent. The only security the government will accept is U. S. bonds which the Comptroller holds in trust or "pawn" as Penneyer says, as security for such a loan. As said at the head of these remarks, who lies, C.

COMMUNICATION TO TAXPAYERS.

TO THE EDITOR: The statement has been repeatedly circulated over the county, and especially in this section, that Mr. Morrow the democratic nominee for re-election, is the only one of the three nominees that has the necessary qualifications to fill the office of county clerk of this county, and some have even had the gall to say that he is in reality the only efficient and qualified clerk the county has ever had. Now in justice to Fred Hallock, I think it might not only be said that he opened up the first set of clerk's books for the county but has since initiated every clerk the county has had, having served as a deputy for a time under all of them.

It has also been said that we should elect Morrow because his judgment on all legal papers is excellent, and that he is also well versed on the law relative to the duties of a county clerk. This statement sounds well on the face, but will it bear investigation? I say no. He has not only neglected his duties, but has actually violated the law in one instance, for which he is liable to indictment and fine. This is the law relative to publishing a semi-annual statement of the financial condition of the county, for the benefit of the taxpayers and residents of said county. No such statement has been published for more than two years, although I understand the present sheriff has always made out his statements and turned them over to the clerk, as the law requires and often insisted on the publication of the same. But has it been done? Taxpayers, what do you know of the financial condition of your county? Have you ever seen any published statement of the same during the present term? Of course if you should ask the ever obliging (7) official who now holds down the clerk's chair about our county's financial condition the reply would be, "Oh b—G—d, we're getting nearer out of debt every day." Haven't you heard him say this? But far better authority I think would be the length of time scrip is out before being redeemed. Sheriff Noble is authority for the statement that scrip was at one time redeemed in a little more than six months after being issued. Today I know of several pieces that have been issued and registered for nearly two years, and have not yet been redeemed. T. W. Ayers, Jr., of your city, I understand, has a piece that has been out for a year and eight months. Taxpayers, does this look like we are getting nearer out of debt every day, with or without an oath, just as you like? In Multnomah county last fall I remember that the county officials were indicted and fined for not publishing their statement within a week of the time as prescribed by law. This I believe, was brought about by an investigation by a committee of one Hundred who wanted to know the exact condition of the county financially. Why have you newspaper men said nothing of this? Is it possible that you are standing in with Morrow in his administration extravagance? According to the laws of our state, as enforced down in Multnomah county, the clerk is liable to a fine of $25 for every time he has failed to publish the financial statement. Let us see to it that the next grand jury investigates this matter. And in the meantime citizens and taxpayers, let us put a stop to this extravagance by electing a man who will show up the present financial condition of our county in an economical manner, and publish a semi-annual statement of the condition of our county as prescribed by law. AN INDEPENDENT VOTER.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS. Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney. With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be, at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

IF YOU WANT INFORMATION ABOUT PENSIONS. ADDRESS A LETTER OR POSTAL CARD TO THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, JOHN WEDDERBURN, Managing Attorney, Washington, D. C. P. O. Box 463. Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days or over, in the late war, are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances. WIDOWS of such soldiers and sailors are entitled, if not remarried, whether soldier's death was due to army service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled if the soldier's death was due to service. CHILDREN are entitled (if under sixteen years) in almost all cases where there was no widow, or she has since died or remarried. PARENTS are entitled, whether their widow or child, provided soldier died in service, or from effects of service, and they are now dependent upon their own labor for support. It makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy. Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights. Thousands of soldiers drawing from $2 to $20 per month under the old law are entitled to higher rates under new law, not only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but also for others, whether due to service or not. Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not. Survivors and their widows, of the Black Hawk, Creek, Cherokee and Seminole or Florida Indian Wars of 1818 to 1842, are entitled under a recent act. Mexican War soldiers and their widows also entitled, if sixty-two years of age or disabled or dependent. Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under late laws or not. Rejected claims reopened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal. Certificates of service and discharge obtained for soldiers and sailors of the late war who have lost their original papers. Send for laws and information. No charge for advice. No fee unless successful. Address, THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, JOHN WEDDERBURN, Managing Attorney, P. O. Box 463, WASHINGTON, D. C.
