CUBA is preparing, by the consent of Spain, her own revenue budget with the United States. It is likely that this arrangement will settle all difficulties.

The election last June in Oregon was a republican victory. That is all there is to it. The matter of electing a senator is another thing, but of course he will be a republican.

SIMON COY, a prominent democratic politician of Indiana, died Thursday last. The cause of his death was the bursting of a blood vessel. Coy was implicated in tally sheet forgeries in 1889 at Indianapolis and served a term for the same.

RICHARD BANKER, who was supposed to have been drowned in the Willamette last July, has turned up in Iowa. Banker's wife, however, on the strength of her husband's supposed death, collected $2,000 from the A. O. U. W. This is claimed to be the first attempt in Oregon to defraud a beneficial order out of money. Banker is worse than a highwayman and ought to be so treated.

If any advocate of the gold standard can point out where this country or any other nation using it, is being benefitted, we will pass over to the other side. If dearer debts and lower prices for those things that we must sell to buy money are evidences of the word of the gold-bug reign, then we must insist that a return to the coinage system in vogue previous to '73 is necessary. That the adoption of the single gold standard is responsible in a great measure for the evils thrust upon our country, is plain to any person who will examine into the subject.

SOME reference was made in these columns recently concerning a certain member of the board of railroad commissioners who is using the time for which the state is paying him to represent a school book publishing house. In a previous issue this gentleman's visit to Heppner, in the capacity of school book agent, was chronicled and we did not consider it necessary for the enlightenment of our readers to speak of this matter editorially further than in a general way. However, our esteemed contemporary, the Junction City Times, calls attention to the fact that those not guilty may have been injured by our general remarks concerning the action of that certain railroad commissioner. The Gazette will therefore speak out "in meat," I. A. Macram is the name of the party to whom the Gazette referred. Mr. Macram is a pleasant gentleman but he certainly has no right to use the state's time for private ends. If the salaries paid railroad commissioners are not large enough, it is the duty of the next legislature to increase them.

THE Indian wheat farmer can buy as much with his silver as he ever did, and consequently gets no more per bushel for his grain. But as the grain-buyer can get more rupees with his gold than ever before—probably twice as much now as he could twenty years ago with the same amount of money, naturally the American farmer must be content with a less amount of gold per bushel than received formerly. And as this condition of matters grows worse year by year, it makes it a bad job for the American farmer who is in debt, and for the one who is clear to keep out of debt. What do the gold-holders propose as a remedy? Are they willing to consent to any re-organization of the money system that will put a stop to the further enhancement of the purchasing power of gold? They will not.

The American people must protect themselves and join together for their own salvation by the coinage of the silver product into money. Being in a position to produce more silver than all the rest of the world, and the outside product being in demand for uses in the arts and for subsidizing coinage, the United States can play a very stiff hand in the free coinage matter.

Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the shattered system by giving vigorous action to the digestive organs, creating an appetite and purifying the blood. It is prepared by modern methods, possesses the greatest curative powers, and has the most wonderful record of actual cures of any medicine in existence. Take only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or grip.

OF IMPORTANCE. On Dec. 20th the Pullman Palace sleeping cars, at present being operated on the Portland-Spokane line, the O. R. & N. will be withdrawn, and the Palace buffet sleepers of the Great Northern Railway line will be substituted.

On some dates they will inaugurate a new line of fourteen section tourist sleeping cars of the Great Northern Railway line, and these in conjunction with the Palace buffet sleepers, will be operated regularly between Portland and Spokane on trains No. 2.

These cars operated jointly between Portland and Spokane only will make connection with through cars to and from St. Paul. The assignment of space has been so arranged that passengers will simply transfer from one car to the other, and will occupy the same space in sleepers as they do in the local cars to Spokane.

O. R. & N. Company's train No. 2 arrives at Spokane at 4:35 p. m. Great Northern train leaves Spokane at 5:15 p. m., daily.

CHAMPION JIM CORBETT

AN INTERESTING INTERVIEW WITH THE GREAT FIGHTER.

WHAT HE SAYS OF HIS COMING FIGHT WITH FITZSIMMONS.

(From the St. Louis, Mo., Chronicle.)

Jim Corbett's history as a ring hero will reach the end of the chapter when his battle with Bob Fitzsimmons is won and lost, for as the world knows, Corbett is matched to fight Fitzsimmons before the Florida Athletic Club within a year, for $61,000, the largest amount in stake and purse ever lumped on a passage-around affair since pugilism was promulgated in England 1770 years ago.

"I am fully aware that Fitz will give me perhaps the most scientific battle of my career," said the champion to a Chronicle man. He is an awkward, shifty fellow and a harder man to hit than the average pugilist, who doesn't depend on his awkwardness. He is a hard hitter and cool headed. I saw him fight Dempsey and posted myself on his style. He is my equal almost in height and reach, though after carefully comparing his method of boxing with mine, I can't see where he has any advantage over me, as I am younger, stronger and shifter, hit often and mix my blows more, Fitzsimmons is forty—his was not enough to feign grogginess in general of his battles, thus throwing his opponents off their guard.

Corbett is now the picture of health, weighing 214 pounds, Prince Albert, plump, patent leather, diamonds and all, "I am bigger, better and stronger than ever before," replied the champion when asked about his health. "The rheumatic complaint that held me captive off and on some time ago has left me completely and I know I am cured of it." I contracted rheumatism before training for my fight with Peter Jackson, confessed Corbett. "How I got it or where I got it is a mystery to me, but that I had it is a fact that I am not likely to forget very soon. I suffered a good deal with rheumatism after that fight. Some days my arms, wrists and fingers would be so stiff and swollen that I could not use them at all. My legs also pained me, but to a less degree. Then, again, all this would leave without any apparent reason, and I would not be troubled again for weeks. Of course, I doctored for my complaint continuously, but the attacks seemed to come every few weeks just the same. A short time after my fight with Jackson I went east and met and defeated Donnie McGuffey, though I was handicapped by rheumatism in my right leg in my encounter with McGuffey. These periodical attacks of rheumatism affected me until a few weeks before I began training for my fight with Mitchell. One day I sat in the Coleman House, New York, reading a newspaper. My eyes chanced to cross an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for pale people. I had never heard of them before, and as an experiment purchased a box. I consumed two boxes and was pleased with the results, for the pains began to leave my arms and legs. After taking four boxes, according to directions, I found myself greatly improved. The improvement is permanent I can assure, I haven't been troubled with rheumatism since. Before using the pills the rheumatic attacks returned every month or so, especially if I fought cold. When I trained for my fight with Mitchell in Florida I suffered from malaria and used the pills as a tonic, with splendid results. I found that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were efficacious in building up the system after a malarial attack."

WARM COREAN SHANTIES.

Even the Poorest Manages to Have a Cheerful Little Furnace.

The Koreans may be an uncivilized people, but it is said they know something about warming their houses. Even the meanest of their abodes is furnished with a furnace, called kang, which, while very primitive, is extremely effective and embodies all the best points of the most approved contrivance for house-warming.

On the volcanic island of Hawaii, a tree grows a tree that is used in some parts of the island, says the San Jose Mercury. It is said that the leaves constantly distill enough water to furnish drink to every living creature in Hawaii, nature having provided this remedy for the drought of the island.

EVEN THE KING HAD TO MAKE A RETURN LIKE A COMMON CITIZEN. Of all the extraordinary communications that have ever reached King Humbert he has received the other day for the purpose of inquiring in all seriousness whether he could read or write was perhaps the most extraordinary. And, to make matters worse, he was informed that he was required to give proof that he possessed a certain amount of education to do so.
