EASTERN OREGON

From the B. S. Pague Weather Crop Report.

Weather—A few light sprinkles of rain fell on the 20th and 21st. The night of the 20th a heavy rain occurred at Baker City, when 0.16 of an inch fell. The temperature during the day was cooler than during the week preceding, while the night temperature was about the same. The maximum ranged from 70 to 90 degrees, and the minimum from 46 to 64 degrees. The atmosphere was not so smoky during the past few days as it had been.

Crops—For progress in general farm work the weather conditions have been perfect. There has not been any rain, except in some southeastern sections, and root crops are so far advanced that rain would not be of benefit. Owing to the condition of the grain crops continued fair weather is much desired. In Wasco and Sherman counties much of the grain is in the shock, while in sections to the east heading and threshing is progressing together. Heading is being completed in all sections, and the sound of the thresher everywhere is evidence of the effort being exerted by the farmer to save his grain as soon as possible and have it marketed before the commencement of the fall rains and avoid a recurrence of the damage by unseasonable weather, which occurred in 1893, and which is fresh in the mind of the public. The berry of grain is not as plump as could be desired, and in many instances, it must be said that the grain presents a shriveled appearance, which condition is directly attributed to the constant and prolonged drought. In the Walla Walla valley the grain will be of good quality; there the average amount of precipitation was approached nearer than in sections of Eastern Oregon. There will also be a good quality of grain from Wasco and Sherman counties though much shriveled grain will be shipped from those sections. While in Wasco and Sherman counties the average precipitation was not reached, more rain fell than in Umatilla, Gilliam and Morrow counties. Harvesting continues with good progress south and east of the Blue mountains, where in all sections crops have suffered from the drought. The harvest of alfalfa continues. Owing to the fear that the hay crop will not be sufficient to meet the demands, farmers and stockraisers are disposing of their cattle and are doing so without making a sacrifice, since the prices offered are very good. Grass is thin on the range, so that hay has to be fed to cattle just the same as in winter. Fruit shipments outside large, and the complaints of dry weather causing fruit to drop from the trees are fewer. Bartlett pears and late peaches are ripening and are being shipped. Plums are being picked and dried in large quantities. A rain occurred in portions of Union, Baker, Klamath and Harney counties on the 21st, which failed to do any damage or much good. The potato crop, with but few exceptions, has done well in the absence of precipitation, though in many sections there will not be enough for home consumption. South and east of the Blue mountains the stockgrowers look forward to early rains to improve the grass on the range, without which the difficulty of taking care of the stock during the winter will be greatly increased.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

symptoms—Swelling; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue turns into hemorrhoids, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At drugstore, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

Administrators and Executors Are Interested In This Law.

Very often laws are disregarded on account of lack of knowledge of their provisions. This one will no doubt be of interest to some persons in this county.

The law governing administrators and executors was amended by the last legislature as follows:

Sec. 1170. An executor or administrator shall, within the first ten days of April and of October of each year, until the administration is completed and he is discharged from his trust, render an account verified by his oath, and file the same with the clerk, showing the amount of money received and expended by him, from whom received and to whom paid, with the proper vouchers for such payments, the amount of the claims presented against the estate and allowed or disallowed, and the name of the claimant of each, and any other matter necessary to show the condition of the affairs thereof; provided, however, that in case the date of the notice of the appointment of said executor or administrator shall be within sixty days next preceding the first day of April or October, the filing of such account shall be omitted until the succeeding April or October.

Approved February 25, 1895.

In one county the county court has ordered the clerk to issue citations to all administrators and executors of estates, ordering them to comply with this law, and in case they fail to do so, they will be removed and their bondsmen held accountable for their actions.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

WESTMINSTER, Cal., March 21, 1894.—

Sometimes ago, on awakening one morning, I found that I had rheumatism in my knee so badly that, as I remarked to my wife, it would be impossible for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had some of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store I sent for a bottle and rubbed the afflicted parts thoroughly with it, according to directions, and within an hour I was completely relieved. One application had done the business. It is the best liniment on the market, and I sell it under a positive guarantee. R. T. Harris. For sale by Slocum Johnson Drug Co.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP.

The following story is told of a correspondent who has recently returned from a trip to the far west of the United States:

Two men who had been sitting together in the seat near the door of a railway car became engaged in an animated conversation, and their loud voices attracted the attention of all the other passengers.

Suddenly one of them rose and said: "Ladies and gentlemen: I appeal to you to decide a disputed point. My friend here insists that not more than three persons out of five believe they have souls. I take the more cheerful view of humanity than that. Will all of you who believe you have souls raise your right hands?"

"Thank you," he said, with a smile, "Keep them up just a moment. Now, will all you who believe in a hereafter please raise your left hand also?"

Every hand in the car went up. "Thank you again," he said. "Now, while all of you have your hands raised be counted," drawing a pair of revolvers and leveling them. "My friend here will go down the aisle and relieve you of whatever valuables you may happen to have. Lively, now, Jim."—Ex.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for a number of years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. for large bottle. At drug store of T. W. Ayers, Jr.

The Local Paper.

It is a little remarkable that a local newspaper seldom gets credit for the good it does to a community. The preacher holds a revival meeting, tells the people the way of life and warns them of dangers, and he is regarded as a great benefactor. The newspaper exposes rascals, keeps men good from fear of such exposure; generally advocates what is to the best interest of a town and community, and its reward, often, is to be regarded as a common enemy. Many good people take a pride in denouncing the press at the least provocation, but never see any good that it does. It is for this reason that many papers absolutely refuse to devote space to needed reforms, because those who push these reforms most, lend little encouragement to the newspaper. If good people would see to it, that the paper that assaults wrong wherever it appears is well supported, the paper could afford always to take radical steps. A preacher's salary goes on all the same no matter how many he may condemn. Not so with the newspaper; it be said to the detriment of the good people.—Don M. McKe.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE LATEST WRINKLE FOR WEDDINGS.

