The Joy of a Japanese Mother at a Baby Show on a Pacific Steamship. Dr. A. Nelson Beach, surgeon of the steamship China, when last here, told the story of the most remarkable baby of this disease. I visited Hot Springs show and of the most remarkable prizewinning family that has yet been put on record, says the San Francisco Ex-The China on the last trip to the orient took on board at Honolulu four hundred and ten Japanese, all homeward bound after having worked out their contracts on the Hawaiian islands. Many of the Japanese had their wives and children with them, and there were eighty-three babies under four years-fifty-three girls and thirty boys. The eighty-three almond-eyed youngsters furnished amusement for the cabin passengers for a time. When there is no riew save the broad horizon eightythree Japanese babies are great attractions. Somebody suggested a baby show. The mothers had never heard of a baby show, but the eagle of an American dollar is a great interpreter. and the Japanese commissioner of immigration to the Hawaiian islands who was a passenger on the steamer aroused the maternal pride of the little mothers in the steerage. By contribution of the cabin passengers a purse was made up and prizes were offered for the three handsomest girls and the three finest boys under four years.

The eighty-three little Japs in gorgeous kimonos were placed on exhibition one afternoon, and then the judges awarded the prizes.

After the prizes were awarded startling discovery was made. The little girls who took first and second prizes were sisters, and the little boys who took first and second prizes were brothers. But when the passengers found that the prize-windler little boys and the prize-winning little girls were brothers and sisters, all children of the same parents, there was assonishment unbounded, and the passengers made up a purse of five dollars for the mother of the prize-winning family, in addition to the prize money bestowed on the

"If there had been more in the family they would have had the rest of the prizes, I suppose," said Dr. Beach, "but the award of four prizes to four children of the same family, the oldest of the children four years of age, was sufficient glory for the mother, who was the prondest parent I ever saw. The awards were fairly made, and none of the judges knew that the children were brothers and sisters."

THE SECRET OF GLAMIS. The Hidden Chamber in the Ancient Castle of Macbeth. In a certain drawing-room the other afternoon we were talking of some well-known superstitions, and among others of that secret room in the castle of Glamis, which Sir Walter Scott tells us is known only to the earl of Strathmore, his heir apparent, and one other person to whom the earl may choose to confide. One of our party told us, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune, an amusing story concerning this secret chamber of Glamis. Once, when stopping at the castle in autumn. a curious and indiscreet visitor took advantage of the host's absence to suggest a plan by which the whereabouts of the hidden chamber should be re-venled. dow as displayed no white signal. In the middle of carrying out this pretty ferent Oregon fairs: plan the master of the castle returned towering a passion. The display of five days. the Glamis secret is regarded with an

$1800.00 GIVEN AWAY TO INVENTORS.

$150.00 every month given away to any one who applies through us for the most mentorious patent during the month preceding.

We secure the best patents for our clients, and the object of this offer is to encourage inventors to keep track of their bright ideas. At the same time we wish to impress upon the public the fact that IT'S THE SIMPLE, TRIVIAL INVENTIONS

THAT YIELD FORTUNES, such as the "car-window" which can be easily slid up and down without breaking the passenger's back, "sauce-pan," "collar-button," "nut-lock," "bottle-stopper," and a thousand other little things that most any one can find a way of improving; and these simple inventions are the ones that bring largest returns to the author. Try to think of something to invent

IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS. Patents taken out through us receive special notice in the "National Recorder," published at Washington, D. C., which is the pest newspaper published in America in the interests of inventors. We furnish a year's subscription to this journal, free of cost, to all our clients. We also advertise, free of cost, to the invention each month which wins our $rso prize, and hundreds of thousands of copies of the "National Recorder," containing a sketch of the winner, and a description of his invention, will be scattered throughout the United States among capitalists and manufacturers, thus bringing to their attention the merits of the invention.

All communications regarded strictly confidential.
