TOM REED ON SILVER.

The Fortnightly Review published recently an interview with ex Speaker Reed on silver, which has made sensation on both sides of the ocean. The great republican leader sounds a keynote for future campaigns by declaring silver and the tariff must be regarded "not as two issues, but as one," and that the depreciation of silver is vastly increasing the export business of silver nations, representing 700,000,000 of people. In the interview Mr. Reed said:

"You in England want us to lower duties. What will you give us in exchange? Will you open your mints to silver by agreement? One thing at least, you may rely upon—you will not find the republican party offering the other cheek as these democratic gentlemen do. For years past they have been posing as the friends of silver, and because you people in England close the Indian mints and put a duty on silver bullion, those friends of free silver are now preparing to reward our generosity by lowering duty all around. One thing, at least, I have learned since the cessation of silver purchases last year, that cheap silver is an effective stimulus to Asiatic ports, and this being the case, we have got to consider silver and the tariff not as two issues, but as one."

"It is evidently no time to lower our tariffs when the currency of 700,000,000 of Orientals is depreciated and the exporting powers of gold to us as a nation is thereby increased. The decrease in silver—its value to pay wages and its value to buy provisions in India—that is what makes the silver question an issue that we are forced to face. You recognize, of course, that the position has entirely changed in the past six months, the previous enormous compulsory monthly purchases of silver, a most vicious proceeding, went far to confuse men's minds and to prevent the enactment of legislation for a serious currency problem that had to be solved. It is an evident improvement for the debtor nations, on which list we stand first, to raise the price of silver and thereby reduce the bounty on exports which Asia now enjoys. This can be done best by agreement with other nations favorable to silver, and by such a scale of high tariffs against those nations which reject the monetary agreement as will insure us a favorable balance of trade. In short, a higher price for silver, by reducing Asiatic exports to Europe will increase ours; add to this a high tariff, and we can keep our gold at home, or at least it will quickly come back again."

MONEY MUST RULE.

If an outstanding obligation in the form of a note is put into the hands of the First National Bank for collection, as a matter of business, it is the duty of the cashier of that bank to make the collection. This is a part of their business, and no one would expect anything else. It is not supposed, however, that it is any part of their duty to herald the fact far and wide by brass bands or through their president. If the Gazette's job office is asked to do some printing, it will do it. That is our business, and we will continue to do work whenever the opportunity presents.

Yet over the transaction of a mere matter of business in our line, C. A. Rhea grows furiously angry. We owed his bank honestly $800. He was not content with having his cashier collect this in a business-like manner, but must go out on the streets of Heppner and inform the people that we were obligated in a certain sum of money, and now we must "dig up" or "suit" would be instituted at once. Was this done as a matter of business? Far from it. The bank and bank's money were used by Mr. Rhea as the president as a means to injure the standing of The Patterson Publishing Co. Our business affairs must be made public property to satisfy the vanity and arrogance of Mr. Rhea, and all because we had done a piece of job work for the republican party of Morrow county. The boys laid bare some facts in connection with Mr. Rhea, and as the truth hurts, though they didn't tell the half, so some person must suffer. The Gazette was singled out as a soft soap. It was supposed that we would drop down at the feet of the would-be money king and sue for pardon. That our tears and lamentations would fill the valley of Heppner, even to the top of the high hills adjacent. Vain hope! The people of the land have been too long tied down by men who wield in injustice the scepter of wealth. The eyes of our land have been blinded in not boldly proclaiming the rights of the people. That any money broker has the right to demand his principal and interest, no one will deny, but in justice he has not the right to humiliate the borrower in public places, trampling under his heels those sacred privileges born to us all.

In this matter in which Messrs. Rhea and Kellogg have cut an unenviable figure, the sympathy of the public is with us. We bear rumors of libel suits, hammerless pistols carried in the left coat pockets, lickings laid up for the whole force as well as our wife, and in— in particular, but all the legions of the infernal regions, backed by dynamite and shotguns innumerable, will not deter the Gazette one iota from laying bare the manner in which Lum Rhea and Frank Kellogg do business as the recognized head of the First National Bank. The Gazette force is still at home, and the Eagle still exists at Long Creek, so "lay on McDuff!"

God gave us all things, but he made a wonderful mistake when he dished us up a democratic congress.

The Vigilant defeated the Britanna on English waters in the eighth and ninth races. This is some consolation.

Hill stands with the president on the Wilson letter, and made a stirring, two-hour speech to that effect Tuesday last.

Wool is reported to have jumped two cents a pound down at The Dalles. Revoems all tariff tinkering, and good prices for wool will prevail.

Did that campaign circular wrong Messrs. Rhea and Kellogg, saying aside the question of an horseship? Did it state any nutcracker in regard to these gentlemen? Investigate for yourselves, readers.

SENATOR GORMAN, the Maryland senator, scored President Cleveland on the floor of the senate last Monday. He said it was the senate bill or nothing. It will be the latter, if that is the plan of fight.

The Gazette has received such general commendation on its course respecting our friends (7), the bankers, that it is constrained to feel that the public are just judges.

