PATENTS!

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of maskind in the factory and workshop, the household and on the farm, as well as in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtenance and impliments of each in order to saye labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of government to deter bim from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exer cised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed it innumerable instances by the employ ment of incompetent counsel, and es pecially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never con sidered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY John Wedderburn, General Manager 518 F street, N. A company of infantry has been formed out of the young men, and their barracks a part of the Indian village. Geronino has been elected an alcalde, or jus ce, and tries minor offenses reported to him. His sentences to terms of imprisonment in the guardhouse seem to ive general satisfaction. DOB ENTERTAINMENTS From Turkish Bath Parties to Cames of

It is a merry dance that Fashion leads us with her capricious fads and fancies Now it is in the method of shaking hands, and then it is the religious fol owing after each other in the matter of amusements. We take, save the New York Sun, to amateur acting and are devoted to slumming. We go in for skirt dancing or Salvation Army work just as the mischievous will-o'-the-wisp eads us. The latest freak is for Turkish bath parties, where one woman so cures the baths and invites all her friends to come and be clean. The gentlemen join the party when the ourls are all in order again, and the affair winds up with a supper, where the ladies, with their glowing faces and bright eyes, wait and wonder where and when the things will ever be ready to eat. There is something unique in this bath party idea when one gets accustomed to it and under stands that one's hostess doesn't at all mean by her invitation that her guests are remiss in the matter of ablution. but that they will enjoy the bath sole y for its luxuriousness. vogue with women just now is a "fad party." It usually takes the form of a luncheon, where everything is rose colored and tied up with bows. And every woman is obliged to confess her set fad, which, when it has made its blushing bow in conscious modesty, is pasted and talked over. Then there the literature party, in which the oman's club dame or the Chautauqua cele girl revels. It is played someg on the principle of progressive ire, only that the guests find at one four sets of partially-written otations, which they are required to out; at another names of books, ese authors are inquired for; at aner pseudonyms to be assorted among rightful people. report of the last census in Bencal, which has just been published, upets several beliefs which hitherto have found general acceptance. For instance, it proves that the natives, instead of being averse to leaving their ancestral villages, are steadily moving from more densely peopled areas to those where the population is less crowded; also that widow remarriage is practically universal in Behar, Orissa. Chota-Nagpore and among the lower eastes of Bengal proper and is unknown only among a very few high castes everywhere and the more re-spectable Sudras of Bengal proper. The report also states that infant mar riage does not exist to any appreciable extent except in northeast Behar and among the Brahmins, Kayasths and other purely Sudra castes of western It also shows the great progress of Mohammedanism, which has increased more than nine per cent. in Bengal proper in the last decade, while the increase in Hinduism is less than five per cent. This fact is explained to be due to the desire on the part of the lowest castes to adopt a religion which treats all men as equals.

THE POPE'S FINANCES.

A Continued Decrease in the Revenues of the Vatican.

Some of the Sources of Income Upon Which the Head of the Roman Maye Falled.

Since the heavy losses made by the pope a year or more ago the finances of the vatican have been superintended with great care. It is known, says a Paris paper, that a committee of prelates and several cardinals exist at Rome whose duty it is to regulate the use of the sums of money which flow into the treasury of the vatican. These sums come principally from two sources: The revenues of the property possessed by the pope and the gifts of the faithful known as Peter's pence. The property of the vatican is of various kinds, but the greater part of it consists of money and bonds placed in England and Fance, under control of the Paris house of Rothschild. Peter's pence is an annual revenue which is far from being fixed. In good years the total of the sum received from all countries of the world reaches 8,000,000 francs. Sometimes it is as low as 6,000,000 and even 5,000,000

This has been the case for the last five years. This diminution is due in great part to the discord between the royalists and the French Catholics produced by the republican policy of the pope. France alone furnished twoand often three-quarters of third Peter's pence. And in France it is the royalists who prove themselves most generous. But since the adhesion of Leo XIII. to the republic many of them, more royalist than Catholic, have closed their purses to the pope. However, despite all this, French bishops still forward the largest sums to his holiness. Thus the bishop of Nante sent a few days ago 100,000 francs from his flock as their gift to the vat ican treasury.

Italy contributes only a small part of the revenue-a few hundred thousand francs a year. The Romans show themselves in this regard less generous than other Italians. On the other hand, the Anglo-Saxon countries-England, Ireland, Australia and the United States-begin to send important sums. If Catholicism continues to grow in these countries it is easy to see that in time the vatican will draw considerable sums from them.

Again, there are the royal courts, ch as Austria, which send annually rich presents to the pope. This is even true of princes of ancient Italian families. Francis II., ex-king of Naples, and Marie Theresa, formerly grand duchess of Tuscany, never fail to send their offerings, which consist of several thousands of francs. The compte de Chambord was accustomed to send annually 50,000 francs; the count of Paris sends the same sum.

The expenses of the vatican, amount annually to more than 7,000,-000 francs. They are regulated as follows: For the personal wants of the pope, 500,000 francs; for the cardinals, 700,000; for poor dioceses, 400,000; administration of the vatican, 1.800,000; secretary of state, 1,000,000; employes and ablegates, 1,500,000; support of schools and poor, 1,200,000.

The cardinals at Rome live at the expense of the pope. The income of each from this source is at least 22,000 francs. The secretary of state is charged with upholding relations with foreign gov ernments by the mediation of nuncios The four most important-Paris, Vienna, Madrid and Lisbon-each receive an allowance of 60,000 francs a year. The last jubilee of Pope Leo XIII.

brought to the vatican 3,000,000 francs At the first, celebrated five years ago 19,000,000 francs were received. In the course of years the pope has introduced a number of economies in the different branches of the vatican service and for that reason he has been called miserly. This accusation is not merited; the economies became necessary in a state whose revenues continue to diminish. Leo XIII. has many reasons to follow the example of his illustrious predecessor, Sixtus, as it is difficult in the present time to count ( a the generosity of the faithful.

