ANDREW CARNEGIE has turned democrat.

The democrats of Ohio declare for free coinage of silver 16 to 1.

JAS. HAMILTON LEWIS has declined to run for congress up in Washington.

SENATOR JONES, of Nevada, has been asked by the republicans of his state to resign.

CAPTAIN WM. BRIDGMAN, late commander of the Baltimore, died Sep. 14th at Tacoma.

HON. O. V. COFFIN has been nominated by the republicans of Connecticut for governor.

The father of Gearhart Park, near Astoria, has been found drowned in the Willamette river.

SENATOR JONES says that he has not joined the populists, but has allied himself with the silver party of Nevada.

All the congressmen elected so far this year are republicans. Alabama and Arkansas will choose congressmen in November.

The cruiser, New York, went into drydock at New York city on the spring tide, and is not able to get out owing to low tides.

The Owens-Breckinridge contest narrows down to a small majority for Owens. The latter will probably contest, but if nominated he will be defeated.

Since the New York republicans have joined hands with the California brethren on the silver question it looks as if free coinage might yet have its day in court.—Telegram.

The Japanese are thumping the Chinese to pieces on both sea and land. In a recent naval engagement the Chinese lost five ships and the Japs three, but the latter claim the victory.

H. H. WARNER, the erstwhile safe man, and later a patent medicine manufacturer, has gone "busted." He made $7,000,000 in the medicine business, but it went faster than he got it.

A GREAT many people become so zealous in their way of doing good that they meddle with other people's affairs, forgetting that pages of their own lives if opened up for public inspection, would not look well if described in print.

The silver party of Nevada and the populist party are not running together in double harness. Geo. E. Peckham was selected by the latter for governor while the former chose John E. Jones for gubernatorial honors.

PENDLETON has a brand new lodge of Elks. Pendleton will entertain the Oregon Press Association on Oct. 2, 1894. Pendleton has business men who get in and dig, who advertise for trade and therefore Pendleton leads. Heppner can take lessons therefrom and gain much.

The democrats of South Carolina go after Cleveland thusly: "We denounce the action of President Cleveland in appointing republicans to office; the joining of forces with the republican leaders against the majority of his party in the demonetization of silver; his veto of the seigniorage bill; the invasion of state rights, and his efforts to improperly control the house of representatives and the senate by the use of patronage as unworthy of the successor of Jefferson, Jackson and Madison, and a betrayal of the platform on which he was elected."

"A DOLLAR for printer's ink is a dollar well spent," says Tom Westlake to the fat man the other day. "Those bills I got the other day hadn't been out three days until I got $70 worth of pasturing. If I had written my pasture notice in a scrawling hand on a ragged scrap of writing paper and stuck it in the postoffice, as some do, it would never have caught that man's eye. I'm for the printer's ink always."—Exchange.

EX-VICE PRESIDENT MORTON has been nominated for the governorship of New York. His opponents made speeches pledging him their earnest support. The nomination came to Morton without his asking and he will make a strong race.

SOME farmers tried to hold up a train over in Missouri and got the hayseed shot out of their hair, besides losing a whole lot of red blood. The gang, that is those that are left, are under arrest.

FROM THE NORTH POLE.
The Peary Expedition Back From Far-Away Greenland.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 15.—The Peary main and auxiliary expeditions, with all well on board, arrived today from Faleon harbor, which they left August 26. Peary, with Lee and Hensen as volunteers, remained at the headquarters at Faleon harbor to complete the explorations next season. Most of the time of the expedition last fall and winter was devoted to preparations for the inland ice journey to Independence, which began March 6 with a party of eight men, 12 sledges and 92 dogs. Five natives also assisted during the first two or three days on the march. April 13, Peary, Baldwin, Entekin and Clarke, with 25 dogs and no sledges, arrived at Anniversary Lodge, having advanced in 31 days, 194 miles and there cached their remaining supplies and equipment, leaving Astrup, Lee and Davidson in charge. Dr. Vincent having been previously sent back incapacitated by illness. The bad weather and succession of storms culminated March 19, while 23 members of the party were at camp, 40 miles from Anniversary Lodge, at an elevation of 5500 feet. In the equatorial storm, which continued for four days, the temperature averaged from 45 to 55 degrees below zero, and reached a minimum of 60 degrees. The wind for 64 consecutive hours, blew 48 miles per hour. The combination of temperature and the velocity of the wind, it is believed, breaks the record, and far exceeds that sustained by any other Arctic exploring party. All of the explorers escaped serious injury, except Davidson, whose left foot was frozen, but he has since fully recovered. Many of the dogs were frozen solid and others had to be chopped out of the ice. Messrs. Peary, Baldwin and Clarke pushed on, and in 14 days were 85 miles further. The maximum day's march was 18 miles. After the plague had carried off many dogs, the party was so reduced by hardships that the plans for the summer could not possibly be carried out, and only one fourth of the distance to Independence had been accomplished, when it was decided that post 10 days earlier, it was decided to return. The dogs continued to die on the homeward march, compelling the abandonment of the sledges during last May.

