Frank Smith, of the Lexington country, pulled out with a peak horse for the Walla Walla section this week. He will visit his sister while absent.

Henry Thomson, of Butler creek, says that most of Butler creek has been affected with the grip. Mrs. Thomson is yet quite sick from a recent attack of the epidemic.

B. F. Swaggart is prepared to furnish his "Sure Shot" squirrel poison in wholesale lots. He has already received a large order from Washington and Idaho. Every where it has been used, it has not failed to exterminate the little pests.

The Mazamas, or Mountain Climbers, have prepared for a big time about July 19, 1895, by sending via the mountain peaks of Oregon and California a heliograph message from British Columbia to Mexico, and to answer same. While there is considerable sport in this, and we suppose assistance will be more or less benefitted, considering the hard times, if these gentlemen would put in the time at hard work and the ladies would sew a few buttons while husbands have improvised shingle nails to their stead, a great, big scope of country would be better off.

In the spring, the human body needs assistance to throw off the stagnation produced by winter diet. As the temperature rises under the growing heat of the sun's rays we feel tired, half sick and low in spirits, because the blood is sluggish and full of impurities. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a reliable spring remedy to invigorate the body and give tone to the digestion. Price $1 per bottle.

Since the death of Jack Cantwell, we learn that his death was not occasioned by appendicitis, but by blood-poisoning brought on by an abdominal abscess, and which might have been readily taken for appendicitis. His remains arrived on Wednesday's train and were met at the depot by a large number of friends, the Knights of Pythias turning out in a body out of personal respect for the deceased, and for Jack's brother, Lee, who is a member of the order.

Frank Shephardson, an engineer on the Southern Pacific Ry., who resides at Los Angeles, Cal., was troubled with rheumatism for a long time. He was treated by several physicians, also visited the Hot Springs, but received no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism. For sale by Slocum-Johnson Drug Co.

J. W. Stringer, of the Ione country, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Stringer came up to look after his taxes and relates to our reporter a peculiar story to the effect that he found himself laxed on a quarter section of land down in that country when he has no deed land in that county. His visit to Heppner was to inform the county officials of this fact.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is admirably adapted to make "a little health go a long way." Its curative power is largely attributable to its stimulant, tonic and nutritive properties, by which the energy of the system is recruited. It is pleasant to the taste, easily borne on the stomach and harmless under prolonged use. Price $1.00 per bottle.

M. S. Driskell came in from Kansas last evening, accompanied by his children who have been living with relatives for several years. He intends to settle down in this part of Clark's canyon, and thinks that he will be satisfied, for this, he says, is the best country that he has seen during his absence of a year.

E. H. Clarke, who Col. Redington says is the inventor of a punch which is stronger than lemonade—some, and Hank Putnam, the cattle-buyer, came in from Pendleton Monday. Hank is after cattle and is paying good prices for all kinds of best cattle, prices being higher than last year by considerable.

W. A. Johnston, accompanied by his family, returned Wednesday evening. Mr. Johnston visited Ohio during his absence, and his two weeks' stay, though a pleasant one, made him yearn for Oregon once more. We hope that Mr. Johnston will decide to remain in our midst.

Hon. W. R. Ellis will deliver a lecture at the opera house next Wednesday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., on the subject, "The Essentials of Good Citizenship." Admission 25 cents, children 15 cents. All should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this lecture.

W. W. Smead, having been to considerable expense to improve his lands by the introduction of new blood from the prize herd of S. A. Wells, of Alameda, Cal., is now prepared to furnish eggs of the Brown Leghorn breed that cannot be excelled in Oregon. 17-11.

Ben Swaggart has gone up in the Palouse country to introduce his squirrel poison. He is making large sales. Last week he had calls for the poison from Southern Oregon, Idaho and Washington.

"How Jeremiah Judkins Became Rich" is a thrilling serial story which we will commence in our next issue and continue until completed. It is a stand-out story and well worth your perusal.

T. W. Ayers, Jr., is making squirrel poison that he guarantees. No kill on pay, and sells it at 25 cents per can, 6 cans for $1.50; $2.50 per dozen. Get a sample and try it.

Green Mathews for shaving, hair-cutting, shampooing and all other work in this line. Baths at any time during business hours. C. M. Jones, assistant.

Wanted—Plain or fancy sewing. Will go to the house or take sewing at home. Mrs. Mary Henderson.

Wanted—Landlord work by Mrs. C. Nelson, old Mountain House. Mending neatly done.

Try Ayers' squirrel poison before buying any other. Only $2.50 per dozen.

Loan stock, 5 cts.; round steak, 6 cts.; rib steak, 6 cts.; at Sprays.

SCHOOL MEETINGS.

On last Monday the directors of School Dist. No. 1 met and devised ways and means to pay off the old indebtedness and to run the school for the coming year. The plan of selling bonds to clear the present indebtedness was canvassed and will probably be resorted to. In the matter of school for the coming year, it was decided to have a six months' school next year, to do away entirely with the assistant principal, cutting out part of the regular course, and to reduce the salary of the principal to $100 per month and the remaining teachers all to $50 per month. The directors are evidently talking business, for their plan to pay off the debts is the only one this district can adopt to avoid litigation. It is to be regretted, however, that conditions are such that no longer term than six months can be had. In graded work, it leaves the course two-thirds completed, and by the next year all will be done. Besides there are few reputable teachers who will consent to teach a six months' term, and if good teachers consent to take the school, it will be with a view of holding the place till a better opportunity presents itself. But without money, without assurance that the district will not be plunged into law suits, and with an unappreciative and criticizing public to deal with, we wonder that the directors have done as well as they have, for the future looks dark enough.

