The campaign against the reelection of Senator Mitchell has already been commenced by the Oregonian and its satellites. The Telegram the other day remarked that a few weeks' residence in Oregon would modify his views on the financial question, as he would find the majority of his party against the white metal. The Times does not believe this to be true, for the rank and file of the republican party in Oregon, as in many other states, is opposed to the demonetization of silver, and those who are trying to manipulate matters in the interest of Wall street will find it out to their cost at the next election. Mr. Mitchell is more nearly in accord with the views of the majority of the people of this state on the silver question than any other prominent republican; and if the next senator must perform be one of that party we would rather see him elected than any one else.—Jacksonville Times.

PROF. HARVEY, author of Coin, and Hon. R. G. Horr are now preparing for the great financial debate to take place in Chicago commencing July 16 and continuing about two weeks. Mr. Horr will attempt to tear down the arguments and show the false teaching of "Coin's Financial School" and Mr. Harvey will attempt to substantiate all of the arguments in the book, show his authority and answer the single standard arguments of Mr. Horr. The debate will take place in a small hall in the presence of a stenographer and about one hundred invited guests. The debate will last three hours each day and although but 100 people will hear the debate, it will be given to the press each day and the American people will be the jury and decide upon the merits of the debate for themselves. Every one who can should read the arguments of both sides, as this debate will be a great educator.

FROM present indications the next English parliament soon to be elected will be strongly in favor of international bimetalism. In fact the unionists claim a majority of 40, and the liberal leaders already admit their defeat. With this change of affairs in England, we certainly would not have such a single standard howl in this country. In fact with Germany and France already in favor of a conference and England on the eve of a change, the friends of silver should certainly feel encouraged.

THE Salem editors know how to use their tongues as well as pencils. Col. Hofer, of the Journal, delivered an address last evening on English Literature at Mouth, and Governor Fletcher delivered an address this afternoon before a teachers' institute at Salem. Maj. Davy, of the Statesman is also a great talker and recently spoke at Jefferson.—Democrat.

THE gold bugs in Tennessee are raving at the silver democrats because they are trying to throw the state into the hands of the republicans. They are weak-minded. The state elected a republican governor last year, but he was not allowed to take his seat. What is the use of worrying. The democratic maxim is, "Heads I win, tails you lose."—Inter Ocean.

THE DALLES, Heppner and Pendleton are each telling the public what a grand help a telephone to the interior would be to their trade. The interior at present would like to see a little of said talk assume something more than air-castle projects.—Eagle.

ACCORDING to Dunn and Bradstreet the Pacific coast has and continues to lead the country in the race to get back into a season of business prosperity.

THE bed bug and the potato bug are bad enough, but they do not require as rich food as the gold bug.

A BURGLAR stole $470 and a kiss from a woman in Port Jervis, N. Y., and the ungrateful old maid reported the robbery.—Portland Sun.

The Missouri democrats should not now hesitate to call their proposed conference. Their Kentucky brethren showed them how to straddle a barbed-wire fence.

MR. RICHARD CROCKER sends word from London that he is in favor of democratic harmony. But Mr. Crocker neglects to tell where to get it.—Kansas City Journal.

THE two factions of democrats in Kentucky both won. It was six-to-n wind to one platform. Carlisle got the platform and the silverites the wind and the governor.—Exchange.

AN Eastern paper says the Kentucky gold bug democrats formed a hollow square. That is right, but the silver forces and their candidate for governor were on the inside when the fight was over.

A NEW YORK minister has preached a sermon on "Potatoes, and How to Raise Them." It is now only a step to texts on "Raspberries Jam and Jamming," "Milk in a Cow on the Right Side," etc. Anything that will "draw" goes in New York, even with her preachers.—Cleveland Press.

CALIFORNIA'S chief justice of the supreme court has decided that while poker-playing may be an objectionable amusement it cannot be classified as gambling. The next thing we shall expect to hear is that some professional has decided to test the views of our supreme bench on this point.

THE friends of Congressman Hermann gave him a reception at his home in Roseburg last Friday, which is regarded by many as the first boom for his fifth re-nomination for congress next year. Hermann will doubtless have a very strong following, but he will likely also have strong opposition in such candidates as the Hons. T. H. Longue and T. T. Geer.

The Keystone of the Arch in the edifice of health is vigor, which means not merely muscular energy, but in active discharge of the various functions of the body, such as digestion, secretion of the bile, the action of the bowels, the circulation of the blood. Nothing more actively and thoroughly contributes to the united performance of these functions than the renowned tonic and regulator, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The result of its use is a speedy gain in strength, together with the agreeable consciousness that the tenure of life is being strengthened—that one is jarring up against the draughts which old age makes upon the system. The fortifying influence of the Bitters constitutes it a reliable safeguard against malaria, rheumatism and indigestion. Appetite and sleep improve through its use, and it protects the system from the effects of cold and lamp.