On the trip they surveyed and mapped a hitherto unknown coast line to Melville bay for 150 miles. Messrs. Peary and Lee are the first white men to see, locate and measure the historic iron meteorite near Cape York, which they will bring home next year. Mr. Entekin and Dr. Vincent made a sledge journey to Little island, and would have reached Kane's headquarters but for open water. Engineer and Mrs. Peary made a sledge journey to Olike bay. Miss Annetta Peary, who was one year old last Wednesday, with an Eskimo nurse, the first of her tribe to come south of the Arctic circle, returned with the party. Engineer Peary accompanied the Faleon as far as Cape York, hoping to send home a meteorite, but the ice made this impossible. He left the ship Tuesday morning, August 28, off Petowik glacier, 35 miles north of Cape York, in an open whaleboat, with Hensen and a crew of five natives, bound for Faleon harbor, 150 miles distant. Lee had been in charge during his absence. When last seen, the boat was standing on her course under full sail, with a fair wind. A tidal wave October 31, 1893, destroyed the launch and dories and swept away more than half the oil supply, a portion of which was subsequently recovered. The burros, carrier pigeons and launch General Wistar proved of little service to the explorers. The party at the lodge is amply supplied and provisioned for a year, and will be supported next spring by the natives. The auxiliary expedition, despite the fact that the ice was heavier and more general than for many years, accomplished much important work—all that was in any manner practicable. Communication with Peary was not opened until August 1, and Faleon harbor was not reached until August 20. Carey islands, Cape Faraday and Clarence head were thoroughly searched and the death of the Swedish explorer, Bjordson and Allestenius, settled. Dr. Ohlin, the Swedish representative, with the auxiliary expedition, returned direct from Disco to Copenhagen. The ice also prevented the proposed explorations on Elsmere island, but the auxiliary party gathered much valuable scientific data, made a careful study of many important glaciers, and obtained much new and valuable material in Arctic deep-sea dredging.

The final incident of note was the birth of Mrs. Peary's baby September 12, 1893, a month after the Faleon left last year.

NEVER WAS
Digging up Old Scores, but Facts are Hard Things to Down.

From the E. O.

It may be cruel to dig up dead issues and disturb their rest, for issues, when once they have "passed in their checks," should be treated with due respect. It may also be cruel to dig up dead politicians and disturb their rest. Perhaps they, too, by a code of honor established through the generations, are entitled to the veneration which is accorded a general corpse or a closed sepulcher. Notwithstanding all this, a story has been dug up which is too good to keep. It is about the last campaign. Pendleton had a citizen at that time, now residing in Portland, who aspired to the congressional nomination in the second district, on the republican ticket. He kept assuring his friends up here that he was "solid with Joe Simon and all the fellows down there." In fact, he came home once and said to a reporter that things were getting so unanimous in Portland that he came home to give opportunity to the other candidates to get enough support to make the convention interesting. That convention was interesting, very interesting. Mr. Ellis had hunted up a long, long pole, and into his chapeau dropped the fruit from the tree of political honors. The one time Pendleton was somewhat staggered, but recovered his physical balance finally and vowed that he would "move down to Portland and spend $5000 in downing Joe Simon." He did move to Portland. Whether he dug up the $5000 his backers could say more accurately than a mere surmise, though it guesses were sold in a poolroom that one would sell a favorite which said he didn't. Joe Simon did not hit the sidewalk very heavily. He keeps, they say, an indelible pencil and has the erstwhile Pendleton politician down on the list. Perhaps the latter said wisely, "I'm out of politics, boys," and it was a mean thrust when another politician remarked, "John you never were in politics."

The Tallow Tree of China.
The tallow tree, one of the most useful plants in China, has two or three representatives in our southern states. The latter, however, are shrubs, while the former is a true tree. The tree is valuable to the Chinese for several purposes. Its seeds are thickly covered with a fatty substance, which, when steamed, produces a fat resembling tallow, greatly esteemed for candle making. The seeds themselves yield, by pressing, a fine liquid oil. The tree produces a hard wood which the natives use for printing blocks, while its leaves make a fine black dye.