POSTMASTER PROTEMER, of Portland, used his own discretion in making appointments and now "the gang" are after his scalp. We admire a man who will not be ruled by any clique.

CHINA and Japan are having trouble over Corea. It may involve Europe and the United States. It would not be a bad thing now to have a good foreign war to engross the minds of our people.

The house has passed by the necessary two-thirds vote the amendment providing that senators shall be elected by a direct vote of the people. If the senate will do likewise, there is little doubt but that it would be ratified by the necessary number of states, two-thirds.

The Record says this Rhea Kellogg business is a private matter. We most certainly disagree with the Record as to that. When any person lays bare private business to public gaze then it is a matter of public concern, and belongs to the public. The public are now acting as judges to determine whether or not Mr. Rhea has a moral right to go out and say that he will show us which way the cat jumped. That on account of the shop following its occupation in the line of job-printing it must pay up a certain note calling for $800. This is now a public matter, and with them we leave it. A bank managed to bring disgrace and humiliation upon any citizen, to satisfy the spite of one or two individuals, is contrary to the spirit of right and justice. Do your business with business men and you will always avoid any such difficulties.

Home and Abroad.

It is the duty of every one, whether at home or travelling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and cure such ills as are liable to come upon all in every day life. Hood's Sarsaparilla keeps the blood pure and less liable to absorb the germs of disease.

THE WESTERN PEDAGOGUE.

We are in receipt of the May number of our state school paper. It exceeds any of the former numbers in value. The paper this month contains many new and valuable features. The illustrated series on the schools of the state is introduced by a paper on the Friends Polytechnic Institute at Salem, Oregon. These papers cannot fail to be of great value both to the schools and to the public.

There are also several fine articles by our best writers and the departments "Current Events," "Saturday Thoughts," "Educational News," "The Oracle Answers, Correspondents," etc., each contain much valuable reading for teachers or parents. The magazine has about 50 pages of matter, well printed and arranged. We pronounce the Western Pedagogue the best educational monthly on the coast.

Everyone of our readers should have the paper if they are at all interested in education. No teacher school director or student can get along well without it. We will receive subscriptions at this office. Price only $1.00 a year. When desired we will send the Western Pedagogue and Gazette one year to one address for $2.00. Call and examine sample copies. Teachers, directors and parents, now is the time to subscribe. If

THE SUGAR-COATED CONGRESS.

How dare our hearts to our democratic Congress. As long as inaction presents it to view. The bill of your Wilson, the deep-tongued traitor. And every mad pledge that their lunacy knew! The widespread depression, the mills that close by it. The rock of free silver where great Grover fell! They've busied our country, no use to deny it. And damn the old party, it's busied as well! This G. Cleveland Congress. This Queen Lily Congress. This will free-trade Congress. We all love so well.

Their moss-covered pledges we no longer treasure. For often at noon when out hunting a job, We find that, instead of the corn they had promised. They've given us nothing—not even a cob! How ardent we cut set 'em with lips over-flowing With sulphurous blessings as great swear words 'ell! The emblems of hunger, free trade and free silver! Are sounding in sorrow the workman's knell! This bank-breaking Congress. This mill-closing Congress. This starvation Congress. We all love so well.

How sweet from their eloquent lips to receive it. "United front protection no longer uphold." We listened and voted our dinner pails empty. The factories silent, the furnaces cold. And now far removed from our lost situations, We yearn for regular jobs in our daily lives! We yearn for regular salaries, and for our children to be fed as we were fed. This Fifty-third Congress. This Democratic Congress. This sugar-cured Congress. We wish was in— —Exchange.

JOKE ITEMS.

We are experiencing many warm days and little wind. Fruit is very bountiful this season and is ripening very fast.

The heading industry has full swing in our neighborhood. Laboring men are arriving, but all harvesting crews are organized.

Joe Woolery has accepted a partner in his general merchandising establishment.

Our Sunday school should be re-organized. Is there no one who will undertake the work? Few people are aware of what lasting benefit it would be to our community. Take it even from a worldly standpoint, aside from helping to build up a community, it helps to raise our children to good citizenship which is of the utmost necessity, especially during trials such as are now experienced by the American people.

On the night of the 17th inst., a great misfortune befell one of our highly esteemed and respected neighbors. The home of A. C. Pettys was burned to the ground. Nothing was saved and even their youngest child was fatally injured. We hasten to offer the sympathy of the entire community, for "except loss of life, there can be none greater than that of the home round which so many pleasant memories cling, and in which we have gathered so many household goods—treasures which no money can replace." Their neighbors also proved their liberality by many donations. We have since learned of the loss of their child. In this hour of affliction we earnestly sympathize with them.

Nearing the Grave.

In old age infirmities and weakness hasten to close the gap between us and the grave. Happily scientific research and pharmaceutical skill have aided themselves in furnishing us a reliable means of ameliorating the ailments incident to declining years, and of renewing waning physical energy. Its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a widely comprehensive remedy in disease, and an inestimable blessing to the elderly, the feeble and the convalescent. Bismuthic ailments, trouble with the kidneys and lumbago are among the more common ailments of the aged. These are effectually counteracted by the Bitters, which is likewise a preventative and curative of malarial complaints, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness. It is highly promotive of appetite, sleep and the acquisition of vigor.