WEDDING OF A POPULAR COUPLE.

John T. O'Brien and Mrs. May Sherman receive Congratulations.

Solemn nuptial mass in honor of John T. O'Brien and Mrs. May Sherman was celebrated Thursday morning at the Gonzaga church by Rev. Father Palladini, S. J., on the occasion of the marriage ceremony which linked two lives for all time.

The contracting parties are well known and admired in Spokane, both being more than usually favored in personal appearance and both having a large circle of warm and intimate friends. Mr. O'Brien is the Associated Press night operator at the Western Union, while his lovely bride is being clerk of the stamp department of the postoffice since Postmaster Mallon took charge.

A limited number of personal friends were present in church when the bridal party walked slowly up the aisle to seats in front of the altar. Mrs. Sherman was attired in a beautiful white costume, with white roses, and was escorted by Peter Fitzgerald, the best man. Following came the groom, with Miss Frank L. Grippen, the bridesmaid. The impressive ceremony then began, the choir of girls voices singing selected hymns during the celebration of the mass. At the close of the mass Father Palladini made the newly made man and wife a beautiful address, in which he declared that the sacrament of marriage was one not to be lightly thought of by the Catholic entering matrimony. He admonished them to follow the precepts of the church—it was the secret of true happiness. "If you would listen to the advice of an old man, at the foot of God's altar," he said, "bear in mind this secret and your happiness in this world and the world to come is assured."

Mr. O'Brien's relatives live, Vancouver and other Pacific coast cities. His friends in Spokane wish him joy, and the bride is felicitated by hundreds of admirers.—Spokane Review.

Mrs. Sherman is well known in this city, being a sister of D. A. McAtee. The Gazette joins in congratulations.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send, free of charge, a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung maladies. He hopes all sufferers will use his remedy as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address, Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Brooklyn, N. Y. Jun 11-w.

BOUGHT A BEARSE.

Indians Use a Pear Carriage on the Nez Perce Reservation.

Recently the Nez Perce Indians were buying buggies, says the E. O., and the stock on hand at the neighboring towns was soon exhausted. A story is told of one old Indian who failed to make a purchase, and after all the buggies were gone a desire to possess some sort of conveyance started him on a diligent search. After visiting all the places where vehicles were sold without success, he finally learned of a conveyance which, from the description, completely overshadowed anything in point of elegance ever sold before, and the possession of which would render all the Indians wild with envy. He sought out the owner, who proved to be the town undertaker, and opened negotiations for the purchase of the vehicle. The undertaker soon found the Indian wanting to obtain his bearse, but having a eye to business, and noting the anxiety of Mr. Redekin, the bearse was sold for a good round sum.

The Indian hitched two horses to the sombre vehicle, and putting his square and popposes on the inside, trotted off for home, the proudest copped face that ever struck a bow. The other Indians hearing of his coming, had lined up along the road to watch him pass. Perched on his high seat, he drove haughtily through them, while the little popposes peered through the glass sides and clapped their hands rapturously.

The agent remonstrated with the Indian, but all to no purpose. He retained the bearse, and in his frequent visits to the surrounding towns, driving in his somewhat gloom-inspiring conveyance, is no longer an object of curiosity.

DIGEST OF LAND AND MINING DECISIONS.

Furnished by W. D. Havlan, land and mining attorney, Washington, D. C.

DESERT LAND.

There is no authority for the payment of double minimum excess erroneously required under a desert land entry of an even section within the limits of a railroad grant.

SETTLEMENT CLAIM.

Actual notice of a settlement claim will protect such claim against the subsequent entry of another, when such notice is supported by actual settlement and improvements upon contiguous land.

MINERAL.

Work done outside the boundaries of a claim, for the purpose of extraction of mineral therefrom, is available for holding the claim as though done within the boundaries of the claim itself.

Land containing stone available for making lime cannot be entered as a lode claim.

Such land may be entered as a placer claim.

Ordered on Trial.

OAKLAND, CAL.—About two years ago I ordered from J. R. Gates & Co., San Francisco, a bottle of Minum's Liver Regulator on trial, and so satisfactory has been its use in expelling bile from the system, and regulating the action of the liver, that from an order of one at a time the order has risen to a dozen bottles at once.—B. A GLORIOUS CELEBRATION.

A Grand Soldiers' Reunion and Fourth Combined.

ASSISTED BY HEPPNER AND ARLINGTON.

An Extensive and Appropriate Program for the Two Days—Racing and Other Sports.

To say that Lexington knows how to appropriately manage a Fourth of July celebration and pleasantly entertain its guests but places it mildly. For if one person failed to have a good old-fashioned time and to thoroughly enjoy themselves the writer failed to locate them. At the Reunion and Camp Fire old comradeship, patriotism and Americanism reigned supreme, while throughout the entire celebration good fellowship and genial hospitality were the predominant features.