Here is sweet charity again clad in modish robes and with an all-sufficient excuse for the originating of what promises to become an amazingly popular custom. The last half score of smart brides who blushing took their stately way afterwards, paced through churches thronged to the doors with whoosers, of all ages, sexes, and colors, chose to attend the always charming ceremony, and these read first a bit of printed notice pasted up at the door. In so many words the notice stated that all were free to enter, subject to the levying of a small contribution. Curiosity brought, in consequence, a goodly congregation, which was vastly interested in observing that at the conclusion of the solemn benediction up rose six bridesmaids, or six pretty feminine relatives of the groom, and at the head of the aisle they were met by six kinsmen of the bride, or six ushers. Every young woman bore in her left hand a bit of lace and satin reticule matching her gown, and giving her right hand to her masculine escort was led down the aisle holding out her reticule for pennies. Three girls with their swains levied the wedding tax on one side of the church, three on the other; and as the fair collectors passed in pretty procession the spectators dropped sums of money into the bags, in proportion to their means or appreciation of the scene. All the while the bride and groom were walking very slowly down the aisle, and at the door the outgoing crowd saw that the bags of dimes and pennies were emptied into church plates held by rosy-faced choir-boys; and the poor of the parish profited by one more wedding.—From "Society Facts," in Demorest's Magazine for September.

SACRAMENTO'S CARNIVAL.

A Grand Electric Display on the Evening of September 9th.

We have received an invitation to be present at the grand electric carnival to be held in Sacramento on September 9th. It is to be a most novel and interesting demonstration, and is the more important because it celebrates the transmission of almost unlimited electric power from Folsom to Sacramento. This will admit of the city being transformed into a blaze of light on the night of the carnival, and arrangements have been made for electric arches, electric floats and brilliant illuminations that will be gorgeously beautiful. In the parade at night will be floats, bearing designs in lights of every color. The railroad shop employes will alone provide twelve grand floats. The native Sons and Daughters, who will be in Sacramento by the thousands on Admission Day, will participate in the parade, and will also the military and many civic societies. In fact, it is to be a grand affair, and will, we believe, mark a new era in the history of the Capital City.

An Executive Committee of prominent citizens has been appointed, with Hon. Joseph Steffens as chairman, and J. O. Coleman, director-general, and extensive arrangements are being made for the affair.

An Early Autumn Magazine.

"Compulsion in Child Training," is the subject which the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D. D., discussed wisely and well in the September Ladies' Home Journal. His article is ably supplemented by Edward W. Bok's excellent editorial on "Our Schools and Our Teachers." "The Woman Who Paints Cats" is the striking title of a full page devoted to Madame Henriette Ronner, the celebrated cat painter; several copies of her most celebrated pictures being given. "The Men Who Write Our Comic Operas" are represented by portraits and sketches of "The Composer of 'Wang,'" "The Composer of 'Robin Hood'" and "The Composer of 'Princess Bonnie.'" Gracful in theme and melodious in construction in Mr. Robert Coverley's song, "Love's Reflections," written exclusively for this issue of the Journal. Miss Grace Greenwood writes of "The Man Who Most Influenced Me," Amelia E. Barr of "Conversation at the Dinner-Table," and Frank R. Stockton's "Love Before Breakfast" comes to a happy conclusion. Mrs. Malton's "The Early Winter Sonnets" and "Silk and Woolen Bodices" are daintily illustrated by Abby E. Underwood, as are "Party Dresses for Children," by W. Granville Smith, and "The Early Autumn Coats," by Frank O. Small. Women who love dainty needlework will be delighted with Helen Mar Adams' "Greek Embroidery Designs" and Mrs. Barnes-Bruce's "A Bridal Table Set." This autumn's brides will find much practical advice in Mrs. Hamilton Mott's up-to-date article on "This Autumn's Wedding Etiquette." J. Harry Adams writes of "Some Artistic Doorways" and several bright women give some charming ideas for "Beautifying the Home." Eben E. Rexford writes of "Cultivating the Lily" and Emma M. Hooper of "Dressing the Young Girl." Altogether this attractive issue, which goes out with a cover especially designed by Mr. C. D. Gibson, is worth 10 times its price of 10 cents. The Ladies' Home Journal is published by The Curtis Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, for 10 cents per number and $1 per year.

A fish story.

Here is a fish story which comes from Canada: "Last fall a man fishing on the Mailhead lost his watch out of the boat from which he was fishing. The other day while fishing he caught a three-pound bass. His astonishment can be imagined when he found his watch lodged in the throat of the beauty. The watch was running and the time correct. It being a stem-winder, the supposition is that in masticating its food the bass wound up the watch daily."

The Editor Reas Well.

A Western Alabama editor, according to the Atlanta Constitution, was writing up a local theatrical entertainment recently, and he wanted to be particularly nice about it, so he mentioned the names of several young ladies of the town and wrote, "they all filled their parts to perfection." Then he went home. When the paper appeared it was found that the printer had put in an "e" in place of an "r" in the word "parts."

Disorders in the liver and kidneys are responsible for many of the ailments of humanity, which, when neglected, develop into serious and often fatal maladies. Prudence would suggest the prompt use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm to remove the disorder as soon as possible, and restore the diseased organs to healthy and vigorous action. Price $1.50 per bottle.
