THE WORLD WORBLING. Scientists Trying to Find Out if the Earth mouths. Is Off Its Base.

It may not be very generally known, writes a Washington correspondent, that observations are to be made simultaneously at Washington and at Manila, in the Philippine islands, which is almost directly opposite Washington on the other side of the globe, to see what is the matter with the axis of our little planet. Observations show that for some time the earth has not been revolving on that important, if imaginary, support, as she has done or centuries, and scientists have decided that it is time to find out, if possible, what it all means. Those who have studied the subject declare that, if the variations continue, in the course of some very long and very indefinite period we shall have an arctic elimate at Washington, and the laticlimate at Washington, and the lati-tude of every place on the globe will be changed, and our geographies will be useless. An equatorial telescope has been finished and sent to Manila. T. W. Ayers, Jr.

and before long diligent inquiry will be made into the whys and wherefores of the peculiar performances of old Mother Earth.

While one set of scientists are trying to find out about the axis another party is endeavoring to find out why the magnetic needle varies so, as these variations of the needle affect not only the mariner, but real estate owners, and in large cities where every foot is valuable this is not to be over-These latter observations are being made by the geodetic and coast survey and will not be completed for several years.

A TRAGIC HUMANCE.

A Texas Desperado Whose Victims Were Scattered Far and Wide. The man who told the story between the puffs of his cigar was from Texas, says the Kansas City Times. "Clay Allison's life was a tragic romance," he began. "Clay Allison was a desperado. He lived in the Red river country in the panhandle. Hs trigger finger was busiest in the early '80s. His record was twenty-one. He boasted of it. Twenty-one dead men, whose graves were scattered from Dodge City to Santa Fe. I myself saw him kill Bill Chunk, a bad man, who shot people just for the fun of seeing them fall. The two men had no cause for quarrel. They were the prize killers of the same section of the country. It was a spirit of rivalry which made them swear to shoot each other on sight. Their friends bet on the result of their first chance rencontre. The met one night at a cross-road inn in New Mexico and sat down at tables opposite each other, with their drawn six-shooters resting on their laps beneath their napkins. A plate of oysters on the shell had just been set before Chunk, when he dropped his hand, in careless fashion, and sent a ball at Allison beneath the table. Quick as a leap of lightning Allison's gun replied. A tiny red spot between Chunk's eyes marked where the bullet entered. The dead man rolled over on the table and was still, with his face downward in the dish of oysters. "Allison was a large cattle owner.

He went on a drive to Kansas City once and while here fell in love, married. and took the woman to his home in the west to live. A child was born to them -a child whose face was as beautiful as the face of cherub, but whose poor little body was horribly deformed. Allison loved the child with the great love of his passionate nature. In the babe's misshapen and twisted form his superstitious mind read a meaning as significant as that of the message which the Divine hand wrote on the palace walls of the king of old in Babylon. God, he thought, had visited a curse upon him for his sins. He quit his wild ways. He drank no more. No his wild ways. He drank no more. man ever after the birth of his child fell before his deadly pistol. He was completely changed. In the new life which followed he devoted himself with absorbing energy to his business interests. He became rich in time. thousand cattle on the Texas ranges bore his brand. A few years ago he was driving from his ranch on a heavy road wagon to town. The heavy wheels joited down into a deep rut. Allison was pitched headforemost to the ground. His neck was broken. The team jogged on into the distance and left him lying there, dead and

DEFIES HEAT AND COLD. New Kind of Glass Unburt by Violent Atmospheric Changes.

The new German glass is a new and singular & parture in that line, disregarding as it does the ordinary principle that good glass must contain, together with silica and a divalent or trivalent metallic oxide, the oxide of a monovalent metal—an alkali metal or thellium-but while thus free from alkali can be worked before the blowpipe, and has a small coefficient of ex-pansion. The inventor, says the New York Sun, was led to the production of his compound glass by studying the state of strain in ordinary glass vessels and tubes cooled in contact with nir. As a hollow glass vessel, cooled in contact with the air, has its outer skin in a state of compression, while the inside is in a state of tension, it is easily damaged on the inside, but is resistent on the outside; a hollow glass vessel, if introduced when cold into warm air, has its outer skin thrown into a state of compression, but if, when it is hot, it is exposed to cold air, its outer skin is thrown into a state of tension—this being the reason why cold air causes glass to crack more readily than hot nir does. The inventor succeeded in throwing the outer layer into a permanent state of compression by covering the glass vessel with a thin outer layer of glass which has a small coefficient of expansion. The flasks made of such glass can be filled with boiling aniline and immediately sprinkled on the out-side with cold water—glass dishes, too, can be heated over the naked Bunsen flame without cracking. Pressure tubes of this compound glass are also made to meet all the requirements of practice and have been kept in tinuous use on locomotives for five

Taxes Imposed Upon Persons Who Follow Certain Callings—Sweden's High Tax Upon Commercial Travelers from Abroad.