A Valuable Chest. Tacoma, Wash.—"I have used your Simmons Liver Regulator and can conscientiously say it is the King of all Liver Medicines. I consider it a medicine chest in itself."—Geo. W. Jackson. Your druggist sells it in powder or liquid; the powder is best taking dry, or made into a tea.

A NEW ROAD TO HEPPNER.—From an article in the Heppner Gazette, we learn that the people of that country are in earnest as regards the road from Mitchell to that place. Nothing was done at the last term of the county court in the matter, but the judge and commissioners have consented to hold an adjourned session some time early in this month at which time an appropriation will be made to open up the road. As near as we can learn the road will go from here by way of Caleb, Waterman Flat, through Parrish canyon. If this road were to be opened, it will bring us within 75 miles of market. And the market would be just as advantageous to us as the market in The Dalles, as far as prices for supplies are concerned. It would also bring us in direct communication with the scouring mills at Pendleton, thus giving our sheepmen a chance to ship their wool there and obtain the full value of their fleeces. By all means let us have the road, and the citizens of Heppner can depend on us for any assistance in our power in furthering the work.—Mitchell Monitor.

When your heart pains you and unaccountable palpitation is frequent, accompanied sometimes with shortness of breath and low spirits you are suffering from a disordered state of the liver, digestion is imperfect and there is wind on the stomach. If allowed to remain the trouble will ultimately reach the kidneys and become dangerous to life. Steps should be taken to stay its progress on the appearance of the first symptoms. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm is especially adapted for disorders of this kind. Price $1 per bottle.

REV. GREEN'S LECTURE.—Those who did not attend Rev. E. P. Green's lecture at the M. E. church Tuesday evening last, missed a literary treat. The lecturer handled his subject well, that of "Life's Lessons in Rhyme," and proved that he was thoroughly in touch with it. His selections of authors and their writings were chosen from the ranks of the best, and as one picture of word-painting in poetry was displaced by another, the listener was led along in thought and he beheld bold Shylock demanding his pound of flesh, the bard of Scottish highlands, Bobby Burns, in kiln and cap, the mysterious tapping of Poe's raven, or the warlike scenes attending the writing of "The Star-Spangled Banner." All these and many more, with their valuable lessons, and touching stringing scenes, were depicted. It is to be regretted that so small an audience were in attendance, because those who missed the lecture are much the losers thereby.

FUNERAL OF JACK CANTWELL.

Yesterday a Day of Mourning in Heppner over the Loss of one of Her Best Young Men. Yesterday when Dame Nature smiled her sweetest, when life never before seemed so precious, there was sadness in more than one heart in our fair village. Heppner had been bereft of one of her brightest and best young men, just as he was passing the threshold of manhood, and when his relatives and friends were planning for his manly assistance in the great drama of the future. Suddenly and without warning to any of us, with the exception of his mother and brother, he was garnered in by the angel of death and passed to the world beyond. Our plans have been rudely shattered, but such is the will of Him before whom all must bow in meek submission.

William Jackson Cantwell, or "Jack" as he was familiarly called, was born in Johnson county, Arkansas, Oct. 8, 1873, and at the time of his death was aged 21 and 6 months and 7 days. In 1875 his parents crossed the plains and came to Oregon where they remained till 1880, then returning East to the native land, and again returning to Oregon in 1890, locating at Heppner, where Jack lived till his death.

Jack was a thinker, an industrious student, and even as a lad when others might be seen frittering away the precious moments, he was using every means at his command to improve his mind and store away knowledge for future use. After completing a course in the Heppner schools, he taught successfully in the county and with the means thus obtained took a course in a Portland business college. Returning to Morrow county, with his brother, Lee Cantwell, he embarked in business and at the time of his death was a member of the Heppner Transfer Co., though for some months he had been in the employ of the O. R. & N. Co. at Heppner, discharging his duties faithfully and cheerfully.

In May 1892 while in Portland, and while attending Emmanuel Baptist church, he professed Christianity and lived a consistent life to his death. You could not know Jack without loving his true, honest nature. He was a kind, tender-hearted young man, and with his marked intellectuality made him a pleasant and desirable companion, and even to the last he was jovial and in good spirits, meeting death bravely as all Christians do, saying that he was ready to go.

While it is always sad to part with those we love, yet this is mitigated to some extent when we consider that there is such bright evidence that they go to the future world, trusting implicitly in the goodness and beneficence of the great Maker, and in the blood of Jesus to wash all sin away.

Jack Cantwell never had an enemy in the world. In evidence of this, nearly every business house in Heppner was closed yesterday afternoon, the occasion of the performance of the last sad rites and interment. The funeral was preached at the M. E. church, South, by Rev. Frank Adkins, after which the remains were interred in the Heppner cemetery. Peace to his memory.

"I Am Cured"

Eczema For Over Three Years. Purified the Blood With Hood's Sarsaparilla and is Now Well. "Dear Sir: I wish to forward you a statement of my case. Eczema appeared three years ago and since then I have tried all kinds of remedies for the cure of the disease and had given up all hope of ever being cured. At last I was told to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Olive Ointment. I did so and I am happy to say that of that dreadful skin disease, I have taken sixteen bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and used five boxes of the Ointment. I would have written before but I wished to wait until I was cured. Hood's disease would not return again. It has not and I can say I am perfectly cured. I gladly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. ARTHUR J. MENDAY, Woodland, Washington.