CARD OF THANKS.

EDITOR GAZETTE: We wish through your paper to express our heart-felt gratitude for the kindness shown us in our late trouble by all our neighbors and friends, and the assistance rendered by the good people of Heppner and other parts of Morrow county, in contributing to the immediate wants of our grief-stricken family.

CLARKE RESIDENCE BURNED.

The Flames Struggle for Mastery but are Finally Subdued. From the Wednesday's E. O. This morning at 8:30 an alarm of fire brought the department to the E. H. Clarke residence, corner of Alva and Johnson streets, one of the buildings belonging to the Church of the Redeemer. No one was in the house at the time. Mr. Clarke being on the business streets and Harry Raynor somewhere in the vicinity of the dwelling. The remainder of the family are in San Francisco. In the house were all the family effects except such things as Mrs. Clarke and Fred took with them to San Francisco. One of the most prompt responses ever made to an alarm of fire followed the clanging of the bell. In about 12 seconds Alert Hose company had a line of hose ready to throw water and but a few seconds additional elapsed before everything in use was made necessary by the extent of the conflagration. Three streams of water were played on the flames. For many minutes it seemed certain that fire would break through the roof and once under headway, set fire to the church building next door. But a sharp contest by the nozzlemen, aided by the hook and ladder company who scaled the building and opened the roof so water could be thrown inside, finally put out the fire.

The inside was a mass of smoked and charred ruins. Scarcely one article was worth saving, although some linen had been saved before the fire had reached the hottest pitch. On the building is $750 insurance and the Clarke property is covered by insurance ample to pay for all losses.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Clarke had been away half an hour and Harry Raynor nearly as long. Ed Morgan, a milkman, first saw the smoke. The insurance on the building, $750, was held in Clifton & Boyd's agency. On contents, was $2,550 with Howard, Lathrop & Company divided as follows in four companies: $250 on the piano; $800 on pictures and other works of art; $400 on wearing apparel; balance on household furniture and family stores. Mr. Clarke has sufficient to cover the intrinsic value of his effects, yet he lost many things which were prized because they had been long in the family and can never be replaced by purchase.

AN EXTREME CASE.

It may sound harsh to say so, but in all reality it would be a good thing if the United States did get mixed up in the China-Japan imbroglio. A foreign war at this time would be a national blessing. It would remove all danger of civil strife and would go a long way in allaying the feeling of unrest and discontent that is now a positive menace to our government. The doctors say that the best way to cure a sick person is to get the patient's mind away from his suffering. This country needs just that kind of treatment at this time. The excitement of a war with some other nation would take us away from our own calamities. It would revive the national spirit and bring together the discordant elements. But best of all it would give the government an excuse for finding employment for the unemployed. They could be mustered into the military service and be sent abroad to fight our enemies, or if we were invaded they could be organized into armies to fight for their country instead of fighting against it, as some of them have recently been doing. We admit that this would be a drastic remedy for our national ills, but it is better than no remedy.—Telegram.

WANTED

To employ a lady or gentleman to represent us in each county. Salary $40.00 per month. Address with stamp. Chas. A. Robinson & Co., Salina, Kans.

G. A. R. NOTICE.

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new commissioner of pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime. We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If the U. S. soldiers, sailors, or their widows, children or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to the Press Claims Company, at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address: PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, JOHN WEDDERBURN, Managing Attorney, Washington, D. C., P. O. Box 385.

Personal Friends as to Coffin.
The late Earl of Essex was buried in a coffin of oak designed twelve years ago by the deceased nobleman himself, who was a prominent member of the Funeral Reform association, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. It had what is called "open top" work, a normal stand was filled with choice herbs and evergreens. There have been many people in recent years, some of them prominent in other ways, who had their coffins made to order long before the approach of death. Maybe the originator of the fashion was Lord Nelson, who used to keep standing upright in the cabin of the Victory a coffin that an admiral had presented to him one birthday anniversary, and in this coffin his lordship's remains were at last put to rest.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.
Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.
With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.
If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringing on others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

Honorable discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days, or over, in the late war, are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances.
WIDOWS of such soldiers and sailors are entitled, if not remarried, whether soldier's death was due to army service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled, if the soldier's death was due to service.
CHILDREN are entitled, if under sixteen years, in almost all cases where there was no widow, or she has since died or remarried.
Parents are entitled, if soldier left neither widow nor child, provided soldier died in service, or from effects of service, and they are now dependent upon their own labor for support. It makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy.
Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights.
Thousands of soldiers drawing from $2 to $10 per month under the old law are entitled to higher rates under new law, not only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but also for others, whether due to service or not.
Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not.
Survivors, and their widows, of the Black Hawk, Creek, Cherokee and Seminole or Florida Indian Wars of 1832 to 1842, are entitled under a recent act.
Mexican War soldiers and their widows also entitled, if sixty-two years of age or disabled or dependent.
Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under later laws or not.
Rejected claims reopened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal.