For two or three days previous to the date of the reunion, the "clans" had been gathering and by noon Wednesday the camp grounds were specked with many tents, in fact as a whole the place looked like a little city. The crowd was considerably augmented by the number who went down from Heppner, among whom was the Heppner quartette whose music lent to the occasion. After all had gathered at the grounds and mingled together for a short time the gathering was called to order by Chairman Willis. The following is the program as advertised, though there were several changes made:

WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 3:00 P. M.

- Remarks.....Comrade A. G. Bart's Olmew
- Music.....Drum Corps
- Adjournment for Supper.

LONG CREEK.

Culled from the Eagle.

Billy Robbins is in from Heppner.

Yes Hinton and Bob Cannon returned from Heppner early this week with freight.

Mrs. Robert Gilmore came over Monday from Morrow county to visit friends and relatives in this county.

J. G. Neelan, of Monument, made a business trip to Heppner last week to look after the sale of his wool clip.

V. A. Eastman passed through Long Creek early this week, en route from Heppner to his Granite creek home.

Boone Mulkey went over to Heppner last week, where he placed himself under the treatment of one of Heppner's physicians for dropsy.

Byron Barnard shipped 1500 head of cattle last week from Heppner to Wyoming parties. The band was purchased principally in Grant county.

A silver club was organized in this city last Saturday, with J. A. Steach, president; D. G. Browning, vice-president; T. E. Hall, secretary; E. O. Woodall, treasurer. The league will hold an annual meeting on July 6.

Otis Patterson arrived from Heppner Wednesday. He will take in Desolation lake and other mountain sights before he returns. In speaking of business of Heppner he says that more wool has been received at the warehouses of that city this year than any previous season.

Now is the time to get the Weekly Oregonian, the greatest newspaper of the West. With the Gazette, both strictly in advance, for one year, $3. No better combination of newspapers can be made in the state. Besides we will give as a premium an additional journal, the Web-foot Plaster, an agricultural paper. Come in now and subscribe.

Bud Shobe, who started east with a band of sheep last spring, returned to Heppner Wednesday evening. Bud was taken severely ill when near Boise, where he was sent to the hospital. Here he had an operation performed, and was compelled to remain there for about three weeks. He comes home to recreate and build up his system, and should be successful will join his crew again later on.

A Roseburg lady knocked an insolent sewing machine agent down and filled him full of lead from his own pistol the other day. Folks aren't surprised at anything in a woman nowadays, but it was funny that the bullets penetrated the agent's skin. He must have been new at the business.

At the close of the afternoon's program the crowd repaired to the racetrack a short distance below the grove to witness the races. The bicycle races were dispensed with because of the fact that there were no entries, though had there been a free-for-all race, there would certainly have been a number of competitors.

There were four entries in the 50 yard foot race for girls under 12 years of age. The race resulted in a tie between Della Reaney and Minnie Dollarhide, but on being run over was won by Della Reaney.

Fourteen entries were recorded for the boys' 12 year old 50 yard race, but the race was easily won by Harry Brian, of Heppner.

A free-for-all 100 yards was given the place of the sack race as the latter did not fill. This race was won by John Patburg.

It is unnecessary to say that the tug of war was won by the single men who greatly enjoyed the cigars.

NOTES.

Frank Thomas created considerable enthusiasm Wednesday evening when he sang "The Cat Came Back."

The stand was beautifully decorated with bouquets, provided, arranged and presented by Mrs. N. A. Kelly.

Stands, merry-go-rounds, shooting galleries and porcupines made everything lively in trying to dispose of their wares.

The Lexington choir, with Mrs. J. D. Brown as organist, rendered some excellent selections, solos, quartettes and choruses.

A few flakes of snow fell with the light shower of rain late in the afternoon. This is quite an unusual sight, snow on the Fourth of July.

Mrs. N. A. Kelly and A. W. Patterson, who were both on the program for Tuesday, were forced into service for addresses Wednesday evening.

The fall of rain for about an hour at noon dampened the ardor and spirit of the crowd for a short time, but the warm sunshine which followed soon brought back the mirth.

Sidney Collins, of Arlington, makes a model chief marshal. He is quick, active and graceful, and though forcible in command, yet so pleasant that all are anxious to obey.

The Heppner quartette, composed of Miss Anna Brown, Mrs. P. B. McSwains, S. S. Horner and A. W. Patterson, entertained the crowd as best they could at 3 different times during the rendition of the program.

Comrade Bartholomew's recitation and song at the camp fire was very appropriate and rendered in a touching manner. He is what might be termed a "general purpose horse." He can sing, pray, speak, blow the bass drum and tell funny war stories without limit. A camp fire would be incomplete without Comrade Bartholomew's smiling countenance.