THE CUP OF GOLD.

A Beautiful Flower That Is the Floral Emblem of California.

Strangers visiting California are at racted by the great splashes of gold that appear in the pasture lands and the waysides, says the London Il-Instrated News. It is the eschecholtzia (esh-sholts-i-a), which is now the flower emblem of California. The appropriateness of this selection is seen in many ways. It is the wild wine goblet of the state, suggestive, in color, of the orange and the precious metal. The Spaniards, indeed. it el oro de-copo-the cup of gold. In the month of October, 1816, the ship Rurick entered the bay of San Fran-cisco. The naturalist Adulbert von Chamisso was on the Rurlek, and named the poppy for his companion the voyage, one Herr Eschscholl The latter may have been a good of zen, and his name may sound enphon ous to his nation; but to the Anglo Saxon the word is a mouthful.

Californians should be thankful, however, that the flower was not christened with his full name of Johannfriedricheschscholtzin. It will never be known how many California school children have barely escaped strangulation in attempting to pronounce the botanical name of poppy. This flower has a wide distribution; it is found from Oregon to the central highlands of Mexico, from Nevada and Arizona to the islands of the coast.

STORY OF MARK TWAIN.

He Was Willing to Play Dog But Wanted the Perquisites.

A traveler now in town on a visit heard a new story about Mark Twain from an old Mississippi river pilot with whom Mr. Clemens once worked for awhile in a pilot house on that river, says the New York Sun. It seems that he came up in the pilot house carrying an enormous and expensive black Ha vana cigar which excited the cary of the master pilot. "Where did you get the master pilot. "Where did you get that eigar, Sum?" the pilot asked. "A gentleman in the cabin gave it to me scid the budding humorist. "Well, do you think you ought to keep that eigar and I ought to go without it?"

the pilot asked. Now, look here," said Mark Twain, "I know I am only your helper and I'm willing to play dog to you. You can throw sticks in the water and let me jump in after 'em. I'll do whatever you say, but"-and here he drawled in his peculiar way-"I do think I ought to have some perquisites."

OLD POSTAGE STAMPS.

How They Are Used to Maintain 3 Religious School in Paris.

Many Millions of Used Stamps Collected by People All Over the World Find Their Way to

This Place.

The often-discussed question of the utility or the absurdity of collecting old postage stamps of common denominations in immense quantities, with the vague notion that in some way they will be of use to some charitable organization, has been running in the London papers of late, and the final result has been to in a great measure clear up the mystery that has doubtless at some time or other crossed the path of every one. The general notion s that a million used stamps are re quired for some purpose or other, but for just what purpose few of the collectors are able to say. A prevalent notion was that the stamps were used to buy Chinese babies to be trained to a Christian dife. After opening its columns for some time for the reception of information on the topic, the Pall Mall Gazette assumed to close and settle the question by declaring that it was conclusively shown that "the idea that certain charities can be effectually benefited by accumulations of old postage stamps is an elaborate

But a correspondent of the Tablet the leaning Catholic weekly of Eng land, into which this conclusion wa copied, writes to show that the Pall Mall Gazette is itself deluded, and par ticularizes at least one excellent charity that not only is benefited by the collecting of old postage stamps, but solely dependent on that singular industry for its existence. This is th Euvre de Marie Immaculce of Paris. The work of the institution consists in training "Missonary Catechists," oung women who devote themselves. not as nuns, but as lay teachers, or catechists, to the evangelization of pagun women and children of China and India.

The rules of the institution prohibit the collection of subscriptions in any way, because this might divert money from other and perhaps more worthy objects of charity. But the society asks its well-wishers the world over for used postage stamps, which cost nothing to give away. These stamps are made to yield a considerable revenue, as attested by the size of the institution and the extent of its work.

The society's home is at 48 Rue de Bourgonge, and the offices required there for the handling and disposition of the stamps form quite a business block. Great quantities of stamps are received from every part of the world, many millions collected by young en-thusiasts who have no distinct idea of what will ultimately become of them finding their way eventually to this A considerable part of the revenue of the society is derived from the sale of rare specimens to dealers in stamps, and quite often stamps of the greatest value are received. The greater part of the stamps, however, are of common varieties, and are used for decorative purposes. They are arranged in all sorts of odd, ingenious and pretty designs on cardboard, por-celain plaques, wall hangings, screens, fans and all manner of ornaments. Indeed, there seems no end to the possi bilities of thus using the old stamps, and no limit to the fantastic devices which the clever designers in the in stitution work out. A common device is to make maps of stamps, each com try being delineated with stamps of its own issue. China services are covered with the portraits and illuminated

WHY THE PRIEST TREMBLED.

Assistant Chanted to thim During Service

That He Had Drawn a Prize.

An interesting incident has just occurred in Lima, Peru, awakeming equally human sympathy and fanatical fury. A Dominican father celebrating mass in La Merced, having reached the most imposing part of the ceremony, when the Gloria was resounding through the lofty arches of the oldest temple on the continent, was seized with violent trembling and would have fallen but for the service was proceeding an altar boy had conveyed a piece of news to the service was proceeding an altar boy had conveyed a piece of news to the service was proceeding an altar boy had conveyed a piece of news to the sasistant and he profitting by the noise of the Gloria, had chanted, so as to be heard by the father. You have drawn the twenty thousand dollars." being the quarterly grand prize of the national lottery.

The poor friar had been in great poverty and soddenly saw himself provided with the lotters.