The Land of Promise
Is the mighty West, the land that "tinkled with a hoe laughs a harvest," the El Dorado of the miner, the goal of the agricultural emigrant. While it teems with all the elements of wealth and prosperity, some of the fairest and most fruitful portions of it bear a harvest of malaria reaped in its fullness by those unprotected by a medicinal safeguard. No one seeking or dwelling in a malarial locality is safe from the scourge without Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Emigrants, bear this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in malarious regions should carry a bottle of the Bitters in the traditional gripesack. Against the effects of exposure, mental or bodily overwork, damp and unwholesome food or water, it is an infallible defense. Constipation, rheumatism, biliousness, dyspepsia, nervousness and loss of strength are all remedied by this genial restorative.

Ed. Cox came in from Hardman this morning.
Wesley Braanon was down from Eight Mile yesterday.
J. W. Dawson arrived home from Condon Wednesday.
Andrew Hood was in from his Eight Mile ranch yesterday.
Miss Laura Atin got in Tuesday from Walla Walla where she had been for some months.
Tom Drkell's theater, or the one in which he has an interest, bent a shaft the first of the week, requiring a trip to town.
On next Tuesday evening, the 25th inst., Rev. W. E. Potwine will hold Episcopal services at the A. E. church, South. All are invited.
Joe Hayes has filed his notice of appeal of the contest case, in which he is plaintiff and Geo. W. Harrington defendant, to the supreme court.
W. F. Courtney came in from Tacoma the first of the week, and about the first of Oct. will ship 2,500 head of cattle from Heppner for the Sound trade.
Jack Parker, who was connected with the Burns shooting in which Til Glaze and Bud Howard were killed, has been bound over in the sum of $1,000.
Mrs. Ada Urnsh, state lecturer W. C. P. U., will be in Heppner Sunday and Monday Sept. 30 and Oct. 1st. Come out to hear her and you will be well pleased.

Money Economically.
Money economically spent is not always judiciously spent. Why? Simply because a cheap article often requires more money spent on it to keep it in repair than it would cost to purchase the best. We manufacture nothing but the best gas and gas line engines in the market, and results prove it. Send for catalogue. PALMER & REY TYER FOUNDRY, Front & Alder Sts., Portland, Or.

G. A. R. NOTICE.
We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new commissioner of pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If the U. S. soldiers, sailors, or their widows, children or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to the Press Claims Company, at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address

A Fitting Term.
"Why do you use such peculiar terms?" asked a lawyer's wife of her husband, who had returned worn out by his day's labors. "I don't see how you can have been working all day like a horse." "Well, my dear," he replied, "I've been drawing a conveyance all day; and if that isn't working like a horse, what is?"

A FRETTE suggestion for sleeves is a series of ruffles set upon a rather full foundation of the material, or, if two fabrics are used in the dress, the sleeves may be of one material and the ruffles of the other.

"I know an old soldier who had chronic diarrhoea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Edward Shampik, a prominent druggist of Minneapolis, Minn. "I have sold the remedy in this city for seven years and consider it superior to any other medicine now on the market for bowel complaints." 25 and 50 cent bottles of this remedy for sale by Slocum-Johnson Drug Co.

United States Army Recruits.
Of the 9,855 men who enlisted in the United States army last year 35 per cent were laborers. Other callings were represented as follows: School teachers, 62; students, 36; druggists, 29; photographers, 18; musicians, 214; lawyers, 7; printers, 95; bookkeepers, 52; typewriters, 3; engineers, 75; cooks, 109; machinists, 166; farmers, about 1,200; and no occupation, 86.

The total number of cars reported by carriers as their property on June 30, 1892, was 1,215,992. Of these 996,998 were in the freight service, 36,901 were assigned to the company's service, and 35,075 were assigned to fast freight line service. In addition to the above cars owned, the companies report 146,339 cars leased.

If the circus is to be taken seriously, what an era of dullness will follow. In a certain southern state a bill has been introduced into the legislature by the provisions of which circus companies are to be forbidden, in that state, to exhibit pictures of feats which they do not perform.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringing on others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days, or over, in the late war, are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances, to receive a pension from the government. If not remarried, whether soldier's death was due to army service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled, if the soldier's death was due to service, to receive a pension from the government. CHILDREN are entitled (if under sixteen years) in almost all cases where there was no widow, or she has since died or remarried.

PARENTS are entitled if soldier left neither widow nor child, provided soldier died in service, or from effects of service, and they are now dependent upon their own labor for support. It makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy. Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights.

Thousands of soldiers drawing from $2 to $10 per month under the old law are entitled to higher rates under new law, not only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but also for others, whether due to service or not. Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not. Survivors, and their widows, of the Black Hawk, Creek, Cherokee and Seminole or Florida Indian Wars of 1832 to 1843, are entitled under a recent act.

Mexican War soldiers and their widows also entitled, if sixty-two years of age or disabled or dependent. Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under later laws or not. Rejected claims reopened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal. Critics of service and discharge obtained for soldiers and sailors of the late war who have lost their original papers. No charge for advice. No fee unless successful. Address,
