

MORE MONEY OF REDEMPTION.

The Gazette is for the rehabilitation of silver because there is need of more money of ultimate redemption, and because the small amount now in existence is appreciated in value over one hundred per cent. It is not so much the scarcity of money, so-called, that is affecting business as it is its undue value.

The Gazette is not prepared to accept the theory that this or any other government can go so far as to issue any amount of credit currency. It occurs to us that it would be but another move that would in the end benefit the rich, and for which the people would ultimately be compelled to pay.

The question of free silver coinage and fiatism are not at all alike. Silver by nature is a money metal, and all that it requires to be able to perform all the functions of real money is that it be given an equal show with gold.

CLEVELAND is congratulated by some Chicago banker, for his stand in their interests. They don't say that, but that is what it means.

The political events of the year will be valuable as indices, but perfect indications do not promise an exciting campaign. Elections for state officers will be held as follows: Rhode Island, April; on Nov. 5, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah and Virginia.

You cannot parcel money out like potatoes—gold and silver to the foreigner and promises to our home people.

THE amount of gold and silver produced in the United States yearly is perhaps close to $100,000,000.

THE SILVER QUESTION. Will the Restoration of Silver Satisfy the Demands of the People?

Noticed in your issue of March 12th a lengthy article in which you claim that a silver lining encircles the political horizon, and embraces in its magnetic scope the sentiments and verdict of the masses of the people.

When I cast a glance over the statistics and find $1,700,000,000 of bonds issued by the republicans since Jan. 1, 1865, (that being in time of peace) it looks as though they were pandering to the greed of the money power.

AN OLD TIME HOLD-UP ON THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD NEAR MARYSVILLE, CALIFORNIA.

Sheriff Bogard, of Tehama County, is Killed after Slaying one of the Robbers - A Heppner man Describes it.

At 1:30 last Saturday morning the Oregon express was held up near Marysville, California, resulting in the death of S. McGuire, one of the robbers, Jas. J. Bogard, sheriff of Tehama county, and the serious wounding of Freeman Nethercott.

L. Blumenthal, of this place, was a passenger on the train and arrived home yesterday morning. He thus describes the robbery:

"At about 10:30 p. m., on the night of the robbery, I left the smoker and went to my berth in the sleeper, and was aroused about an hour later by Sheriff Jas. J. Bogard, of Tehama county, who came in and enquired if his berth was ready. He told one of the trainmen to arouse him if anything went wrong, as it seemed that he was anticipating a hold-up at most any time.

"I followed just behind him. I saw two robbers with a pistol in each hand, in front of which the engineer, fireman and conductor were being marched, the fireman doing the collecting of valuables which were dropped into the leg of a pair of overalls, out of which an improvised sack had been made.

The Part That Fear Plays in Rendering People Liable to Disease.

Many violent maladies have been traced to the operation of moral influences. Sentient beings that fear was capable of provoking erysipelas. Hoffman also made fear and the adynomy resulting from it play an important part as the predisposing cause of contagious diseases.

EVOLUTION AND PARTRIDGES. Singular Changes in These Birds in the Canary Islands.

A striking example of the effects of environment and changed conditions of life upon the forms of animals is furnished by a species of partridge living in the Canary Islands.

Its back has turned from russet color to gray. This looks like a case of progressive coloration, since the bird passes its life amid gray volcanic rocks.

AN ELASTIC CONSCIENCE.

The Sin of It Lay Only in Being Found Out With Her.

The penalty attendant upon being detected in the entire foundation of many people's honesty. A woman, says a writer in the New York Recorder, in whose company I found myself recently was relating with pride an instance of her shrewdness.

CHINA LOSING GROUND. European Nations Are Rapidly Absorbing Her Territory.

Vast and populous as China is, the experience of the present century shows that she is weak for aggressive purposes. She has not the hold on territory adjacent to her borders which she could claim a hundred years ago.

All these things, says the Edinburgh Review, show that an expansion of the Chinese race does not necessarily involve an extension of Chinese dominion. On the contrary, they tend to prove that it is the order introduced by European administration which leads to the multiplication of these industrious people and there is, therefore, at least as much ground for saying that, though Borneo, Sumatra and New Guinea and the great islands of the Eastern Archipelago may be ultimately peopled by the white races, they will be governed by the white races, as for believing that a new Chinese empire is in process of formation; a Chinese India may, in other words, be developed in these great and fertile islands.

Human Sacrifice Among Ashantes. "The most savage and horrible of all the barbarous customs of the Ashantes in Africa," said Prof. W. G. Steadman of Washington, to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat man, "is that of celebrating the death of a king or a great noble by a sacrifice of other lives; indeed, almost all of their anniversary rites are attended by a holocaust of human beings. They believe that when a king or noble dies he must have wives and slaves in the next world, just as he had in this, and in order that these may not be wanting the simple expedient is resorted to of killing his wives and slaves and sending them after him. Rude and bloody ceremonies mark the occasion of this custom, which are continued for about a week. Strangers to any Ashante village are always found who are not only ready, but anxious to be offered up in honor of a dead king."
