The United States subtreasury, at the profit in a counterfeit cent is neceswork of Italians, who, more largely than any other nationality, seem to favor the imitation of our minor and subsidiary coin. The Brooklyn and

New Jersey ferry companies, the ele-vated railroads of both New York and

Brooklyn and the various slot-machine companies are regular customers for the exchange of cents for other money at the sub-treasury. At times they turn in enormous quantities, the slot companies alone ranging between one hundred and twenty-five and seven hundred dollars a day. As might be expected, all sorts of oddities in the way of coin come in with the quantity taken in the machines. In addition to the counterfeits are scores of "not one cents" of war times, metal money predominating. As the copper

The Chicago hackman is supposed to be endowed with a full allowance of the smartness peculiar to men in his profession, but a Boston girl is credited with getting the best of him. The ent unsettled state of feeling, the athackman himself tells the story, says tack on a European was purely a misthe Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. His name is Johnson, and his business during the summer has been mainly in the service of the guests in the dormitories of the Chicago university. Johnson has run daily excursions for them through a twenty-five mile drive for one dollar, Within two days after her arrival Johnson took the Boston young woman out as one of his morning party. She occupied the seat with him and plied him with questions. On the following day when he called for passengers Johnson noticed this Boston girl flying around in a lively way. Soon she came to him and wanted to know how much he would charge to take forty persons up to the center of town and back for an evening reception. He gave his figures, and then she went shopping.

The next day she told Johnson she could get the work done for twentyeight dollars, and that he might as well take the job at that figure. She preferred his rigs, she said, because they looked nicer than any she had seen elsewhere. Johnson took the job, and on the evening appointed the young woman marshaled out her forty people. They were in evening dress and full of gayety. Suddenly the Boston young woman spoke out: "We may not all get together when we come back and may be very tired. Suppose I collect the fares now and be done

She did so, and each person paid her one dollar for the evening's transportation. She quickly counted out twenty-eight dollars and gave it to Johnson, and placing twelve dollars in her own purse rode to the evening's reception with a satisfied smile and a most charming affability. Three days later she did the same thing over again. As she put the twelve dollars in her purse Johnson scratched his head and says be muttered: "Well, I'll be

AN AGE OF WONDERS. Remarkable Things That Show How

Great The Country Is. This is a wonderful age we are living in-a wonderful age, and this is a wonderful country. It is doubtful if any of the effete old world dynasties can produce such things, bordering on the miraculous, as are becoming almost everyday occurrences in this land of the free, says the Eric Herald.

A few days ago the press disputches announced that some fellow out in Missouri had discovered soul. There was nothing so remarkable about the fact that coal had been discovered.

The remarkable feature of the case is that this particular quality of coal emits no smoke when burned. According to the report, you could build a fire of this coal in the center of your companies, car lines, etc., in disposing parlor floor and be unable to find a particle of smoke in the room. In the words of Col. Mulberry Sellers, to remember this, particularly if in exchange for a dollar bill he is re-

"there's millions in it." But this truly strange case is perhaps outdone by one which is alleged to have recently occurred in the saluthe New York Herald, there is no exbrious climate of California. The veracious chronicle states that some thirty years ago one John Bahler, then residing in Wisconsin, lost his eyesight and subsequently had both eyeballs taken out, the end of the optic nerve being left as a stub in each case. Right here is where the wonder comes in. Don't miss it. About a year ago, at his home in Fresno, Mr. Bahler suddenly saw the light of a lamp placed opposite to him on the other side of the room, and the examination showed to the sub-treasury. In the first place, they are quite extensively counthat new eyeballs were growing on the ends of the optic nerves.

Since that time his sight has gradually improved, until now he can shoot a rifle with considerable accuracy, and hopes soon to be able to see how the foreigners pay the tariff tax.

Indeed, this is a great country, and isn't anywhere near developed yet. Carp milk cows and steal chickens and green corn right here in Pennsylvania. but the boundless west contains still greater possibilities than the east, and if old Europe can produce any such wonders or special newspaper correspondents let her trot 'em out.

Severe Ordeal Imposed Coon One of the Officers of the Oragoon Guards. The other day, says the London Daily scribed. News, Emperor William had the sec ond regiment of dragoon guards called out suddenly on to the Tempelhof common. He then called an officer, Count von Wedel, known to be a good ride at once to Dresden and give it to him. Count von Wedel set out immediately, attended by a sergeant, and arrived after a twenty-two hours' ride at Dresden.

The ride took so long a time, firstly, on account of the severe cold and the slippery state of the roads, and, secondly, because Count von Wedel was not allowed to ride on the high road from Berlin to Dresden, but had to take roundabout ways, the supposition being that a hostile army had occupied the territory between the two capitals, and that the rider had to pass unnoticed through the enemy's lines. Count. von Wedel arrived in a very exhausted state at the royal castle, and, immedi ately after the audience with the king. fainted away.
