Rev. W. E. Crocker, who went from Louisville as a Chinese missionary, writes of the Chinese as follows:

Just outside the city of Ching Chow Fu is a garrison of Tartar soldiers.

At the battle of Churubusco, said the general, "we captured a large number of deserters from our service, who were duly tried by court-martial and sentenced to execution by hanging."

ABSOLUTELY PURE

FORTUNES OF MEDICAL MEN.

Eminent English Physicians Who Have Died Leaving Millions Behind.

Some great men have died leaving large fortunes behind, and others have died poor.

The will of Sir William Gull, which was sworn under $344,000, is generally quoted as the largest amount left by a member of the medical profession.

This, however, was exceeded by Dr. Blundell, who died in 1877 and left a fortune of $350,000.

Among other wills of six figures may be mentioned Sir Erasmus Wilson, $204,000; Sir Andrew Clark, $204,000; Sir Oscar Reagon, $116,000; Sir George Burrows, $110,000; Sir William Lowman, $109,948; and Sir Charles Loebeck, $100,000.

Of the fortunes made by members of the medical profession very little has been left institutions connected with that body.

A notable exception to this stands out in the munificent bequest of Sir Erasmus Wilson to the Royal college of surgeons, by which that corporation received $200,000.

In addition to this bequest, Sir Erasmus left $5,000 each to several institutions and charities connected with the medical profession.

The name of John Radcliffe, too, must not be overlooked in this connection.

The Radcliffe infirmary has been erected by the trustees of the will. In addition to these, the Radcliffe library, now housed in the university museum, which is one of the finest scientific libraries in the world, is entirely supported by the Radcliffe trustees.

Another exception to this rule is the will of the late Mr. Brickwell, of Tottenham, who died during 1853, and who left the residue of his estate to the Society for the Relief of the Widows and Orphans of Medical Men.

The ability to leave these large legacies comes to but few, and the main body of practitioners will agree withocrates that "a physician is a ruler of bodies, and not a maker of money."

HE WAS AN EXPERIMENTER.

And He Filled the Waiters with Consternation and Worry.

The young man on the opposite side of the table studied the bill of fare for some time, while the waiter stood on one leg with his ear held out for the order, and then he said:

"I want some of that meringue and a side order of meringue, a little of the spinach, some sweet corn, and a cup of chocolate."

The waiter slowly moved his lips in amazement, says the Chicago Record, and had the order repeated. He smiled and started away, and the young man looked after him frowning.

"Confound these waiters," he said, "I suppose they expect every man to order something conventional like steak and coffee or liver and bacon."

"You did not put in a queer order," he suggested.

"Oh, I don't know. It may turn out to be a good combination. I'm experimenting all the time."

"Experimenting?"

"Yes; I try new combinations. How did people ever find out that jelly and roast duck go together? How did they ever get on to spring lamb and meringue, pie and cheese, steak and mushrooms, and so on? Why, by trying new combinations. I order whatever strikes my fancy, and in that way I get some good combinations."

SHARP PRACTICE.

A Girl Detects a Shoplifter and Rewards Himself.

"It was the queerest thing," said the girl at the jewelry counter during the lull, according to the Buffalo Express.

the present time is about eighteen hundred and fifty square yards of looking-glass. Can it be that their destruction much of the ill-luck of the race is due? Glass mirrors are supposed to have been first used in Sion, and were very expensive for a long time after their introduction.

A letter written in 1673 says that even if mirrors had been manufactured in France at that time only the king would have been rich enough to have one.

In ancient times polished metals were used, and great ladies gave their mirrors in charge of slaves, who kept bright enough to faithfully reproduce the charms of their owners.

Her Face Her Fortune.

Queen Victoria's newest maid of honor, Miss Majendie, owes her entrance to royal favor a curious bit of chance.

She happened to be singing in a church choir one day when the queen was present at Divine services and her majesty was so greatly pleased with the fresh sweetness of the girl's face and voice that she invited her to fill the place coveted by the young girls of the English aristocracy.

The offer was the last thing Miss Majendie herself expected.

Taxes in China.

The Chinese are the most lightly-taxed people in the world. They have no chancellor of the exchequer worried over budget-making.

THE FLOORWALKER CAME AROUND AND TOLD US ALL TO LOOK OUT FOR THESE PEOPLE THAT GO AROUND AND STEAL BECAUSE THEY CAN'T HELP IT.

I was kind of green, then, and I almost put my eyes out looking for them. One day a woman came to the counter and I didn't pay much attention to her.

After I was through with the party I was waiting on I happened to look at her and saw her take a gold-headed hairpin from a tray.

"I didn't say a word, but I found out who she was. That night I went right over to her house and told her what I had seen. She tried to brazen it out, but I was too much for her, and finally she owned up 'that she had taken the pin.'"

"Did you have her arrested?" asked the other girl.

"No," said the first girl, "but I made her give me the pin."

A WAR FOR LIFE.

Struggles of the Indian to Perpetuate His Existence.

Whatever the Indian has been in the past, and in spite of his present condition—deplorable as it certainly is—our nation has still some time left to deal with these people honorably and justly, as it is the duty of a God-fearing people to do, writes W. Thornton Parker, M. D., in Home and Country.

They will respond in time, but it is not to be wondered at if they seem incredulous at first. It is wicked to condemn them as beasts fit only for extermination; improve them, educate them. This can be done by dealing justly with them.

No words of mine can sufficiently condemn the cowardly saying "that the only good Indian is a dead Indian!"

An Austrian officer once said to me that he considered the British soldiers the bravest on the face of the earth because "you cannot conquer them or whip them, you must kill them." It is so with our Indians, they neither give nor ask for quarters; this is easily understood when we consider how they have always been situated.

It has been with them a war for life, a struggle for existence, and disputes have always been settled, man-fashion, on the field of battle.

Those who know most about our native Americans (our so-called Indians) respect them (most; those who have lived longest with them love them most; the most brutal and cowardly of our frontiersmen hate them most, and they have reason to do so. Indian character is contradictory. They are brave, but cautious and generous; dashing in attack, stubborn in defense; enduring, patient, stoical, hardy; fond of feasting, but ready for days of marching and fighting, with scarcely any nourishment, alert, unforgiving when wronged, revengeful, cruel and treacherous in war; loving as friends, indulgent and affectionate as parents, sympathetic in adversity, eloquent in counsel; by nature deeply and truly religious.

Our native Red Americans, unlike those of New Mexico and Central and South America, are believers in God, although they call Him the "Great Spirit." They are absolutely free from profanity and hypocrisy. In short, they are the noblest race of aborigines on the face of the earth.

A Profitable Dream.

Tunis must be a capital place for those who live and thrive on the credulity of the fellowmen. It is said that a lady there recently announced that she had a dream, which she considered as a Divine revelation, that whoever drank the water of her cistern would not be liable to take the cholera, and she offered to furnish the water at a penny a drink.

The people thronged to taste the water, and in two days more than twenty thousand persons had paid their pennies, and imagined that they had obtained immunity from the dread disease.