In times past it was deemed war rantable to tax salt, candles, leather, brick, soap, starch, paper, and in 1652. even bread and meat. Peter the Great of Russia levied a tax on beards. with the laudable object of making his subjects wash their faces and Brass tokens are still to be bought in that country bearing the words: "Borado pignaia tiagola," which means "The beard tax has been paid." F. G. C. Lundy gives particulars in Temple Bar of the British hat tax of 1784, requiring hatters to take out licenses and imposing an ad valorem stamp duty on every hat sold. In old times, too, the Scotch sacramental certificates used to bear a sixpenny stamp; a tax on religious alnanaes, glass, stone bottles and advertisements were among the fiscal duties southern India." of the past. There was also a tax on "the light of Heaven" in the shape of an impost on windows until far into the present century. This odious and un-sanitary burden caused architects and builders to erect houses with as few windows as possible, and to escape the tax the windows of many houses were blocked up. Some of these dark and dismal abodes are still in existence in England. The Russian government a few years ago decided to tax kerosene oil and matches—virtually a tax on light. In some parts of China a tax is imposed on all women entering the bonds of matrimony. Travelers to those parts are obliged to take a wife, and when they leave the ladies take fresh husbands, to the benefit of the revenue. In Servin vanity is taxed in the shape of ladies' bustles. In Melbourne Christmas cards are taxed one-fifth per cent. It has been stated that in Weimar the authorities levied a duty on musical parties. Quite lately an annual tax of ten france has been imposed on pianos in France. Music has paid tribute to taxation in other ways. A musical troupe recently crossing the frontier of Saxony carried with them a crown of laurels awarded them at a triumphal performance. The custom house officers taxed the laurels as spice. Massenet, the composer, it is related, was also charged duty on a crown of laurels on the German frontier. In his case the wreath of fame was deemed to be woven of "medicinal plants." In Montreal organ grinders pay a license of twenty dollars and are only allowed to play at stated times. In Vienna they are also licensed and regulated as to hours. In France a certificate of character, a distinctive badge and lim itation of hours is insisted upon. Advertisements in the form of posters and placards are required to bear a tax stamp in France, which is distinctly a tax on trade and publicity. In Italy, where the people complain that the taxes are exorbitant, the voluntary tax paid by the poorer classes in the form of lottery amounts in a year to over three million pounds sterling. At Laterza the Italians recently broke out in open revolt against the municipality, which had increased the hearth tax, and took the civic buildings by assault, wounding the syndic, but they do not agitate against the lottery tax. In "Old Madrid" last year there terrible and fatal rioting among the men and women who hawk vegetables, fruit and other articles in the streets and markets owing to the imposition of a tay on Spanish hawkers.

In 1889 M. Dunajewski, the Austrian minister of finance, who was described as "the nimblest politician in the race courses. Bookmakers are also taxed There is also a municipal tax of ten per cent. deducted from the re-cespts of theatrical and public entertainments, which is also assigned for the benefit of the unfortunate. This revenue is principally distributed in the shape of grants to public charities and hospitals, thus making pleasure come to the rescue of poverty and the relief of pain. In Sweden commercial travelers visiting that country have to pay one hundred kroner (about twenty-five dollars) for every month or part thereof they may remain for the privilege of transacting their business A YANKEE'S IDEA.

> FALL OF A DYNASTY. Prophecy Foretelling the End of the Present Ruling House of China. Reports of a serious revolt against the present Chinese government in Manchurin, and the issue of proclamations by the rebels declaring that the Manchu dynasty is near its end, have created a great deal of interest among the foreign colony in the treaty ports says the Shanghai correspondent of the New York Sun. News that bears directly upon the reported disaffection in many provinces of China comes from Nanking. It appears that all up brough the great valley of the languse a finely written prophecy of the approaching end of Manchu rule is being circulated. It is almost impos-ible for a foreigner who has not lived thing which is well written or carefully printed. If such a document does not strongly violate the proba-bilities it will be accepted as gospel truth. This prophecy appears to be firmly believed by all the Chinese who have read it. It purports to have been written by Huan-Peh-Shan, who, in a vi-sion, describes the downfall of the present government. It shows considera-ble literary ability, but anyone who is skeptical may readily see that the author has thrown in local detail to clinch

The sketch of the emperors of China is very well done, but this historical introduction appears to have been written merely to lull the suspicions of the reader and to induce him to accept the sensational statements about the coming ruin of the Manchu dynasty. The prophet declares that the great provinces of Yunan and Kueichou are the first that will abandon the empire. After this China will be divided into three kingdoms, but this will not take place and permanent peace will not be secured until the woods are cleared from Purple mountain and the waters of Lotus lake are dried up. The specious nature of such a prophecy may be seen when it is stated that about all Manuela y Palido, of Madrid, whose the forests has been cut off of Purple mountain, while in dry years one may walk over the bed of Lotus lake, which is converted into solid ground Any season of drought may, therefore, this prophecy will be found fulfilled. In Hunan there is deep feeling against the present dynasty, because of its favors shown to foreigners. Hunan is the seat of a set of fanatics who would rejoice to see every European thrown out of China. In this province have occurred the worst outrages on Christian missionaries, and anyone journeying up the Yangtse retains vivid recollections of the showers of tones and obscenity that descended upon his house boat from the neighboring banks. Intercourse with foreign-ers seems only to intensify the popular natred of the European interl who, they think, are encouraged by the young emperor and his advisers. worst feature of the situation is that the central government does not dare to rebuke the insolence of the Hunan people. The Wake Woke Him to Life.
